PREFACE.

THE Augustinian Priory of Bridlington was established by Walter de Gaunt between the years 1114 and 1124. It was suppressed by Henry VIII in 1537. In the intervening period of four centuries it had acquired estates which would now be worth many thousands of pounds yearly. This volume shows how those estates, or the bulk of them, were obtained.

The following pages represent the contents of the Chartulary of the Priory, which, fortunately, remains to us. It is a volume of 352 leaves of vellum, the leaves being about 15½ inches long and 9½ inches wide. It is enclosed in the original wooden boards, which are covered with deerskin. It was secured by two leather clasps, one of which only remains. The original writing is large and clear, and the ink very little faded. As is usual in such chartularies, a number of documents were inserted at later dates by other hands in the blank spaces left by the original scribe; these have been distinguished in the footnotes in the present work. The charters in the MS. are headed in red, and their initials are alternately red and blue. The margins are ornamented with red or blue scroll-work. The writing is in double columns, each column having generally about 43 lines, irrespective of headings. On the whole, the volume must be pronounced a very fine specimen of a monastic chartulary. The frontispiece to this work will afford, on a small scale, an idea of the general style of the pages as they originally appeared.

The charters are grouped under villis, and at the commencement of the volume there is a consecutive list of these. The original folioing was merely by villis, from 1 to LXXXI, the whole of the folios occupied by the charters of the first vill being headed 1, those of the second vill 11, and so on. At a later date a folioing in the ordinary way, 1-352, was made in Arabic figures, and has been followed in this work.

I am indebted to the kindness of the late Sir Henry D. Ingilby, Bart., of Ripley Castle, where the Chartulary is preserved, for the loan of the volume and permission to make the following abstracts. The manuscript has been long the property of the Ingilby or Ingleby family, but how it originally came into their possession I have not been able to ascertain. Roger Dodsworth, in one of the volumes of his MSS. in the Bodleian Library,¹ gives certain notes from it, headed as follows :—" In M^r Gascoigne's notes, taken out of the Coucher of Bridlington, which is in the custody of W^m Ingelby, of Rippley, Esquire." The Gascoigne in question was, no doubt, Richard Gascoigne the antiquary, born 1580-90, died about 1663,¹ but, unfortunately, we do not know when his notes were made. But in 1627, Dodsworth himself had access to the volume, which, he says, was then in the custody of Sir James Bellingham, of Levens; and he made a number of extracts and abstracts, which he heads as follows :—

Bridlington, 2nd vol.²

In Cartulario Monasterii de Bridelington, in custodia Jacobi Bellingham de Levens in Com. Westmerland militis, 3^o die Martis 1627.³

Sir James Bellingham and William Ingleby are both mentioned as holding monastic chartularies in the letter of the Bishop of London, demanding the surrender of such chartularies, written in July, 1627.⁴ The list of chartularies in that letter includes that of Bridlington; but, unfortunately, the letter does not make it clear in whose possession it then was, giving merely a general list of chartularies and a general list of owners. The Bishop's instructions appear to have been disregarded, and Dodsworth went through the volume again in March, 1628, his new notes following those made previously; and as he makes no remark to the contrary, the Chartulary was presumably still at Levens. There was a connection between the Ingleby and Bellingham families, Sir William Ingleby, who died in 1652, having married a daughter of Sir James Bellingham. Archer records that the Chartulary was in the custody of the Ingleby family in 1634.⁵ In the first edition, 1695, of Tanner's Notitia Monastica, he states that there was a Register of Bridlington with Sir William Ingleby, of Rippon (sic), and another with John Bellingham, of Levens. I think he must have been under a mistake here. That the volume which was at Levens in 1627 is identical with that now preserved at Ripley is ascertainable from Dodsworth's extracts, to which the folios of the original he saw are appended, and these correspond with the relative folios in the Ripley chartulary.⁶ In 1719, the Chartulary was at Ripley, as we know from

³ Dodsworth MSS., vol. clix, fo. 130.

⁴ See Walbran's Memorials of Fountains (Surtees Society, lxxvii, 98).

⁵ East Riding Antiquarian Society's Journal, viii, 52.

⁶ There are a few discrepancies here and there, due no doubt to mistakes in copying. Dodsworth does not appear to have gone steadily through the volume, but to have turned over the leaves backwards and forwards, making notes and extracts where any matter seemed to him important or interesting.

the record of the visit of Warburton, Somerset Herald, to Ripley Castle in that year,¹ and Dr. Burton mentions in the Monasticon Eboracense (1758) that it was then in the possession of Sir John Ingleby, Bart.; and at Ripley it has, no doubt, remained ever since.

The Ingleby family have been by no means illiberal in allowing the use of the Chartulary to antiquaries. As mentioned above, both Dods-worth and Gascoigne² made extracts from it. Dr. Burton took from it by far the larger portion of his account of Bridlington Priory in the Monasticon Eboracense.³ Prickett, who wrote an account of the Priory in 1831, and Poulson, the historian of Holderness, were also under great obligations to the volume, and Walbran, the historian of Fountains, had likewise access to it. Other writers on Yorkshire topography have probably made use of it.

I may add a few sentences as to the methods of the present work. No attempt has been made in the following pages to edit the MS. in the sense in which the word is ordinarily used. To edit fully and fittingly such a chartulary would take more time than I can hope to be able to give to the work. Hence the present volume must be regarded rather as a storehouse of facts for the student of Yorkshire and Lincolnshire topography and genealogy than as an original work. The notes I have added are mainly on matters relating to the manuscript itself. I have, however, given in them the modern names of vills where there might be a little difficulty in identifying those names as written by the scribe.

Much care has been used in making the English abstracts from the original copies of the documents in the Chartulary, which are, of course, with a very few exceptions, in the usual abbreviated medieval Latin. I have not thought it necessary to give purely formal and legal phrases in full, and the plan used to avoid the constant repetition of such phrases may be briefly explained as follows :

The grants are, generally, to "God and the Church of the Blessed Mary of Bridlington and the Canons serving God there," or some variation of this wording. All this is expressed in the following pages by the word "Grant," or by "Confirmation" or "Quitclaim," where the document is of such a nature. It must always be understood that where no grantee is mentioned in the following deeds the grant is to the Prior and Convent or Canons of Bridlington; and also that when a Prior and Convent or Canons are mentioned without the name of a Religious house, Bridlington is intended.

² Gascoigne has inserted occasional notes in the Chartulary, and frequently added regnal years where dates occur. He was much too fond of writing remarks in any manuscript which came into his hands.

³ Burton, though he must always be regarded with respect by those who make a study of Yorkshire history, was unfortunately far from being as accurate as he was industrious. As numerous differences will be found between the Mon. Ebor. and the present work, it may be as well to mention that where I observed such differences I verified my version by another reference to the original Chartulary. Poulson is more accurate, but even in his extracts I have found repeated errors.

Most of the grants contain the usual Warranty, in a form something like this: "Et ego et heredes mei prenominatam terram cum pertinenciis suis dictis Canonicis contra omnes homines warrantizabimus, defendemus, et ab omnibus serviciis, etc., acquietabimus." This wording is, of course, constantly somewhat varied, but when no special clause is introduced I have represented the whole by "Warranty" or "Warranty, and acquittance from services, etc.," as the case requires.

The sealing clause is expressed by the word "Testimonium" where that word appears in it, as it usually does,—"in cujus rei testimonium," etc. Where the clause is differently worded, as, for instance, "et ut hec mea donacio firma sit et stabilis presenti scripto sigillum meum apposui," I have used the word "sigillum" instead of "testimonium."

In the witnessing clause "testes" or "hiis testibus" is represented by "Test."

The word "dominus" in its different cases is shortened to "Dom."

The "pro anima" clause—that is, where a gift is stated to be made for the good of the soul of the donor or the souls of relations or friends—is only given when it contains names or other information not elsewhere in the deed.

The "habendum" clause, of which a common form is "tenendum et habendum libere quiete et pacifice ab omnibus secularibus serviciis, demandis, et exactionibus," or some similar form of words, I have printed shortly "to hold freely, etc., from services, etc."

The disclaimer clause in quitclaims,—"ita quod nec ego nec heredes mei de cetero aliquod jus, etc., vindicare vel exigere possimus"—is omitted, as purely formal.

The terms fixed for payment of rents reserved, as Whitsuntide, Martinmas, etc., are not usually printed.

The headings to the documents are not given, as in general they are only formal, and contain no information beyond that in the deed,—thus "donum unius carucate terre," "confirmatio duorum selionum," and so forth; but in a few cases where it seemed advisable to show them they are printed in the notes.

Christian names are generally given in the modern form, and where the medieval word is still used, as Reginald and Matilda, I have retained it. Surnames are left as they appear in the original, except that professions are translated, as clerk for "clericus," chaplain for “capellanus,” etc. In a few well-known cases, such as FitzJohn, FitzAlan, FitzBrian, FitzGerold, the name is so written, instead of “son of,” as being the general reading.

A few very early or interesting deeds are purposely printed in the original Latin, but English abstracts are given at p. 457.

These explanations will, I hope, show exactly how far the present work represents the original. I have endeavoured throughout in making the abstracts to give the full purport of the documents, and to leave out no material fact, and I believe that nothing of any moment is omitted, except formal matter as explained above. I will only add that although in so long a work I cannot hope to have altogether avoided mistakes, I trust that time will show that they are not numerous or important.

I cannot conclude without expressing my thanks to my friend, Mr. William Brown, F.S.A., for his advice and suggestions on several doubtful points.

GRANT by William de Cantilupo, k^t, and Matilda his wife, to the Prior and Convent of Brideling[ton] of a messuage, four carucates of land, and ten pounds of yearly rent, with the appurtenances, which formerly the grantors held from them in Brid[ington]. To have and hold to the grantees freely, etc., with all villeins, their families and chattels, and all liberties, customs, homages, suits of Court, escheats, services of free men and villeins, etc., within and without the vill. Saving to Matilda, formerly wife of Osbert de Arches, during her life, the lands and tenements in the same which she holds in the name of dower of the inheritance of the grantor Matilda, and which at the death of the said Matilda de Arches shall revert to the same Religious. Rendering thence yearly to the grantors and the survivor of them and the heirs of Matilda, so long as Matilda de Arches shall live, £23, and after her death £26 . 13 . 4, and finding a Chaplain, Canon or secular at the option of the grantees, to celebrate for their souls and those of their ancestors and heirs, in the Church of Brid[ington]. Whenever any heir of the grantors is under age, the Prior and Convent, as nearest Capital Lords of the fee, may retain the yearly rent as their Ward (velud suam wardam). Power of distraint and re-entry reserved to the grantors, if the rent or service of the chantry should be in arrear. (Fo. 12^b.) Warranty, as long as the rent and service are duly rendered. Testimonium. Testes, Sirs (dominis) William de S^t Quintin, Ralph de Hale, William de Bucton, k^{ts}, Richard de Lascy, Aceus de Flixton, Thomas de Speton, William son of William de Besingby, Andrew le mercer of Brid[ington], Gilbert Siluer of Brid[ington], and others.

FINE at Westminster in fifteen days of Easter, 14 Edw. I, between Geoffrey, Prior of the Church of Brid[ington], quer., by brother Peter de Langetoft, his Canon, in his place to gain or lose, and William de Cantilupo and Matilda his wife, imped., respecting a messuage, four carucates of land, and ten pounds of rent, with the appurt., in Brid[lington]. William and Matilda recognised the right of the Prior and his Church, and moreover granted for themselves and the heirs of Matilda that the third part of two parts of the said tenements which Matilda de Arches held in dower of the inheritance of Matilda wife of the said William, on the day of this concord, and which at her death ought to revert to the deforciant, shall remain at the death of Matilda [de Arches] to the Prior and his Church : to hold from the Chief Lords of that fee, together with the two parts of the said tenements, by the services due, for ever. The Prior granted for himself and his successors the rents to William and Matilda and the heirs of Matilda, specified in the previous document, subject to a similar covenant as to non-payment in case of nonage of an heir, and the provision for a Chaplain to celebrate in his Church for the souls of William and Matilda, Osbert de Arches, Richard de Percy, Matilda de Arches, and the heirs of the said William and Matilda, for ever. Warranty by William and Matilda for themselves and the heirs of Matilda, and the Prior recognised their right of distraint in case of arrears of the rent. Matilda de Arches was present when this concord was made, and admitted that she had no right in the said third part except by way of dower for her life, and did fealty to the Prior in Court.

(Fo. 13)

WILLIAM de Cantilupo and Matilda his wife, to all faithful, etc. Whereas in our late charter of enfeoffment of our lands and tenements in Brid[lington] to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] was contained among other things that they should find at their own charges a chaplain, Canon or secular, to celebrate in the Church of Bridl[ington] for our souls and those of our ancestors, heirs, and friends, but the Final Concord levied in the King's Court purports and contains that the said Chantry be always served by a Canon¹: we concede by this present writing that the Chantry may be served by a Canon or secular, as the Prior and Convent may think fit, notwithstanding that in the Final Concord a Canon only is mentioned. Testimonium. Testes, Master Robert de Scardeburg, Dean of York, Master Henry de Neuwerk, Archdeacon of Richmond, Hugh de Collom, John Belle, Hamo de la barre, Philip Arundel, Geoffrey son of Geoffrey, Randolf de Kyllom, and others.

GRANT² by Hugh, Prior, and the Convent of the Church of S.M. of Brid[lington] to Henry Siluer their man and his heirs, in fee and inheritance, of four bovates of land in Marton, with a toft and all the appurt., in exchange for that carucate in Fraistingthorp which they, the grantors, gave to Thomas de Alost for the land of Speton (pro terra Spetone). To hold from the grantors for half a mark of silver yearly to be paid to them, free and quit from all other services to them and gelds, except Danegeld. The grantors will warrant the land to Henry and his heirs, and for this exchange he has quitclaimed the claim which he had in the carucate in Fraistingthorp, and Helewisa his wife and Gregory his son and heir³ have GRANT by Hugh, Prior, and the Convent of the Church of S.M. of Bridl[ington] to Henry Siluer their man and his heirs, in fee and inheritance, of four bovates of land in Bridl[ington], with the toft which belonged to his father, and the toft of Ralph Mailimer and all the appurt., and the toft which was Silvan's the fisherman, and two tofts between his toft and that toft of Silvan, and a toft between the toft of Ralph de Marisco and the toft of Gerebric, for ten shillings to be paid to the grantors yearly; and half a carucate of land with its appurt. in Bukton for a mark of silver to be paid to them yearly. To hold to Henry and his heirs, free from other services to the grantors and gelds, except Danegeld. Moreover they have given to him and his heirs in fee and inheritance four perches (percatas) of land in Neuton in Holdern[ess], which are reckoned as two bovates (que computantur p' ii bov'), for ten shillings to be paid to them yearly; Henry and his heirs to do foreign service. Testes, Ernald and Elias, chaplains of Bridl[ington], Anthony, chaplain of Killum, W., chaplain of Langetoft, R. de Bucton (fo. 13^b) and R. de Holdernes, deacons of Bridl[ington], R. the clerk of Poclinto[n], Walter de Bouincton, W. de Torp, W. de Sywardeby, W. de Bucton, Osbert de Siwardeby, Walter son of Simon de Marton, William son of Alexander de Besingby, Gilbert de Speton, R. de Greg' son of Alexander de Bucton,² William de Lekburn, R. de Swaldale.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by Henry Siluer that he holds from the Church of S^t Mary of Bridl[ington] and his lords the Canons there, four bovates of land with the toft which was his father's and the toft of Ralph Mailimer with the appurt., and a toft between the toft of Ralph de Marisco and the toft of Gerebric, and the toft which was Silvan's the fisherman, and two tofts between his own toft and that toft of Silvan's, for ten shillings payable to the Canons yearly. Moreover he holds from them half a carucate of land with the appurt. in Buctona for a mark of silver payable to them yearly, and in Martona four bovates of land with a toft and all other appurt. [for] half a mark of silver payable to them yearly: this land in Marton Prior Hugh and the Convent gave him in exchange for that carucate in Fraistingthorp which they gave to Thomas de Alost for the land of Speton. For this exchange, Henry has quitclaimed to them all his claim in that carucate of Fraistingthorp, and in Bridel[ington] he has quitclaimed to them the toft of William Pinder and another toft opposite his house on the other side of the road, which was Gerebric's. Moreover he holds from the Canons four perches (percatas), which are reckoned for two bovates, in Neuton in Hold[erness] for ten shillings payable to them yearly. He and his heirs will do foreign service for the same land. All these things he holds in fee and inheritance from the Canons, free and quit of all other customs and services to them and gelds, except Danegeld. Helewys his wife and Gregory his son and heir have renounced the claim which they had in the carucate of Fraistingthorp, so that Gregory shall be between the Canons and his said stepmother if she shall at any time desire to raise a suit (loqui voluerit) against them respecting the land.

The witnesses are the same as in the previous document, with two or three variations in the names; "William" instead of W. chaplain of Lange-toft, "Vic" instead of R. clerk of Poclinton, "Adelard" instead of Alexander de Besingby, "R. and Greg" instead of the unintelligible "R. de Greg," "Walter deuincto[n]" (evidently a mistake for de Bouincton).

QUITCLAIM by Gilbert Siluer of Brid[lington] to his lords the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] of a bovate of land with the appurt. which he held from them in the field of Bridel[ington], namely that bovate which lies through the whole field (per totum campum) between the culture of the Prior and Convent on one side and the bovate which he gave to Gilbert his eldest son on the other. To hold to them wholly and quietly, etc. Testimonium. Testes, Sirs (dominis) Robert Constable, T. de Heslerton, k^{ts}, Walter de Bucton, William and Geoffrey of the same, J. de Marton, Thomas de Sywardeby, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Gilbert Siluer, son and heir of Luke Siluer of Brid[lington], to the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington], (fo. 14) of all that plot (placeam) of meadow, with free entry and exit, in the vill and territory of Bridel[ington], extending in length from his capital house (mansione) to the common pasture in the moor, and in breadth from the toft in which Matilda de Collom formerly dwelt, as her dower, to the pasture called Oxpasture. ANNO 1262, at the Assumption B.M., brother G., Prior of Brid[lington], and the Convent, granted and demised to Gilbert Siluer and his heirs one toft with croft in Brid[lington], lying next (propinquius) to the garden of the same Gilbert on the west, and which Robert de Godew̄r sometime held from the grantors. To hold with the appurt. freely, etc. for ever. Moreover the Prior and Convent have granted to Gilbert and his heirs free transit through the new road which extends from the street of Sywardeby towards the south as far as Dreggergate on the east side of the enclosure (claustrum), which they made around their culture called Applgarthaile. And Gilbert in exchange has given the Prior and Convent and quit-claimed that toft with croft and the appurt. in Bridl[ington] lying opposite his capital messuage on the north side of the road, which toft John de Barke-dale formerly held from Gilbert. Gilbert has also given the Prior and Convent the right to enclose all that culture of land in the territory of Brid[lington] called Appelgarthaile by wall, hedge, or fosse, namely the culture which extends from the garden of the Prior and Convent and from the churchyard from the vill of Bridel[ington] towards the east as far as the bound (divisam) between the said culture of Osbert de Arches,¹ and towards the south from the street of Sywardeby to Croftdike, and from Croftdike on the west of the toft of Peter Godones as far as Fiskergate, including those three tofts which Walter Broun, Roger son of Mabel, and Robert the toll-collector (tolenarius) formerly held from the Prior and Convent, and all the said toft which was Gilbert Siluer's, and all their park (or fishpond: vivarium) as far as Fiskergate and Draggergate, and by the same road all the tofts and crofts as far as the south corner of their garden; which enclosure (clausuram) the Prior and Convent shall sustain, restore, and renew as often as they think fit. GRANT by Gilbert Siluer of Bridel[ington] to William son of Stephen Buzauant of Kyllom, for forty shillings paid in hand, of the ground (aream) of the toft which Robert Godwyn the stonemason used to dwell in, lying between the fosse of the grantor's garden and the toft of Matilda Houyaird; namely the toft which he (Gilbert) received in exchange from the Prior of Brid[lington] for the toft formerly John de Barkedale's. To hold to the grantee and his heirs or assigns freely etc., rendering yearly to the grantor and his heirs a halfpenny at Christmas. Gilbert and his heirs will warrant the said site (aream) with the edifice built there, (fo. 14^b) but so that it shall be lawful for the lord G. de Naffreton, Prior, to retake the said site for the same sum of money, together with the costs which William has incurred in building or improving the toft. *Sigillum. west of the toft which Hilda Leueday holds from the Prior and Convent in Bridel[ington], and may make a fosse in the land as wide and deep as they think fit, to receive the water, and fill the fosse and repair it, and he and his heirs will warrant such fosse to them: he has also granted to them that they may make a fosse beside his pasture which extends from the vill of Brid[lington] towards Hildertorph as far as the end (horam) of his fosse on the west, as large and deep as they think fit, to receive the said water, and fill and repair it when necessary, and may throw the earth upon his land as upon their own, and may thence proceed directly or obliquely with the said fosse through the middle of the common pasture as far as the old fosse which extends towards Castelburun. For this concession the Prior and Convent have granted Odinell¹ in exchange as many perches (perlicas) of the meadow near his meadow as the fosse made in his land contains: moreover they will provide for Edinell and his heirs a bridge at their cost across the fosse made in his land which is beside the toft of the said Hilda, by which he may have ingress and egress with carts and waggons to carry his hay and other things, and another bridge across the fosse which is to the west of Edinell's pasture, over which he and also the Prior and Convent shall have passage to their pastures. The Prior and Convent will make good to Edinell, by the view of lawful men, all damage to his hay or corn by inundation of the said fosses. If in the course of time they shall require (fo. 15^b) a larger fosse they may enlarge it. Testimonium.

GRANT and Confirmation by T. de Arches to the Canons that they may have a water-course to their mill, as granted by Edinell his brother through the middle of his lands in Brid[lington], and carry it to the old fosse on the south side of the same vill, as is contained in Edinell's charter. C No 1156
47-1153
TO Henry, by the grace of God Archbishop of York, and all sons of Holy Mother Church, cleric and lay, French and English, Gilbert de Gant, Earl of Lincoln, greeting. Be it known to all that I give and by the testimony of the present charter confirm to the Church of St. Mary of Brid[lington] and my Canons, in perpetual alms, all that land which William Constable held of my fee in Yorkshire; namely all the vill of Besingby, with all things appendant to the same vill (cum omnibus eidem ville adiacentibus) in Hilderthorp, in Willesthorp, in Forduna, in land arable, in meadows, in pastures, in the sea, in the shores (litoribus), in waters, in fisheries, in mills, in marsh, discharged, quit, and free from all services and customs, as freely and quietly as any alms may or ought to be, for the souls of my father and mother, and my own and my ancestors' (parentum). These being witnesses etc.¹

GRANT by Stephen son of William de Besingby to the Church of St. Mary of Brid[lington] and the Canons there, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of all the land at Besingby which he had within the new fosse of his said lords the Canons in Lambe Holme, and he has quitclaimed from him and his heirs for ever. Warranty. Test., William de Percy, Robert his son, Walter de Carthorp, Adam de Bouinctona, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, William de Lekeburn.

QUITCLAIM by Nicholas de Besingby son of William de Besingby, to his lords the Prior and Convent of a toft with all the appurt. in Besingby, containing eighteen perches (perticatas) of land in length and nine perches in width, lying beside (iuxta) the toft of Peter Pelyn on the west. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Walter de Grendal', Robert de Ulram, Robert de Rednesse, William de Besingby, Peter his brother, Gilbert de Speton, Gilbert Siluer, Robert Marshall (marescallo), and others.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by Nicholas de Besingby, son of William de Besingby, that he holds from his lords the Prior and Convent of Bridlington half a carucate of land in Besingby with all the appurt., except two acres of land which Gerard son of Languse sometime held; namely that half carucate which William his father sometime held: rendering yearly to the Prior and Convent twelve shillings, and doing foreign service as belongs to so much land in that vill; saving to them in perpetuity (Fo. 21) Wardship and Relief when it happens. In testimony of which to the present, etc. Witnesses, etc.²

GRANT by brother J. the Prior and the Convent of Brid[lington] to Richard son of Nicholas de Besingby of a plot (placeam) of land in Besingby, lying on the west of the toft formerly Peter Pelin's, and which (quam) Nicholas, Richard's father, quitclaimed to the grantors. To hold to Richard and his heirs, with all appurt. etc., freely, etc., rendering to the grantors half a mark yearly. Neither Richard nor his heirs may give or mortgage the land, whether to Christian or Jew, without the grantor's consent. Mutual seals.

GRANT by brother G., Prior, and the Convent of Brid[lington] to Richard son of Stephen de Hilderthorp and Alice his wife, daughter and heir of Richard de Eston, of four bovates of land and a capital messuage in Besingby, and the service of William Furnial from one bovate of land there. Which land with said [messuage]¹ and the appurt. the said Richard father of Alice sometime held from the grantors, and which come to her by hereditary right. To hold from the grantors, with all appurt., freely, etc., rendering to them fourteen shillings yearly for all services to them. After the death of the said Richard son of Stephen, Alice his wife and her heirs shall hold the land with all the premises at the option and will of the grantors, either by the said service of fourteen shillings yearly or by the ancient service which Richard de Eston and his ancestors did for the said holding. It is conceded that the grantors and their successors shall not be able to advance any right or claim on the said Richard, his family or chattels, by reason of the delivery (manumissionis) or grant (concessionis) which the Prior and Convent of Wattona made to the grantors by charter, of Richard and his family and chattels. Testimonium.

MEMORANDUM² of the service due from the land formerly Richard de Eston's in Besingby; namely, he is held to find a good horse (runcinum), and himself with a competent horse to go forth with a Canon going in the place of a supervisor,³ whenever summoned, provided that he have his costs from the House. Also, he is held to find three boon-works (precarias) with his plough yearly in the fields of Besingby, and three boon-works in Autumn, and himself, with his men, shall be (erit) in the place of a reeve (prepositi) on those days, and he shall have daily a small loaf of white bread (micam albam) and a measure of the Canons' ale and one dish of meat or fish, as is allotted to one Canon in the refectory on that day. Moreover he is held to pay five shillings sterling yearly, half at Whitsuntide and half at Martinmas. In the year 1264 this memorandum (commemoracio) was made. In testimony Richard son of Stephen de Hilderthorp, now holding the said land, has affixed his seal to this schedule.

GRANT by John son of Arundel de Hilderthorp, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land in the territory of Hilderthorp; those namely which Uthred and Geoffrey his nephew (nepos) sometime held from the grantor at ferni, with the toft which Reynald son of Norman sometime held from him, and another toft which Richard son of Brichtiue sometime held from him, with all other appurtenances etc. within and without the vill. To hold and have for ever from the grantor and his heirs, free and quit of all secular service. Warranty. Test., William de Percy and Robert his son, Walter de Bouincton and William his son, Masters Gilbert and Robert of Brid[lington], William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Peter de Spetona, Henry de Gyseburg.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by Hugh son of Emma daughter of Gamel de Hilderthorp that he holds in fee and inheritance from the Canons of Brid[lington] six bovates of land in Hilderthorp, namely five which Arnald the priest, his uncle, held in demesne, and a sixth which lies to the south (vicinior soli) beside them, with the toft in which the same Arnald lived and the toft in which Walter his brother lived, and all other appurt. etc. within and without the vill. To hold from them free and quit from all services and customs for twelve shillings yearly. He has quitclaimed and renounced to the Canons all the right which he alleged he had in other eight bovates in Hilderthorp of the same fee, with the villeins (rusticis) holding them with their families and chattels, and all other appurtenances within and without the vill. Moreover he, Hugh, will receive nothing from the said land granted to him so long as Ernald the priest his uncle shall live in secular habit, but after his death or change of habit, Hugh shall receive the land without condition, and dispose of it as his own inheritance. Sigillum. Test., W. de Thorp, W. de Sywardeby and Ernald his son, William de Scuris, William de Lekeburun, Master Gilbert Siluer, Luke his brother, and others.

FINAL concord made in the Court of the lord Hubert, Prior of Brid[lington], on the day of St. Ambrose, 10 Henry III, before Walter the Official, William de Scalleby and Gregory de Brid[lington], chaplains, Walter de Folketona, Geoffrey de Geddinges, Master Ivo de Witeby, Gilbert de Speton, Peter his son, Andrew Marshall, Luke Siluer, Stephen de Besingby, William de Eston, Nicholas de Besing[by], (fo. 22^b) Nicholas de Bucton, Thomas his son, Thomas the merchant (mercator), and many others, between Robert de Rednesse pet. and the said Prior ten., respecting six bovates of land with the appurt. in Hilderthorp, whence a plea was between them in the said Court by writ of right of the Lord King, and a duel was waged; namely that Robert recognised the said land, with all appurt., to be the right of the Prior and his Church of Brid[lington], and quitclaimed it, with the tofts and the villeins and all their families and chattels, and all other the appurtenances, liberties, and easements within and without the vill, to the said Prior and his Church for ever, and returned to him the writ by which he sued in the said Court before the said men. And for this recognition, etc. the Prior gave Robert a toft in Hilderthorp which Reginald son of Arundel held in exchange for another toft which Arnald son of Henry held, and for that little piece (particula) of land which Richard son of Lambert gave to the same Robert. And moreover he gave to the same Robert two bovates of land with the appurt. in Hilderthorp which Stephen at Grene sometime held. To hold and have to the said Robert and [his] heirs from the said Prior and his successors, together with the six bovates of land, with the tofts and villeins and all other liberties, appurtenances, and easements, which the same Robert previously held in the same vill : Rendering yearly from the said eight bovates of land with the appurt. twelve shillings, which he was accustomed to render from the six bovates, for all service. That Robert and his heirs may not be able hereafter to have any claim in the six bovates against the Prior, nor the Prior and his successors to demand any other service from Robert and his heirs for the eight bovates, this chirograph has been sealed by both sides.

FINE in the King's Court at York on the morrow of Trinity, 30 Hen. III, between Robert Buscel and Helewis his wife, pet., and Thomas, Prior of Brid[lington], ten., respecting two bovates of land and two tofts with the appurt. in Hilderthorp, whence an assize mortis antecessoris was summoned between them in the same Court. Robert and Helewisa remitted and quitclaimed for themselves and the heirs of Helewisa to the Prior and his successors and his Church of Brid[lington] all right and claim in the said land and tofts, and the Prior agreed that in future he and his successors will render yearly to Robert and Helewisa half a quarter of corn (frumenti) and half a quarter of barley during the life of Helewis, at Martinmas ; and after her death they shall be quit of such payment of grain.

QUITCLAIM by Stephen Buscel of Hilderthorp to his lords the Prior and Convent of all the tenement which he held from them in Hilderthorp, with the homages and services of free men and serfs in that vill, namely one bovat of land with three tofts and half a toft, with all the appurt. which Walter de Rednesse and Isabel, formerly wife of Gilbert de Speton, formerly held from him at term ; and moreover one toft in the same vill which was sometime his capital messuage, lying beside the toft of Gilbert Oustyby on the east ; and also the service of two bovates of land with the appurt., and one croft in the same vill, with the yearly rent (fo. 23) of seven shillings receivable from the said land, namely from one bovat of land which Malger son of Iuet' held, four shillings, and from one bovat of land which Ralph son of Richard held, two shillings, and from one croft which Thomas de Syward[by] held, twelve pence. Moreover he has confirmed and quitclaimed to the Prior and Convent half a toft in Hilderthorp which Robert the forester and Alice his wife, the grantor's sister, quitclaimed to them. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de Bucton, Thomas de Heslardton, k^{ts}, Gilbert Siluer of Brid[lington], William de Ascham, Alan Ceyt,¹ Philip of the Infirmary, Geoffrey the clerk, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Thomas de Syward[by] to his lords the Prior and Convent of a toft with croft and all the appurt. in Hilderthorp, which he had by the gift of Stephen Buscell, and which Stephen sometime held from them for twelve pence yearly: to hold and to have to them or their assigns, freely and peaceably for ever. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Robert Constable, Thomas de Heslerton, k^{ts}, Walter de Bucton, William of the same, John de Marton, William de Besingby, Walter de Reygate, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Geoffrey Modipas of Hilderthorp to his lords the Prior and Convent of all right and claim in two butts called Keldebottes, with a selion called le Gildelande, extending in length beside (iuxta) the beck,¹ in the territory of Hilderthorp; which butts and selion he held from them in the vill and territory of Hilderthorp. To hold and have to them freely, etc., from all secular service, etc. Testimonium. Test., Walter de Bucton, Robert de Syward[by], Thomas of the same, John de Martona, Gilbert Siluer, William le mercer, of Brid[lington], and others.

GRANT by Malger son of Arnald de Hilderthorp to Richard son of Stephen de Hild[erthorp] of two parts of a toft in the vill of Hildtorp, namely two parts of that toft which lies between the toft of Adam de Wittona on one side and the toft of Stephen on the other, extending in width from the dower of Malger's mother towards the east three perches (percal') and three feet; in length, from the road to the north, fifteen perches (percal'). To hold and have to Richard or his assigns, freely, etc., rendering yearly to Malger, his heirs or assigns, one penny in the Octaves of Christmas for all secular service, etc. Warranty. Sigillum. Test., John de Syuardeby, T. his brother, G. Siluer, W. son of Nicholas de Besingby, Richard his brother, Stephen Buscel, Geoffrey son of W. de Hilderthorp, Robert le porter, (fo. 23^b) Robert Twenling, Henry Lenair, Andrew le mercer, Peter le Paytefyn.²

GRANT by Richard son of Stephen de Hilderthorp to God and the fabric of the Church of S. M. of Brid[lington], in pure and perpetual alms, of two parts of a toft in Hild[erthorp] which he had of the gift of Malger son of Arnald de Hilderthorp. To hold and to have, with all the appurt., freely, etc., for ever; rendering thence to the said Malger one penny yearly for all secular services, etc. Testimonium. Test., T. de Syuardeby, G. Modypas of Hildertorp, Robert Tunelling of Wylesthorp, G. Siluer of Brid[lington], Richard de Grendal.

QUITCLAIM by Malger son of Arnald de Hilderthorp to God and the Church of B. M. of Brid[lington] of the yearly rent of one penny, which the Sacristan of the Church was accustomed to pay him for two parts of a toft in Hilderthorp, which Richard son of Stephen de Hilderthorp gave to the fabric of the Church. Testimonium. Given and offered on the great altar of the Blessed Mary of Bridel[ington] on the day of St. Agatha Virgin, 1276. (No witnesses.)

AN Agreement between Robert, Prior, and the Convent of Bridlyngton, of the one part, and the inhabitants of the vill or hamlet of Bempton in the parish of Bridelington of the other. The said inhabitants, by licence and consent of the Prior and Convent, may at their own costs, obtain consecration of a chapel anciently (antiquitus) constructed in the vill in honour of St Michael Archangel, and the churchyard attached and contiguous thereto, and after dedication and consecration thereof, may have their sacraments, and burial in the churchyard, by a chaplain to be brought there and paid by them, but so that no one not dwelling in the vill be buried there without the consent of the Prior and Convent. The inhabitants to keep the Chapel in repair, and provide at their own charges all necessary books, ornaments, chalices, vestments, and other things chargeable (onera). Mortuaries to continue to be rendered to the Parish Church of Bridlyngton, where the dead of Bempton used to be interred, and to be delivered there to the Proctor of the Prior and Convent. The Chaplain in charge of the Chapel shall receive at the churching of women a penny, and at the burial of the dead at each mass one penny commonly called "heued-messepeny," and other benefits (commoditates) which chaplains of the said Chapel were accustomed to receive before the dedication. To assist the inhabitants to provide for the chaplain, the Prior and Convent will give them thirteen shillings and four pence yearly, by equal portions at Martinmas and Whitsuntide, and will find wine and bread for sacraments, and yearly two pounds of wax in four candles to burn in the Chapel, two at the feast of St Michael and the other two at Easter. In testimony, the Prior and Convent have affixed their common seal, and the inhabitants have obtained the seal of the Dean of the Deanery of Dekeryng to be affixed (affixi fecerunt). At Bridlyngton, in the Chapter House, 18 July, 1441.³

Church, with the liberties which are in his charter, and directed (precepit) the present testifier, as his brother and man, to be present at the writing and sealing, with his men who were then with him, and when the charters respecting these things had been read before these men, by the counsel and assent of the same his men, John the Chamberlain accepted from the hand of the present testifier the seal, and, under their testimony sealed them; of this thing he (the testifier) is witness and if any one should contradict, he is prepared to do whatever appertains to a legitimate witness. "Valete."

GRANT by John de Karleton to the Canons, in perpetual alms, of his capital messuage and a carucate of land, with all the appurt. in Burton Flemeng, namely as well with the mill with the villeins with all their chattels and families as with all wardships, reliefs, escheats, homages, and all other services of free men and natives, which he had by the gift of Geoffrey Berioth in the vill and territory of Burton Fleming. To hold and have all the aforesaid to the said Canons or their assigns, freely, etc., with all liberties, easements, and appurt. within and without the vill for ever: doing thence yearly to the chief lords of the fee foreign service as belongs to so much land of that fee in the same vill. He and his heirs will warrant to the Canons or their assigns against all (fo. 42) Christians, and will acquit against all Jews all debts, demands, and suits, from the beginning of the world to the day when this charter was made. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) John de Octona, William de St Quintin, William de Axthorp, k^{ts}, Walter de Bucton, Geoffrey of the same, William de Haulay, Henry the porter (portar'), John Fryboys of Burtona, John Rudde, and others. At Burton Fleming, the fourth of the Ides of April. the year of the reign of King Eduard.¹

CONFIRMATION by William de Ros and Eustachia his wife to the Canons, of all lands, tenements, and fees which they have of the fee lately the confirmors' and by whatever gifts, in the field and vill of Burton Flandrens', with all appurt., homages, wardships, reliefs, escheats, rents, and all other liberties and services. Disclaimer of all services, etc., from the Canons, their successors or tenants. Testimonium. Test., Sir (domino: sic) Robert de Ros, Alexander de Kyrketon, Thomas de Heslarton, W. de St Quintin, k^{ts}, Hugh de Collomp, Nicholas de Melton, Geoffrey de Bucton, Richard de Berneuill, Richard de Lacy, and others.

FINE in the King's Court at Warr', the Octaves of Hilary 13 Edw. 1, between brother Geoffrey, Prior of Brid[lington] quer., by brother Peter de Langetoft, his Canon, in his place to gain or lose, and William de Ros and Eustachia his wife, deforc., respecting one messuage and six carucates of land, with the appurt., in Burton Flemyng. The deforciant quitclaimed for themselves and the heirs of Eustachia to the Prior and his successors all right and claim in the premises, whether in desmesne or service, and in all other lands and tenements which the Prior and his Church held of the fee of William and Eustachia in the said vill on the day of this concord. And for this quitclaim, fine, and concord, the Prior gave William and Eustachia twenty pounds sterling.

¹ I cannot make out the regnal year, the word appears to be "s'o." Burton takes it to be "secundo." The usual formula after the King's name, "son of King," is wanting.

CONFIRMATION by Gilbert de Gaunt, son and heir of the lord (domini) Gilbert de Gaunt, to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of all lands and tenements which they have of the holding formerly (quondam) of Geoffrey Beriot of the grantor's fee in Burton Flandrens', with all appurt., homages, wardships, reliefs, escheats, and all services and liberties, without claim by the confirmor or his heirs for homage, suit of Court or other secular service. (Fo. 42^b) Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Thomas de Heselton, William de S^t Quintin of Harpham, William de Axthorp, k^{ts}, Walter de Bucton, William de Bucton, Geoffrey de Bucton, John de Marton, Thomas de Speton, William de Besingby, and others.

AGREEMENT made on Sunday before the feast of S^t Michael, 1291, between the lord Geoffrey de Nafferton, Prior of Brid[lington], and the Convent, of the one part, and Arnald son and heir of Dom. Walter de Bucton, of the other. Arnald granted to the Prior and Convent all the lands and tenements which Walter his father had on the day of his death in Burtona Flemyng, of which William son of Malger de Ergom held a toft and two bovates of land, Robert son of Stephen two tofts and one bovate, William son of Nigel a toft and one bovate, Adam Doble one bovate, the brotherhood (fraternitas) of S^t Andrew one toft, Robert the chaplain of Hundmanby one toft, Walter Percy one toft and half a bovate, John Doble one bovate, the wife of Robert Redheued one toft and half a bovate, Robert de Bouington half a bovate, Peter the tailor (cissor) half a bovate and a toft beside the stone cross. To have and to hold to the said Religious and their successors, in free, peaceable, and perpetual alms, with all appurt., liberties, services, wardships, reliefs, escheats, reversions, and other things belonging to the said lands and tenements: Arnald and his heirs will warrant, etc., as the Prior and Convent of S^t Oswald's and others his feoffors shall warrant to him and his heirs; namely for the support of a Chaplain whom the aforesaid Religious shall find at their own charges, and, on peril of their souls, shall maintain, in all things necessary for celebrating at the altar of the blessed John, Apostle and Evangelist, in the Chapel of Bucton for the souls of the Lord Gilbert de Gaunt, the lord Gilbert his son, Walter de Bucton, the Lady Constance his wife, Arnald son of the same Walter and Matilda his wife, Robert de Eleghton, Robert his son and Agnes his wife, and for the souls of the father and mother and ancestors and successors of the same Walter, and for the prosperity of the said Gilbert and Arnaud and Robert, living at the time of this agreement; celebrating as long as Arnald and his heirs shall warrant all the things aforesaid to the Religious. The Chaplain deputed by the said Religious to the said Chantry shall have no other office, and shall wait (expectet) a sufficient time for Arnald, his wife, or heirs, daily when staying at Bucton to attend mass if they should choose. If by fault of the Religious or their Chaplain the Chantry should be left without service beyond fifteen days, Arnald and his heirs may re-enter the aforesaid lands and tenements and retain them with all goods found therein until by the judgment of the Archdeacon of the East Riding or his official all things necessary for the health of the said souls have been put in due form. Mutual seals in testimony. Test., Sirs (dominis) Walter de Grendale, William de Buctona and Thomas de Heselardton, k^{ts}, William son of Malger de Ergom, William son of Robert de Syuard[by], John de Martona, John de Bouington, and others. At Brid[lington] the day and year above written.

CONFIRMATION by Gilbert de Gaunt to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], in pure and perpetual alms, of all that land with the appurt., which Walter (fo. 43) de Bucton had in the vill of Burtona Fleming of the grantor's fee, for the support of a certain Chaplain celebrating in the Chapel of S^t Laurence of Bucton for ever, for the soul of the grantor's father and his own, and for the souls of those for whom the said Walter ordained that celebration in his will (testamento). Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Thomas de Heslerton, Ralph de Hale, k^{ts}, Walter de Louthorp, Ralph de Morwode, Thomas de Hale, Robert de Bouington, and others.

GRANT by Theobald de Wikham with the consent of Beatrice his wife to Eilwald son of Edwald de Burton le Flam', of three bovates of land in the same Burton, and two tofts, namely those two bovates which Edwald his father held from the grantor, with the toft which lies between the land of Alice (Aaliz) daughter of Ivo de Muscamp and the east field, and one bovate which lies between the land of Hugh de Friboys with the toft which is between the land of the Hospital of Jerusalem and the land of the said Alice, with all the appurt., within and without the vill. To hold from the grantor and his heirs in fee and inheritance, freely, etc., for his homage and service, rendering yearly ten shillings for all service to the grantor and his heirs; doing foreign service as belongs to three bovates of land where five carucates make a knight's fee. If any one should claim this land, the grantor and his heirs will warrant to Eiluard (sic) and his heirs. To confirm this charter, Beatrice his wife has appended her seal. Test., William de Boythorp, Robert his brother, Ralph the priest (sac') of Ergom, Geoffrey son of Astin de Burton, Philip the clerk, William Fossard of Neubiging, Walter his brother, Walter son of Ivo de Hundmanby, Thorald of the same vill, W. Mansel, Martin son of William de Burton, W. de Friboys, Geoffrey the clerk his brother, Henry son of Herbert de Burton, and others.

CONFIRMATION by Baldwin son of Theobald de Wikham, to Eilward son of Edwald de Fleming Burton, of three bovates of land with two tofts and all the appurt. in Fleming Burton. To hold freely, etc., in fee and inheritance as the charter of the grantor's father witnesses. Test., William de Boythorp, Robert his brother, Richard the priest (sac') of Ergom, Geoffrey son of Astin, Philip the clerk, W. Fossard of Neubiging, Walter his brother, Walter son of Ivo de Hundmanby, Torald de Hundmanby (Hudm), William Mansel, Martin son of William de Burton, and others.

GRANT by Baldwin son of Theobald de Wikham to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of the service of Ailward (sic) son of Edwald de Burton Flandrens' and all the tenement which he holds from the grantor in the same vill, three bovates of land with two tofts, one (uno) which Edwald his father held, and the other which Alexander son of Emma held, and with all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill, for which the said Eilward paid him yearly ten shillings, and likewise did foreign service, which the Canons shall do for the same land, as belongs to three bovates where five carucates make a knight's fee. Moreover he has quit-claimed to the Canons the homage of Ailward and his heirs for ever. This gift, made by the grantor and Adam his son upon the altar of S^t Mary in Brid[lington], he Baldwin and his heirs will warrant to the Canons. Test., Malger de Erhgam, Simon Escrop and Robert his kinsman (congnato), Robert son of William de Rostona, Ralph Buscel of Wicham, Geoffrey son of Anketin de Burton, Geoffrey son of Henry de Burton, Peter de Friboys, Martin son of William de Burton, Robert de Bucton and Gregory his brother, (fo. 43^b) Hugh de Brigham, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, and many others.

CONFIRMATION of the above grant, by Adam son and heir of Baldwin de Wicham, but without warranty. The same witnesses except the last one, in place of whom the present deed has "William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer," and except Robert and Gregory de Bucton.

GRANT by James de Watsande of three bovates of land with all the appurt. in Burtona, which Peter de Friboys gave him for his service namely for the duel which he waged (feci) for him at York, and two bovates of land with all the appurt. in Burtona near (iuxta) Hornese, which his (the grantor's) father sold to him for fourteen marks of silver. These five bovates he has given for the souls of his father and mother and his own, in perpetual and free alms, saving foreign service; and the Canons shall make his eldest son a Canon when he shall be twenty years old, and meanwhile shall find him necessaries. Test., Peter de Friboys, Malger de Ergom, Henry de Friboys, Elias the priest, Simon son of Geoffrey, William T'iland, Geoffrey son of Anketil, Herbert son of Rod', William son of Lamb[ert] Gilbert de Speton, Henry son of Herbert, Alexander of the hospital, Baldwin son of Rod', Alexander son of William, Hugh de Friboys.

CONFIRMATION by Peter de Friboys to the Canons, with the assent of Geoffrey his son and heir, of the three bovates of land with the appurt. in Flandrens' Burton which James de Watsanda gave in alms; saving foreign service to him and his heirs, as belongs to three bovates of land where five carucates make a knight's fee, free and quit from all other matters. If the Canons shall lose the land by law process (placitum) neither he nor his heirs are to give an exchange. Test., Walter de Bouington, William de Thorp, Richard de Flaynburg, Osbert de Syward[by], Henry Siluer, Ralph de Butha, Gregory Siluer and Luke his brother, William de Willardeby, Benedict de Ebor', Eudo de Thorneton, William de Clocton, Adam de Bouincton, William de Ergom, William son of Robert de Rudestain.

GRANT by Alice de Muscamp, in free and perpetual alms, in her widowhood and full health of body, of two bovates of her land in Burtona Flandrens', namely the northern two of those six which she had in hand when she made this gift, with the toft and croft which Henry the carpenter held from her in the same vill, and with all other appurt, etc., within and without the vill. To hold from her and her heirs, free and quit of all service and secular exaction except foreign service, which the Canons shall do to her and her heirs as belongs to two bovates (fo. 44) where five carucates make a knight's fee. AGREEMENT between the Canons of Bridel[ington] and Alan the clerk of Killum. The Canons have granted to Alan two bovates of land, with all the appurt., in Flandrens' Burton from that carucate which Walter de Gant gave to Simon his cook (coco), to hold from them so long as Alan shall live in secular habit, for two shillings yearly, free and quit from all things belonging to the Canons. And if Alan desires to be a Canon, the Canons of Brid[lington] will receive him and make him a Canon, but if he continues a secular so long that he is prevented by death, they will deliver him their habit if they find him alive, but if dead they will do for him as for their Canon, but in either case the land shall then peaceably revert to the Canons : Alan has sworn that neither he nor any one through him shall use any device whereby the said bovates may be kept back from the Church of Bride[lington]. Test., Stephen de Killom, Walter de Bouington, Peter de Friboys and Geoffrey and Peter his sons, W. de Thorp, Walter de Karethorp, Walter de Killom, Herbert de Stana, Henry Siluer, Robert his brother, Osbert de Syuardeby, William the deacon of Langetofte, Thomas de Bale, Robert son of Farolf.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by Simon son of Roger de Killom of Burton Flandrens', in full Court of the lord Gilbert de Gant of Hundmanby, that that bovate of land, with all the appurt., in the field and vill of Burton Flandrens', is the right of the lord Geoffrey de Naferton, Prior of Bridel[ington] and the Convent thereof, respecting which land the same Prior sued him in the said Court, by writ de recto of the King : and that on the eve of St Martin in winter, in the year of grace 1270, he there surrendered and quitclaimed to the Prior and Convent and their successors the same bovate, with all the appurt.,—namely that which he sometime held from them for four shillings yearly, lying between the lands of John de Karleton on each side, in the said field. For this recognition the Prior gave him, of grace and charity, seven marks of silver. Testimonium. Test., Walter and Geoffrey sons of Arnald de Bucton, John son of Walter de Hundmanby, William Fauconer of the same, Henry le porter of Burton, John Dobel and William son of Mabel of the same, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Henry le porter of Burton Flandrens' to his lords the Prior and Convent of Brid[ington] of all right and claim whether in demesne or service, in all the lands and tenements which he formerly held from them in Burtona aforesaid ; namely in six tofts and four bovates of land, of which he, Henry, sometime held one bovate and one toft extending from the high-road (a communi via) of the vill to Scortebutes towards the south : and (fo. 46^b) Robert his son holds one bovate and one toft, lying next (propinquius) to the said toft in which the grantor dwelt, on the east, for five shillings and sixpence yearly : and Martin Page holds one bovate and one toft, lying next to the said toft wherein the grantor dwelt, on the west, for five shillings and sixpence yearly : and John Debel holds the fourth bovate for five shillings and sixpence and a quarter of a pound of pepper yearly : and John Page holds two tofts which lie between the toft formerly Robert de St Pol's and the toft of Martin Prest, for eighteen pence yearly : and the sixth toft formerly Beatrice Tylande's, which the grantor held in demesne : And a plot of land with an oven built thereon, which plot lies at the side of the spring (super horam fontis) called St Andrew's spring. To have and to hold to his said lords and their successors, quietly and wholly, with the homages, wardships, reliefs, and yearly services and rents of the said tenants and their heirs, together with escheats and all other services, appurt., and easements, within and without the vill. Robert, then vicar of the said vill of Burtona, John Rudde, Richard Aylward, Stephen son of William, Robert Sped of the same, and others.

QUITCLAIM and confirmation by Adam son of Ralph de Roston in the vale of Pykering to his lords the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] of the yearly rent of ten shillings and a penny, together with all right and claim and all manner of services which he was accustomed to receive from Henry de Wytham for four bovates of land, and from Adam son of John for one toft, which they formerly held from the grantor, of the fee of the said Religious in Burton Fleming. To have and to hold to the Prior and Convent and their successors in free and quiet alms, with all liberties, etc. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Walter de Bucton, William of the same, k^{ts}, Richard de Lacy, Thomas de Spetona, Richard le porter of Burton, Richard Aylward, John Rudde of the same, and many others.

GRANT by Robert son of William de Roston in Pykeringlyth to Dom. Geoffrey, Prior of Brid[lington], of the homage and service of William son of Robert de Sywardeby and his heirs for all the tenements which he formerly held from the grantor in Burton Fleming. To have and to hold to the Prior and his successors, Priors of Brid[lington], freely and quietly, with all liberties, etc., and all services from the same tenements, for ever. Testimonium. Test., William son of Malger de Ergom, Arnald son of Walter de Bucton, Richard son of Richard Torny of Rudstayn, Richard Aylward of Burton Fleming, Ralph Fryboys, John Doble, Robert Sped, Richard le porter, John Rudde, Stephen son of William, Martin Page of the same, and others. At Burton Fleming, 5 April, 1291.

GRANT by Geoffrey de Friboys, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of all that toft in Burton Flandrens', which lies between the toft of Peter his brother (fo. 47) and the toft of Peter the smith (fabri), with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill : to hold from him and his heirs, free from all secular service and exaction. Warranty. Test., Walter de Bouington and William his son, Walter de Percy, Robert his son, Richard de Flaynburg, Ernald de Bucton.

GRANT by John de Friboys, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of two tofts in Burton Flandrens', one lying in the place called Authyld towards the south, and the other which Malger the smith (faber) sometime held from Geoffrey de Friboys ; and moreover pasture for a hundred and twenty sheep in the same vill ; with all appurt., etc., within and without the vill. To have and to hold freely, etc., quit of all secular service and demand. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Gregory and Ralph, chaplains, Stephen of the spinney (de spineto), Peter de Ryse, Henry of the spinney (de spineto), Geoffrey Birkebeyn, Robert de Hilderthorp the porter (portario), Henry son of Geoffrey de Burtona, and many others.

QUITCLAIM by Robert Spede of Burton Flandrens' to his lords the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], of all that pasture with the appurt. for a hundred and twenty sheep in the territory of Burton Flandrens', which Richard son of Geoffrey de Bilton had by the gift of Hubert, formerly Prior, and the Convent of Brid[lington], and whereof the same Richard afterwards enfeoffed the grantor.¹ Testimonium. Test., Robert de Wyern, William Bard of But'wyk, Azo de Flixton, William de Besingby, Richard de Lacy.

GRANT by Robert Spede of Burton Fleming to Thomas de Hakenesse, formerly forester of the Abbot of Witeby, of a plot of his (the grantor's) toft in Burton Flemynge which he had by the gift of Richard son of Geoffrey de Bilton, containing in length fifteen perches of land and fourteen feet, and in length (sic) forty-one feet. To hold to Thomas his heirs or assigns for ever, from the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] freely, etc., rendering to them yearly one penny at Christmas for all things. Warranty and acquittance from services, etc. Testimonium. Test., John Rudde of Burton Fleming, John Doble, Ralph de Friboys, Richard Porter, John Page of the same, and others.

CHIROGRAPH witnessing that whereas Robert Spede of Burton Fleming held from the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] two bovates of land with the appurt. in Burton Fleming, for his homage and fealty and service of fourteen shillings yearly, together with foreign service, Robert his son and heir has recognised that he holds the said two bovates in the manner before written, as (fo. 47^b) in the charter of Geoffrey de Nafferton, formerly Prior of Brid[lington] which the same Robert has, is more fully contained. And to the due rendering of the said services Robert binds himself and his heirs and the said two bovates, into whosoever's hands they shall come, from the date of this writing. Power of distraint to the Prior and Convent if the services are in arrear. And for this acknowledgment and obligation, the Prior and Convent have granted that the said Robert son of Robert Spede, his heirs and assigns, may hold the land by the said services, freely, etc., for ever, and the Prior and Convent and their successors will warrant it so long as their feoffors warrant to them. Alternate seals in testimony. At Bridel[ington] the day of the Nativity of St John Evangelist, 1300. Test., Sirs (dominis) Th' de Heselton and John his son, k^{ts}, Arnald de Buctona, Robert de Wyern, J. de Marton, and others.

GRANT by John son of Odo de Aluerstain to Ralph son of John de Besewik of Naferton, of a messuage and two bovates of land in Burton Fleming, which he (the grantor) had by the gift of Agnes daughter of John de Friboys. To hold from the grantor and his heirs to the grantee and the heirs of his body, freely, quietly, and in peace, with all the appurt., etc., within the vill of Burton and without. Rendering yearly to the grantor and his heirs one clove, within twelve days of Christmas : saving always to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] foreign service when it falls, wardships, reliefs, and all other services thence due. If Ralph should die without heirs of his body, the land to revert to the grantor and his heirs. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Bartholomew de Scalleby, William de Euerle, Robert his son, Alan de Roston, John de Merske, John Doble of Burton, John Rudde of the same, Henry the clerk, and others.

CONFIRMATION by brother G., Prior of Brid[lington] and the Convent, to Ralph son of John de Beswik of Nafferton, for his homage and service, of the messuage and two bovates of land¹ which he has by the gift of John de Auerstain of Burton Fleming. To hold to Ralph and his heirs from the Prior and Convent freely and peaceably for ever : rendering to them yearly thirteen shillings and fourpence, and doing to them foreign service and all other services due and accustomed, with homage, wardship, relief and escheat when they happen. Warranty. Mutual seals in witness. At Brid[lington] the day of St Agatha Virgin, 1290².

(Fo. 48)

GRANT by brother G. Prior of Bridel[ington] and the Convent to Richard son of Henry le porter of Burtona Flandrens' of a bovate of land and two tofts in the territory and vill of the same Burton, which bovate lies between the land of Peter son of Richard on one side, and the land of Robert son of the said Henry on the other, and that toft in which the same Henry formerly dwelt, and another toft formerly Beatrice Tyland's. To have and to hold to Richard and his heirs, with all the appurt. within and without the vill, rendering yearly to the grantors five shillings and sixpence, free from everything else except Danegeld. Mutual seals in witness. Test., Sirs (dominis) Walter de Bucton, W. of the same, k^{ts}, Dom. Robert then vicar of the said Burtona, John Rudde, Richard Ayilwarde, Stephen son of William, Robert Sped' of the same, and others.

GRANT and Confirmation¹ by Gerard, Prior, and the Convent, to Richard son of Richard Aylward of Burton Flandrens' and his heirs, in fee and inheritance, of three bovates of land with all the appurt., etc.; namely those which Aylward son of Edwald sometime had with two tofts by the grant of Elias formerly Prior and the Convent of Bridlington. To hold from the grantors and their successors free and quit of all services to them beyond seventeen shillings to be paid them yearly at Burton, and doing foreign service as belongs to three bovates of land where five carucates make a knight's fee. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de S^t Quintin and Thomas de Heslardton, k^{ts}, William de Erghom, Robert de Bouington, William Bard, John de Marton, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Nigel son of Martin de Neutona to his lords the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] of that bovate of land with toft and croft which the lord Thomas formerly Prior and the Convent gave to Martin his father for his homage and service. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Walter de Grendale, Walter de Bucton, William of the same, k^{ts}, Nigel son of William de Neuton, Richard Aylward of Burton, Henry le porter of the same, and others.

AN agreement between the Abbot and Convent of Bardeneya (to whom the Church of Hundmanby is appropriated) of the one part, and the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] of the other, upon an arrangement entered into between them respecting the thraves of S^t John of Beverley, which the Prior and Convent allege to be due to them, within the parish of Hundmanby. All the lands which the Prior and Convent were then cultivating in the fields and territory of Burton Fleming (fo. 48^b) were to be shown to and measured by good and lawful men in the presence of the parties, and marked off by bounds and limits in the length and breadth of the same, in perpetual memory : which lands as had been agreed upon are noted below, namely:—In the East Field of Burton Flandrens', one separate "ovenam" contains in the eastern end a breadth of 108 perches and length as it lies between the two bounds between the fields of Erghom and Barkedale as far as the vill of Burton Fleming and the King's highway towards Hund[manby] : and seven cultures in the same field, of which the first namely Butte at Hundmanby dikes, lying in length from the road which leads to Hundmanby as far as Alnethokes, contains a breadth of 24 perches : the second culture, on Alnethokes, which lies in length between Thorndail and the field of Hundmanby, contains a breadth of 23 perches : the third culture which is called

Thorndail, which lies in length between the road which leads to Hundmanby and the bound of Barkedale, contains a breadth of 23 perches : the fourth culture, which lies at Barkedale dike, contains a length of 22 perches and a breadth of 20 perches : the fifth culture upon P'dail, which lies in length between the headland (foream)¹ of Robert de Sywardeby and the bound of Erghom, contains a breadth of 24 perches : the sixth, namely Stodefald, which lies in length as Le Picdaile, contains a breadth of 24 perches : the seventh culture, namely Suth berges, which lies between the road to Erghom and the bound of Rudstain, contains a breadth of 23 perches. And in the field² one separate "ovenam" with the croft, contains a width at the east end (capite) of 86 perches and a length extending (pertensam) between the two bounds towards Neuton. And ten cultures in the same field ; the first upon Neuton Bergh, lying in length between Harefordgate and the bound of Neuton, contains a breadth of 23 perches with the (? gores),³ the second, namely Butte at Hundmanby dikes, lying between the headland (foreeram) of Robert de Sywardby and the road leading to Hund[manby], contains a breadth of 24 perches ; the third upon Thorndail, lying in length between the bound of Neutona and the road to Hund[manby], contains a breadth of 23 perches ; the fourth, namely Norhscoates, containing six acres, lies in length between the road of Harford and the land of Herbert the reeve (prepositi) ; the fifth called Wayn dayles, lying in length between the headland of Stephen "at the cross" (ad cruceam) and the bound of Tweng, contains a breadth of 23 perches ; the sixth on Westredail, lying between the headland of Ralph de Neuton and the bound of Rudderstain, contains a breadth of 23 perches ; the seventh upon Suthberg, lying in length as Le Westredaile, contains a breadth of 23 perches ; the eighth upon Suth Forland contains a breadth of 10½ perches as it lies in length 33 perches between the two bounds ; the ninth, namely Suthbuttes, lying in length between the two bounds, contains a breadth of 22 perches ; the tenth culture, namely Butte at Tecroftendes, lying between Les Croftendes and the bound of the Prior, having in length 28 perches, contains in breadth 16 perches. From which lands and cultures the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] and their successors shall receive all tithes of whatsoever is sown, for ever, in recompense for the thraves of S^t John from the parish of Hundmanby, granted to the said Abbot and Convent for ever, for the said tithes. Mutual seals in witness. At Barden[eya] for their part, 16th of the Calends of August, and at Brid[lington] for their part, 13th Calends of August, 1299.

(Fo. 49)

AN Ordinance by Henry, Archbishop of York, concerning the arrangements between the houses of Bardeneya, claiming the appropriation of the Church of Hundmanby, and Bridel[ington], respecting the thraves of S^t John of Beverley, within the parish of Hundmanby, claimed by the Prior and Convent of Bridlington, and which the Archbishop finds to have been granted to them by the Provost and Chapter of Beverley with the consent of Thurstin, Archbishop, his predecessor. The Archbishop adjudges that all tithes of sheaves and of whatsoever is sown, arising from all demesne lands of the said Prior and Convent, cultivated at their own charges, in the fields of Burton Fleming in the said Parish, as contained and fully distinguished in chirographs made between the houses, shall be received by them and they shall be free from payment thereof to the Abbot and Convent, in recompense for and satisfaction of all the thraves of the said Parish, and if any part of such lands be hereafter demised or let at ferm, the Prior and Convent shall still receive the tithes. The Abbot and Convent of Bardney shall in future receive all thraves due from the said Parish and hitherto paid to the Prior and Convent (except those due in respect of the ploughs of the Prior and Convent cultivating their demesne lands in Burton Fleming, as aforesaid) in recompense for the said tithes. The vicars of the Parish, present and future, who receive the third sheaf of the tithe from lands and places where there are Vicars shall proportionately render thraves to Bardney, as they have done to Bridlington. All compositions, transactions, agreements, whatsoever, and all instruments of whatever tenor or form and all customs respecting payment of the thraves, between the said parties at any time made or entered into or observed (fo. 49^b) are henceforth null and void. Bridlington shall hold Bardney indemnified against the Provost and Chapter of Beverley respecting the thraves, and if that Provost and Chapter should at any time recover them from the Prior and Convent of Bridlington the latter shall resume payment of tithes to Bardney from the lands aforesaid. If either party should at any time depart from this award, the Archbishop, his successors, or the Official of the Court of York, may compel observance by ecclesiastical censure without judicial proceedings (sine strepitu iudiciali) and under penalty of twenty pounds of silver to the fabric of the Church of York. Sentence of the greater excommunication to be promulgated against any Abbot or Prior disobeying. The Proctors of the parties, Master Robert de Holtham for Bardney and Henry de Brid[lington] for Bridlington have specially approved this ordinance, renouncing all privileges, benefits, etc., and all remedy at law (remedio iuris) whereby it may be weakened. That the above be not hereafter in doubt, the Archbishop has caused the tenor of all the things aforesaid to be noted by these presents.

³ "Cum gayris." Ducange gives "gairus, modus agri." "A selion called Le Gayre" occurs in one of the Staxton charters.

A PPOINTMENT by Robert, Abbot of Bard[ney], and the Convent, of Master Robert de Holtham, clerk, as their Proctor, in the matter to be decided by H., Archbishop of York, respecting the thraves of St John in the parish of the Church of Hund[manby] and the Chapels thereof, and the Agreement thereon with the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] and a sentence of excommunication pronounced by the Chapter of Beverley against the rector of Hund[manby] in the matter (occasione) of the thraves, which touches the said Prior and Convent : with the usual powers. They also ratify whatever was done by brother Richard de Askeby, their fellow monk and proctor, before the said Prior, in the said business, at Thorp, on Saturday after the Invention of Holy Cross last past. Testimonium. (fo. 50) At Bard[ney] the fourth of the Ides of May, 1299.

A PPOINTMENT by the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] of brother Richard de Scheftling, their Canon, and Henry de Brid[lington], clerk, as their proctors, in the cause with the Abbot and Convent of Bard[ney] respecting the thraves of St John in the Parish of Hund[manby] and the Chapels thereof, to be decided before H. Archbishop of York : with the usual powers. Ratification of what was done by the Prior and Henry de Bridlington, clerk, their proctor, before the Archbishop on Saturday after the feast of the Invention of Holy Cross, 1299. The seals of the Prior and of the Chapter affixed in witness. At Bridel[ington], the 7th of the Calends of June in the said year.

MEMORANDUM by H. Archbishop of York respecting the same cause, which has been submitted to him. The parties are to send Proctors with sufficient authority in writing, before him, wherever he shall be in the diocese, as on the morrow of Ascension next following, to settle whatever is done and said by Richard de Askeby and Henry de Brid[ington], proctors on that day.

BE it known to all the faithful of Christ of the Austriding (sic), present and future, that Thomas, Provost of the Church of S^t John of Beverley and the Canons of the same, with the consent of Turstin¹ the Archbishop, have granted to the Canons of S^t Mary of Brid[ington] that alms which belongs to the Church of Beverley in the parishes of Brid[ington] and Hund[manby], that is, in each vill of the said parishes, from each plough, two thraves or twopence ; and the Church of Brid[ington] shall hold that alms for ever from the Church of Beverley, by this tenor, that the Canons of Beverley shall share in all the benefits and alms and prayers in the Church of Bridel[ington] for ever, as the Canons of the same Church, and when a Canon of Beverley shall die the same service shall be done for him in the Church of Brid[ington] as for a dead Canon of that Church. And in recognition of this alms to be had in perpetuity, the Canons of (fo. 50^b) Brid[ington] shall render to the Canons of Beverley thirteen shillings and fourpence each year at the Nativity of S^t John Baptist. And that this mutual affection between the two Churches may continue firm and unbroken, similarly the Church of Brid[ington] shall share in all the benefits, and alms, and prayers done in the Church of Beverley, just as the Canons of that Church. Test., Robert de Wyuilla, Hervey de Beverley, Randolf de Macom, H. de Molscroft, Godfrey de Rageuill, Gilbert de Ryceby, Gamel son of Chnell.

TO all the faithful of the Austriding (sic) present and future, Tursinus, Provost of the Church of S^t John of Beverley and the Chapter of the same, greeting and faithful prayers in Christ. By the testimony of this charter, we grant and confirm to the Canons of the Church of S^t Mary of Bridel[ington] that alms which belongs to the Church of Beverley in the parishes of Bridel[ington] and Hund[manby], that is, in each vill of the said parishes, from each plough, two thraves or twopence as is written and determined in the charters of each Church from the time of Dom. Thomas, Provost, and the Canons of that time. Test., William, Dean of York, Simon, Ralph and Roger, Canons of Beverley, Alured the sacristan, Hard's, Richard de Verly, Hervey de Euerle, Alb' the butler (pincerna), Ivo, John de Melsa, Seer, W. de Rageuill, Nigel son of Kymon.

SETTLEMENT of a dispute between Dom Robert de Tatesale, lord of Hundmanby of the one part and brother Gerard, Prior, and the Convent of Bridel[ington] of the other, in consequence of the Prior and Convent having claimed to have common of pasture for five hundred sheep in the field of Hundemanby and the site for a sheepfold containing two acres of land, with free ingress and egress, by the grant of the lord Gilbert de Gaunt, formerly Earl of Lincoln, which pasture they claimed to use for all their sheep pastured (agistatis) in Flotmanby and Burton Fleming, whereof Dom. R. de Tatissal, father of the said R., often obstructed them : for the sake of peace, it has been thus settled, that the aforesaid Dom. R. for himself and his heirs granted to the Prior and Convent and their successors that they may have and hold in perpetual alms the said site and common of pasture in the said field of Hund[manby] for five hundred sheep to be driven from Burt[on] or from Flotemanby and pastured (agistandas) in one place or another, without damage to corn or meadow, and the free passage is not to be closed against them at any time of the year : and the Prior and Convent shall not by any other deed or title be entitled to have more than five hundred sheep pasturing in the said pasture of Hund[manby] without the licence of Robert or his heirs. JUDGMENT of E. Abbot of Rievaulx, and W. Prior of Kyrkeham and J. Prior of Wartre, Commissioners appointed by Pope Celestine⁶ (from the Lateran, 3rd Ides of March, in his first year) to settle a complaint by the Canons of Brid[lington] respecting (fo. 58^b) the monks of Wýteby, who extort tithes from the fishermen, parishioners of theirs (i.e. of the Canons) which the Canons allege belong to them. After hearings extending over four years, the tithes of fish of parishioners of Fiuete brought to land at Whitby are adjudged by the Commissioners to the said Canons, and the monks of Whitby are prohibited, under threat of anathema, from taking them in future. The sum of fifty marks is to be paid by Whitby to Bridlington. Sigillum.

AGREEMENT made in the Cathedral (maiori ecclesia) at York before the above-named Commissioners, between H., Prior, and the Convent of the Canons of Brid[lington] and P., Abbot, and the Convent of the monks of Wyteby, respecting the tithes of fishermen, parishioners of Fyuel[e], about which there was a controversy. The Abbot and Convent acknowledged before the Commissioners that they had no right in the said tithes, and quitclaimed to the Prior and Canons all tithes of the men belonging to the Church of Brid[lington]. The Prior and Convent quitclaimed the fifty marks which had been adjudged to them, and all the tithes of men belonging to the Church of Wyteby. And if, as is alleged, there was previously any agreement (transactio) between the two houses for the tithes of the fishermen of Fuele, it is altogether quitclaimed. The old fellowship (societas) between the two houses celebrated in the martyrologies of each shall continue. Mutual seals in testimony.

AN agreement made on Thursday after the feast of S^t Katherine in the year 1231, between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] of the one part and the men of Fuele, their parishioners, of the other, in settlement of a dispute respecting the tithes of oil and other tithes of the fishery of Doggedraue, which the Prior and Convent claimed to be payable to them in full, before deducting expenses as had been the practice, and also respecting the twelfth penny which they had been accustomed to receive at the tithe (ad decimum) of all their fishery and respecting the tithes of the boats and the fishery of Crokesi; which agreement was made before W., the Archbishop, by consent of Ralph de Neuill and Simon de Kokefeld, by William Spirling, (fo. 59) William son of Adam, Geoffrey son of Auice, Elured Busing, proctors for the community of Fyuele appointed to settle the matter. The men of Fyuele, for the tithes of oil, to be remitted to them, and that they may be able to deduct those expenses only which they lay out in food and drink, salt and wood (focalio) to be taken with them to Doggedraue before payment of the tithe, as of custom, are to pay the Prior and Convent forty pence yearly from each ship of Doggedraue in which oil is collected, paying full tithes on all the residue; but if the men of neighbouring ports pay tithes on oil and other things without deduction for expenses, the men of Fuele shall add something to the forty pence, notwithstanding this agreement. From the boats from which they paid at their will, sometimes the fifteenth, sometimes the sixteenth, or seventeenth, henceforth they shall pay the right tithe, once in fifteen days. They are not to use the fishery of Crokesi henceforth, but if they should do so they are to pay tithe. The twelfth penny of the tithes, as well from the large ships as from boats, which they shared in (participiebant) they shall henceforward pay to the Prior and Convent or their Proctor, guarding the tithes as carefully as when they shared in the twelfth penny, and in future they shall receive nothing from the tithes towards the repair of their lines or nets or for breakfasts, or other benefits. That this agreement may be observed by the parties, they have subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Archdeacon of the East Riding for the time being, renouncing remedy at law and other right, and if necessary he may compel them to observance by ecclesiastical censure. In witness, the seal of the Chapter of Brid[lington] and of the Community of Fyuele, together with the seals of Ralph de Neuill and Simon de Kokefeud, are appended.

JUDGMENT of the Commissioners, E. Abbot of Rievaulx, A. Prior of Nostel and H. Precentor of York, appointed to settle a dispute between the Canons of Brid[lington] and the Canons of Grimesby respecting tithes. A day was appointed to the parties to appear before the Commissioners with their witnesses, on which day the witnesses for Bridlington were produced, sworn, and examined, but the other side produced no witnesses or proofs. And when Bridlington had thus produced their witnesses three times, the Commissioners gave judgment that the things of which the Canons of Bridlington had been deprived be restored to them, condemning the Canons of Grimsby in the sum of ten marks for the issues unjustly received by them and by the Pontifical authority committed to them (the Commissioners) desiring them henceforward to desist from exacting tithes from fishermen, parishioners of Fiuete.

DEED by Richard, Abbot of Grimesby and the Convent, acknowledging the settlement, in presence of the Lord H., Bishop of Lincoln at Louth, of the dispute between their house and the Canons of Brid[lington], respecting tithes of fish of fishermen, parishioners of Fiuete. The Abbot and Convent of Grimesby have recognised before the said Bishop that they have no right in the said tithes, and have quitclaimed them to the house of Brid[lington] for ever, and the latter house have remitted to them all tithes hitherto received. The seal of the house of Grimsby is affixed. Test., Hamo, Dean of Lincoln, Master Roger de Rollest[on], Master William de Blais, Ralph and William chaplains of the Bishop, Richard de Swaleclif, Geoffrey de Lichelade, Gerard de Rowelle, Hugh de S^t Edward's.

TO all faithful of Christ, Hugh,¹ Bishop of Lincoln, greeting. Whereas there was a contention between Richard, Abbot of Grimesby and the Canons thereof, and H., Prior, and the Canons of Brid[lington], respecting the sentence pronounced by the Abbot of Rievaulx, the Prior of Nostela and the Precentor of York, judges appointed by the apostolic See, against the said Abbot, about the tithes of fish of the fishermen of the parish of Fiuete, which the Abbot and Canons were said unjustly to have received in the port of Grimesby, and the execution of such sentence was committed to us by the Supreme Pontiff: at length the parties being called into our presence at Louth, the controversy was ended thus; the said Abbot of Grimesby and his Canons publicly recognised before us and many learned in the law sitting with us that they have no right to take the said tithes, and therefore quitclaimed them to the house of Brid[lington]. As to the tithes already received by the Abbot, he implored the mercy (miser ricordiam) of the Prior, who was induced to follow our counsel and that of W., Abbot of Waltham, in the matter, and we, considering the poverty of the house of Grimsby, have persuaded the Prior to remit the tithes received by the Canons of Grimsby. And I, Hugh, Bishop of Lincoln by the authority I enjoy, have decreed that henceforward the Abbot and Canons of Grimesby may accept no tithes from fishermen, parishioners of Fiuel[e]. Our seal is appended in ratification. These being witnesses, etc.²

GRANT by R. Escrop to the Church of St Mary of Brid[lington], in free and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land in Flotemanby and a toft belonging thereto, with all the appurt. in arable land, in pastures, etc., within and without the vill, and all customs belonging to the land, free and quit from all services except Danegeld. Test., Simon the Earl, Geoffrey son of Malger, Ido de Mübi, Walter de Clocton, William Luuet, Simon the Chamberlain (camerario), William de Rouen (Rotamago), Richard son of Roger, Ralph Truitele, William brother of Safrid, Simon and William brothers of Simon the Earl, Elias the porter (hostiario), John Escrop.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by Philip Escrop that he holds in fee and inheritance from his lords the Canons of Brid[lington] two bovates of land in Flotemanby with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, those namely which Walter son of Leneric sometime held, free and quit from services, for four pence payable yearly to the Canons. Test., Richard the chaplain of Brid[lington], Robert Escrop and Simon, the grantor's brothers, Amfrid de Flixton and Acius his son, Malger de Ergom, Richard de Grendal, Gilbert de Spetona, William de Lekeburne, Luke Siluer.

QUITCLAIM² by Thomas de Willardby and Matilda his wife and their heirs to Henry Lescorp (sic), son of Simon Lescorp their uncle (patruï nostri) and his heirs, of all right in two bovates of land in Flotemanby which Philip Le Scrop their father (pater noster) formerly held of the alms (de elemosina) of the Blessed Mary of Brid[lington], with a windmill which the same P. their father formerly held from the house of Thornholm, rendering yearly to the same one penny. And two bovates (bouatas) of land in Folketon of the fee of Robert de Borthorp (sic). Moreover they have quitclaimed all other lands which belonged to the said P., their father, both in services and demesnes, with all appurt. and easements thereto belonging. That this quitclaim may for ever continue unshaken and firm to the said Henry and his heirs, the grantors have affixed their seals to this writing. Test., Walter de Folketon, Henry his son, Walter, vicar of Folketon, Ralph de Nouavall' (sic), Walter Escrop, Adam, vicar of Mustone, Henry Gurlwald, Ralph Noble (nobili), Henry de Fordon, Henry son of William, Gilbert Noble (nobili), and others.

G RANT by Matilda and Alice her sister³ and their heirs, to Simon Scrop their uncle (patruus nostro : sic) and his heirs of his body, for his homage and service, of one carucate of land in Flotemanby, and the service of Walter Schankes from two bovates of land, and one windmill and two bovates of land in Willardby, and one bovate of land in Hundmanby, and two bovates of land in Folketon, and the service of other two bovates which Henry and Richard Alby hold, and half a carucate of land in Neubigginge, and the service of William Scrop of Barton from twenty eight acres, with all the appurtenances and easements belonging to the said lands, freely, etc. from all secular service and custom. To hold from them and their heirs for ever, doing foreign service as belongs to such a holding according to the diversity of the fees and according to the final concord made before the King and his Justices (iusticiar') at York on Tuesday before the feast of S^t Gregory, 6 Joh. Test., Walter de Folketon and Henry his son, Simon Constable, Robert son of Gerebrith, Henry son of William, Ralph Noble (nobili), Henry de Fordon, and many others.

F INE⁴ at York on Tuesday before the feast of S^t Gregory, 6 Joh., before the King himself, G. FitzPeter, Earl of Essex, Simon de Pateshull, Master Ralph de Stokes, James de Paterna, Justices, between Matilda and Alice daughters of Philip Escrop, pet., and Simon Escrop, ten., respecting one carucate of land with the appurt. in Flotemanby and the service of Walter Schankes in the same vill, and two bovates of land with the appurt. in Folketon, and one bovate of land with the appurt. in Hundmanby, and two bovates of land with the appurt. in Willardby. Whence a recognition de morte antecessoris was summoned between them in the same Court ; namely that Simon recognised all the said land and service to be the right of Matilda and Alice. And for this recognition, etc., Matilda and Alice granted to Simon all the said land and service, with the appurt. To have and to hold to him and the heirs of his body, from Matilda and Alice and their heirs for ever : doing the foreign service which belongs to that land, for all service. If Simon should die without heir of his body, all the said land and service shall revert to Matilda and Alice and their heirs, after his death. And for this concession Simon gave to Matilda and Alice twenty marks of silver, and to Alice their mother five marks and ten shillings. And Matilda and Alice attorned Simon to do for them to the chief lords of the fee the service which belongs to (fo. 62) that land.

GRANT by Henry son of Simon Scrop to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land, with two tofts, meadow, pasture, turbary, and all the appurt., in Folketon, those namely which Grecia wife of Philip Scrop sometime held : doing thence foreign service as belongs to so much land of that fee in the same vill. Moreover he has granted to them, in free and perpetual alms, all his land in Flotemanby which he held in demesne, lying from Waldyke as far as the marsh of that vill, which land is of those six bovates which Simon Scrop, his father, sometime [held] in demesne, with the toft belonging to the same land, and with meadow, pasture, turbary, and all appurt., doing thence foreign service as belongs to so much land of that fee in the same vill : and nevertheless acquitting the foreign service of all the land which his father gave to the Abbot and Convent of Rievaulx (Ryemall') in Flotemanby. Moreover he has given the Canons the service of two bovates of land in Flotem[anby] which Walter Schankes sometime held from him, with the homage of the same Walter and his heirs, and all other things which may fall to him (the grantor) by reason of the said land. He has likewise given them in free, pure, and perpetual alms, two bovates of land in Flotem[anby], with toft, meadow, pasture, turbary and all the appurt., which bovates the said Grecia, formerly wife of Philip Scrop, sometime held. All the said lands with the appurt., and the said service of two bovates he has given to the Canons to hold freely, etc., for ever. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Arnold de Bucton, Robert de Vlram, Robert de Saintpol, Robert de Rednesse, John de Syward[by], William his brother, Gilbert Siluer, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Alice Escrop, formerly wife of Ivo son of Walter de Staxton, in her widowhood, to the Prior and Convent, of all right and claim in two bovates of land, or any part thereof, and two tofts, with all the appurt., in Folketon, which Grecia wife of Philip Escrop sometime held, and which they have of the gift of Henry Wlf. Moreover she has quitclaimed to them all right and claim in all lands and services of lands, with the appurt., meadows, pastures, turbaries, tofts, and all the appurt., which they have in Flotemanbi of the gift of the said Henry Wlf. Testimonium. Test., Ranulf de Folketon, Ace de Flixton, John de Syward[by], Gilbert Siluer, Henry Pullain, Reginald de Couuill, Johel de Brumton, William Brod, and others.

GRANT by Alan de Cotoum, son of Stephen de (fo. 62^b) Cotoum, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of eleven bovates of land, in Flotemanby, with his capital message, and with the tofts and crofts, marshes and turbaries, meadows, pastures, and fisheries, and with all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill. To hold freely, quietly, etc. from all secular service, etc., for ever. Moreover he has given the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, the service of one bovate of land in the same vill with all the appurt., etc., which bovate Arnald sometime held. Warranty, and acquittance from services. He has likewise granted for himself and heirs that the servants of the Prior and Canons and the Bailiffs of the King may distrain him and his heirs in his lands in Boythorp and Wiuerthorp, or others who hold those lands, for warranty and defence of the said land of Flotemanby in all things ; and if he or his heirs shall fail in warranting and defending the said land in any way, they will give the Sheriff of York for the time being a mark of silver as penalty, and the Sheriff may distrain in the said lands, or other his lands, for payment of the penalty, as well for warranty and defence of the said land of Flotemanby as aforesaid, as for making good any damage incurred by the Prior and Convent for default of warranty. Sigillum. Test., Dom. Staxton.

CONFIRMATION by Henry de Galmton to the Church and Canons of Brid[lington], in free and perpetual alms, of that bovate of land in Staxton which Richard his father gave to the Church of St Peter of Willardby when he recovered (disrationavit) the land of Staxton, with the toft which Godwin held and three cultures of arable land in the same vill, which the same Richard his father gave to the Church of Bridel[ington] to have the chantry of the Chapel in Staxton, which [cultures] are reckoned for two bovates; whereof one lies at the west hospital (ad occidentem hospitalem) of Staxton, another at the west hospital (ad occidentem hospital') of Flixton on the other side of the road, the third on the Wold (super waldum) to the east of the bound (divise) of Willardby. All these things he has granted and confirmed to the Canons in perpetual alms, with all their appurt. within and without the vill, free and quit from all customs and services. Warranty. Test., William and Johel, chaplains of Brid[lington], Henry Siluer and Luke his son, William de Lekeburn, Robert de Harpham, Geoffrey Porter of Brid[lington], Hugh de Norweg', Robert the cook (coco).

GRANT by Henry de Galmton to the Church and Canons of Brid[lington] of that half carucate of land in Staxton which Richard his father held in hand and cultivated when he gave himself (reddidit se) to the Church of Brid[lington], with two tofts, namely the toft which was Ranulf's and another which lies to the south of the Chapel, and with all other things to the said half carucate belonging. This land he has given and confirmed in free and perpetual alms, saving the foreign service of it to him and his heirs. Warranty. Test., Thorald the priest, Malger the deacon and Robert his son, William the deacon of Bridelington, Reginald Pinceguerra, John de Buct[on], Henry de Wacherle, Eudo de Thorneton, William de Clocton, Walter de Speton, Alexander Playz, Swane de Burnus, Robert son of William de Swaledale, Roger son of Arnald de Brid[lington], Henry the baker (*pisto*re).

GRANT and Confirmation by Henry de Galmeton, in free and perpetual alms, of pasture for four hundred wethers (multonum) in the field [of] Staxton, and all the land in the same vill which his father Richard gave to have the Chantry of the Chapel of St Giles in Staxtona. Henry is to have the faldage (faldeicium) of the said sheep each year. Same witnesses as in the previous deed.¹

GRANT by Henry de Galmeton in free and perpetual alms of a place for a sheepfold (ad habendam bercariam) in the field of Staxton beside (iuxta) the south part of the vale called Depedale, namely seventeen perches (parcatas) of land in length and five in width according to the measure of the perch (perlice) of Staxton, and free exit for everything (omnibus suis) to the pasture, through (fo. 71) his land. Test., William de Galmet[on] (Galmt), William de Lekeburn, Hugh de Cliue, Roger son of Hilda de Brid[lington], Luke son of Henry Siluer, Geoffrey the porter (portario), Benedict de Ebor.

GRANT by John de Mikelhirst, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of a bovate of land in Staxton; that namely which lies everywhere (ubique) throughout the field beside (iuxta) the land of the said Canons to the south with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill. To have and hold freely and quietly from all secular service, etc. Warranty, and to this (warranty) he has assigned the three bovates which remained to him of his half carucate in Staxton, so that whosoever shall hold those three bovates shall acquit the bovate now given against all services, demands, and customs, for ever. That this grant may remain firm and stable for ever he has affixed his seal on the Cal. April, 1229. Test., Gregory and Robert, chaplains, Richard de Irton, John de Rudestan, clk., Henry de Binigton, Stephen of the spinney (de spineto), Henry his brother, Robert de Hilderthorp then porter (portario), William de Besingby, and many others.

QUITCLAIM by Hugh de Rostoun to the Canons, of all right and claim in the bovate of land with the appurt. in Staxton given by John de Mikelhirst (described as above). Moreover he has quitclaimed to them all right and claim in three acres of land lying in Depedal, which the same John gave. Sigillum. Test., Gregory and Robert, chaplains, Stephen of the spinney (de spineto), Henry his brother, Richard de Irton, John de Rudestan, clk., Robert the porter (portario), and many others.

IN the year 1234, at the feast of All Saints. Grant by Matilda de Galmeton, in her widowhood, to Matilda daughter of Richard de Boszale and Mabel his wife (which Mabel was daughter of Robert de Stuteville) of two tofts in Staxton, namely Charnek and the next towards the west,¹ with all appurt., within and without the vill. She has likewise given to Matilda all the land which is hers and which she is able to give between (inter) Fordon and Staxton, called Depedale, with all the appurt., liberties, and free customs thereto belonging; saving only such pasture to the Convent of Brid[lington] as the charters of Richard de Galmeton and Henry his son contain. To hold the said tofts and land to her and her heirs from the grantor and (fo. 71^b) her heirs, freely, quietly, etc., rendering thence yearly to the grantor and her heirs one pound of cummin for all service, exaction, and secular demand. Warranty. "And I, Richard de Bozhale, heir of the first-named Matilda, with a benevolent mind have granted this gift and confirmed it by my seal." Test., Robert de Acclum, Henry son of Ralph, Richard le Bret, Henry de Biningt[on], Henry de Brumpton, Richard de Bozhale, David, Reginald de Langetoft, and others.

GRANT by William de Bozhale, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of four cultures of land on the wold (waldum) of Staxton which are called² Ouenam and Depedale, and lie on the south of the fosses called Derhoudikes between the bound of Fordon which is towards the east and the bound of Willardby which is towards the west; namely on each side (ex utraque parte) of the land of Henry de Staxton. And moreover a culture called Cotedayl which lies on the north of the said fosses and abuts upon (impingit super) the sheepfold of the said Canons towards the north; and all his land which lies at Depedalemun and at Dalemun and at Depedaleclif. All these lands with the appurt., computed at 160 acres, he has given the Canons, to have and to hold freely, etc., for ever, and he has quitclaimed to them all the faldage (faldeiceum) and all the manure both within and without their sheepfold of Depedale, which he and his ancestors were accustomed to have from four hundred wethers which they (the Canons) ought to have feeding in the field of Staxton by the grant of Henry de Galmeton his predecessor. And he desires that they may have free entry and exit and road with their sheep and other animals as well to their sheepfold as to their pastures and for transport, and for cultivating their lands when they wish to cultivate. Warranty, and acquittance from service. Testimonium. At Galmeton, at Whitsuntide, 1256. Test., Richard, vicar of Willardby, Robert, then vicar of Galmeton, John de Syward[by], Robert de St Paul, Walter de Rednesse, Gilbert Siluer of Bridelingt[on], Thomas de Neuill, Thomas de Syward[by] Alan de Irby, and many others.

QUITCLAIM by John de Welburne to the Prior and Convent, of all right in the land called Depedale in the field of Staxton, with the appurt. He has also quitclaimed to Dom. W. de Bozhale and his heirs all right in two tofts in Staxton. (fo. 72). For these quitclaims the Prior has given him two marks in hand and the said Dom. William AGREEMENT, made in the year 1264, at the feast of S^t Peter ad vincula, between W., Abbot of Witeby, and the Convent, of the one part, and Geoffrey, Prior of Brid[lington], and the Convent, of the other. The Abbot and Convent have demised at ferm to the Prior and Convent the sheaves which they have in the name of tithe, from the demesne of Staxton and of Boythorp, for twenty quarters of good and payable barley to be rendered yearly to the Abbot and Convent at Willard[by] between the feasts of Michaelmas and Martinmas. If the Prior and Convent fail, in whole or part, to deliver the barley at any term, the Abbot and Convent may receive the sheaves and dispose of them as they will. That this arrangement may be observed in perpetuity, the seals of the Chapters have been affixed to this chirograph.

CONFIRMATION by Nicholas de Bozsál', son and heir of Sir John de Bozsale, kt, to the Canons, in free, quiet, pure, and perpetual alms, of all lands, tenements, rents, tenures, and fees, with all their appurt., which they ever had and held in Staxton by the gifts of his ancestors, to be warranted, etc., by him and his heirs for ever: Namely, of the gift of Richard de Galmeton, one bovate of land and a toft, and three cultures of arable land which are reckoned for two bovates; of the gift of Henry de Galmeton, half a carucate of land with two tofts; of the gift of the same Henry, pasture for four hundred wethers and the site of a sheepfold, namely ten and seven perches (decem et septem perticat') in length and five in width, with free entry and exit to the said pasture; of the gift of William de Bozsale, four cultures of land on the wold (waldum) of Staxton which are called Ouenham de Depedale,¹ and lie on the south side of the fosses called Dirhoudikes between the bound of Fordon which is toward the east and the bound of Willardby toward the west, namely on each side of the land of Henry de Staxton, and one culture called Cotedail which lies on the north side of the said fosses of Dirhoudikes and abuts (impingit) upon the Canons' sheepfold towards the north, and all the land which lies at Depedalemun and Dalemun and at Depedale Clif, all which said lands are reckoned at 160 acres. Moreover he has confirmed and quitclaimed to the Canons all the lands and tenements, rents and fees, with all the appurt., which by anyone holding of his fee have been conveyed to them by any deed or title, up to the day of this present deed; (fo. 74^b) namely, of the gift of Reginald son of Roger Coyuill two acres of land, one lying at Oterslac in the west field, and the other lying between the land of Robert de Percy and the land of W. de Staxton in the same field; of the gift of John Mikelhirst a bovate of land lying beside (iuxta) the land of the same Canons next towards the south (propinquius versus solem); of the gift of the same John four acres of land, three lying between the Canons' sheepfold and the bound (diuisam) of the land of the nuns of Grendale, and the fourth lying

1139
TO T., Archbishop of York, and all the faithful of God's Holy Church, Walter de Gaunt, greeting. I notify you that Adelard de Willardeby, my man, has given and granted the church of Willard[by], which is in my fee, to the Church of St Mary of Brid[lington] and the Canons serving God in the same Church, in alms, with all things which belong to the same Church, I being present and assenting. Witnesses, Jordan Paynel (Painello) and Robert my brother, Forno the priest of Rudestan and Godric his son, Theobard brother of the same Adelard and priest of the same Church, Ulf the priest, William Constable, Malger de Ergom, Ricolf de Galmeton, Ralph de Nouauill, W. de Mundauilla, Richard Baart, Baldwin son of Gilbert, Gocelin Buc, Odo, Ivo, the knights (militibus) of Jordan, Ernald de Marton, Walter de Harpham, Henry son of the same Adelard, Roger the priest son of Gerbert, Richard the butler (pincerna) and Gerard his brother, Ernald de Hundmanby, and many others.

CONFIRMATION by H. de Willardby to the Church of St Mary of Bridel[ington] and the Canons of the gift of Adelard his father, of the Church of Willardby with half a carucate of land in the same vill, with all the appurt., in perpetual alms. Moreover he has given to the same Church in perpetual alms another half carucate beside (iuxta) the former one, with all the appurt. and likewise pasture for five hundred rams (arietibus) in the field of the same vill, in perpetual alms. All these things he has granted and confirmed to the said Church with the assent of Adelard his son and heir, and so that he and his heirs will acquit that carucate of land of all services and customs, except Danegeld, for the souls of his lords Walter de Gaunt and Earl Gilbert, and for the souls of his father and all his ancestors, and for his own soul and his parents' and friends'. Test., Baldric the priest, Everard the clerk, Geoffrey son of Malger, Ralph his brother, Robert Hascin, Thomas de Buct[on], Hervey de Rottese, William his brother, Lambert the grantor's brother, William the grantor's son, Henry son of Peter, Ivo de Willard[by].

GRANT by H. de Willardby to the Canons, in pure and perpetual alms, with the consent of Adelard his son and heir, of one bovate of land in Willard[by] besides the four bovates he had already given, with a toft of two bovates, and with all things belonging to that bovate. With that bovate he has also given them Theobald son of Lycolf (Lycolui) with his sons and daughters, and with the houses which were on that land on the day when he (the grantor) made this donation. He has also covenanted with the Canons that he will not make a settlement of religious men or others in the land of Willardeby whereby the pasture of the Canons may be curtailed. Test., Adelard his son and heir and Henry his (Adelard's) brother, GRANT by Henry de Willardby (fo. 76^b) to the Canons, with the consent of Adelard his son and heir and Henry his (the grantor's) son, of two bovates of land of his demesne in Willardby, with the toft which was Alaman the smith's, and all the appurt., in free and perpetual alms, which two bovates are near (proxim') to the two bovates of Ermengard the grantor's daughter, to the south. Test., William de Brus, Malger the clerk, Franco the clerk, Gregory the clerk, Reginald Pincewerre and Serlo Talun, Godfrey de Marton, Ernald and Golheuc his brother, Robert de Heckesd[on], Ernald de Thorn, Thomas de Kerend'.

GRANT by Henry de Willardby to the Canons, with the consent of his sons Adelard and Henry as above, of all his pasture of Willardby, and moreover the lordship (dominium) of all the pasture of the same vill, in perpetual and free alms. Test., Malger, Robert, and Gregory, clerks, Arnald de Martoun, Robert Talun and Serlo his brother, Henry Siluer and Silvan de Bridelington, Godfrey de Marton and Goldeuc his brother, Robert de Elkesdoun and Thomas de Kernetby, Robert Ioie, William de Thornton, Benedict de Ebor., and Goldheuc quenchald.

CONFIRMATION by Henry de Willard[by] to the Canons of the donation by his father Adelard, of the Church of Willard[by] with half a carucate of land in the same vill, with all the appurt., in free and perpetual alms. Moreover he has granted them seven bovates of land in Willard[by] with all the appurt., and likewise pasture for five hundred rams (arietibus) in the field of the same vill, in perpetual and free alms. He has further granted them all his pasture of Willard[by] and the lordship (dominium) of all the pasture of that vill, and Theobald son of Licolf, with his children and with the whole toft which he had previously held from the grantor, and the houses which were in that toft on the day when he made this grant. He has covenanted with the Canons that he will never make a settlement of Religious or others in the land of Willard[by] lest their pasture should be impeded. All these things he has granted with the assent of Adelard his son and heir and Henry his son, in perpetual alms. Warranty, and acquittance of service, except Danegeld, for the souls of his lords Walter de Gaunt and Gilbert the Earl, and for the souls of his father and all his ancestors, and for his own soul and his parents'. Test., Thomas and Odo. Canons of Newburgh (Nouo Burgo), Ralph, Canon of Bolton, Geoffrey, Canon of Wartra, Master Reyner, Simon de Folketon, Peter de Siglesth[orn], Alexander de Brignest[on], Robert de Scraingesham, Franco the clerk, Robert the porter (portar'), Gregory and Malger, clerks, William de Brus, Adam de Cöpoland, Roger de Thornet[on], Humphrey de Crouil, Henry Siluer, Reyner the butler (pincerna), Serlo Talun, Godfrey de Marton, Ernald and Goldeuc his brother, Robert de Baeng', William de Torner, Thomas de Kernet[by], Ralph de Bray, Richard son of Peter de Siglesthorn, Reyner Cast', Benedict de la hall.

GRANT by A. de Willard[by], (fo. 77) in free and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land in Willardby which lie beside (iuxta) the half carucate of land of Roger son of Alger on the north side, with the appurt., free and quit of all services except Danegeld. Test., Thomas son of Ralph, G. de Thorney, Roger de Grisethorp, Firmin, Thomas de Midelton, Serlo Talun, Ralph de Gousle, William de Thornt[on], Simon son of William, Thomas son of Roger.

CONFIRMATION by Adelard son of Henry de Willard[by] to the Canons, of the gift by Adelard his grandfather of the Church of Willard [by] with half a carucate of land in that vill, with all the appurt., in free and perpetual alms. Moreover he has confirmed all the gifts of Henry his father, namely seven bovates of land in Willard[by] with all the appurt., pasture for five hundred rams (arietibus) in the field of the same vill, first given, all his pasture of Willard[by] afterwards given, the lordship (dnio) of the same vill namely of all the pasture, of Theobald son of Ligolf with his children, and with the toft, entire and built (integro et edificato) which Theobald previously held from the grantor's father. All these things he has granted and confirmed in free and perpetual alms, and he and his successors will warrant and acquit from all services except Danegeld. Witnesses as in the last charter but one.¹

CONFIRMATION by Adelard son of Henry de Willard[by] to the Canons of whatsoever demesne he had in the pasture, marsh, turbary, and meadows of Willard[by]; so that without their licence he will allow no man to cut turf in the marsh nor beasts to be in the pasture and meadows, nor impede them (the Canons) in any way. He has sworn to hold to this faithfully, before the Wapentake at Flemingburton and before Jordan de Buggethorp, then officer (ministro) of the King in that province, in the year M^oC^oN^o secundo.² Test., William de Edlingt[on], William de Lekeburn, Gregory de Buct[on], Roger son of Hilda de Brid[lington], Benedict de Ebor., Roger the cook (coco).

CONFIRMATION by A. de Willardby to G. the Prior and the Canons of Bridel[ington] of the lordship (dnium) of the pasture in Willard[by] as his father granted. So that he will not plough any land except what was ploughed in the time of his father, nor will he allow that anyone should plough whom he is (fo. 77^b) able reasonably to restrain. And from the arable land he will provide such free exit for their sheep beside the sheepfold, that when he ploughs on one side of the sheepfold (ouilis) they shall have free exit that year on the other side. He has sworn in the hand of Robert Constable of Flaynburg to hold to this grant, before these witnesses; Master G. de Arderne, William the chaplain of Brid[lington], Ralph the clerk of Hautun, Malger the deacon of Brid[lington], Ralph the clerk, Robert Constable, Richard de Hautun, Peter de Messingham, Norman the butler (pinerna), Thomas de Kernet[by], Walter de Wella, Nicholas son of Alan, Walter Wastehosa, William son of Robert de Hautun.³

³ Here, and previously, the name may perhaps be Hantun.

CONFIRMATION by Richard, son of Adelard the Knight of Willardby, to the Canons of all lands and tenements which they have of his fee in the territory of Willard[by] both in arable land and in pastures, turbaries, and marshes, with all liberties, etc., within and without the vill belonging to the said lands, as the charters of A. his father and his ancestors witness. Test., Ralph de Vlram, Robert his son, Malger de Ergom and Geoffrey his son, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, Ernald de Buct[on], Robert de Syward[by], Ernald de Marton, William and Thomas his brothers, William de Lekeburne, Luke Siluer, Thomas de Swaledale.

QUITCLAIM by Frethesanta de Willardeby to the Prior and Canons, of all right and claim in the lordship or dominion (dominatione) of that land which was formerly Alexander the Knight's, her grandfather, in homages and services, in reliefs, etc., and in all things which might belong to her by reason of the land of the said Alexander, whether in Willardby or in other places in which he had lands or lordship. Testimonium. Test., Peter de Ryse, Stephen Calf, John de Sywardeby, William his brother, Alan de Irby, Simon the clerk, Robert Marshall (marascallo), Gilbert Siluer, William Brod, Henry de Bynigton, John de Barkedal', William de Flaynburg, William de Sart'no, and others.

AN agreement between the Prior and Canons of Brid[lington], and Walter de Bouington and William his son and heir. The Prior and Canons have granted and confirmed to Walter and William and their heirs four bovates of land in Bouingt[on] which the said Walter sometime held from them at ferm and other two bovates in the same vill, which Simon son of Thomas de Carthorp gave the Canons, with the toft and croft which belong to those two bovates, and with all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill to the same land belonging, doing foreign service as belongs to two bovates where eleven carucates make a knight's fee, for seven bovates of land in Willard[by] which Walter and William have given to the Canons in exchange, whereof four lie next (proximiores) to the culture of the Canons to the south (versus solem), and other two (fo. 78) bovates which Hugh the Templars' man sometime held, and one bovate which Iuo son of Hugh sometime held from the said Walter, with two tofts in the same vill, which lie next (propinquiora) to the house which was Adelard King's towards the west, and with all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill, doing foreign service as belongs to seven bovates of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee. The Prior and Canons will warrant the land in Bouington to Walter and William and their heirs, and, if they are unable to warrant, the land in Willardby shall revert to Walter and William and their heirs. Walter and William and their heirs will warrant the land in Willard[by], and, if they are unable to warrant, the land in Bouington shall revert to the Canons. Test., William de Percy and Robert his son, Adam de Bouingt[on], Ace de Flixton, Malger de Ergom and Geoffrey his son, William de Hastthorp, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, Masters Gilbert and Robert de Brid[lington], Ernald de Marton, Ernald de Buct[on], William de Lekeburne, Walter de Thorp, Luke Siluer, Stephen de Besingby, Thomas de Swaledale, Henry de Camera.

GRANT by Margaret, formerly wife of Gilbert de Willard[by], in her widowhood, in free and perpetual alms, of a bovate of land in the territory of Willard[by], namely that which lies between the bound and the land which Tebbe son of Adelard sometime held, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill. To hold from her and her heirs, free from all secular service, etc., to them belonging; doing foreign service as belongs to one bovate of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. Test., Robert de Percy, Walter de Karethorp, William and Robert his sons, Adam de Bouington, Walter de Folketon, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, Arnald de Buct[on], Stephen de Besingby, Richard de Willard[by], Ernald de Marton, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Richard de Irton, T. de Swaledal', H. de Gysburg.

ANOTHER grant of the same land to the Canons by Roger son of Margaret de Willard[by], with similar clauses (fo. 78^b) and warranty. He has made this gift for six marks of silver, which the Canons have given him in his great necessity. Same witnesses, with the exception of William de Lekeburn and Luke Siluer. The final witness in this deed is styled "H. de Camera."

GRANT by William, son of Henry the clerk of Willard[by] and his heirs to William son of Ralph de Staxton and his heirs, of all right in two bovates of land in Willardby—those namely which Lucy and her daughters held from them, and an acre of meadow in Willard[by] next (propinquoirem) to the bound of Staxton. Rendering yearly to the grantor and his heirs one penny at Whitsuntide in the Church of Staxton for all service and secular exaction. Warranty. Test., Walter de Folketoun, Ace de Flixton, Henry son of William de Staxton, Roger son of Gilbert, Richard Passeboys, Ralph Noble (Nobil'), W. Prosinel, and many others.

GRANT by William son of Ralph de Staxton to the Canons, of all his right in the same two bovates of land and acre of meadow. To hold from him and his heirs in pure and perpetual alms, free from service. Sigillum. Test., William de Angoteby, Robert de Irton and Richard his brother, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Peter de Speton, Thomas de Swaldale, R. Homel, and others.

GRANT by Matilda and Agnes and Emma, daughters of Roger son of Henry de Willardby, of one of those two bovates of land in Willard [by] which their father held in that vill; namely that one which lies to the south (propinquoior soli). To hold in perpetual alms, with all appurt. in the vill and without, and all liberties, etc., freely, and quit of all secular services, etc., saving foreign service to the grantors and their heirs, as belongs to one bovate of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. (Fo. 79). Sigillum. Test., Ralph de Nouill, Walter de Folketon, Henry his son, Ace de Flixton, William de Staxton, Henry son of Iuo de Willardby, Walter de Corneburg, S. de Alost, Igenald, Roger de Irton, Robert de Octon, Richard Passeboys, Ralph the clerk, Nicholas de Boltby the servant (seruiente), Adam Vnscriuen the servant (seruiente), Henry de Bouington, and others.

GRANT by Emma daughter of Roger de Willard[by], in perpetual alms, of a bovate of land in the territory of Willard[by]—that namely which lies between the land of Philip the chaplain and the land which was sometime Walter de Bouington's, with the toft which lies beside the gate of the said Canons towards the east, and with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill. To hold from her and her heirs for ever, free, etc. from secular service; doing foreign service as belongs to one bovate of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. Test., Acc de Flixton, Walter de Folketon, Gilbert de Speton, Ernald de Buct[on], Ernald de Marton, Robert de Siwardby, William de Syward[by], Luke Siluer, Richard de Irton, T. de Swaldal'.

GRANT¹ by Henry de Willardby to Agnes his daughter, of half a carucate of land in Willardby, with two tofts, one which was Lambert's and the other which was Elric's, and a house which Levi holds, with all the appurt. in fields, in meadows and marshes, free and quit as he (the grantor) holds. Adelard his son has granted this, and with Henry his (Adelard's) brother has taken the girl under his protection, and has accepted two shillings for the grant. Test., Richard de Galmeton and Henry his son and Richard his nephew (nepote), Richard the clerk of Foxhol with all his three sons, William de Boythorp, Walter and William Passeboys, and Adelard. Gregory the Prior of Bridelington has granted to him (Henry) father of the girl, to give her his protection with the said land.

GRANT² by Agnes, daughter of Henry de Willard[by], in her widowhood, to Richard son of Adelard de Willard[by], of a toft in Willardby, namely that which is next (px'm) to the toft of Philip the chaplain on the west side, and one bovate of land in the territory of Willard[by] which lies in the nearest place (proximo loco) beside the land of Robert de Eueringham to the south (versus solem), with all appurt., etc., within and without the vill, in fee and inheritance, for the service which Richard has done to her; but so that she shall hold the said bovate of land, with the appurt., except the said toft, all her life, freely and quietly, rendering thence to Richard one penny yearly for all services, etc. belonging to the land. She and her heirs will warrant this gift to Richard and his assigns, or will give to them five marks of silver. Test., Robert, vicar of Galmeton, Philip (fo. 79^b) the chaplain of Willard[by], William Franceis, William son of Ralph de Staxton, Roger de Wartria, Adam the clerk of Grendal', brother Roger de Staynton, John de Mikelhist (sic), and others.

GRANT³ by Richard son of Adelard de Willardby to the Prior and Canons, of a toft in Willardby, namely that which is next to the toft of Philip the chaplain on the west side, to be enclosed with a wall, as they choose, and one bovate of land in the territory of Willardby, which lies next (proxima) to the land of Robert de Eueringham to the south (versus solem), with all the appurt. within and without the vill; which toft and bovate Agnes daughter of Henry de Willard[by] gave him for his service, in her lawful widowhood. To hold to them or their assigns in free and perpetual alms, doing foreign service as belongs to one bovate of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee. He has also granted and sworn that of all the lands and other things which by the consent and aid of the Canons he may be able to acquire, he will share a moiety with them, and he will never procure, by himself or another, that the Prior and Convent be damaged or losers in lands, marshes, possessions, or other things, but he will defend the marsh and all their possessions to their use against everyone to the utmost of his power, and if he wishes to give or sell any land or rent, he will do so to no one except the house of Bridlington, and he has put himself in their advice in all matters. If he should attempt to defraud the Prior and Canons in any of the above matters, he has subjected himself to the jurisdiction of the Dean and Chapter of York, without appeal, that they may compel him to hold to this grant and gift, under penalty of a hundred shillings. Testimonium. Test., Dom. Thomas de Lutton, Dom. Robert de Galmeton, dean, John de Octon, James de Collom, William de Staxton, Richard Bret, Master Simon de Brid[lington], Baldric his brother, Richard de Irton, Thomas de Willardby the gatekeeper (janitore), and many others.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by Henry Mustard and Agnes his wife, daughter of Henry de Willardby, that they hold from the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] one bovate of land in the territory of Willardby, which lies next (proximo loco iuxta) to the land of Robert de Eueringham to the south, with its appurt.; namely that bovate which Agnes, the grantor, in her widowhood, granted to Richard son of Adelard, and which he granted to her for life, rendering to him one penny, and which he, Richard, afterwards gave to the Prior and Convent, whence the penny is payable to them during the life of Agnes. Henry and Agnes will render to the Prior and Convent yearly sixpence for the said bovate so long as Agnes shall live in secular habit, and at her death the bovate shall revert, with all appurt., to the Prior and Convent, free from Henry her husband and all her relations (et omnibus meis). Testimonium. Test., Philip the chaplain, Ernald de Buct[on], Thomas de Willardby, Richard de Willardby, Robert de Reddenesse, Andrew Marshall (marescall'), Peter de Spetun, Luke Siluer, and others.

GRANT by William de Neull of Kalethorn (fo. 80), in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land, with a toft, in Willardby, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill; namely those two bovates, with the toft, which Henry son of Adelard sometime held. To hold and have for ever, freely and quit of all secular service, etc. Warranty, and acquittance from service. Sigillum. Test., Dom. Walter de Folketon, Henry his son, Richard le Bret, Henry de Bouington, Richard Passeboys, Adam son of Ingenald, Ralph de Foxhole. Jordan de Meningthorp, Robert de Redenese, Luke Siluer, Henry of the spinney (de spineto), Robert de Hilderthorp then porter (portario), and many others.

DEMISE at fee farm by William de Neule of Kelethorn to the Prior and Convent, of three bovates of land in Willard[by], which lie through the whole field between the land of the said Prior and Convent and the land of Ralph de Neull of Kelethorn, and moreover a toft in the same vill, which lies between the capital message of the Prior and Convent and the toft of Thomas de Buctun, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill. To hold and to have to them in perpetuity, freely, quietly, etc., rendering yearly to William and his heirs a mark of silver, and doing to them foreign service as belongs to three bovates of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee, for all secular services, etc. William and his heirs will do all suits (sectas) accustomed to be done for the land and toft, and will warrant to the grantees. William has likewise granted that he and his heirs will acquit from all secular services, etc., the two bovates of land with the appurt. in Willardby which he had given to the Canons before this agreement, in pure alms, namely from his land in Foxholes, and if they fail to do this the aforesaid payment of a mark shall be decreased by as much as the Canons may have to pay as well for the two bovates as for suits (sect'), if they have done any, for the three bovates. The Prior and Convent have satisfied William for the ferm for sixteen years at the beginning of this agreement. Each party has undertaken to hold to this agreement faithfully, and they have affixed their seals to the different parts. Test., Arnald de Buctoun, Richard Le Bret, Henry de Binigton, Robert de Morpath, Richard de Osgotby, David Guer (Gu'o), Robert de Aclum, Richard Passeboys of Bouington, Robert de Octon, John (fo. 80^b) de Mikelhirst, Henry Pulayn, and many others. At Whitsuntide, 1236.

GRANT by Eustace son of William Neulle, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of an annual rent of eight pence receivable from William Loke of Nonington and his heirs, for one bovate of land and one toft in Willard[by], which the said William formerly held from him in the same vill; and the Canons shall have the homage, wardships, reliefs, and escheats of the said William and his heirs for the said land and toft, which William and his heirs shall hold from them for ever, as they previously held from the grantor. He confirms to the Canons the two bovates which they have by the gift of William his father, in Willard[by]. Moreover, he has quitclaimed to them in free and perpetual alms the mark of silver which he was accustomed to receive from them yearly for three bovates of land and a toft which they have by the grant of his said father, which henceforth they shall hold free from all secular services, except foreign service when it falls, which they shall do in perpetuity, namely as belongs to three bovates of land in that fee, where ten carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty, and acquittance from service, except foreign service as aforesaid. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de Bozsale, William de Rudestan, k^{ts}, Richard de Thorny, Walter de Bucton, Geoffrey his brother, Azo de Flixton, Richard de Lascy, Azo de Benington, Adam Passeboys of the same, Richard his son, Robert son of Henry de Staxton, and many others.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by Henry son of Ivo de Willardby that he holds in fee and inheritance from the Church and Canons of Brid[lington], (fo. 81) one carucate of land in Willard[by] which his father held from them, with all the appurt. in the vill and without, in meadows, in pastures, etc. And moreover he holds from them one carucate in the wold of Brumton (in waldo Brumton), which was made from the cultures (ex culturis), and forty-six acres of land in the field of the same vill, as they are enumerated in the charter of Reginald son of Reginald de Brumton, and a meadow in the marsh of Brumpton called the New Meadow, and pasture for eight hundred sheep in the field of the same vill, which the said Reginald granted them. All these things he holds from the Canons in fee and inheritance with all the appurt., rendering to them yearly for all services belonging to them two marks of silver, and doing aids as his father did and his equals (pares mei) do. Neither he, Henry, nor his heirs will give, sell, pledge (inuagiabit) or exchange any of the land or pasture except through the Canons (per eosdem Canonicos), and will not receive any outside cattle (aliena aueria) into the pasture of Brumpton or Willardby, except through the Canons. He has sworn to hold to all these things to the Canons when he did homage to them for the said tenure. Test., Master Angot de Beverley (Beu'laco), Ralph the clerk of Galmeton, John Crassus of Beverley, Henry Siluer and Gilbert and Luke his sons, William de Logeuilla, W. de Lekeburn, Jocelin de Suthfer[iby].

- 1179
QUITCLAIM¹ by Robert son of Lem'i de Watton to Master Henry de Willardby and his heirs of all right and claim in half a carucate of the land of Willardby, with the meadows and pastures and marshes and all the appurt., and in half a carucate of the land of Brumton with the appurt., and in twenty acres of arable land in the wold of Brumton (in waldo de Brumton) with the appurt., for twenty-six marks of silver which the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] have paid to him for the aforesaid Henry for this quitclaim. Testimonium. Test., Master Gilbert, Prior of the Order of Sempringham, Peter, Prior of Watton, John the chaplain of Watton, Richard the chaplain of Bridelington, Geoffrey de Maundevill, Master Robert de Bridelington, Adam son of Haldan de Scardeburg, Henry de Watton, Fulk Plaiard.

GRANT by Richard son of William de Irton to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of half a carucate of land in the field of Willard [by]—that namely which Robert his brother gave him in exchange for two bovates of land in Midelton, and which Robert bought from Thomas son of Ivo de Willardeby, with toft and croft and all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill, to the said half carucate belonging. To hold and to have for ever, free and quit from all secular service, but doing foreign service as belongs to half a carucate of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee. Test., William de Percy and Robert his son, Walter de Bouington and William his son, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, Stephen de Besingby, William de Lekeburn, Arnald de Mart[on], Luke Siluer.

(Fo. 81^b)

CONFIRMATION of the preceding grant, by Robert son of William de Irton, brother of Richard. Warranty, and if Robert and his heirs are unable to warrant they will give the Canons an exchange to the value elsewhere. The same witnesses.

¹ This quitclaim is copied again on fo. 82 of the chartulary. The duplication had been noticed when the headings in red and the painted initials at the commencement came to be inserted subsequently; consequently they were omitted in this item, and the word 'vacat' was added, thus, 'va' at the beginning of the copy, 'cat' at the end.

CONFIRMATION by William son of Henry the clerk of Willardeby to Philip the chaplain of Willardby or his assigns, of a bovate of land in Willard[by], one of those two bovates which Roger son of Henry held in the same vill; that namely which lies towards the south (versus solem), with all the appurt., as the charter of Matilda and Agnes and Emma, daughters of the said Roger, witnesses. Warranty and sigillum. Test., Ralph de Neuill of Muston, Adam de Binington, William de Binington, Master Henry de Willard[by], Matthew and Ivo his brothers, Ingenald, Thomas de Neuill, Walter de Corneburg, Odo de Brid[lington], and many others.

GRANT¹ by Philip the chaplain of Willardby to the Canons, of a bovate of land in the territory of Willardby, with all the appurt., in meadows, in pastures, etc., and all liberties and easements within and without the vill; namely that bovate which lies through the whole field between the land which was Emma's, daughter of Lucy, and the land of the Canons, and which he, the grantor, sometime held from the Canons. And one perch (percatam) of land in breadth which lies between the land which was Walter's, son of Adelard, and the land of Theobald his brother in the same field, extending in length from the gate (porta) of the Prior of Brid[lington] as far as the high road leading from York to Scarthburg (sic). To have and to hold in free and perpetual alms, quit of all secular service and demand, save the foreign service to the lords of the fee, as belongs to one bovate of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee. (fo. 82.) Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Dom. Arnald de Bucton, Richard le Bret, Gregory, vicar of Willard[by], H. de Benington, Thomas son of Adelard, Adam son of Ingenold, Henry Pulayn, and others.

ANOTHER copy of the quitclaim by Robert son of Lem'i (here written "Lenn'"), ante, p. 108.

GRANT² by Ivo de Hastings son of Thomas son of Ivo de Willardeby, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of the two bovates of land in Willard[by] of the half carucate which is called Kirkeland, which (quam) his father held from the Canons for half a mark of silver yearly, which lie nearest to the south. To hold and have with all appurt., etc., within and without the vill, freely, and quietly from all secular service, etc., but so that the forty pence which his father paid yearly for the two bovates, he, the grantor, is not to pay, but always reserving to the Canons the ferm of forty pence for the other two bovates of Kirkeland. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Dom. Walter de Grendale, Walter de Bucton, Robert de Muncells, H. de Biningt[on], Simon Despenser of Fiuel[e], Robert de Octon, Richard Passeboys, H. Pulayn, John de Mikelhirst, Luke Siluer of Brid[lington], Robert de Rednesse, Robert de Caue, William de Besingby, and many others.

QUITCLAIM by William son of Master Henry de Willard[by] to the Prior and Convent, of all right and claim in a certain bovate of land with the appurt., in Willardby, which bovate is of that half carucate called Kirkeland, and lies to the north (remotior a sole). Moreover he has quitclaimed to them all right and claim in a toft with croft in Willardby lying next (propinquius) to the Church on the west, and also in a meadow in the meadows of Willardby, which is called (fo. 82^b) Ouename, lying beside the croft of the hospital of Beverley (Beu'l') towards the south. Testimonium. Test., Gregory, vicar of Willardby, Henry de Bouington, Adam Passeboys, Henry Pulain, John de Mikelhirst, H. Mustard, Reginald Couill, and others.

QUITCLAIM¹ by Master William de Brid[lington], son of Master H. de Willardby, to his lords the Prior and Convent, of a bovate of land with all the appurt., in the territory of Willardby, which lies in their cultures through the whole field (per totum campum). To have and to hold with all appurt., etc., to them and their assigns, wholly and peaceably, for ever. Testimonium. Test., Henry de Staxt[on], Ace de Binington, Ranulph de Folketon, Richard, vicar of Willardby, Ace de Flixton, Master Robert de Flixton, William de Askeham, and others.

FINE at York in fifteen days of Trinity, 30 Hen. III, between Alan Passeuaunt and Margaret his wife, pet., and Thomas, Prior of Bridelington, ten., respecting one bovate of land and one toft, with the appurt., in Willard[by], whence an assize of death [of ancestor]² was summoned between them in the same Court, namely that Alan and Margaret recognised the land and toft to be the right of the Prior and his Church, and the Prior granted to Alan and Margaret the said land with the appurt., except the said toft, which remains to the Prior and his successors and Church for ever. And moreover the Prior has granted to Alan and Margaret a toft with the appurt., in the same vill, namely that which Richard Schiling sometime held: to have and to hold to them for the lives of both (tote vita utriusque) from the Prior and his successors, rendering thence yearly two shillings sterling, and doing foreign service as belongs to so much land of that fee in the same vill. And after the death of both Alan and Margaret, the said land and toft shall revert to the Prior and his successors, quit of Alan and Margaret and the heirs of Margaret, for ever.

GRANT by Thomas son of Adelard de Willard[by] and Matilda Escrop his wife, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of 9½ acres of land in the territory of Willard[by], with all appurt., etc., within and without the vill; which are of that bovate of land which Philip Escrop sometime held, and lie on the south side of Middeldic, between the land (fo. 83) of the Canons which they have of the gift of William de Neuill³ and the land of Robert de Grisethorp. To have and to hold freely, quietly, etc. from secular service, etc. Warranty, and acquittance from secular service. Testimonium. Test., Walter, vicar of Foketoun, then dean of Dikering, Walter de Folketon, Henry his son, John, vicar of Galmeton, Robert de Redenese, Peter de Speton, H. de Beningtoun, J. de Rutstan, clerk, Henry of the spinney (de spineto), Robert de Hilderthorp, and many others.

³ The words "de dono Wiñi" repeated.

GRANT by Thomas son of Adelard de Willard[by] and Matilda Escrop his wife, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of four acres of the land of that bovate which Philip Escrop sometime held in the territory of Willard[by], with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill; namely those four acres which lie between the land of the Canons, which they have by the gift of William de Neuill, and the land of Robert de Gris-thorp, on either side (ex utraque parte) of the vill of Willard[by]. To have and to hold freely, quietly, etc. from all secular service, etc. Warranty, and acquittance from secular service. Testimonium. Same witnesses as in the preceding deed.¹

GRANT by Thomas son of Adelard de Willard[by] and Matilda his wife, in free, pure, and perpetual [alms]², of one acre of land in Willardby, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill; namely the acre which lies between the land of the Canons and the land of Robert de Morpathe in Vuermare Blockes. To have and to hold freely, quietly, etc. from all secular service, etc. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Gregory, vicar of Willard[by], Henry de Binington, Robert de Octon, Richard Passe-boys, Thomas de Rauenthorp, William Brod, Henry Pulayn, William son of H. de Staxt[on], and others.

GRANT by Matilda Escrop of Willard[by], in her widowhood, to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms of 9½ acres in Willardby (fo. 83^b) as described in the charter by Thomas de Willardby and herself (the last charter but two), except that for "quam Philippus Escrop aliquando tenuit," this deed has "quam Philippus pater meus mihi dedit." Warranty as before. The witnesses are the same in both deeds.

GRANT by Matilda Escrop of Willard[by], in her widowhood, to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of four acres of the land of that bovate which Philip her father gave her in the territory of Willardby (described as in the last charter but two: the witnesses are also the same as in that charter, with the exception of John de Rudestan and Henry de spineto. Warranty as before).

GRANT by Matilda daughter of Philip Scrop, formerly wife of Thomas son of Adelard de Willardby, in her widowhood, to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of an acre of land in Willard[by], as described in the last charter but two: the witnesses also being the same as in that deed.³ Similar warranty.

GRANT by Ivo son of Walter de Staxton and Alice Escrop his wife, to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of 9½ acres of land in (fo. 84) the territory of Willard[by], described as in the grant by Thomas de Willardby and Matilda Escrop his wife, the last charter but five: the witnesses are the same as in that deed with the addition of "R. Coñe de Swaledale." Similar warranty.

GRANT by the same Ivo and Alice to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of four acres of land in the territory of Willardby, described as in the grant by Thomas de Willardby and Matilda Escrop his wife, the last charter but five: the witnesses are the same as in that deed.¹ Similar warranty.

GRANT by Ivo son of Walter de Staxton and Alice Escrop his wife, daughter of Philip Escrop, to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms as freely as any land may be given in alms to any Religious house, of one rood of land in breadth² and fifty perches (perticatas) in length in the territory of Willardby, which is called Holm, lying between the toft of the Lord Prior of Brid[lington] and the land of Thomas son of Adelard. They and their heirs will warrant the said rood of land with the liberties and easements, within and without the vill. Sigillum. (Fo. 84^b). Test., Dom. Walter, dean of Folketon, Dom. CONFIRMATION by Jordan de Mainthorp of the thirteen acres given by William Ters. To hold freely and quietly from all secular services, etc. Warranty, and acquittance from all secular demands. Testimonium. Witnesses as in the preceding charter.¹

GRANT by Jordan de Mainthorp to the Canons of thirteen acres of land in the vill of Willardby, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, with all their easements and liberties within and without the vill; (fo. 86) namely, those thirteen acres which William Ters sometime held from him (described as in the last charter but one). Warranty. Sigillum. Another warranty clause. Test., W., dean of Folketon, Philip the priest, John, vicar of Galmeton, Arnald de Bucton, Walter the Knight (militie) of Folketon and Henry his son, Peter de Speton, Robert de Redenesse, Robert the porter (iamitore), and many others.

GRANT by Jordan de Meinthorp, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of a certain meadow in the territory of Willardeby, which was William's, son of Reiner, the grantor's father; which lies between the bound of Staxton and the bridge of Willardby. To hold from him and his heirs freely and quit of all secular service, etc. Warranty, and if he and his heirs should be unable to warrant they will give the Canons an exchange to the value, either in meadow or arable land, in the vill of Willardby. Testimonium. Test., Gregory and Ralph the chaplains, Master Robert de Brid[lington], Luke Siluer, Gilbert his son, Thomas the merchant (mercator), John de Redenesse, H. of the spinney (de spineto), J. de Rudestan, clerk, and many others.

GRANT by Henry de Willard[by] to God and the Church of S^t Mary, Rievaulx (Rieuall'), and the monks serving God there, with the consent of Adelard and Henry his sons and his other heirs, in pure and perpetual alms, of ten acres of land in the field of Willardby—namely five beside (iuxta) the road from Willardby to Foxholes to the east of the said road, upon Surnesdal', two acres and a half below (subtus) Galeclint, which extend to the bounds of Fordon, and two acres and a half below (subtus) Croftdic² at the north. He has likewise given them half an acre of land in Greindeslaca to the west of Midelberg, where they will be able to make their sheepfold (bercariam), and he has also given them a piece of land³ in Kornedale, where they can build a house for the brethren and their household to dwell in, and the meadow called Houedele having eight perches (percatas) in width and another meadow called Wandele five perches (perticatas) in width, extending to the water called Hauereford. And besides these, he gives them (fo. 86^b) pasture for three hundred sheep through all the pasture of Willardby within and without (intus et extra), everywhere, except corn and meadow. All these things he has given to be held in perpetuity, free and quit of all terrene service and secular custom and exaction. Warranty. This gift he made to the house of Rievaulx (Rieuall') in the year 1152, but he has renewed it in the year 1172. Test., Robert the chaplain of Helmsley (Helmesle), Robert the clerk of St Oswald, Hugh the clerk of Everard de Ros, Robert the clerk of Sproxton (Sp'xt'), Richard the clerk of Neuton, Robert de Sproxton (Sp'xt'), Tecius, Hugh son of William, William Engelram, William de Rudestan, Robert de Tweng, Robert son of Ralph, Stephen de Killum, Huroid de Nouailla, Robert son of Hasculf, William de Thorp, Henry Eueringham, Malger de Ergom, William son of Robert, Walter son of William, Thomas son of Gualo, Lambert de Willardby, Henry son of Henry.

CONFIRMATION by Adelard son of Henry de Willardeby to Rievaulx (Rieuall') of the gift of his father, as set forth in the preceding charter, with a warranty.¹ The same witnesses.²

GRANT by S., Abbot, and the Convent of Rievaulx (Rieuall') to the Canons of Bridel[ington], of ten acres and a half of arable land in the field of Willard[by], in perpetual and free alms, as Henry, lord of that vill, gave to the grantors: whereof five are beside (iuxta) the road from Willardby to Foxholes to the east of that road upon Surbuskedale, and two acres and a half below Galeclinth, (fo. 87) and extend to the bounds of Fordone, and other two acres and a half below Croftdic³ to the north (a aquilonem; sic), and half an acre in Grenesdaleslack at the west side of Midelberke; which make up the 10½ acres. Moreover, they have granted to the Canons all agreements (conventiones) and gifts which Henry de Willardby made to them (the grantors), quit in perpetuity, except the meadow of the demesne of the same H., which they retain. In addition to all these things, they grant to the Canons pasture for three hundred sheep of the warranty of Turoid de Neuilla and Odo de Neut[on] and their successors, quit (quietam), which the same Canons had conceded to them (the grantors). They have made this charter and delivered it to the Church of St Mary of Brid[lington] in the year of the Lord 1175. Test., Richard, Prior of Newburgh and Bernard his Canon, Robert son of Simon de sigillo, Henry the miller (molendinar') of Scardeburg, Thomas and Richard de Newburgh (Novoburgo), Serlo Talun, Robert son of Victor, Robert de Edenham, Thomas and Ernald de Brid[lington], Ralph de Camera, Albert and Henry, canons of Guisborough (Giseburn').

² With two or three differences; in this deed, instead of 'Hugone clerico Everardi de Ros, we have 'Hugone clerico, Everardo de Ros'; also 'Turoid de Nouailla,' instead of 'Huroid de Nouailla, and 'de Eueringham,' instead of 'Eueringham.'

³ Or Crostdic.

CONFIRMATION by Adelard son of Henry de Willard[by] to the Canons, of the grant by the Abbot and Convent of Rievaulx of 10½ acres of arable land in the field of Willard[by], which they (the Abbot and Convent) had by the grant of Henry his father, with his own confirmation, a long time (tempore non paruo) previously; described as in the preceding charter. Test., Simon the chaplain of Folketon, William the chaplain of Brid[lington], Franco the clerk, Malger the clerk, Gocelin the clerk, Geoffrey the clerk of Daltona, Gregory the clerk of Killinge, Henry Siluer, Robert de Gartona, Serlo Talun, Simon de Lincolnia, Robert son of Victor, Robert de Edenham, Thomas de Kernethby, Sampson de Frideby, Godfrid and Godeneth de Marton, Silvan, William the cook (coco), Reginald Casteloc, Walegrim de Killum.

chaplain of Willardeby, Henry de Binington, Dom. John, vicar of Galmeton, Peter de Speton, Robert de Hilderthorp, Robert de Redenesse, Henry de Spinay, John de Ruddestan, and others.

GRANT by Matilda daughter of Margaret de Brigham, (fo. 96^b) in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of three acres and two perches of land, of those two bovates which Margaret her mother sometime held in the eastern part of the vill of Willardeby, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill; whereof one acre lies in the crofts, and half an acre lies in Corndale between the land of the Canons and the land of the said (sic) Theobald, and one acre lies in the place called (? Lingtung).¹ To have and to hold freely, quietly, etc. from all secular service, etc. Warranty, and acquittance from service. Testimonium. Test., Walter, vicar of Folket [on], then dean of Dikering, Walter de Folketon, Henry his son, John, vicar of Galmeton, Robert de Redenesse, Peter de Speton, Henry de Binington, John de Rudstan, clerk, Henry of the spinney (de spineto), Robert de Hilderthorp then porter (portar'), and others.

FINE at York, from the day of St John Baptist in three weeks, 24 Hen. III, between Thomas, Prior of Brid[lington], quer., and Thomas de Gunneby and Elizabeth his wife, def., respecting common of turbary in the marsh of Willardeby, whereof the Prior complained that the deforciant did not hold to the agreement made between them respecting the said turbary, and whence a plea was between them in the same Court, namely that the deforciant remitted and quitclaimed for themselves and the heirs of Elizabeth to the said Prior and his successors and Church all right and claim which they had in the turbaries of the said marsh, with the appurt., by reason of their holding (retenementi), which they hold in Binington; and for this remission and quitclaim, etc., the Prior granted that the deforciant and the heirs of Elizabeth, or their men of Biningt[on], may dig yearly in the said marsh, in a competent place, twenty cartloads of turves, and that it be lawful for them to enter such marsh and depart from it, for the purpose of carrying the said turves to the King's highway, without hindrance from the Prior or his successors: but so that the deforciant or their men or the heirs of Elizabeth may not give or sell the said turves within the said marsh, except by consent of the Prior or his successors.

QUITCLAIM by Thomas de Gunneby, son of Dom. Thomas de Gunneby, to the Prior and Convent, or their assigns, of all right and claim in the digging (fo. 97) of twenty cartloads of turves in the marsh and turbary of Willard[by] which they had by the gift of his father of Binington, and by reason of a Final Concord thereof made in the King's Court between Dom. Thomas, formerly Prior of Bridelington, and his Convent, quer., and the said Thomas (fo. 97) de Gunneby, the grantor's father, and Elizabeth his wife, the grantor's mother, deforc. That this quitclaim may remain firm for ever he has affixed his seal, and he has delivered the Fine to the Prior and Convent. Test., Sirs (dominis) Thomas de Gunneby, his father, and William de Bozsale, k^{ts}, Walter de Bucton, Richard de Binington, clerk, John de Staxton, Richard of the same, and others.

¹ This does not account for the whole of the land granted.

QUITCLAIM by William de Audinges and Emma his wife, to Thomas, Prior of Bridelington, and his successors, of all right and claim, by reason of their land of Binington, in the turbary of the marsh of Willardeby. For this quitclaim, the Prior and his successors will render to them and their heirs, yearly nine thousand turves of reasonable size, according to the diversity of summers, in dry land where they can go with carts for carrying without danger. Testimonium. Test., Gerard Saluayn, Walter de Grendale, William de Erghom, Arnald de Buct[on], Robert de Eston, Robert de Redenesse, William de Walet[on], and others.

FINE at York, from the day of St John Baptist in fifteen days, 24 Hen. III, between Thomas, Prior of Bridelint[on], quer., and William de Audinges and Emma his wife, deforc., respecting common of turbary in the marsh of Willard[by], whereof the Prior complained that the deforcians did not hold to the agreement made between them respecting the said turbary; whence there was a plea between them in the same Court, namely that the deforcians remitted and quitclaimed for themselves and the heirs of Emma to the Prior and his successors and Church all right and claim in common of turbary of the said marsh, with the appurt., for ever; and for this remission, etc., the Prior granted to the deforcians and the heirs of Emma nine thousand turves receivable yearly, between the day of St John Baptist and the Assumption of B.M., in a certain and competent place where they can come to carry the turves in waggons and carts. And be it known that the Prior and his successors will dig and get the nine thousand turves as their own turves, and will carry to the said certain and convenient place, at their own costs, for ever.

QUITCLAIM by Andrew de Boythorp to the Prior and Convent, of nine thousand turves, in which they were sometime held to William de Audinges and Emma his wife, by Fine in the King's Court, for the quitclaim of the right they had in the marsh of Willard[by], and which afterwards Dom. Robert de Killingholme and Isabella, Andrew's father and mother, and (fo. 97^b) he, Andrew, were accustomed to receive from them (de eis) yearly at Willard[by]. Testimonium. Test., Thomas de Heslert[on], William de Hasthorp, k^{ts}, Walter de Buct[on] William of the same, Ace de Flixton, Azo de Binington, William de Haulay, and others.

GRANT by Thomas son of Adelard de Willard[by] and Matilda his wife,¹ to Philip the chaplain, of one perch of land in the territory of Willard[by]; that namely which lies between the land of Henry son of Helewise and the land of Ivo de Staxton, on the south side of the vill, from those two bovates which were Philip Scrop's; whereof (cujus) the length extends from the King's highway as far as the croft of Ivo de Staxton; to Philip and his assigns, or to any Religious house he may wish to give or assign to, freely and quietly from secular service. Warranty. Sigillum. Test., Dom. QUITCLAIM by Sibilla, formerly wife of William de Neuill of Kalethorne, in her widowhood, in the octaves of the Assumption B.M., 22 Hen. III, to the Prior and Convent of all right and claim in the third part of those five bovates of land, with two tofts and turbary and meadows and pastures, and all other appurt. in Willardby which William, her late husband, gave to them until (usque ad) the full age of Eustace, heir of the said William, and, if the said Eustace should die before coming of age, until the full age of the other heirs succeeding him; and when they shall have come to such age, and shall have the inheritance of the said William according to the law of England, it shall be lawful for Sibilla, the grantor, if she choose, to demand the said third part, and when she has recovered it, and the heirs of William shall have given the Prior and Convent an exchange elsewhere to the value of such third part, she has granted that they (the Prior and Convent) may hold the third part according as the charters which they have from the said William witness, and she (Sibilla) will be content as regards the exchange made to them. She is not to claim anything from the third part of the five bovates with the appurt. before the heirs of the said William have their inheritance in peaceable possession. She has sworn in the hand of Gregory, then vicar of Willardby, to faithfully hold to all the above, and for greater security has affixed her seal to this deed. Test., Gregory, then vicar of Willardby, William Buscell, Robert de Lairton, Michael Cofin, Ranulf de Foxholes, Alan Buscell, Henry de Binington, Stephen Calf, Simon de Burton, clerk, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Philip the chaplain of Willardby to the Canons, of one bovate of land in the territory of Willardby, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill; namely that bovate which lies, through the whole field, between the land which was Emma's, daughter of Lucy, and the land of the said Canons, and which he, Philip, sometime held from them. To have and to hold in free and perpetual alms, quit of all secular service and demand, except foreign service to the lords of the fee, as belongs to one bovate of land where ten carucates make a knight's fee. Warrant. Test., Dom. Arnald de Bucton, Richard le Brett, Gregory, vicar of Willardby, Henry de Benyngton, Thomas son of Adelard, Adam son of Ingenold, Henry Pulayn, and others.

GRANT by William son of Master Henry de Willardby to the Canons of the following properties in Willardby, in free, pure, and perpetual alms:

A bovate of land with all the appurt., which bovate is of that half carucate which is called Kirkeland, and lies to the north (remotior a sole).

A toft and croft lying next (propinquius) the Church towards the west.

A meadow called Ouenam, lying beside (iuxta) the croft of the hospital of Beuerley (Beu'le) to the south (versus solem), rendering thence to the said hospital of Beverley four pence yearly.

Testimonium. Test., G., vicar of W., H. de B., A. de P., H. P., and others.¹

Galmeton.²

(The following note heads the column :—" Galmet'. Ex dono Adelardi venatoris capella de Galmeton, que postea facta est ecclesia et dedicata per Turscinum Archiepiscopum.")

FINE in the King's Court at York, on Friday next after the Assumption B.M.V., in the third year of King Richard, before Henry, Dean of York, Ralph, Archdeacon of Hereford, Hugh Barde, William de Stuteville, William son of Adelard,³ Henry de Wichinton, Justices, and other trusty of the King, then present, between the Canons of Brid[lington], ten., and William son of Roger, chaplain, pet., respecting three bovates of land with the appurt. in Galmeton, whence a recognition de morte antecessorum was summoned between them in the King's Court, namely that the said William son of Roger quitclaimed from him and his heirs to the Canons for ever the said three bovates, with all their appurt., in Galmeton, and all right and claim which he claimed in them; and for this quitclaim the Canons gave him 3½ marks of silver.

(The next item is an imperfect charter, as follows :—)

SCIANT presentes et futuri quod ego Nicholaus filius Ranulfi de Galmet[on] quandam terram in Galmeton iuxta antiquum toftum predicte ecclesie versus meridiem, habentem in longitudine tresdecim perticatas, in latitudine duas perticatas, pro anima mea et omnium parentum meorum; ut autem hec donacio mea rata et inconcussa permaneat, illam sigilli mei appositione corroboravi. His testibus, Ricardo de Bozsale, Radulfo de Galmeton, Stephano nepote eius, Ada filio Jolani, Willelmo de Biningt[on], Rogero de Hundmanby, et multis aliis.

GRANT by William de Galmeton to God and St Mary of Brid' and the Church of St Nicholas of Galmet[on], in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of certain land beside (iuxta) the old toft of the same Church, namely in width having three perches, and in length thirteen perches, towards the south, for so much of the land of the Church in his fee in the field of the same vill, namely in Wandaylle towards the south and north, next (propinquiore) to Caldekelde towards the east. Moreover, he has granted and confirmed to the said Church of St Nicholas, in free and perpetual alms, the land which it has by the gift of Nicholas son of Ranulf, as his charter witnesses. Test., Robert de Galmet[on], Baldwin the esquire (armigero), Gamel the reeve (preposito), Richard the chaplain, Ralph the dean (decano), H. the clerk of Pokelington, Thomas de Binington.

GRANT by William de Bozsale to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of the under-written lands in the territory of Galmeton :—
Four perches of land in width, lying next (propinquoires) to the bound which is called Nestthesutherrest balke on the south side, and extending in length on each side of the field from the bound of Boythorp as far as Suthdale.

Seven perches of land in width which lie next (propinquoires) to the selion of the Prior and Convent which is called Canunthrehou dayle, on the south side, and extending in length from the road of Foxhol as far as Threhoudic.

Six perches of land in width in Estclifdail in the east field, lying next to the selion of the Prior and Convent called Canunclifdail at Pekespit on the east side, and extending in length from Clifdike as far as Pekesbru.

Four perches of land in width in Estclifdail in the west field, which lie next (propinquoires) to the selion (fo. 101^b) of the Prior and Convent called Canunclifdail at Witegate on the east side, and extend in length from Witegate as far as Clifdik.

Twenty perches of land in length and twenty-one in width on the west side of the road of Foxhol', lying next (propinquoires) to the selion of the Prior and Convent called Canunrodebrad in Bradelandes, on the south side.

And moreover, he has granted to the Canons $7\frac{1}{2}$ acres of meadow in the meadows of Galmeton, which lie in his demesne meadow which is called Mideldayl in the eastern part, extending in length from Derewent as far as the water of the other Derewent' (usque ad aquam alterius Derewent').

To have and to hold to the Canons, with all the appurt., for ever. Warranty, and acquittance from services, etc. And be it known that for this gift the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] have remitted and quitclaimed to the grantor and his heirs for ever all the land with its appurt. in Galmeton, belonging to that bovate of land which is called Ricolf's bovate, namely between the bounds of Foxholes and of Binington which are on one side, and the headlands (forarios) on the other, whereof (quorum) one is called Winterdaleheuedland, another is called Tadehouheuedland, and the third is called Pekeshueudland, saving to the Prior and Convent three selions between the said bounds, whereof one lies in Threhoudayle, another in Estclifdayle above (supra) Pec, and the third in Estclifdayle above Witegate. And moreover, the Prior and Convent have quitclaimed to him and his heirs all that meadow in the meadows of Galmeton which belongs as much (tam) to the said Ricolf's bovate, which is of the grantor's fee, as (quam) to the two bovates which they hold of the fee of Nicholas de Acclum. Testimonium. Test., Robert Constable, William de Buct[on], William de Rudstan, Nicholas de Grendale, k^{ts}, H. de Staxton, Ace de Flixton, Ace de Binington, and others.¹

GRANT by brother G., Prior of Bridlyngton, and the Convent, as much as in them lies, with the consent of Dom. Nicholas, vicar of the Mother Church of Galmeton, that Dom. William de Bozhale and his heirs may hear services (diuina) and at their own charges have celebration in the oratory which the said William has constructed within the limits of their (the Canons') parish of Galmeton, in a place of the marsh which is called S^t Francis' isle: but so that if anything belonging of right or due to the said Mother Church, in tithes, oblations, obventions, or other things, shall be lost by reason of the grant of the said chantry, it shall be lawful for the Prior and Convent and their successors, no other assent being needful, to the priest, Richard de Galmeton, Serlo Talun, William de Thorneton, Robert son of Victor, Reinald Casteloc, Malger the clerk, Henry Siluer, Godfrey de Marton, Ernald and Goldeheuec his brother.

CONFIRMATION by Richard Brito of Brumpton, son of Reginald Brito, to the Canons of the alms which Reginald his grandfather bestowed, and Reginald his father confirmed, namely one carucate of land in Brumpt[on], etc., as in the previous deed as far as "the new meadow." All these things Reginald his grandfather gave and Reginald his (the present confirmor's) father confirmed to the Church of Brid[lington] in free and perpetual alms, and Reginald his father and William and Henry his uncles (patrui) with Reginald his grandfather, made the gift upon the altar of the same church and swore to warrant to the Canons as they were able. And he, Richard, and his heirs will similarly warrant as they are able, and will not receive outside cattle to pasture in the same vill, but only their own and those of their men dwelling there. Test., Ralph, dean of Galmeton, Master Walter de Driffeld, Robert de Eueringham and Robert his son, Walter de Soureby, Robert de Boythorp, Robert son of Nigel, Thomas de Lutton, Adam de Hilton, William de Heselerton, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Peter de Speton, Richard de Hirton.

GRANT by Mary, formerly wife of Ivo de Willardeby, in her widowhood, (fo. 103^b) in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of pasture for three hundred sheep in the wold (waldo) of Brumpton, with seventeen acres of land and one perch in the culture of Vpcapehou, and with ten acres of land in the culture called Cotedail in the south part of the same culture, and with 2½ acres and one perch of land on the east side of the same culture, and with a moiety of the toft which Ricolf held towards the south, in the vill of Brumpton, and with all liberties and easements to the same pasture belonging within the vill and without. Moreover she has given the Canons the rent of half a mark from that half carucate of land which the same Ricolf held in the same vill, so that she and her heirs will pay yearly to them that half mark from the said half carucate. Warranty. Test., William de Perci and Robert his son, Walter de Bouington and William his son, Walter de Carthorp and William his son, Malger de Erghom, William de Grendale and Walter his brother, Walter de Soureby, William de Lekeburn, Ernald de Mart[on], Thomas and William his brothers, Luke Siluer.

CONFIRMATION by Master Henry de Willardeby to the Canons of the grant of pasture and land, moiety of a toft and rent of half a mark by Mary his mother, as described in the preceding charter, with warranty.¹ Test., William de Percy and Robert his son, Walter de Carethorp and William his son, Master Walter de Driffeld, Masters Gilbert and Robert de Bridel[ington], Robert de Irton, Richard his brother, Ernald de Marton, William de Lekeburne.

GRANT by Thomas son of Ivo de Willard[by] to the Canons, in pure and perpetual (fo. 104) alms, of a moiety of that toft and croft in Brumpton which Ricolph sometime held, the other moiety of which Mary, the grantor's mother, gave them and Master Henry, his brother, confirmed, and he (the grantor) has confirmed the same moiety so that the Canons may fully and wholly possess the croft and toft. . He has likewise confirmed the yearly rent of half a mark from that half carucate of land, which the said Ricolph sometime held, which (quem) Mary his mother gave in her widowhood and the said Master Henry confirmed, and so that if that rent be not paid at the appointed terms the Canons may distrain on the land. Sigillum. Test., Arnald de Bucton, Peter de Speton, Simon de Stutevill, Geoffrey de Thorney, William de Ergom, Stephen de Besingby, Robert de Redenese.

RESIGNATION and quitclaim by Master Henry de Willard[by] to the Prior and Convent, his lords, of pasture for 300 of that pasture for eight hundred sheep which they formerly granted to Ivo, his late father, in the wold (waldo) of Brumpton; so that henceforward neither he nor his heirs may claim pasture for more than five hundred sheep; neither will they receive the cattle of anyone into the said pasture, nor sell, mortgage or exchange it, without the Canons' licence. Test., Master Walter de Driffeld, Master Alan de Creton, Master William de Harpeham, Masters Gilbert and Robert de Brid[lington], Robert de Irton, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Peter de Speton, Richard de Irtone.

RESIGNATION and quitclaim by Master Henry de Willard[by] to his lords the Prior and Convent, of one carucate of land in the wold (waldo) of Brumton, with his body; namely that carucate which his ancestors and he were accustomed to hold from them, rendering thence to them yearly a mark of silver. This carucate with all the appurt., etc., within the vill and without, the Prior and Convent shall hold in free, pure, and perpetual alms, wholly, quietly, etc. from all secular service, etc. Warranty. *Testimonium. GRANT by Master Henry de Willard[by] to God and the Church of the B.M. of Brid[lington], to the use of the hospital of that Church, for the soul of John de Willard[by] and the souls of the grantor's ancestors, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of a toft in Brumpton, with all the appurt., namely that toft which Osbert Skulcg formerly held from the grantor's father; and moreover all his culture which lies beside (iuxta) the said toft, and contains an acre and more. Sigillum. Test., Ralph de Vfram, Arnald de Bucton, Gilbert de Speton, Ernald de Marton, Luke Siluer, Richard de Irton, Thomas de Swaledale, Stephen of the spinney (de spineto), Thomas de Willard[by], Serlo Hacū.

FINE at York, the morrow of St Thomas Apostle, 11 Hen. III, between Thomas de Willard[by], pet., and Hubert, Prior of Brid[lington], ten., respecting 150 acres of land with the appurt., in Brumpton, whence a recognition of assize mortis antecessorum was summoned between them in the same Court; namely that the Prior recognised one culture, with the appurt., of the same land, which is called Caluecroft, and another culture, with the appurt., of the same land, which is called Vpcapheou, except four acres, with the appurt., of the same culture, namely those four acres nearest (propinquieribus) the fosse on the east, to be the right of Thomas ; to have and to hold to Thomas and his heirs from the said Prior and his successors and Church for ever ; rendering thence yearly two shillings sterling for all service and exaction. And for this recognition, etc., Thomas remitted and quitclaimed to the Prior and his successors and Church all right and claim in the remainder of all the said land with the appurt. for ever, as well in the four acres excepted from the said culture as in all the rest of the land.

GRANT by Thomas son of Ivo de Willard[by] to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of two cultures of land in the wold (waldo) of Brumpton, with all the appurt., etc., one namely called Caluecroft and the other called Vpcapheou, which the Canons granted to him by concord in the King's Court, made between him and them, before Martin de Pateshille and his fellows, at York. To have and to hold freely, quietly, etc. from all secular service, etc. Warranty, (fo. 105) and acquittance from secular services and demands. Testimonium. Test., Dom. Walter de Folketon, Henry his son, Arnald de Bucton, Luke Siluer, Laurence de Flaynbur, Robert de Redenesse, John de Rudestan, clerk, Henry de Binington, Stephen Calf, Robert de Hilderthorp, then porter (portar'), and many others.

QUITCLAIM by Ivo de Hastings son of Thomas son of Ivo de Willardeby, to the Prior and Convent, of all right and claim in two bovates of land, with a toft and all the appurt., in Brumton in Hau'fordelith, which two bovates and toft he held from them for forty pence yearly, and which Richard Baksi formerly held from him. Testimonium. Test., Gregory, vicar of Willardeby, Robert, vicar of Galmeton, Richard le Bret, Robert de Redenesse, Henry de Binington, Reginald de Couill, Henry Puleyn, Reginald the porter (portario), and others.

GRANT by Ivo de Hastings son of Thomas son of Ivo de Willardby to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land in Brumpton in Hau'fordelith, with a toft and all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill: those two bovates namely, with toft, which Richard Baksi sometime held, and which lie between the land of Johel de Galmeton and the land of Gaudin de Aseby, clerk. To have and to hold with the said toft and appurt., for ever, freely, quietly, etc. from all secular service, etc. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Gregory, vicar of Willard[by], Robert, vicar of Galmeton, Richard le Bret, Robert de Redenesse, Henry de Binington, H. son of Alexander, H. son of Gocelin, David de Galmet[on], and others.

GRANT by Ivo de Hastings son of Thomas son of Ivo de Willard[by] to the Canons, of all his right and claim in two bovates of land with a toft and all the appurt., in Brumpton in Hau'fordlith, with homage, wardship, and relief of the said land when they fall, and of all things which may belong to him or his heirs by reason of the said land. Which two bovates of land lie between the two bovates of land which he gave to the said Canons and the land of Richard le Bret, and which Master Henry de Willard[by], his (the grantor's) uncle, gave to Ivo his (Henry's) brother with the said toft, and which Johel, husband of Agnes daughter of the said Ivo, sometime held from the grantor with the said toft for forty pence yearly, which the grantor was accustomed to render for the said land to the said (fo. 105^b) Canons; which forty pence the said Agnes and her heirs shall pay yearly for the said land to the Canons for ever. Testimonium. Test., Gregory, vicar of Willardeby, Robert, vicar of Galmeton, Richard le Bret, Robert de Redenes, Henry de Biningt[on], Henry Pulayn, Reginald the porter (portar), Simon de Kipeis, Adam of the bedchamber (de thalamo), and others.

CONFIRMATION by John son of Thomas le Bret of Potter Brumpton to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of seven cultures of land, one pasture called Wildholme, and the site of the sheepfold (bercarie) upon the wold (wald) of Potter Brumpton. Of which cultures the first is called Caluecroft, extending from the fosse of Caluecroft in length towards the west as far as the bound of Schyreburne, and in width from the carucate of land formerly belonging to Dom. Robert Mangeinlayn towards the south as far as the carucate formerly belonging to the same Robert, and containing twenty-one acres and three perches of land: the second called Seuenhouflat, extending from the said fosse in length towards the west as far as the bound of Scireburne, and in width from the carucate of land formerly belonging to the said Robert towards the south as far as the carucate formerly the same Robert's, containing twenty acres of land: the third called Coteffath extending in length from the said fosse towards the west as far as the bound of Schirburne and in width from the carucate of land of the said Robert towards the south as far as the land formerly belonging to Hawise de Irton, containing 15 acres 3½ perches, and 16 yardlands of land in length by one yardland in width: the fourth, called Keldehilflat, extends from the fosse towards the west as far as the bound of Scirburne in length, and in width from the carucate of land of the said Robert towards the south as far as the land formerly the same Robert's, containing fourteen acres and ten perches: the fifth called Grenehouflat lying between the lands formerly of the said Robert, extending from the bound of Scyreburn towards the east, containing 16½ acres: the sixth called Kalanges, extending from Threrodes in length towards the west as far as the bound of Scyreburn and in width from the carucate formerly of the said Robert towards the south as far as the land formerly of Hawise de Irton, containing 14½ acres and thirty perches of land: the seventh [called] Vpcapehou, extending from the cliff of Potter Brumpton towards the south as far as the land formerly of the said Hawise de Yrton, and in width from the bound of Galmeton as far as the fosse called Syrithescore towards the west. And the pasture called Wildeholm containing seventy acres of land lying (iacentes) by four parts (per quatuor partes) in the same pasture between the lands of the said Robert. And the site of the said sheepfold in the head of the Cotefflat towards the east, containing an acre and a half. (Fo. 106.) He has likewise confirmed to the Canons pasture sufficient for eight hundred wethers (multones) in the pasture of Potter Brumpton. To hold and to have all the aforesaid to the Canons, their successors or assigns freely, quietly, etc., with all the appurt. and easements in entries and exits and in all other places, near and far, within the bounds of Potter Brumpton for ever. Warranty, and acquittance from services, suits of any court, etc. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de Rudestan, Fulk de Flotemanby, William de St Quintin, William de Axthorp, K^{ts}, Walter de Bucton, William of the same, Geoffrey of the same, Thomas de Spet[on], Richard de Lascy of Folket[on], Azo de Flixton, Robert de Wyerne, Richard de Staxton, William son of Reginald of the same, and others.

CONFIRMATION by John Bret to God and the said Church of St Mary¹ and the Canons, their successors and assigns, of all the above written (suprascripta), namely the cultures as before written, pasture, and site of sheepfold, and all other lands, tofts, rents, tenements and fees which they have, whether in demesne or free service, of the gifts of his ancestors or others whomsoever of the fee formerly (quondam) his ancestors' in the said vill and field of Potter Brumpton and elsewhere wheresoever, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, in free, etc., alms. Warranty. Testimonium. "Hiis testibus, etc." (sic).

AGREEMENT² between Robert, Prior of Bridelington, and Thomas Britt, lord of Potterbrompton, respecting lands in the waste of that vill, which Thomas had taken into cultivation, and also respecting rights of road and maintenance of road. (Fo. 106^b)

INSPEXIMUS³ by John le Bret son and heir of Thomas le Bret of Potterbrumpton of the charters and muniments of his ancestors by which they granted to the Canons seven cultures of land, a plot of land called Wildholm, and the site of the sheepfold (bercarie) on the wold (waldam) of Potterbrumpton, (the seven cultures and plot described at length, as in the last item but two),⁴ and confirmation thereof, with warranty. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de Rudstain, William de St Quintin, William de Axsthorp, Fulk Constable, k^{ts}, Walter de Buketon, Richard de Lascy, Robert de Wyern, Azo de Flyxton, William son of Robert de Scyrburn, William de Staxton, and others.⁵

² In another handwriting.

³ Different writing.

⁵ The grant of pasture for 800 sheep confirmed by the other deed is not named in this one.

FINE at Westminster in the Octaves of Hilary, 5 Edw. I, between Geoffrey, Prior of Bridelingt[on], quer., by Robert Dreng in his place to gain or lose, and Henry de Boulton and Joan his wife, imped., respecting one messuage and two bovates of land with the appurt., in Killum ; whence a plea of warrant of charter was summoned between them in the same Court, namely that the said Henry and Joan recognised the right of the Prior and his Church to the said holding, as that which he had by the gift of the said Henry and Joan : to hold to the Prior and his successors and Church from Henry and Joan and the heirs of Joan, in pure and perpetual alms, without any service thence to be done. And the Prior (fo. 109) received Henry and Joan and her heirs into all the benefits and prayers in his Church henceforward for ever.

GRANT¹ by Henry de Boulton of Killum and Joan his wife, to William son of Stephen Buzauaunt of Kyllum, of a bovate of land with all the appurt., in the territory of Kyllum, namely that bovate which lies through the whole field between the land of the grantors on one side and the land of the same William on the other. To have and to hold to William and his heirs or assigns, from Marmaduke son of Richard de Heton, freely, etc., with all liberties, etc., within the vill and without, for ever: rendering thence yearly to Marmaduke and his heirs one half-penny at Christmas Day at Kyllum for all services, etc. Testimonium. Test., Adam Colus, clerk, Geoffrey and William his brothers, Nicholas de Crosseby, Richard Randolf, William de Burton, Geoffrey the tanner (tanatore), Henry Damyot, William Haget, John Frabuct', and many others.

CONFIRMATION and quitclaim by Marmaduke son of Richard de Heton to William son of Stephen Buzauant of Killum, and his heirs or assigns, of that bovate of land which he has, with all the appurt., by the gift of Henry de Bouelton and Joan his wife, the confirmor's mother, in the territory of Kyllum: to hold and to have to William and his heirs or assigns, from the confirmor, freely, etc., with all liberties, etc. within and without the vill, rendering thence yearly to Marmaduke and his heirs a halfpenny at Christmas at Killum, for all services, etc. Marmaduke and his heirs will warrant the land, free from homage, wardship, reliefs, and all suits of Courts, by his five bovates of land in Heton, and will acquit from all other services, etc. Testimonium. Test., Adam Colus, clerk, Nicholas de Crosseby, Richard Randolf, Geoffrey the tanner (tanatore), Henry Damyot, William de Burton, William Haget, John Frabuct', William Colus, and others.

GRANT by Gilbert son of Geoffrey de Thorny to William son of Stephen Buzauant of Kyllum, of one bovate of land in the territory of Kyllum, which bovate lies through the whole field to the north (remotior a sole) between the grantor's land on one side and the land of Joan his sister on the other: to hold from him and his heirs to the said William, and his heirs or assigns, and to whomsoever he should wish to give, sell, leave or assign it (fo. 109^b) freely, quietly, etc. from all exactions and demands, with all appurt., etc., in meadows, in pastures, etc., in all places within and without the vill: rendering thence yearly to the grantor and his heirs or assigns a halfpenny at Christmas for all services, etc. Warranty, and acquittance from services, etc., and the grantor and his heirs or assigns shall not claim homage, wardship, or relief from William or his heirs or assigns for the land. Testimonium. Test., Dom. Alan de Killum, Walter de Bucton, Nicholas de Crosseby, William de Bucton, William de Burton of Kyllum, H. Damyot, Adam Colus, Geoffrey le tanour, and others.

CONFIRMATION by Richard son of Geoffrey de Thorny to William son of Stephen Buzauant of Kyllum, of that bovate of land in the territory of Killum which he had of the gift of Gilbert the confirmor's brother. To have and to hold to William and his heirs or assigns, and to whomsoever he should wish to give, sell, etc., as in the preceding charter, except that the yearly service reserved to Richard and his heirs or assigns is a rose. Warranty, etc., as before. The witnesses the same, except that in this deed William de Bucton and Adam Colus are omitted.

GRANT and quitclaim by Cristiana Buzauant (fo. 110) daughter of Stephen Buzauant of Killum, in her widowhood, to the Canons, of two bovates of land in the field of Killum, which fell to her by hereditary right through William Buzauant her brother, with all their appurtenances, pasture, liberties and easements, within and without the vill; those two bovates namely of which her said brother had one by the gift of Gilbert Torny of Roston, and the other by the gift of Henry de Bouelton and Joan his wife. To hold to the Canons freely, etc. Testimonium. Test., Dom. GRANT by Robert Talun to the Church of St Mary of Brid[lington], in perpetual alms, of all his meadow between Brakenhil and the water of the mills, from the road (a uia) of the two mills as far as the road of the mill of Walter de Louthorp, and Brakenhil, and with it so much arable land in the marsh beside (iuxta) Brakenhil towards the east that between Brakenhil and that arable land in the marsh there may be eleven acres, and all the land which is between Brakenhil and the arable land in the marsh, and all his marsh between the said arable land in the marsh and the Kelke road (uiam Kelke) towards the south, and common pasture of Kelke, and as much of the covert (cooperture) in the marsh as the Canons require at Kelke. All these things he has given to the said Church free and quit from everything (ab omni re), Robert his son and heir agreeing and offering them upon the altar, together with the grantor. Moreover, he has given to the same Church in perpetual alms, Robert his son and heir and Godfrey Talun his (the grantor's) brother with his (Godfrey's) wife and sons consenting, two mills in the same house (in eadem domo) at Kelke, with pasture for the horses which may go to those mills, on the south side between the mills and the grantor's house, with a road from Schepesbrig through the middle of his culture as far as the two mills ; for five marks of silver yearly, free and quit from all other thing. Of the rent of the said mills, he has granted to Godfrey Talun his brother, and his heirs, in fee and inheritance, 2½ marks of silver yearly ; of the rent which he has retained for himself and his heirs a moiety shall be payable by the Canons at St Peter ad Vincula, and the other moiety at the Purification S.M., and in the same manner at the same terms they shall pay to Godfrey and his heirs their moiety of the rent. He, Robert, and his heirs will acquit the mills of tithe and everything else to the Canons, and will warrant against all men. Should any dispute arise between the grantor or his heirs and Godfrey or his heirs, the Canons shall not thereupon cease paying to Godfrey or his heirs their rent; nor will he, Robert, or his heirs distrain on Godfrey or his heirs through (per) the mill of Kelke. He has also covenanted with the Canons (Robert, his son and heir, consenting) that he will make no mill upon the water of the mills, between their mills (fo. 122) and his mill, nor his heirs after him. Test., Master Reyner, Ernald de Marton, William his son, Hervey de Bucton, William his son, Robert de Vlram, Godfrey de Harpham, Geoffrey de Aluestain, Baldwin de Haytfeld, Walter de Bridesale, Thomas de Karethorp, Hugh his brother, Walter de Bempton, Robert son of Malger, Robert son of Hasqui, William de Hasthorp, Godfrey Talun, Suinatus de Gemeling, Pagan de Rudstan, Pigot de Hotringham, Walter his son, Joseph the companion (socio) of Pigot, Geoffrey son of Godfrey de Hilderthorp, Adam son of Roger de Kernetby, William son of Reynald de Besingbi, Franche the clerk of Brid[lington], Henry the reeve of the same vill, Selvan, Malger Fercadod.

GRANT and confirmation by R. Talun to the Church of Bridel[ington] and the Canons, in perpetual alms, of two mills in one house at Kelke, with a road sixteen feet wide through the middle of his culture, which lies (iacet) from Schepesbrigge as far as those mills, and pasture for the horses coming to the mills, on the south side between the mills and his house, and a certain little garden, and all other things belonging to the mills, for 2½ marks yearly; free and quit from all other things for ever. Moreover, he has confirmed to the same Church the donation which Godfrey Talun, his uncle (patruus) made of 2½ marks which the grantor's father had given to Godfrey to be received yearly from the same mills. He has likewise granted and confirmed to the same Church, in pure and perpetual alms, the site (sedem) to which the said mills have been removed (translata), so that neither he nor his heirs will make any mill between those mills and his own mill, upon the water of the mills. Acquittance against tithe, etc., and warranty as in the preceding charter. He confirms to the Canons the following—all the meadow between Brakenhil and the water of the mills, from the road of the said two mills as far as the road of the mill of Louthorp; all Brakenhil and the marsh which lies beside (iuxta) Brakenhil, and the arable land which lies in the same marsh, and all the marsh between the same arable land and the road of Kelke (viam de Kelke) towards the south, as the fosse which the Canons have made leads; common pasture of the whole vill, in marsh and field, and so much covert (cooperture) in the marsh as they require at Kelke. Test., Simon de Kirkeham, Gilbert the priest (presbitero), Roger de Stuteuill, Gilbert de Coluille, Henry Filioth', Roger de la Riuere, Robert de Rob'toph, Godfrey Talun, Geoffrey his son, Godfrey de Harpham, Stephen de Killum, Robert de Wartria, Robert de Vlram, Roger Fifloc, Theodore de Sexdecim u',¹ Walter de Killum, Roger de Dalton, Stephen de Ergum, Peter de Seton, Robert de Bouington, Serlo Talun, Geoffrey de Carth', Reyner de Kelke, Vigur, Reiner the butler (pincerma), William de Ebor., William the cook (coco), Gilbert nephew (nepote) of Robert de Vlram, William de Cotum, Robert son of Ralph, William de Haskelt', Ernald de Marton, Anfrid de Brun', Ern' Talun, (fo. 122^b) Adam and Joan recognised the right of Alan and surrendered the meadow to him in Court, to hold to Alan and his heirs from the said Hugh and Joan and her heirs for ever, rendering thence yearly five shillings for all service, etc. And the defendants and the heirs of Joan will warrant to Alan and his heirs. And Alan has given to them ten marks of silver.

GRANT by Alan de Killum son of Stephen de Killum to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of all the meadow, marsh, and arable land, with the appurt., which he had in Godefreyholm, in the territory of Little Kelke. To hold and to have to the Canons and their successors, freely, quietly, etc., with all the appurt. and easements, and also with free entry and exit for waggons (carris) and carts, cattle and animals, by the same road which the lord and the people (gentes) of Little Kelke, as well in the open time as at other time, may use. Rendering thence yearly to William de Boiuile and Joan his wife and their heirs five shillings of silver, for all services, etc. Warranty, and acquittance from all other services. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Robert Constable of Flaynburg, William de Rudstan, k^{ts}, Walter de Bucton, Geoffrey son of Ernald of the same, William son of William of the same, Robert de Syward[by], John de Marton, William de Besingby, Walter de Raygate, Adam son of Adam Colus of Killum, William son of Stephen Bozeuant of the same, and others.

CHIROGRAPH, reciting that the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] hold the charter of Robert Talun, whereby the ancestors of Alan son of Stephen de Killum were enfeoffed of all the meadow, marsh, and arable land in Godefreyholme in the territory of Little Kelke, and the Final Concord between the said Alan, pet., and Hugh de Capella and Joan his wife, def., respecting the same meadow, and also the alternate (alteram) part of the arrangement made between the said Alan of the one part and William de Boyuile of the other, as to free entry to and exit from the said meadow. Whence as often as and when the said Prior and Convent and their successors shall call upon Alan and his heirs to warrant (fo. 124) the said meadow, the said Alan and his heirs (the said deeds having been shown to them) will warrant, acquit, and defend, as the charter of the said Alan, whereby the Canons are enfeoffed, more fully witnesses. DEMISE at fee-farm by John, Prior of Brid[lington] and the Convent to Hugh de Capella and his heirs of all their land in Little Kelke, with the meadow, pasture, turbarry, and with the road which goes from (se extendit de) Schepesbrigge to the Canons' mills of Twagrind, and with all the appurt., saving to the grantors their mills [of] Twagrind with the dam and other appurt., and saving to them half an acre of meadow near (prope) the mills beside (iuxta) the bank of the water, to be enclosed with a fosse, and saving to them sufficient land to make and to sustain the dam of the mills in a place usual and fit, from the king's highway of Harpham as far as the causeway (calcetum) of Kelke, and from the causeway as far as the mills, with free entry and exit. To have and to hold to Hugh and his heirs from the Canons and their successors for ever, rendering yearly nine shillings sterling. Hugh and his heirs will pay, for the grantors, to the rectors for the time being of Fostun the tithes of the said mills, so that the grantors will be free from payment thereof for ever. It shall be lawful for the grantors, should Hugh or his heirs fail in payment of the said ferm or tithe, to distrain on their movables and immovables on the land until they shall have paid the ferm and tithes in full. Testimonium. Alternate seals in witness. Done in the year of grace 1252, the Nones of February, at Brid[lington].

DEED by Hugh de Capella testifying for himself and his heirs that, by reason of that land which the Prior and Convent have granted him at fee-farm in the territory of Little Kelke, on the east side of the watercourse, where their mills of Twagrind are situated, they (the grantee and his heirs) will never raise any claim against the Canons' land or meadow on the west side of the same watercourse towards Louthorp. FINE at Westminster, the morrow of the Ascension, 55 Hen. III, between Geoffrey, Prior of Brid[lington], quer., by brother Peter de Langtoft, his Canon, in his place to gain or lose, and William de Boyuill and Joan his wife, imp., respecting the manor of Little Kelke with the appurt., whence a plea of warrant of charter was summoned between them in the same Court; namely, that William and Joan recognised the said manor with the appurt. as in demesnes, homages, services, etc., and all other things belonging to that manor (fo. 125) without reservation, to be the right of the Prior and his Church, as that which the said Prior and his Church have of the gift of William and Joan: to have and to hold to the Prior and his successors and Church from the said William and Joan and the heirs of Joan, in pure and perpetual alms, free and quit from all secular service and exaction, for ever. And William and Joan and the heirs of Joan will warrant, acquit, and defend to the Prior and his successors and Church the said manor with the appurt., as free, pure, and perpetual alms, without any service thence to be done. And the Prior received William and Joan and the heirs of Joan into the benefits and prayers in his Church for ever.

CONFIRMATION by Joan de Capella, formerly wife of William de Boyuill, k^t, in her widowhood, to the Prior and Convent, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of all the manor and all the vill of Little Kelke, with all the appurt., etc., as in the last charter but two, as far as "turbaries, etc.," together with all the land which was at any time the said Canons' in the same territory of Little Kelke, and with a certain meadow called Stevenholm, and similarly with all other appurt. both in Great Kelke, Gemeling, Karthorp, Ryseby, and similarly with certain land in that same (in ipso eodem) territory called Brundone and Arderne, and with a certain meadow which lies between Alaynholm and the field of Great Kelke, and with a road beyond (ultra) the moor of Burton which sometime was the said Canons', as freely, fully, and peaceably as she ever held all and singular the above. She has quitclaimed all these to the Canons, so that neither she, her heirs, assigns, nor anyone through them, may henceforward have any right or claim therein for ever. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de S^t Quintin, Walter de Bucton, William de Axthorp, k^{ts}, John de Marton, Thomas de Plumstede, Peter de Muncels, Robert Fauuel, and others.

QUITCLAIM¹ by Joan daughter and heir of Dom. John de Friboys, in her widowhood, to the Prior and Convent, of homage, wardship, and relief, of all the holding of two carucates of land with the appurt. in Little Kelke, which holding Hugh de Capella and Joan his wife sometime held from John, the present confirmor's father, and which the Prior and Convent had of the gift of Dom. William de Boyuill and the said Joan (dicte Johanne), then his wife. (Fo. 125^b.) She has likewise granted and confirmed to the Prior and Convent, in pure and perpetual alms, the said holding, with all the appurt., so that she and her heirs will render (persolvemus) to the lords of the fee, for the said Prior and Convent, castleward (wardum castri) and scutages when they shall fall, and all other services customary and due. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de Axthorp, Nicholas de Hale, William de Rudstan, Thomas de Heselton, William de S^t Quintin, the charters and muniments which the Prior and Convent have from the said Ancelm and John respecting the said advowson, and having seen the right (inspecto iure) which they have in the said advowson before Dom. Ralph de Hengham and his fellows, Justices in Banco, at York, in three weeks from Easter, 30 Edw. I., I have withdrawn in this manner,—namely, for himself and his heirs he remits and quitclaims for ever to the Canons the right and claim which he had in any manner from whatever cause in the said advowson of the moiety of the Church of Tweng, and he and his heirs will warrant to the Prior and Convent. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Gerard Saluayn, Geoffrey de (fo. 128) Hothom, William le Constable, lord of Flaynburg, Robert de Bouington, k^{ts}, Ace de Flixton,¹ William de Schireburn, Thomas de Poynton, John de Marton, and others. At Brid[lington], 4 May, 1302.

GRANT² by John Martyn of Thewyng, son and heir of Robert Martyn of the same, to Robert Willy, Prior of Bridel[ington], and the Convent, for ever, of an annual rent of eight shillings issuing from all the grantor's lands and tenements in the vills and territories of Thewyng, Buttiryk, Langtoft, Newton, Fouxholes, and elsewhere in the County of York. If such rent should be in arrear after any term, it shall be lawful for the Prior and Convent and their successors to distrain in all the said lands and tenements until satisfaction of the rent, with arrears if any. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Robert Constable of Flayneburgh, esquire (armigero), John Holm, Baron of the King's Exchequer, William Sywardeby, Peter Bukton, esquires, Robert Lowthorp, Robert Warde, and others. 13 March, 26 Hen. Ro. cccxxix, Ebor.”

The Prior of Bridelyngton, by John de Beuerle, his attorney, offers himself the 4th day against John son of Nicholas de Mounceaux of Bouyngton, on a plea that he should acquit him of the service which John de Mounceaux of Berneston demands from him from the free tenement which he holds from the said John son of Nicholas in Carethorp beside (iuxta) Ruddestan. And John comes not. And the sheriff was commanded to distrain him, etc. And the sheriff now shows that he was distrained by his chattels to the value of ten pence, and was vouched for by Robert Leker, Robert Sompter, John Sauuage, and Roger de Sutton; therefore they in mercy. And the Sheriff also certifies proclamations in County Court at York, viz., on Monday after the feast of the Nativity B.M.V. in the 20th year, and on Monday after the feast of St Luke Evangelist in the same year, that John son of Nicholas should come to answer the said Prior, according to the form of the writ, etc. Therefore it is adjudged that the said John son of Nicholas lose the service of the said Prior his tenant, and that the Prior henceforward answer to the said John de Mounceux the chief lord, for the same services which the same mediary was accustomed to do. And the same mediary in mercy, etc.

GRANT by Robert Constable of Flaynburg, in free and perpetual alms, to the Church of S^t Oswald of Flaynburg, of that house in Flaynburg which once belonged to the mother of the hermit's wife (que fuit olim matris uxoris heremite), and which Adam, son of the hermit, quitclaimed when he did homage to the grantor for his father's land at Brid[lington]; that house, namely, which is next (proximior) to the house of Odo son of Ralph Blund on the other side of the road beside (iuxta) the wall of the churchyard. This gift he has made chiefly for the lighting of the two altars in the Church of Flaynburg—namely, the blessed Thomas martyr's and the blessed Mary Magdalene's, with all easements which belong to a bordar, in the vill and without. Test., Walter de Bouington and William his son, Adam de Bouington, Walter de Thorp, William de Syward[by] and Robert and Arnald his sons, Eustace de Ricton and Robert his son, Gilbert de Speton, William son of Adelard, Richard de Halt', Gregory de Flaynburg, William de Coleby, John and Robert de Buct[on], Ralph de Flaynburg.

IN the year of grace 1267, the day of S^t Clement, Pope and Martyr, in the Church of S^t Oswald of Flaynburg, present Sirs (dominis) William de Rudstan and James de Mora, k^{ts}, (fo. 131^b) and also the fishermen, parishioners of Flaynburg, the contention raised between the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] of the one part and Dom. Robert Constable and his men, fishers of Flaynburg, of the other, respecting the tithes of fishing, was amicably settled in this mode:—Robert for himself and his heirs, with the assent of the lady Juliana his mother, and for all and singular the fishermen of Flaynburg, promised that the said fishermen, present and future, for ever, will pay to God and the Church of Flaynburg and the Prior and Convent of Bridelington at the four quarters, Christmas, Easter, the first of August, and Martinmas, every tenth penny from every sort of fishing, and also the whole (integram) tithe as well of all fish between the said fishermen divided, which they call "scist fiske," as of the daily fish which the said Robert and his heirs by custom receive from the fishers, his men; so that the Prior and Convent shall take their tithe in full (de tota integritate) before Robert and his heirs take their share (prisan) of the fish, and before the fishermen divide among themselves the fish called "scist fiske." And in making up this tithe the fishermen may not compute or deduct any expenses respecting nets, boats, hooks, anchors, ropes, nor anything else necessary for the fishing, nor victuals nor hire, except bait¹ bought; and if a boat be lost by storm, a new one shall be provided in common (de communi). The Prior and Convent of their grace have granted that henceforth they will give on S^t Martin's day in each house of their court of Flaynburg to all the crew of each boat fishing, twelve white loaves and sixpence for something to eat with them (companagio), and to each of the said fishermen four gallons, and to the captain (gubernatori) eight gallons of ordinary ale, by the view of servants of Robert and the Prior and Convent; and they may drink as much of it as they like in the said house, or take it away if they choose. And the said fishermen may claim nothing further from the Prior and Convent for ever. The fishermen have bound themselves by oath to observe all the above, acknowledging themselves excommunicate as often as they venture to transgress against the tenor of the above. In witness the Prior and OBLIGATION¹ by Robert son and heir of Sir (domini) William Constable, formerly lord of Flaynburgh, k^t (militis); whereas the Prior and Convent of Bridlington hold from him those two tofts and two bovates of land with the appurt. in Marton by service of two shillings yearly which they held previously by the same service from William son of Robert Fraunceys of Flaynburgh; he, Robert, undertakes to acquit the Prior and Convent, for the said service of two shillings, against all men for all other services. Testimonium. At Skipse, 3rd Cal. January, 1321. Test., Sirs (dominis) Roger de Someruill, John de Heslerton, Geoffrey de S^t Quintin, Robert de Sywardby, William de Erghum, k^{ts}, William de Rudderstan, William de Roston, and others. 307

AGREEMENT between the Prior of Bridelington and Robert le Conestable, lord of Flaynburgh. Whereas the Prior holds from Robert two tofts and two bovates of land with the appurt. in Marton by Bridelington, by fealty and service of two shillings yearly,—it is agreed that the service be reduced to twelve pence, and for this concession Robert and his heirs are to be exempt from certain tithes at Flaynburgh. Testimonium. At Bridlington, Monday in the eve of the Purification S.M., 15 Edw. II. Test., Roger de Someruill, John de Heselardton, Robert de Sywardeby, k^{ts}, Thomas de Mounceaux, William de Roeston, William Rudderstan, John de Speton, John de Thernom, John de Rudderstan, and many others.

AGREEMENT in settlement of an action brought by the Prior of Bridelington against Sir Robert le Conestable, lord of Flaynburgh, in 15 Edw. II, respecting common of pasture and rights of road in Flaynburgh, and tithes there. Testimonium. Witnesses as in the previous deed.²

A^N² assize comes to recognise if Robert le Conestable of Flayneburgh, Robert de Thorp, William le Conestable, Walter le parkour, John le keu, Thomas le messer, and Adam le prouost, unjustly, etc., disseised the Prior of Bridel[ington] of his common of pasture in Flaynburgh, which belongs to his free holding in that vill, after the first, etc., whence he complains that they disseised him of common pasture in 2,000 acres of moor and pasture for all his animals through the year, and in two parts of 3,000 acres of land after the corn was led, and in the third part through the whole year, and in 500 acres of meadow after the hay was carried, etc., until the middle of March, etc. And the said Robert and others come not, but a certain John de Foxholes answers for them as their bailiff; and he says, for all except R. le Conestable, that they did no disseisin or injury, and places himself on the assise, and for Robert he says that no injury or disseisin of the Prior was done, for he says that as to common in the said 2,000 acres of moor and pasture, etc., that the same Prior had the right of pasture with themselves, for all animals at every time of the year except from the feast of S^t Mark Evangelist until Michaelmas, in which time the Prior had no right of common by night unless he satisfied Robert or his bailiff for any animals which might have common there by night, and Robert had accordingly prevented this, as was lawful for him. And as to the common in the 3,000 acres he says the Prior complains unjustly, because he was seised of common, etc. And as to common in the 500 acres of meadow, he says that the Prior has no right of common there until the hay has been carried, but afterwards he has. And when he wished to have common there before the hay was carried, Robert prevented him as was lawful for him; and he places himself upon assise, etc. The jury say on their oath that as to the common in the 2,000 acres of moor and pasture, the Prior has right of common for all animals at every time of the year, by day or night. And as to the common in the said two parts of 3,000 acres of land, they say the Prior was disseised as he complains. And as to the common in 500 acres of meadow, they say that as soon as the hay is cut and put in cocks the Prior has right of common for his beasts, but so that he do no damage to the haycocks. Whence they say precisely that the Prior and his predecessors were seised of their common belonging to their free holding in the same vill, until the said R. and all the others, except Robert de Thorp, disseised him. Therefore it is adjudged that the Prior recover seisin of his common of pasture by the view of the recognitors, and his damages, which are taxed by the same at forty shillings. And Robert and all the others, except Robert de Thorp, in mercy. And the Prior similarly in mercy for false claim against Robert de Thorp, etc.

Burg.¹

FIRST, one plot of meadow on the east side of Hertesheuede containing one cartload (carectatam) of hay yearly. Also a plot of meadow on the west side of the culture called Linghamdayls or Feukesmars, containing six selions. Also one plot of meadow at Galighlyth on the south side. These were in possession from a time whereof there is no memory to the contrary for tithe of the meadow of the demesne lands in certain places.

THESE are the meadows newly (de nouo) made and enclosed from the waste, which are to be tithed by the haycocks after cutting. First Sandhouleghs, Scalehouleghs, also des Dykes wholly (integre). Also one little plot lying beside (iuxta) Walwort on the north side. Also Westmar, Ploghsemlandes, Smermerhill,² Helle. Also one plot between Les Kerres and Langhowpittes.

MEMORANDUM, that in the time of Dom. William, father of Dom. Robert Conestable, about the year 1309, there was enclosed and separated from the waste a small plot of meadow beside (iuxta) Walwort on the north side, as aforesaid. And Le Westmar, in the days of the same Dom. William, was enclosed and separated. All the other meadows aforesaid were separated and enclosed in the time of Dom. Robert Conestable.

c. 1127

S EARL of Albemarle, to the Steward and Sheriff (dap' et vicec') and to all barons, French and English, greeting: know that I granted to the Canons of St Mary of Brid[lington] the Church of Bouington, and whatsoever belongs to the Church, before I gave the land to Alan de Mouncels. Now similarly I grant and confirm that they may well and freely (liberaliter) hold. And this was done at Rouen, William his (suo) son agreeing. (No witnesses.)

GRANT by Ranulf de Wyerna, by the counsel of his heirs and the wish of Alice his wife, to William his son and his heirs or assigns, for his homage and service, of one bovate of land in Bouington, with all the appurt., which was the maritage of Alice, the donor's wife, and the service of Robert le Oysillur and his heirs, of the same vill. To hold from the donor and his heirs in fee and inheritance, freely, etc., rendering thence yearly to the donor and his heirs one knife, or one penny, for all secular service and exaction, save foreign service as belongs to that holding. Warranty. Test., Dom. William de Welle, Philip de Wyern, Harold son of Humphrey, Richard his brother, Robert son of Ketelbarn, Ralph de Strulby, Lambert de Strulby, Haco Destein, William de Mauneby.

CONFIRMATION of the property and service named in the preceding deed, by Philip son of Ranulf de Wyerna to William his brother and his heirs or assigns, with warranty and the same witnesses.¹

GRANT by Philip son of Ranulf de Wyerne to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of one bovate of land in Bouington with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, which was the maritage of Alice, the grantor's mother, and the service of Robert le Oysillur and his heirs, namely, from two bovates of land in the same vill, with the appurt. To have in free and perpetual alms, freely, quietly, etc. from all secular service as much as belongs² to the said three bovates of land where eleven carucates make a knight's fee. Be it known that Robert le Osillur and his heirs (fo. 137) will do foreign service as belongs to those two bovates of land which he holds. Warranty. Sigillum. Test., Dom. John son of Matthew, John de Oketon, Ralph de Vlram, Master Robert de Brid[lington], Robert de Sywardeby, Ernald de Bucton, Ernald de Marton, Richard de Irton, Thomas de Swaledale, Thomas de Willardeby, and others.

GRANT by Robert the fowler (auceps), son of Henry de Bouington, to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of a bovate of land in the field of Bouington, that, namely, which lies in each side of the field beside (iuxta) that bovate which William de Wyerne gave to the Canons. Nevertheless, he (Robert) and his heirs shall render to the same Canons yearly twelve pence for one bovate of land which he holds from them. Warranty. Test., Richard and William, chaplains, Master Robert de Brid[lington], Thomas de Willardby, Thomas de Swaldale and Alan his brother, Alan son of Malger the knight (militis) of Rudstan, Ranulf Tothe, Robert the clerk of Flaynburg, and others.

² No doubt the words "doing foreign service," or the like, have been omitted.

GRANT by Walter son of Richard de Grendale to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of a bovate of land in the territory of Grendale,¹ with toft and croft, namely, that bovate which Richard son of Durand sometime held with the toft and croft belonging thereto, with all other appurt. This gift he has made for the health of the soul of Cassandra his friend (amice), and of Walter his father (sic), and Ascilia "matris sue."² Moreover, he has confirmed to the Canons the two bovates of land, with the tofts and crofts, in the territory of Bouington, with all the appurt., whereof Robert the fowler (auceps) gave one and William de Wierne the other. Warranty, and acquittance from secular services. Testimonium. Test., Walter de Folketon, Marmaduke de Tweng, John de Rudstan, Robert de Vlram, Peter de Ryse, Henry of the spinney (de spineto), William de Buct[on], Ralph de Aluord, William the deacon of Wresel, and others.

GRANT by Robert son of Robert de Bouington to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of three bovates of land, less a perch and a half, in the territory of Bouington, from that carucate of land which his father sometime held in that vill; namely, those three bovates which lie between the donor's land and the land which was Simon de Bouington's, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill. To hold (fo. 137^b) from the grantor and his heirs, free and quit from all secular service to them. Warranty. Test., Robert de Percy, Walter de Carthorp, William and Robert his sons, Adam de Bouington, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, Ernald de Bucton, Richard White (Albo) of Bempton, Ernald de Marton and Robert and William his brothers, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Richard de Irton, Thomas de Swaledale, Henry de camera, Gocelin de Feriby.

CONFIRMATION of the preceding grant, by Walter de Grendale. Testimonium. Test., Master Walter de Tanay, then Archdeacon of the East Riding, Dom. Marmaduke de Tweng, Dom. Arnald de Buct[on], Dom. John de Aton, Dom. Robert de Muncels, Robert de Vlram, Luke Siluer, Colin de Hay, William de Besingby, Stephen Calph, Robert de Caue, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Lecia daughter of Thomas de Carthorp and Matilda her sister, to their lord, Walter de Grendale, and his heirs for ever, of two bovates of land in the territory of Bouington which lie nearest (propinquoies) towards the sun of the three carucates of land which are of the fee of the said Walter in the same vill, with the tofts and crofts and all the appurt. and liberties within and without the vill; namely, that toft which lies between the toft of Stephen de Besingby and the toft of Andrew Alby, and the toft which Simon son of Thomas gave to the house of Brid[lington]. And for this grant and quitclaim, Walter has given them six marks in their great difficulties (negociis). Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Robert de Percy, Walter de Carthorp, William son of Ingeram de Bouington, Adam de Bouington, Stephen de Killum, Ranulf Thothe, and many others.¹

¹ In this deed the grantee, John, is referred to by Beatrice as her nephew (nepoti meo). Walter Kabod is written instead of Walter Kalod, as in the previous deed.

FINE at York on Sunday before the feast of S^t John Baptist, 15 Hen. III, between Robert son of Edolf, pet., and John, son of William the parson of Rudstan, ten., respecting two bovates of land with the appurt. in Rudstan, whence there was a plea between them in the same Court, namely, that John recognised all the said land with the appurt. to be the right of Robert, and for this recognition, etc., Robert gave and granted to John all the said land with the appurt., except a toft which Beatrice the nurse (la norice) held, which remains to Robert and his heirs for ever. To have and to hold to John and his heirs from Robert and his heirs, together with a certain toft which Matilda held, in the same vill, which remains to John in exchange for the aforesaid toft which Robert retains to himself. Doing foreign service as belongs to the said land. Robert and his heirs will warrant to John and his heirs. John gave to Robert 2½ marks of silver.

QUITCLAIM by Robert son of Edolf de Killum to John the clerk, son of William sometime parson of Rudstan, and to whomsoever he assigns it, of a toft in Rudstan, which Beatrice the nurse (la nurice) sometime held, which John quitclaimed to the said Robert in the King's Court at York, on Sunday before the feast of S^t John Baptist, 15 Hen. III. To have and to hold freely, quietly, and peaceably from all secular service, etc. John has given six shillings for this quitclaim. Warranty. GRANT by Dom. Peter de Frothingham to Henry de Pokelington, formerly servant (seruienti) of the Earl of Albemarle at Hesington, of three bovates of land in the territory of Fraistingthorp, and the third part of one bovate : whereof Peter de Withton formerly had a bovate and a half and the third part of half a bovate in maritage with Margery, the grantor's sister, and William de Amlers the same quantity in maritage with Alice, the grantor's sister ; which bovates and the third part of a bovate they had by the gift of his mother. To have and to hold to the said Henry and his heirs and assigns, from the grantor and his heirs, freely, quietly, etc. from all action and demand, with the tofts and crofts, meadows, pastures, etc., and all other liberties and easements to the land belonging, within and without the vill ; doing to the grantor and his heirs foreign service as belongs to so much land of that fee, where seven carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Dom. William Constable, Dom. John de Danthorp, Dom. John de Frismar[isco], William de Octon, Simon de Fimmer, Constantine de Hesington, William de Lascel, Sayer de Gergrau, Richard Scule, and others.

(Fo. 150^b)

CONFIRMATION of the foregoing grant to Henry de Pokelington, by William son of Sir (domini) Peter de Frothingham, k^t (militis).¹ Habendum clause, foreign service clause, and warranty, as in the previous deed. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) William le Conestable, William de la Twyere, Simon le Conestable, k^{ts}, Amand de Ruthe, Stephen de Oustwik, William de S^t Quintin, John de Melsa, and others.

GRANT by Henry de Pokelington, formerly servant of the Earl of Albemarle at Hesington, to the Canons, in perpetual alms, of 3½ bovates of land in the territory of Fraistingthorp, with two tofts and crofts in the same vill belonging to the land ; which land with the tofts and crofts he had by the gift of Dom. Peter de Frothingham, as his charter witnesses. To have and to hold to the Canons freely, quietly, etc. from all exaction and demand, with the tofts, crofts, meadows, etc., and all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill ; doing foreign service to the chief lord as belongs to so much land of that fee, where seven carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty, and acquittance from all exaction and demand. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Robert Constable of Flaynburg, Thomas de Heslerton, William de Axthorp, (fo. 151) k^{ts}, Walter and Stephen de Oustwik, Adam de Hornese, William de Grimeston, and others.

GRANT by Arnald son of William de Bucton to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of half a carucate of land in Fraistingthorp,— that namely which is of the fee of Robert de Euerhingham, with the tofts thereto belonging, and all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill. To hold from the grantor and his heirs, free and quit from all service, etc., doing foreign service as belongs to half a carucate of land where fourteen carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty, and if unable to warrant he will give other land in Bucton or in Bempton in exchange, to the value. Test., Master William de Thorneton, Master Walter de Driffeud, Masters Gilbert and Robert de Brid[lington], Stephen de Killum, Hugh Pollard and Drogo, King's sergeants (tunc seruiant' domini Regis), William de Lekeburn, Richard de Irton, H. de Gisburg.

GRANT by Asketin son of Henry de Bempton to William the knight of Bucton and his heirs, for his homage and service and for his money, in fee and inheritance, of five bovates of land in Fraisthorp, with the tofts belonging, and all other appurt. within and without the vill. To hold from the grantor and his heirs, freely and quit from all service except foreign service which William and his heirs shall do to the grantor and his heirs as belongs to five bovates of fourteen carucates of land which make a knight's service. Warranty. Test., Walter de Bouington, William de Rudstan, Alan de Muncels and Robert his brother, William de Torp, Walter de Carethorp, Malger de Ergum and William his brother, William de Sywardby and Robert his son, William son of Adelard de Besingby, Geoffrey de Hilderthorp, Robert de Schirene and Hosbert his brother, Henry Siluer.

GRANT by Gregory de Flainburg, son of William of the same vill, with the assent of his heirs, to William Scaldehare son of Robert de Beverley, for his homage and service, of two bovates of land in the territory of Fraistingthorp, which Peter Trutemun (or Trutenum) sometime held from him [with the toft]¹ belonging to the said two bovates, which (quod) lies beside (iuxta) the toft of Beatrice de Monte to the south (versus solem) ; and with another toft which Conan formerly held from the grantor in the same vill ; with all the appurt. within the vill and without. To hold freely, quietly, etc. from all secular service to the grantor and his heirs, to the grantee his heirs and assigns ; rendering thence yearly to the grantor and his heirs nine shillings and four pence for all services to them, and doing foreign service (fo. 151^b) as belongs to two bovates of land where fourteen carucates make a knight's fee. The grantor and his heirs will warrant the said two bovates and two tofts with the appurt. to the said William and his heirs or assigns for ever. Testimonium. Test., Master Robert de Brid[lington], Robert de Redenese, John his brother, Colin de Haya, Luke Siluer, Gilbert his son, Thomas the merchant (mercatores), Stephen Calf, Robert de Bouington, Walter son of Henry de Fraistingthorp, Hubert of the same vill, Stephen de Cardinis, Hugh the clerk, and many others.

¹ These words do not appear in the original, which reads, "quas Petrus Trutemun aliqu' de me tenuit pertinente ad dictas duas bouatas." It is obvious, however, from the context, that they should be supplied.

GRANT by Gregory de Flaynburg, son of William de Flainburg, to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land in Fraistingthorp, with two tofts and all the other appurt., etc., within the vill and without; namely those two bovates which William Scaldehar sometime held, with the said tofts. To have and to hold freely, quietly, etc. from all secular services, etc., doing only foreign service¹ as belongs to two bovates of land of that fee where fourteen carucates make a knight's fee. THOMAS de Melsa to all to whom this writing shall come, greeting. Know that whereas in the year 1226 there was a dispute between me and the Prior of Brid[lington] respecting the site of his sheepfold (bercarie) and certain other lands in the territory of Fraistingthorp, I, for the money which the Prior has given me in hand, have remitted and quit-claimed to him and his Convent all right and claim in that small piece (particula) of land on which the said sheepfold is situated, and in certain small pieces of land whereof one lies on the west side of Westhou and another on the west side of Hutton and another on Lerchildaile, with all other lands, meadows, pastures, moors, marshes, etc., which might belong to me by any right, of which they were in possession on the day of S^t Martin in the same year. I have also granted to the Prior and Convent that the land which they gave to Master Robert de Brid[lington] in exchange for that small piece of land on which the said sheepfold is situated, after the death of Master Robert shall revert to them. Warranty. (Fo. 153.) And I have sworn to hold to all these things faithfully, and for the greater security I have placed my seal to this present writing. Test., Robert de Eueringham, Master Robert de Brid[lington], Robert de Vfram, Ernald de Bucton, John de Fulford, clerk, Robert de Redenesse, Andrew Marascall', and many others.

OMNIBUS ecclesie fidelibus R. de Moub^ay salt'. Sciatis me concessisse et dedisse in perpetuam elemosinam Deo et Sancte Marie et Canonicis de Brid[lington] unam carrucatam terre de feodo meo in Fraistingthorp et dimidiam carrucatam in Marton, liberam et quietam et solutam ab omnibus rebus et seruciis sicut iustam et legitimam elemosinam meam. Hiis testibus, Gund[reda] matre eius, Mathia de Ropeyn et Gilberto fratre eius, Abbate de Begdland, Priore de Nouo Burgo, Oliuero de Bosceio, Radulfo de Widuilla, Waltero de Riua.

GRANT by Thomas de Alost, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, with himself, of half of that carucate of land in Fraistingthorp which is called the carucate of S^t Mary, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, with the windmill in the same land, and Godwin the southerner (surensem), with all his family and chattels, quit of the donor and his heirs. Moreover, he has granted to the Canons the service of Henry de Carthorp and his homage, and all the right which the donor had in him and in the land which he held from the donor in Fraistingthorp. Warranty. Test., William de Percy, John de Melsa and Peter his son, Walter de Carthorp and William and Robert his sons, Gilbert de Spetoun.

GRANT by Thomas de Alost to Henry de Carthorp of two bovates of land in Fraistingth[orp] of the fee of S^t Mary, next (propinquiores) to the two bovates which Henry holds of the same fee to the south (versus solem), and two acres of land in the grantor's culture next to his (Thomas') house towards the east, one namely to the south from the Earl's fosse as far as the said culture extends towards the north in meadow and in arable land; and moreover two in the west part of the same vill in his (Thomas') culture of Ladhebote to the south. These two bovates, and four acres which he has given in place of a toft, he has granted to Henry and his heirs to be held from him and his heirs, in fee and inheritance, freely and honourably, within the vill and without, in arable land, in meadow, etc., and in all easements to the said land belonging; rendering yearly eighteen pence for all services and demands. And he has also granted that Henry and his heirs may give, for him and his heirs, the said eighteen pence yearly to the Canons of Brid[lington], and sixpence which Henry owes him yearly for other two bovates of land in the same vill. These pence Henry shall give the Canons for acquitting the fee which Thomas holds from them. Warranty. All this grant he has made for Henry's homage and service, and for nine marks of silver which he has given him. Test., Ralph son of Ralph, Richard Arundel, Walter de Bouing[on], Robert Jurdan, Walter de Carthorp, John de Harpham, Peter of the spinney (de spineto), Richard his brother, Thomas son of Wale, Simon de Waynflet, Osbert de Sywardeby, Robert Talun, William de Staingriue, Malger son of Robert de Rudstane, Robert son of Reyner, Geoffrey de Bouington, William de Bouington, Roger de Hundmanbi, Gerard the clerk.

QUITCLAIM by Mezelina daughter of Walter Northiby of Fraistingthorp (fo. 153^b) to the Canons, of her capital messuage in Fraistingthorp with the buildings constructed in it, the trees, croft, close, and all the appurt., with two bovates of land of the half carucate which her father and she held from the Canons in the same vill, those two namely to the south, which lie beside (iuxta) the land of the said Canons through all the field. Moreover, she has quitclaimed to them an acre and a half of arable land and half an acre of meadow upon (super) le Kerdayles. To have and to hold to the Canons freely and quietly from all secular service and demand. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Stephen Calf, Stephen Thystles, Hugh the miller, John son of Benedict, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Oliver de Crohum to the Canons, of that bovate of land in Fraistingthorp which Hugh Goki sometime held, with the toft which the same Hugh held, and all other the liberties and easements within and without the vill; so that the Canons do foreign service for the land, as belongs to one bovate where seven carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. Test., William de Percy, Robert his son, Walter de Bouington, William his son, John de Melsa, Peter his son, Robert Talun, Ralph de Vram, Malger de Ergom, Gilbert de Spetoun, Ernald de Martoun, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer.

QUITCLAIM by Erneburg daughter of Henry de Kayton, widow of Oliver de Crohom, to the Prior and Convent, of all right in that bovate of land in Fraistingthorp which she sometime held from them, and which Hugh Goki held, with the toft which he also held, and all the other appurt., etc., within and without the vill, for the money which they have given her in her great necessity. If the Prior and Convent shall lose the land by suit of her heirs, she and her heirs will give an exchange in Ledbreston to the value of the land. Test., William de Percy, Robert and John de Melsa and Peter his son (filius eius), Walter de Carthorp and William and Robert his sons, Ralph de Neuilla, Geoffrey de Friboys, Gilbert de Spetoun, William de Lekeburne, Robert de Sywardeby, Arnald de Martoun and William and Thomas his brothers, Luke Siluer, and (fo. 154) many others.

QUITCLAIM by Oliver de Crohom to the Prior and Convent, of all right which he had in two bovates of land in Fraistingthorp which he sometime held from them, and which lie between the culture which was Thomas de Alost's and the culture of Stephen his (Thomas') brother, with the toft which William Palmer (Palmarius) held, and with all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill, for the money which they have given him. If the Prior and Convent should lose the land by suit of his heirs, he and his heirs will give an exchange in Crohom or in Estona, to the value. Test., William de Percy, Robert de Percy, Robert and John his sons, John de Melsa and Peter his son, Walter de Bouington and William his son, Walter de Carthorp, William and Robert his sons, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, William de Lekeburn, Robert de Sywardeby, Ernald de Marton and William his brother, Ernald de Bucton.

QUITCLAIM by Erneburg daughter of Adam de Kayton, widow of Oliver de Crohom, to the Prior and Convent, of all right in the property named in the preceding deed, similarly described, for the money which they have given her in her necessity. If they should lose the land by suit of her heirs, she and her heirs will give an exchange in Ledbriston, to the value. Test., William de Percy, Robert and John his sons, Walter de Bouington and William his son, John de Melsa and Peter his son, Ralph de Neuill, W. de Folket[on], Geoffrey de Friboys, Walter de Carthorp and William and Robert his sons, Gilbert de Speton, William de Lekeburn, Robert de Sywardeby, Ernald de Marton and William and Thomas his brothers, Luke Siluer, Henry de Gisburgna.

CONFIRMATION by Thomas de Crohom son of Oliver de Crohom to the Canons, of the donation which Erenburga his mother made, of three bovates of land in the territory of Fraistingthorp, with the tofts and other appurt. as her charter sets forth and witnesses. Testimonium. Test., Walter de Soureby, Robert his brother, Geoffrey de Gedding', Robert de Redenese, Baldric the clerk, Thomas de Croum, Andrew Marshall (maras-callo), and others.

QUITCLAIM by Roger Rascine son of Roger Rascine to the Canons, of that carucate of land in Fraistingthorp, with the appurt., which Henry Siluer sometime held from them at ferm, and all right which he (the present confirmor) had alleged that he had in that land. (Fo. 154^b.) Test., Richard Rascine his brother, Nicholas de Beford and Adam his brother, Ernald and Nicholas de Bucton, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Robert the cook (coco), Jocelin de Suthferiby, Walter de (sic) Escrop, and many other free men.

QUITCLAIM by William Furniual of Bridel[ington] to his lords the Prior and Convent, of all the tenement and all the land with the appurt., without reservation, which he formerly held from them in the field and vill of Fraistingthorp. To have and to hold freely, etc., so that spices (species) may be provided to the Convent therefrom in future years. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Ingram de Mouncels, William de Bucton, k^{ts}, John de Melsa, Richard de Lascy, William son of William de Besingby, Thomas de Spet[on], Robert de Twellyng, and others.

GRANT by Arnald de Bucton, k^t, to God and the service of B.M. in the Church of Brid[lington], in pure and perpetual alms, of a rent of three shillings yearly for a wax candle burning daily at mass and vespers in the said Church; so that whosoever holds his croft, which William Scaldehar holds or held from him in Fraistingthorp, shall pay the said rent to the sacristan of Brid[lington]. The said candle is to stand in the upper part of the candelabrum before the cross. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Richard and Simon, chaplains of Brid[lington], Luke Siluer, William de Sywardeby, William de Kyma, Nicholas de Sart'no, Stephen Calf, William Knutel, Stephen of the spinney (de spineto), and others.

GRANT by William son and heir of Dom. William son of Dom. Arnald de Bucton, to God and the altar of B.V.M. of Brid[lington], of a yearly rent of a pound of wax, which hitherto he has received from that toft which Abel the miller sometime held from the Prior and Convent for three shillings sterling, in Fraisthorp. Moreover, he has quitclaimed to God and the said altar all right and claim and dominion as well in the said rent of wax as in the said toft with its appurt.; to have and to hold in pure and perpetual alms, in aid of the light of the said altar, by the warranty and defence of him and his heirs for ever. Testimonium. Test., Sir (domino) William de S^t Quintin, Sir (domino) Walter de Grendale, k^{ts}, Arnald de Bucton, Robert de Bouingt[on], John de Marton, William de Besingby, Thomas son of William of the same, Robert de Euerley, and others.

DEMISE at fee farm by brother G. de Burton, Prior of Brid[lington] and the Convent, to Thomas de (fo. 155) Poynton of Fraisthorp, of that toft which William le Carter sometime held from them in the same, having in length fifty-seven perches (perticatas) and in width at the north side two perches and in the south side three perches, as it lies between the capital message of the said Thomas towards the east and the toft which the same Thomas had by the gift of Richard de Lascy towards the west. To have and to hold to Thomas and his heirs from the grantors and their successors freely, etc., with all the appurt., for ever; rendering thence to them and their successors, at Fraistingthorp, two shillings yearly for all services, etc. Thomas has subjected the said toft and the remainder (residuum) of his capital message in Fraisthorp by the goods there found to distraint if the said rent or any part is in arrear. Warranty. Mutual seals in witness. Test., Sirs (dominis) W. Constable, R. de Bouingt[on], k^{ts}, J. de Mouncels, Norman de Kernetby, R. de Plumstede.

L ICENCE¹ by Roger de Someruile, lord of Burton Anneys, to the Prior and Convent and their successors to enclose with a fosse their marsh of Fraisthorp on the west side, beginning from the fosse of Horeholm, and extending as far as Snot'wath, according to the bounds placed and assigned between them by their common consent. Testimonium. At Bridel[ington], the morrow of the Circumcision, 1307. Test., William de Schirburne, John de Marton, Norman de Kernetebi, John Hirning of Thirnom, John de Speton, and others.

GILBERT,¹ Earl of Lincoln, to all sons of the Church, greeting. Know that for the redemption of my sins and for the peculiar affection which I always had towards the Church of S^t Mary of Brellintone, I have delivered myself (mancipavi meipsum) to that Church with this motive (ea ratione) that wheresoever I shall end my life I may receive burial in the monastery of Bredlinton. And if at some time God by His grace shall touch my heart and give me opportunity that, putting away secular vanity, I shall determine to serve God in poverty, I will receive the religious habit in the said monastery, and will finish my life in their company amongst whom I had grown up from the years of infancy. For it appears to me fitting that where I entered the world from the womb of my mother, there I should depart from the world to the mother of all; and by their example and doctrine by whose ministry I put on Christ in baptism, I should deserve to be made fit for Christ, in good works. Wherefore let each one who hears these things know that he will be to me specially pleasing or obnoxious as he has been useful or harmful to the said Church. Test., Geoffrey my brother, Walter the dean, etc.

Robert de Crohum, Thomas de Crohum, William de Dalton, Robert son of Sibil, Robert Putrel, William de Lutton, and many others.

CONFIRMATION by William son of Alan de Naelton to Peter son of William Saluayn, his heirs or assigns, for his homage and service, of those two bovates of land, with toft and croft and all the other appurt., etc., in the territory of Crohum, within the vill and without, which two bovates Peter previously held by the gift of the said Alan, the grantor's father, and which lie between those two bovates which Richard son of Ace de Ledemer formerly held. To hold and to have to the said Peter and his heirs or assigns from the grantor and his heirs, freely, quietly, etc. from all service, etc.; rendering thence yearly two shillings of silver to the grantor and his heirs for all services to them; doing foreign service as belongs to two bovates of land where twelve carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. Test., Nicholas de Yeland, Gerard Saluayn, Ralph de Friby, Thomas de Lutton, Robert son of Nigel, Robert bursar, Robert Putrel, William de Lutton, William de Dalton, Thomas de Diuegileby, and many others.

GRANT by Bartholomew son of Peter Saluayn to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of those two bovates of land with the toft and all other appurt. and easements in Crohum, which the said Peter had of the gift of Alan de Naelton and the confirmation of William, brother (sic) of the same Alan. To have and to hold to them and their assigns freely and peaceably for ever; rendering yearly to the grantor and his heirs two shillings, and doing to them fealty, and scutage when it falls, as belongs (fo. 165^b) to two bovates of land, where twelve carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty, and acquittance from secular services, etc. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de Wyuill, Nicholas de Hal', William de Rudstan, k^{ts}, Robert de Saluayn, Philip de Cothum, Robert al Halle of Crohum, Henry Godehyue of Collum, and many others.

QUITCLAIM by Gerard son and heir of Dom. Robert Saluayn to the Prior and Convent, of all manner of services formerly due for two bovates of land with a toft, which they have of the gift of Bartholomew son of Peter Saluayn in Crohum. To have and to hold with all the appurt. in alms, free and quit from all exactions, demands, homages, suits of Court, fines of wapentake, scutages, aids, and all other secular services, etc., from which the grantor and his heirs will acquit and defend the said land and toft to the said Religious and their successors for ever; saving to Dom. Gerard, son of Dom. Gerard Saluayn, and his heirs two shillings yearly, to be paid for the present grantor and his heirs by the said Religious. Moreover, he has confirmed and quitclaimed to the said Religious and their successors all manner of holdings with their appurt., to have and to hold in as free, pure, and perpetual alms of his fee in Crohum as the charters of his ancestors to them set forth and witness. In witness he has set his seal hereto at Duffeld, on Sunday after the feast of St Edmund martyr, 1288. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de St Quintin and William Daniel, k^{ts}, Thomas son of Dom. Thomas de Houton, Saer de Collum, Peter de Haulay, Robert son of Robert de Crohum, John Putre¹ of Sledemer, and many others.

GRANT by Alan de Collum to Oliver de Crohum of two bovates of land in the vill of Crohum, in exchange for other two in the vill of Collum; namely, those which are next (propinquiore) to his (the grantor's) demesne to the south, with the toft and croft which (que) John son of Ailwin held from him in the territory of Crohum, with all the appurt. and liberties within and without the vill. To hold to him and his heirs from the grantor and his heirs, doing to them foreign service as belongs to the same land where sixteen carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. Test., Robert de Helperthorp, Robert de Wiuerthorp, and his sons, Thomas de Lutton, Robert de Butterwik, Robert, parson of Collum, Stephen de Cotum, Godfrey his brother, Walter de Wiuerthorp, Master Walter de Driffeld, Master Henry his brother, William son of Adam de Kart', Peter the clerk, Robert de Crohum, and others.

GRANT by Thomas de Crohum (fo. 166) to Walter de Reyuni (or Reyum)¹ and his heirs or assigns, of two bovates of land in the territory of Crohum, with all the appurt.; those two bovates, namely, which lie through the whole field of Crohum next (propinquiore) to the two bovates which James de Collum gave to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], on the east side. He has likewise granted to the same Walter and his heirs or assigns a toft in Crohum which Walter de Ledbreston sometime held, with the buildings belonging thereto, and the rent of twelve pence from that toft which (quod) Walter son of Thomas Gentil sometime held. Those two bovates and toft and rent, with all the appurt., etc., he has given to Walter and his heirs or assigns, for thirteen marks and two shillings and sixpence sterling, which the grantor owed him. To have and to hold from the grantor and his heirs, free and quit from all secular service, etc., doing foreign service as belongs to two bovates of land where sixteen carucates make a knight's fee. The grantor will warrant to the grantee, his heirs or assigns, against all men, saving to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] their term, as is contained in a chirograph made between them and his (the grantor's) father; but so that they shall render to the said Walter and his assigns ten shillings so long as their term lasts, which they were accustomed to render to the grantor. Testimonium. Test., Thomas de Lutton, Robert de Butterwik, Robert son of Nigel, Robert le burser, Robert de Morpathe, Robert de Crohum, Andrew le mareschal, and others.

GRANT by Walter de Reyuni (or Reyum) to the Prior and Convent, in free and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land in Crohum, with all the appurt., which Thomas de Crohum gave him for thirteen marks two shillings and sixpence sterling (the two bovates described as in the preceding charter). He has also granted to the Prior and Convent the toft and rent of twelve pence, as described in the preceding charter. To have and to hold freely and quietly from all secular service, etc., doing only foreign service as belongs to two bovates of land where sixteen carucates make a knight's fee. Testimonium. Test., James de Collum, Robert de Vlam, Luke Siluer, Peter de Speton, Robert de Redenese, Stephen de Besingby, Andrew Mareschall, Talebot de Vlam, and others.

¹ Here and in the following document the word appears to be written "Reyuni," but it is probably intended for "Reyum,"—the Reym or Remy of the Cowlam charters.

GRANT by James de Collum to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land from his cultures in the territory of Crohum, without (sine) the toft; those, namely, which lie through the whole field (fo. 166^b) next (propinquoires) to the two bovates of land of Oliver de Crohum towards the west, with all the appurt., free entry and exit, and all the other liberties and easements thereto belonging within and without the vill. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Robert de Percy, Gerard Saluayn, Walter de Soureb[y], Oliver de Croum, Walter de Wart[er], John de Rudstayn, Gilbert de Spet[on], Peter his son, Luke Siluer.

GRANT by Robert son of Ralph de Crohum to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of a culture towards the west, eight perches wide, which extends from the quarry as far as the land of the Canons of Kirkam, which culture lies in the territory of Crohum; and another culture in the same territory towards the east, eight perches wide (in latum) which lies beside (iuxta) the culture of Gerard Saluayn towards the west, which is called Collumdale, and which extends from Vnclidal as far as the fosses, with the toft which Gerard son of Godewyn held in the same vill. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Oliver de Crohum, Thomas his son, Stephen son of Oliver de Collum, Ralph Homel, Henry Escrop, Peter de Edenham, Gotthe de Feriby, Luke Siluer, William Scaldehare, and many others.

GRANT by Robert de Crohum, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of twenty-four acres of arable land in the territory of Croum, with all the appurt., free entry and exit, and all other liberties and easements thereto belonging within and without the vill; whereof six acres lie together in a certain culture called Ryeflat, on the east side of Crohum, and six acres in a certain culture called Wrangeland on the west side, and $6\frac{1}{2}$ acres in a certain culture called Wra, and three acres at Wandeles, and $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres at Stanpittes on the north side of the vill. Moreover, he has given to the said Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, two perches of land in width from his toft in Crohum, which lie next to the toft which Stephen de Collum gave them in the said vill, namely, towards the west, which extend in length as far as the toft extends. Warranty. Sigillum. Test., Robert de Percy, Gerard Seluayn, Walter de Soureby, James de Collum, Oliver de Crohum, Walter de Wart[er], John de Rudstan, Gilbert de Speton, Luke Siluer.

CONFIRMATION by James de Collum to the Prior and Convent of all the donations which Robert de Crohum (fo. 167) made to them, as well of the toft in Crohum as of other lands in the territory of Crohum, as Robert's charters witness. Moreover, he has confirmed to them thirty acres of land on the other side of the vill of Crohum, and twenty-five acres of land on the other side of the vill of Crohum, and three roods, which the said Robert demised to them as the deed between the said Robert and the Prior and Convent witnesses. Testimonium. Test., Thomas de Lutton, Robert de Butterwik, Robert son of Nel (filio Nel), Master Simon de Brid[lington], Bald' the clerk, Luke Siluer, Richard de Irton. This confirmation was made on Thursday after the feast of S^t Lucy Virgin, 1222.

GRANT by Robert de Crohum son of Robert de Crohum to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of a plot (placeam) from his toft in Crohum, upon which their grange was sometime constructed, with all the appurt., and all the rest of that plot from his toft in the same vill which (quam) his father sometime demised at ferm to them, as the wall between them and Robert goes (se habet) from the road towards the south as far as the arable field, and all the plot (placeam) upon which the said wall stands, so that from the latter plot towards the east he and his heirs shall claim nothing. Warranty, and defence against secular services. Testimonium. Test., Stephen son of Benedict, Peter de Rise, Reginald the porter (portar'), Alan de Ireby, Robert Marshall (Mareschallo), Alan the doorkeeper (ianuar'), and many others.

GRANT by Richard son of Richard Ace of Sledemar', in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of that toft in the vill of Crohum which lies between the toft of Robert Palmer and the toft of Alan de Nauelton. To have and to hold freely and quietly from all secular service, etc. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Gerard Saluayn, James de Collum, Robert de Crohum, Thomas de Crohum, Walter son of Ace, Walter de Wart[er], Stephen of the spinney (de spineto), Stephen son of Robert son of William de Grenton, and many others.

GRANT by Robert le Palmer of Sledmer and Sibilla his wife, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of a certain toft in Crohum with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, namely, that toft which Elias de Thorp sometime held, and which lies between the toft of the Canons of Kirkam and the high road beside (iuxta) the Chapel. To hold and to have from the donors and their heirs freely and quietly from all secular service, etc., rendering to the donors and their heirs twelve pence yearly for all things. (Fo. 167^b.) Warranty, and acquittance from demands, suits of Court, and all other things. Testimonium. Test., Dom. Arnald de Bucton, Robert Putrel, Robert son of Loñe, Robert de Crohum, Robert son of Sigerith, Richard his son, Thomas son of Hugh, Peter Saluayn, Robert de Redenese, Gilbert Siluer, and others.

GRANT by Robert le Palmer of Sledemer, in free and perpetual alms, of a certain toft in Crohum with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill; namely, the toft which Elias de Thorp sometime held, and which lies, etc. (as in the preceding charter). To hold and to have from the donor and his heirs freely and quietly from all secular service, etc., rendering to him and his heirs twelve pence yearly for all things. Warranty and acquittance, as in the last charter. Testimonium. Witnesses as in the preceding deed.

QUITCLAIM by Hugh son of Robert le Palmer of Sledemer to the Prior and Convent of all manner of service and the annual rent of twelve pence in which they were held to him for the tenement which they held from him in Crohum, which rent he had by the gift of Sibilla le Palmer his mother, in her widowhood. PLEAS³ of Assize at York, before Robert Tirwhyt and William Waldby, Justices of Assize in Yorkshire, together with William Lodyngton (not expected to be present), on Monday in the third week of Quadragesima, 1 Hen. V.

The Assize comes to recognise if the Prior of Bridelyngton and John Barthorp unjustly, etc., disseised Hugh de Cornwaile of his free tenement in Acclom, after the first, etc. Whence Hugh, in propria persona, complains that they disseised him of sixty acres of land, six acres of meadow, and five acres of wood, with the appurt., etc. And the Prior and John come not, but a certain Ralph Forster answers for them as bailiff, and says that they have done no injury or disseisin to Hugh, and puts himself on assize; and Hugh likewise. The Jurors, namely Henry Acclom, William Coluyll, William Dautry, William Nalton, William Pokthorp, Edward (Ed'us) de Thweng, Thomas Tebald, Robert de Lowthorp, John atte marre, William Lylling, Richard Landemote, and John Schirburn, say that the said Hugh de Cornwaile was never so seised of the said tenements that he could be disseised. Therefore it is adjudged that Hugh take nothing by the assize, but is in mercy for false claim, and the Prior and John de Barthorp go without day, etc.

QUITCLAIM by William son of Thomas de Bikerton to his lords the Prior and Convent, of a messuage and thirty acres of land with the appurt., which he had by the gift of John de Walton, and which he held from them (the Prior and Convent) in West Askham. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Robert del Holm, William son of Thomas de Marston, ^{k^{ts}}, Robert Fox of Angrum, Henry de Parco, Richard Malbe, and others.

GRANT by William de Walton to William de Sandwaud, the man of the Prior of Park, of a bovate of land with toft and croft in the vill of Askham, that, namely, which Henry Bene held, for three marks which the grantee has given him in hand. And it is to be known that whenever the bovate of land which Agnes the wife of Gile de Catherton held in the same vill shall come into the grantor's hand, as heir, the said William and his heirs or assigns shall hold and have both bovates from the grantor and his heirs, in fee and inheritance, with all the toft and croft and the appurt., etc., within the vill and without, to the two bovates belonging; rendering thence yearly to the grantor and his heirs or assigns half a mark of silver, and when the other bovate shall come to the grantor, the grantee or his heirs or assigns shall render for both one mark yearly. The grantor will warrant to the said William de Sandwad, his heirs or assigns. Test., William the chaplain, Fulk de Rufford, Alan de Catherton, Richard de Stiuetof[n], Robert de Hoton, William Maris.

GRANT by William de Walton to William the tailor (cissor') of Beverley and Felicia his wife and their assigns, in free marriage, of six shillings and eight pence of yearly rent from the land in which Clement son of Lambert de Askham dwells in Askham. To hold and to have to the said W. and Felicia, and their heirs or assigns, from the grantor and his heirs, freely, etc., rendering to them yearly one root of ginger, for all secular service, etc. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Master Robert de Lesset, Dom. Adam, rector of the Church of Askham, Giles de (fo. 177^b) Cayert, Richard de Colt[on], Elias de Burell, Hillary de Askham, and many others.

GRANT by Clement son of William son of Lambert de Sandwat to the Prior and Convent, in free and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land with two tofts and crofts in the territory and vill of Askham, namely, one bovate with toft and croft which William the grantor's father had by the gift of William de Walton, lying between the land of the said Prior and Convent on one side and the land which Alan de Angrom sometime held on the other, and another bovate with toft and croft which the said W. the grantor's father had from Gilo de Catherton and Agnes his wife for the term of their lives, and which William de Walton, lawful heir of the said bovate, granted and quitclaimed to the grantor's father and his heirs or assigns, for ever, and which lies between the land of Alice de Arnal on one side and the land which Hugh de Apilton held from the said Prior and Convent on the other. To have and to hold to the grantees, their successors or assigns, freely, etc., with all appurt., within and without the vill; rendering yearly for the first-named bovate half a mark of silver to William the tailor (cissor) of Beverley, and for the second bovate half a mark to Gilo de Catherton and Agnes his wife and their heirs, for all services, etc. Warranty.

Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Richard de Styueton, John de Raygate, k^{ts}, Dom. Adam, formerly rector of the Church of Askham, Gilo de Catherton, William de Walton, H. de Parco, Elias Burel, Wyot de Apilton, Alan Tayt, Robert Fox, Richard Malbe, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Marmaduke son and heir of John le Tayllour of Witeby to the Canons, of a certain yearly rent of half a mark which the said John his father received from them for a bovate of land in Westaskham, which was formerly Clement's, son of William son of Lambert de Sandwath. Warranty. Testimonium. At Brid[lington], 14th Cal. February, 1296.

QUITCLAIM by John son and heir of John de Walton to the Prior and Convent and their successors, of an annual rent of six shillings and eight pence which they were bound to pay him for certain tenements in Westaskham. He has likewise quitclaimed to them (fo. 178) all right and claim in a toft and croft with a bovate and two acres of land, which Thomas de Walton held from him in Westaskham, and in a toft and croft with two acres and a rood of land which Richard de Walton held from him in the same vill, and in a toft and croft and one bovate of land which Helen de Walton sometime held from him in the same vill, and in a toft and croft and bovate of land which Alice sister of the said Helen held from him in the same vill, and in all other lands, tenements, and services in the said vill of Westaskham without retention. Testimonium. Test., Walter de Stok, William de Schuderschelf, Robert Fox of Angrum, Henry de Parco, Nicholas the smith (faber) of Westaskam, and others.

GRANT and Quitclaim by William de Walton to the Prior and Convent of a toft in Askham, with all arable land and meadow belonging thereto in the croft on the west side of the same toft, and in le Bothem and in Sigriding, with all the appurt., which toft with the land, meadow, and appurt. William Froyse sometime held from him. Warranty, and acquittance from secular services. Moreover, he has quitclaimed to them the said William Froys, his native, with his family and chattels. Testimonium. Test., Walter de Tadekaster, chaplain, Giles de Catherton, William son of Roger, Elias Burell, Henry de Parco, William de Marisco, John de Marston, Robert son of William de Angr[um], J. de Crauncewik, Alan Tait.

CONFIRMATION¹ by Roger de Moubray son of William Moubray, to the Canons, of all the land they have of the gift of William son of Roger de Askham in the same vill, and the services of Herbert de Holdernes and his heirs from two bovates of land with the appurt., and of Master Richard de Arnehal and his heirs from half a carucate of land with the appurt., and of the Rector of the Church of Askham from two cultures of arable land, which services similarly the Canons have by the gift of the said William, as is contained in the charter they have from him. Moreover, he (Roger) has given them the service of William de Walton for the tenement which he held from Roger in Askham, and similarly one mark yearly which he and his ancestors received from the said William de Askham and William de Walton and their ancestors for the same vill. All these things, and all which might fall to him and his heirs at any time, he grants and confirms with all appurt. in the same vill, so that he and his heirs (fo. 178^b) may never claim any right or service in that vill. He and his heirs will warrant to them the service of William de Walton and the said yearly mark. Test., Sirs (dominis) Adam de Mairford, William de Midelton, Thomas de Coluile, Gilbert Haunsard, W. de Buscy, Alan de Aldefeld, k^{ts}, Richard Torny, then his steward, Ralph de Ballio, William de Plumton his clerk, Walter de Gresk¹ and Richard de S^t Oswald, clerks, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Walter de Langeton, parson of the Church of West Askham, to the Canons, of all right and claim in a certain yearly rent of thirteen shillings and four pence which he ought to receive from them for two bovates of land in West Askam which they have by the gift of Clement son of William son of Lambert de Sandwath. Testimonium. Test., Thomas de Heselerton, k^t, John de Marton, Thomas de Askam, Adam de Hoperton, Hillary Gybaud, Adam del Hawe, Michael de Knapton, Henry de Colton, and others.

LICENCE,² in the usual form, by King Edward (I) to Henry Belle of Askam and Agnes his wife to alienate to the Prior and Convent two acres of meadow with the appurt. in Westaskam. At Winchester, 24th April, in the 34th year.

GRANT and Quitclaim by Henry Belle of West Askam and Agnes his wife to their lords, Gerard the Prior and the Convent of Bridel[ington], of all that meadow with the appurt. in West Askam, which the grantors had in the place called Wateng. To hold to the Prior and Convent and their successors, in free, pure, and perpetual alms. Warranty and Testimonium. Test., Sir (d'no) Richard le Waleys, k^t, Alan de Folingfait, (fo. 179) Henry de la Chaumbre of Catherton, William le cerf of the same, William de Tokwith, and others.

FINE, at Westminster, the morrow of S^t John Baptist, 34 Edw. I, between Gerard, Prior of Bridel[ington], quer., by Alan de Killom in his place to gain or lose, and Henry Belle of Askam and Agnes his wife, def., respecting two acres of meadow with the appurt. in West Askam, whence a plea of agreement was summoned between them in the same Court; namely, that Henry and Agnes acknowledged the right of the Prior and his Church to the said meadow, and warranted for themselves and the heirs of Agnes, and the Prior gave them a hundred shillings of silver. And this concord was made by precept of the King.

(The second column of 179^a is blank, but in the margin is written, in another hand, a memorandum which, so far as can be made out, is as follows: "H' defic' carte Walt' Malbe de Ascham de j toft' cum j croft' et ij bov'.

Midelton and of Denton, and common pasture of Thorescros and of Timbel. Witnesses as in the last charter but one, except Henry de Bilton; in this charter Sculkotes is written instead of Esculecot', and Eschaley instead of Eschales.

CONFIRMATION by Ralph the forester (Forestar') to the Canons, of Bluberhousum, with the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, as Robert the forester, his brother, gave and confirmed by his charter. Stipulation as to foreign service as before; description of the property as in the second Blubberhouses deed, including the common of pasture. Witnesses as in the previous deed, except the present confirmor.

QUITCLAIM by William son of Ralph the forester (Forest') to the Canons, of all the land he had in Bluberhus, which his father sometime held from them, with a watermill in the same vill, and all other liberties and appurt., within the vill and without, to the said land and mill belonging. Warranty. This quitclaim he has made to them for ten marks of silver which they have given him in his great necessity. Tcst., Alexander de Dorset, Robert de Percy, Peter de Plumpton, T. de Walkingham, William Mauleverer (malo lepor'), Ernald (fo. 182^b) de Bucton, Ernald de Marton, W. de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Richard de Yrton, Thomas de Swaldale, Henry de Gisbug' (sic).

AGREEMENT made Tuesday before the feast of S^t Bartholomew, 28 Henry III, at York, between Giles Maleuerer, quer., and Thomas, Prior of Brid[lington], deforc., respecting the free tenement which Giles asserted to be of his holding in Bethmesle, namely, between those bounds which extend on one side towards the west of Ainlepithorn' upon Faukesberg' as far as Le Grenescakebec, descending into Kexbec, and from Kexbec ascending to Nettelscakebec, and from Nettelscakebec as far as Redscakebec, and on the other side towards the east as far as Le Blakesik. Whence an assize of novel disseisin was arraigned before William de Ebor'. Henry de Bathon, Geoffrey de Craucoñ, Jeremiah de Kaxton, Justices on iter there, namely, that Giles recognised, for himself and his heirs, all the said tenement, with the woods and other appurt., to be the right of the said Prior and his Church, and to be of the fee of Knaresburg, and remitted and quitclaimed to the Prior all right and claim which he ever had in the said holding, conceding that the close and house which the Prior made in the said holding within the said bounds shall be secure (salua) to the Prior and his successors, that henceforth in the said holding within the bounds aforesaid they may be able to build, enclose, and make meadow as much as and when they choose, and to dispose of the woods and soil (solo) within those bounds at their will. Moreover, Giles granted to the Prior and his successors common of pasture in the woods and moors belonging to his (Giles') holding in Bethmesle, outside his arable field, for their own animals of Bluberhouse there, when they will; to have and to hold, with free entry and exit, to the Prior and his successors, in pure and perpetual alms, and Giles and his heirs will warrant such pasture. And for this grant, remission, and quitclaim the Prior has granted to Giles and his heirs common of pasture in the said holding within the aforesaid bounds for the animals of Giles and his heirs reared (nutritis) in his Court (Cur') of Bethmesle, with free entry and exit to the said pasture. And the Prior also granted to Giles and his heirs that henceforward they may make their profit of their said woods and moors, saving to the Prior and his successors free ingress and egress for their animals to pasture therein. Seals to the different parts of this chirograph.

QUITCLAIM by Isaac de Timbel to the Canons, of all right and claim in three acres of land outside (extra) the arable land of the field of Bluberhus, namely, those which lie under the edge (sub hora) of the wood of Pursedeneupes at Scaldaikes. Moreover, he has quitclaimed to them Ralph, who sometime dwelt (mansit) at Schaldeaikes, and Godit (fo. 183^b) his wife, with all their family and chattels. Test., William de Percy and Robert his son, J. de Meus and Peter his son, Walter de Bouington and W. his son, T. de Alost, Mauger de Ergh[um] and Geoffrey his son, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, Ernald de Marton and W. his brother, W. de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer.

² The coronation of the younger King Henry took place on the 14th June, 1170.

QUITCLAIM by John son of John de Walkingham to the Prior and Convent, of all right and claim in their two cowpastures (vaccariis) with the closes adjoining at Le Pase and Kexil, and similarly in an essart extending in length from their manor of Bluberhus as far as Lairsic, and in width from Bernarker; in which essart he sometime recovered, by writ of the King at the assizes of Knaresburg, common pasture belonging to his free tenement in Thorescros. And besides this essart he has granted to the Prior and Convent wherever and whenever they choose within the bounds of Bluberhus, as is more fully contained in the charter which they have from Robert the forester, to essart, enclose, plough, and sow twenty acres of land, and within the same bounds, wheresoever it may be found, to mine (fodere) and raise iron, to erect forges, and to use the mine with the forges as they choose, without hindrance by him or his heirs; reserving, however, to them in the said essarts common pasture in the open time after the corn is carried. Seals of the parties in witness. Test., John son of Thomas, Patrick de Westwik, R. de Stepham,¹ k^{ts}, William de Lindelay, T. de Screuyn, Robert de Stainlay, Ric^hard de Boys, Henry de Panoly,² Henry Turpyn.

QUITCLAIM by Robert son of Huntobrith de Kilinghal' to the Prior and Convent, of all right and claim to common pasture within their bounds of Bluberhus, so that within the bounds of the said pasture they may enclose and essart, plough, sow, and within the same bounds, wherever it may be found, mine (fodere) and raise iron, establish forges, use the mine and forges, pull down and plant, and in all other ways as seems best to them make their profit without hindrance by him or his heirs, (fo. 184) but reserving to them and their animals common of pasture in the said essarts in the open time after the corn is carried. Testimonium. Witnesses as in the preceding deed, except that in this one John de Walkingham appears instead of Henry Turpyn.

QUITCLAIM by Robert de Stainlay to the Prior and Convent, in the same words as in the preceding charter, except that the reservation of common pasture to the grantor is omitted. Witnesses also the same, except that H. Turpin appears instead of the present grantor.

QUITCLAIM by Henry Turpyn of Kilinghal to the Prior and Convent, in the same words as the last deed but one, and with the same witnesses.³

¹ Stepham in this deed and the next; Stopham in the succeeding one, which is correct.

² In the next deed this is Panelei or Paeleli.

³ In this deed the name of the third witness is given as Scopham.

H. FIRST BORN of the illustrious King of the Romans, to his bailiffs of Cnaresburg. Allow the Prior of Brid[lington] and his men in our parts to have and peacefully to hold his manor of Bluberhous, with common pasture of (fo. 184^b) Thorescros' with the appurt. as they were accustomed, and according to the tenor of the charters which they have from the Lord King, our father, and from William de Stuteuill, and Robert the forester, their enfeoffor. Farewell. Given at London, Monday after the feast of S^t Martin, 51 Hen. III.

FINE at York, the morrow of the Circumcision, 11 Hen. III, between Hubert, Prior of Brid[lington], pet., and Brian de Insula and Robert de Percy, deforc., respecting common of pasture of Tymbel and of Bluberhous, whence there was a plea between them in the same Court; namely, that Brian and Robert recognised and granted to the Prior and his successors common pasture of Timbel for the animals of the Prior and his successors and their men of Bluberhous, everywhere except in the closes of Brian and Robert and their men made when this agreement was made, in which the Prior and his men shall have no right of common; and if their animals shall be found in those closes they shall be removed, and if any damage has been done it shall be set right (emendabitur) by the view of lawful men according to the custom of the country. And the Prior granted to Brian and Robert and their heirs common of pasture in Bluberhous for their animals and those of their men of Timbel, within the wood and without, except in the closes of the Prior and his men of Bluberhous made when this agreement was made, in which Brian and Robert and their men shall have no right of common. (Clause as to strayed animals as before.) And moreover, the Prior has granted to Brian and Robert and their heirs all that wood which is contained within these bounds—from the forge which was Robert the forester's further (remotiore) from the vill of Bluberhous as the same wood extends towards the west, by the middle of the water called Kexhilbek on the south side of that water; saving to the Prior and his successors common of pasture and herbage in the same wood, for their animals and those of their men of Bluberhous. And the remainder of all the wood shall remain to the Prior and his successors for ever; saving to Brian and Robert and their heirs and men of Timbel common of pasture and herbage, in the same wood. And it shall be lawful for Brian and Robert and their heirs to claim vaccaries on the south side of Stainfordgilebec where they will, and similarly for the Prior and his successors to claim¹ their vaccaries on the north side thereof, where they will; saving, nevertheless, entry and egress for the beasts (aueria), as well of Brian and Robert, their heirs and men, as of the Prior, (fo. 185) his successors and men, to pasture as is aforesaid.

QUITCLAIM and Confirmation by Richard, Count of Poitou and Cornwall, to the Canons, of all the land with the appurt. which they held from him in Bluberhous and Cathal by knight service, and moreover of a bovate of land with the appurt. in Cathal which they have by the gift of Roger Fossard; saving to him, the Count, and his heirs the attachments and pleas respecting the men and outside (forinsecis) animals taken in the pasture of Bluberhous. Testimonium. Test., William de Yreby, W. Mauleuerer, J. son of John, J. de Haldeclo, Peter Gaudyn, Nicholas de Auna, Robert de Esthall, and others.

GRANT by Richard, Count of Poitou and Cornwall, to the Canons, that all their wood of Bluberhous may be outside the forest and deafforested, and that they may essart, sell, give, fell, and arrange (disponere) respecting the same wood and the soil in every way as they choose. Testimonium. Test., Dom. William de Yreby, Baldwin de Beton, Giles de Cancell', John son of Thomas, John de Alceolo and Peter Britoun, Robert de Esthall, clerk, and others. Given at Crucem Roys (Royston), 21 November, 23 Hen. III.

ARRANGEMENT, Sunday after the Purification B.V.M., in the year 1097,¹ at York, between John, Prior of Boulton in Craven, quer., and Gerard, Prior of Brid[lington], imp., in settlement of a dispute respecting common of pasture which John claimed against Gerard in Bluberhous. Gerard, for himself and his Church and successors, as far as in him lies, grants to John and his Church and successors common of pasture everywhere in the moors and pastures of Bluberhous for all animals of the Prior of Bout' in Bethmesley and of his tenants in villenage there, which pasture they used from ancient times, saving to the Prior of Brid[lington] and his Church and successors all approvments, as well in houses and closes made in the moor and pasture of Bluberhous on the day of these presents as in future times to be made, when and where they please, without claim by the Prior of Boulton and his successors. Similar grant by the Prior of Boulton to the Prior of Brid[lington], his Church, successors, and his tenants of Bluberhous, of common of pasture in Bethmesley, with like reservation as to approvments. GRANT by Ralph Mauleverer (Malus Lepor') of Aluer-ton to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of all his land of Summerscales which he held hereditarily from William son of William Mauleverer (Mali Lepor') of Bethmesl[ey], with all cattle (aueriis) which the grantor had there at the time of this grant, and with all the appurt. in wood, in plain, etc., and all other liberties and easements, according to the tenor of the charter of the said W., which he gave the grantor respecting the same land for his homage and service, and according to the limits and bounds in the said charter and in the chirograph between the grantor and the said William contained. Wherefore he desires that the said Canons may possess all that land with the appurt., free and quit from all secular service to him and his heirs, save the service of the said William and his heirs from that land, namely, twelve pence yearly. Warranty, and acquittance from secular service, except as above. Test., Master Simon the Dean, Hamo, treasurer of York, William, Archdeacon of Nottingham, Master Gregory, J., Canon of the chapel, Walter and Hugh, chaplains of the Dean, Stephen de Alost, Simon Mauleverer,¹ Hugh Mauleverer,¹ of Milc, W. de Lekeburn, Ernald de Marton, Luke Siluer, R. de Waltham, Robert the cook (coco), William Graffard, Master Walter de Driffeld, Ralph Nouuel, and many others.

He has likewise granted to the Canons that they may make hay in the said pasture, and sufficient material from his wood (but without felling trees) to make houses and folds for two vaccaries, and wattles (virgas) sufficient to make the houses in those vaccaries; of which vaccaries one is at Whallasheued and the other at Frithloc, and from the same wood they shall have as much for burning as is needful in the vaccaries. They shall likewise have at the same vaccaries four dogs, not expeditated (cum integris pedibus), two at one and two at the other, loose at night and tied up by day; if the dogs be found loose from the first hour of the day until evening the keepers shall be in forfeit to the lord and the dogs in his mercy. If the cattle of the Canons shall happen to go beyond the bounds of the said pasture, they shall be reasonably taken and reasonably released. Moreover, he has given the Canons in Bartona in Neuport a toft opposite the toft of Bucstan on the other side of the road, and nine acres of arable land which Gerard de Feriby

CONFIRMATION by Gilbert de Gaunt to Ralph son of Godman of all the land and common of pasture which his (Gilbert's) father gave him, to hold to him and his heirs, freely and quietly, as the charter he has witnesses; rendering yearly a pound of pepper, for all services. Test., William de Stuteuill, Simon de Kyme, H. son of Hernic', Ralph de Multon, John de Oreby, Hugh Scot', Geoffrey de Gaunt, Gerard de Heilawe, and others.

GRANT by William son of Ralph Pech to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of all the land which Ralph Pech his father and he held of the gift of Robert de Gaunt, in Swaldale, on the west side of the vill of Grenton, and common of pasture of the same vill (described as in the last charter but one), (fo. 188^b) with all appurt. and easements. To hold free and quit from all customs and from everything belonging to him and his heirs; rendering yearly to the lord Gilbert de Gaunt and his heirs one pound of pepper. Warranty. Test., William de Percy and Robert his son, Walter de Bouington, William his son, Gilbert de Speton and Peter his son, Ernald de Bucton, Robert de Siwardeby and Ernald, Thomas, and William, his brothers, William de Lekeburn, Gocelin de Feriby, Luke Siluer, Henry de Giseburne.

FINE at York, the morrow of S^t Andrew, 19 Hen. III, between William son of Ralph de Richemund, pet., and Thomas, Prior of Bridelington, ten., respecting 25½ acres of land with the appurt. in Grenton; whence an assize mortis antecessoris was summoned between them in the same Court, namely, that William remitted and quitclaimed to the Prior and his successors and Church all right and claim in the said land, and the Prior gave him five marks of silver.

CONFIRMATION by Gilbert de Gaunt to the Canons, of all the land which Ralph Pech of Richemund and W. his son had of the gift of Robert de Gaunt, his father, in Swaldal', as described in the last document but three, with all appurt., etc. To hold for ever, free from all secular customs, etc.; rendering to him and his heirs yearly a pound of pepper. Test., Peter del Estan and Ralph de Kelingthorp, Ralph de Karlet[on], Gilbert de Speton, Peter his son, Ernald de Bucton, (fo. 189) Ernald de Marton, Thomas and William his brothers, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, Richard de Irton, Robert son of Bernard.

GRANT by Gilbert de Gaunt to the Canons that they may extend (dilatent) their Court of Grenton towards the west and beside (iuxta) the churchyard, in length by 106 feet, in width by 20 feet, and that they may construct there a house; and that they may hold the said space in free and perpetual alms. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Andrew the chaplain of Grenton, Arnald de Bucton, William son of Geoffrey, John de Rudstain, clerk, Robert the deacon.

TO all seeing or hearing these letters, Roger son of William, greeting. Know that I, in full County [Court] at York, on Monday after the Sunday on which "Misericordia Domini" is sung,¹ in the year 1206, before Robert Wallis (Walensi), then Sheriff of York, and other noble men, surrendered and quitclaimed to God and the Church of S.M. of Brid[lington] and the Canons serving God there, all the land which I sometime held from the same Canons in their vill of Grenton and Swaldal', with the toft and croft and all other things belonging thereto, for ever. Test., William de Percy and Robert his son, Walter de Bouington and William his son, Ralph de Multon, Gilbert de Torumi, Laurence the clerk of Wilton, Robert de Sywardeby, Adam de Bouington, Walter de Soureby, W. de Lekeburn.

TO all, etc., Hubert the Prior and the Convent of Brid[lington], greeting. Know that the dispute between us and the Prioress and Convent of Masric;² respecting a certain Holme called Straundes, and the dam attached upon our land, whence we proceeded against them by letters of the Pope, before the Priors of S^t Mary and S^t Andrew and the Penitentiaries of York, is thus settled:—we from our own house of Grenton shall grind at the 25th vessel (vas) at the mill of the Prioress and Convent of Masric, and all our malt (braseum) without toll (multura) from our said house, for the said attachment of the mill dam upon our land between Grenton and Masric. The said Prioress and Convent will maintain the mill dam so reasonably that our corn and meadow will not be destroyed for want of strengthening of the dam. Respecting the said Holme, it is agreed thus, that henceforth we will raise no question or claim against them, of common or ownership or other right therein; but if our oxen or animals should happen to cross the water to the said Holme, the Prioress and Convent or their men shall cause them to be driven back into our pasture, without impounding or detaining or damaging them. Mutual seals. Test., Dom. Richard Phiton, Hugh his son, Roger Basc, John son of Henry, Hugh the clerk, Thomas de Croum, Alan de Rudstain, Tristram, and many others.

GRANT by brother G., Prior of Brid[lington], and the Convent, (fo. 189^b) to Dom. Simon de Grenton, chaplain, of a toft in the vill of Grenton, namely that which Eudo the deaf man (surdus) formerly held from them, lying between the toft of the vicar of Grenton on one side and the toft of Sithreda the widow on the other. To hold and to have to Simon and his heirs or assigns (except Religious men, Jews, and the lord of the fee), freely and quietly, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, saving to the grantors their severalties (separalibus), in which they (the grantee and his heirs) shall have no common. Rendering yearly to the grantors six pence for all services, etc. Warranty. Seals of the parties to the alternate parts of this chirograph in witness. At Brid[lington], 10th Cal. January, 1270.

TO the venerable men the Dean and Chapter of York, Robert son of William, greeting. Know that I have sworn on the Gospels (Sacro-sancta) for me and my heirs that we will never raise any claim against the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] or their men respecting common in Herchay, neither in turbary nor herbage belonging to the vill of Grenton; and also that we will never occasion any evil, annoyance, or injury to the house of Bridel[ington], nor will hinder them in their common rights, nor will, so far as we are able, permit them to be hindered, but whatever good we may lawfully do we will do to them, both in wood and plain. Testimonium. Test., William the chaplain, W. son of Geoffrey, Ger' de Holing^{am}, Simon the forester; who have also affixed their seals to this writing.

CONFIRMATION by John de Britannia, Earl of Richemund, to the Prior and Convent, of all lands, tenements, and fees, with all their appurt., which they have at this date by the gift of anyone, as well in Grenton and all the valley of Swaldal' as in the field and vill of Couton, by the bounds, metes, and quantities of land as the charters of their enfeoffors set forth and testify. To have and to hold freely, etc., and quit of all secular services, etc. Testimonium. Test., Sirs (dominis) Richard de Charrū, then the confirmor's steward, and Gilbert de Neuill, k^{ts}, Robert de Apelgarth, Geoffrey de Buct[on], William de Lopinthorp, clerk, Richard de Berneuill, (fo. 190) William de Seleby, and others. At London, third Nones of May, 1275, the 3rd Edw. son of Henry, in the month of May.

(The remainder of col. 1 of fo. 190^a is occupied by a portion of a document in another handwriting (much of it illegible), apparently the same as the Memorandum fourth in succession, which commences "Memorandum quod tota vallis de Swaledale fuit dudum Domini de Gaunt integraliter," etc. The present document, which is in a handwriting different to that of the Memorandum, appears to be inserted in the space which had been occupied by other writing which has been taken out, and this is also suggested by the fact that the next column begins with the words "Epiphanie Domini anno gracie M^occ^o octogesimo septimo," which have, as they stand, no connection with the preceding or following document, but were, no doubt, the conclusion of the one originally appearing. These words are in the original writing, which then continues over the folio.)

CHIROGRAPH¹ witnessing that the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] have granted that Gilbert de Gaunt and his heirs may have and hold for ever their free park in Wittaside in Swaldal', where Gilbert previously had his park, and that the outside cattle (aucria forinseca) in the separate pasture of the Prior and Convent found by the servants of Gilbert in the said park may be impounded (imparcentur), and similarly outside cattle found in the said separate pasture by the servants of the Prior and Convent may be impounded, and shall only be delivered by the servants of Gilbert, who shall present the seizure of them in the Court of Helag'; and if the Prior and Convent wish to demand any penalty they shall come into the Court of Gilbert, and the damage shall be taxed by trustworthy men. And Gilbert agrees that the appearance of the representative of the Prior in his Court in such a case shall not prejudice the Prior, nor involve any claim for suit of Court (fo. 190^b)² or custom. Alternate seals in witness. Test., Sirs (dominis) William de Asthorp, Walter de Bucton, William of the same, k^{ts}, Robert de Herford, Walter de Louthur.

AGREEMENT made Tuesday after the feast of St Nicholas, in the 22nd year of King Edward [I], between the noble man the lord Gilbert de Gaunt of the one part, and Dom. Gerard de Burton, Prior of Bridelington, for himself and his Convent, of the other. The said lord Gilbert granted to the Prior and his successors the tithe of hay in Swaldale, which the Prior recovered against him in the Ecclesiastical Court (foro) together with his damages, taxed at £9, as in the obligation of the tenants of the said lord is contained. And the Prior for the sake of peace granted to Gilbert that, full possession of the tithe being first obtained, Gilbert might for his life hold the tithe-hay from the Prior and Convent, the price being taxed for the taxed value, the fifth penny being remitted, unless in the hope of a better feeling (sub spe gratie melioris) between the parties, it should be otherwise agreed; so that, possession of the said tithe being obtained, and the writing respecting the said twenty pounds³ being delivered, the tenants of the lord, under sentence of excommunication by reason of the said tithe, be altogether absolved. Moreover, concerning the writs, quarrels, damages,

TO all, etc., Geoffrey, Prior of Brid[lington], and the Convent, greeting. Whereas the noble man the lord Gilbert de Gaunt, on the day of S^t Botulph Abbot, in the year 1278, at Hundemanby, granted and confirmed to us and our successors all possessions, lands, and goods which we hold of his fee in the Counties of York, Richemund, and Linc[oln], we wish, as we ought, to provide fully against his disherison in his forest and wood of Swaldale; so (fo. 191) that the said lord G. de Gaunt and his heirs may have and hold his wood in Swaldale and his free park, together with attachment of vert (virid') and right of hunting, with all waifs and escapes of outside animals and fines (emend') to be taken as freely and fully as the said lord and his successors (succ') were accustomed before the said day of S^t Botulph. Testimonium. Hiis testibus....¹

MEMORANDUM,² that the whole valley of Swaledale was formerly wholly the lord de Gaunt's, in which valley are two villis, namely, the vill of Grenton, where the parish Church is situate, on one side of the water of Swale, flowing through the middle of the valley equally, and the vill of Ryth on the other side, neither vill having common. At any time of the year the Prior of Brydelington has the said Church with the vill of Grenton as glebe of the Church, by the gift of the said lord de Gaunt, with the moors, wastes, and a large pasture adjacent, in severalty, distinguished by certain bounds and metes, such pasture being so clean and healthy that sheep there will always be free from scab, where dwell certain woodmen tenants of the Prior, which pasture is called Wy'tasyde, which is portion and member of the said vill of Grenton, so that Grenton with this member is one vill and answers for one vill in all royal actions, and the remaining part of all the valley of Swaledale belongs to the said vill of Ryth, which vill belongs to the heirs of the said lord of Gaunt, of whose vill of Grenton with the appurt. the said Prior is lord, taking all and singular the profits, etc., from time immemorial, within the metes and bounds of which vill neither the lord of Gaunt nor his tenants have common for any animals. Nevertheless, formerly owing to the envy of those living near there was dispute between the lord of Gaunt and the said Prior respecting the ownership of the soil, moor, and pasture of Grenton and Wy'thasyde, whence it was found by inquisition and assize that the soil of each is of one and the same gift of the lord of Gaunt, and is the Prior's; from which time the Prior peaceably possessed all the said tenements, until now that the lord of Mawlay damages the Prior by hindering him from approving the wastes of his soil aforesaid. Which lord of Mawlay, in the lifetime of Elena de Furnyvalle, has nothing in Swaledale except an undivided moiety of the hunting only. But among other things there is a great error by which the judgment of the said lords of Swaledale and many others imperfectly understanding the right of the Prior, is disturbed, namely, that all the valley of Swaledale was formerly divided between three sisters of the lord Gilbert de Gaunt. Then by reason of the free chace, vert, and hunting, the lands and separate pastures of the Abbot of Rievaulx and Prior of Bridlington were divided as well as the lands and pasture of the same lord de Gaunt, and so was the said separate pasture of the said Prior in Wytasyde divided into three parts, and distinguished by certain bounds by reason of the said hunting, and from the time (fo. 191^b)¹ of that division foolish (stolidi) men improperly denominated the purparty of the lord of Gerdeston, of the lord de Mawlay, and of the lady Juliana de Gaunt, the severalty of the lord de Mawlay and the lady Juliana de Gaunt, the severalty of the lord of Gerdeston, the severalty of the lord de Mawlay and the severalty of the lady Juliana de Gaunt, on account of this division so made, and now the said Juliana being dead and her purparty there remaining undivided between the said lords de Mawlay and Gerdeston, they call all that purparty in common of the said lords because it is hitherto undivided; nevertheless, the truth of the matter is that neither in the soil nor several pasture of the Abbot of Rievaulx or Prior of Brydelington have the said lords any severalty or common except only their hunting (uenacione).

PRECEPT² by Edward (III) to the Treasurer and Chamberlains, etc., to send the record of an assize of novel disseisin between the Prior of Bridelyngt[on] and Gilbert de Gaunt before Nicholas de Stapilton and his fellows, Justices of Assize in Yorkshire, in the fifteenth year of King Edward, his grandfather.

Assize at York before Nicholas de Stapilton, Simon le Constable, E. de Sutton, and J. Lythegrennes, Justices, the morrow of the Epiphany, 15 Edw. (I).

The assize comes to recognise if Gilbert de Gaunt unjustly, etc., disseised the Prior of Bridl[ington] of his free tenement in Rith', after the first, etc. Whence he complains that he disseised him of half an acre of pasture, etc. And Gilbert comes and says that the Prior was in seisin of the soil of the said holding as of his free tenement; and he says that anciently his ancestors granted to the Prior's predecessors separate pasture in the said places for their own animals only, so that attachments and impoundings should remain to his said ancestors and their heirs, and that those ancestors and heirs might approve by buildings, and forges to make iron where they pleased in the wastes. And he says that he and all his ancestors from the time of that grant always used these liberties and took peat and other profits from the soil. Moreover, he says that the present Prior, for himself and his successors, granted that Gilbert and his heirs should have all the said profits, etc., as freely as he and his ancestors ever had. Whence he says that the Prior only had in those places herbage for his own cattle, and on this puts himself on assize. And the Prior says that a certain Alice, ancestress of Gilbert, gave them the said tenement, and they remained in peaceable possession until Gilbert unjustly disseised them. The Jury say on their oath that as regards the said half acre of pasture that the soil (solum) is the Prior's, and that he was accustomed to mow the grass and take the other profits therefrom, until the course of a certain water was diverted, between the land of the Prior and of Gilbert, by which course G. and his heirs approved to themselves the said half acre, whence they say that Gilbert disseised the Prior of the half acre. Therefore it is adjudged that the Prior recover seisin by view of the Jury, and Gilbert in mercy.

To have and to hold from the grantor and his heirs freely, etc., rendering to them yearly for all service and secular exaction three pence. Warranty. Test., Richard the chaplain, Alan son of Brieny, Gilbert Waryn, Walter Hagat, Philip de Erghum, Walter the deacon, Robert at the spring (ad fontem), William son of Walter, Alan de Richemund, H. de Swaldale, Alan his brother.

¹ Of Bridlington, presumably, but it does not say so ; the wording is, "Deo et ecclesie Beate Marie et Canonicis ibidem."

² In the previous deed ten carucates. The correct number was twelve.

GRANT by Adelota daughter of Walter the cook (coci) of Couton, to Henry her brother, and his heirs or assigns, of three acres of land with the appurt. in Great Couton; those, namely, which Reginald son of Roger held, whereof one acre lies at Stainfordhil and Sourebec, and one at Wisem (or Wisein or Wifein), and one at Treswendinges and at Aggewelle. To have and to hold to him and his heirs or assigns for ever, freely, etc., with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, rendering yearly to the grantor and her heirs four pence for all service, etc., doing foreign service as belongs to so much land in that vill. Warranty. Sigillum. Test., Dom. Robert de Skegnesse, steward (senescallo) of the Abbey of St Mary, York, Dom. J. de Helton, Dom. Guy, monk, John Malet, clerk, R. at the spring (ad fontem), R. de Boyuill, Hugh Paumer, and others.

GRANT by Herbert¹ son of Walter the cook (coci) of Couton to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of a toft in the vill of (fo. 194) Couton, with a toft (sic) containing in itself two acres and a rood of land, namely, that toft with croft (sic) which lies in the north street of that vill on the west side, and 16½ acres of arable land in the territory of the same vill, lying through the whole field beside (iuxta) the land of the said Canons on the east side—namely, in Westfeld four acres (namely half an acre between the vill and the church and half an acre at Milnedaille, and an acre at Southwardon and Wellehille, and an acre at Aldebrechtes and Vinerhill, and an acre at Turkilberg and Frosthole). And in Northfeld 7½ acres (namely an acre at Hengandeburg and Langlandes, and an acre at Theuesdale, and an acre at Peseholm and Kerlingh', and half an acre at Withusk, and an acre at Ellerstub, and half an acre at Braiddales, and an acre at Sandpittes and Chapelflat, and an acre at Suthfurlandes and Scorbettes, and half an acre at Randolfbrigg). And in Suthfeld five acres (namely an acre at Nunnehous, and an acre at Sripes² and Scodgate, and an acre at Henricot' and Danebyholm, and half an acre at Fiskegarthe, and three roods at Brettebiwra, and three roods at Forthwurn thorn). Moreover he has given them the service of six acres of land in the same territory which he gave to Henry his brother, and the service of three acres which he gave to Adel' his sister. To have and to hold to the Canons, with the said toft and croft, and with the meadows, pastures, and marshes and all the appurt., for ever, doing only foreign service to the lords of the fee as belongs to so much land of the same fee in that vill. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., William Russel, Alan son of Walter, John de Herlesay, William de Bretteby, John de Couton, Matthew of the bridge (de ponte), Robert de Boyuill, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Richard son of Henry de Schambard to his lords the Prior and Convent, of nine acres of land in the territory of Great Couton, which he held from them. GRANT by Avice Cambard, in widowhood, to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] or whomsoever brother Alexander de Dorset should wish to assign to, of half a bovate of land in Great Couton with the toft and croft which lies next (propinquius) to the toft of the nuns of Marric on the east side, namely the half of that bovate the other half (partem) of which the Prior¹ of Brid[lington] recovered by the King's writ de waranto, for the money which the said Prior and the Convent have given her in her great need, by the hand of the said brother Alexander; doing thence foreign service as belongs to so much land. She and her heirs will warrant, and acquit from all things which can fall on the land, by the said service; so that she and her heirs will not sell nor alienate the two bovates she has in Slengby whereby she might be the less able to warrant. Testimonium. Test., Hugh the clerk of Ledessan, William le Veror, Hugh de Holme, William the chamberlain (camerar'), Ro. at the spring (ad fontem), Robert de Boyuill, Richard the chaplain, J. de Couton sorcheles (sic), William Russell of Couton, John de Herlesay. Done at Holme (apud Holmum), the day of Saints John and Paul, 1237.

GRANT by Avice daughter of Alan de Chambard, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of a bovate of land in Great Couton, that namely which Walter son of Godwin sometime held from her father, with the toft and croft thereto belonging which Walter sometime held from her father. Moreover she has granted to the said Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, two tofts and one croft in the same Couton, namely that toft with croft which lies between the toft and croft which Ralph son of Silkewif sometime held from her, and the other toft which Accharias sometime held from her. All these things with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, she, Avice, unmarried, but in her free power and full health of body, has given in free, pure, and perpetual alms, (fo. 195) to be held from her and her heirs free and quit of all secular service and exaction. Warranty, and acquittance from customs, etc. Test., Conan son of Helias, Robert Sorkelous, Helias de Canbord, Ralph de Multon, Roger Braunche, Simon de Otringham, William de Selby, Henry Northyby. Alan son of William, Robert son of William.

FINE at York, Thursday before the feast of S^t Botulph, 15 Hen. III, between Thomas, Prior of Brid[lington], quer., and Serlo de Lengeby and Avice his wife, imp., by the same Serlo in the place of Avice to gain or lose, respecting a bovate of land with the appurt. in Couton, whence a plea of warrant of charter was summoned between them in the same Court ; namely that Serlo and Avice recognised the land with the appurt. to be the right of the Prior and his Church, to be held in free, pure, and perpetual alms, and they and the heirs of Avice will warrant to the Prior, his successors and Church, and acquit from all secular service. And the Prior received them and the heirs of Avice into all the benefits and prayers in his Church.

CONFIRMATION by William son of Robert Chambord to the Canons, of the donation which Avice daughter of Alan de Chambord made them, of a bovate of land of his fee in Great Couton, with the toft and croft thereto belonging ; and with two other tofts and one croft in the same Couton, with all the other appurt., etc., within and without the vill belonging to those lands as Avice's charter witnesses. Test., William de Percy and Robert his son, Walter de Bouington and William his son, Reginald de Capetoft, Alan de Multon, W. de Lekeburn, Ernald de Marton, Luke Siluer.

FINE at York, Thursday before the feast of S^t Botulph, 15 Hen. III, between Thomas, Prior of Bridelington, quer., and William de Bretteby and Avice his wife, John de Herleseya and Avice his wife, Simon de Blaunchel' and Matilda his wife, imp., respecting a bovate of land in Great Couton, whence a plea of warrant of charter was summoned between them in the same Court ; namely that the defendants (fo. 195^b) recognised the land with the appurt. to be the right of the Prior and his Church, as that which the Prior had by the gift of Elias Chambord, father of Avice, Avice, and Matilda, whose heirs they are ; to hold to the Prior and his successors and Church, in free, pure, and perpetual alms. The defendants, and the heirs of Avice, Avice, and Matilda, will warrant the land and acquit it from all secular service. And the Prior received the defendants into all the benefits and prayers in his Church.

CONFIRMATION by Hugh Phitun to the Canons, of four bovates of land in Great Couton, whereof Robert de Auford¹ sometime held one bovate, and Walter the cook (cocus) one bovate, and Robert Chambord held half a bovate, and Avice Chambord a bovate and a half. To have and to hold with the appurt. for ever, free and quit from all services and demands, doing only foreign service of scutage when it occurs, and for each bovate a penny three farthings yearly for fine of Wapentake and Castle-guard (custod' castri). The grantor also specially wills that the Canons be quit of suit of Court, homage, and relief, and all other service except foreign, as aforesaid. Warranty of this confirmation. Testimium. Test., Gregory the chaplain, Master J., parson of Smethton, Thomas de Anlaby, Alan son of Walter, Brian, Roger de Ask, Roger de Melsamby, T. AN Agreement made before the Dean and Sub-dean of York, between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] of the one part, and Sirs (dominos) Richard and Hugh Phitun, k^{ts}, of the other, respecting the tithes and the Chantry of the Chapel of S^t James in the parish of Great Couton. The said Richard and Hugh will henceforth pay all manner of tithes to the mother Church of Great Couton (which belongs to the Prior and Convent) and all other things belonging thereto according to the custom of the Province of Richmond; they also granted that their land of Couton shall pay all the third of the third (totam terciam tercię) according to the manner of the Province, but so that if the provincials of Richmond shall obtain from the Apostolic See immunity from payment of the third of the third, then the said knights and their successors shall be free from that payment notwithstanding this agreement. The said knights and their heirs may have, at their own costs, a free Chantry in their Chapel of Couton, and maintain a chaplain to celebrate there, without hindrance or disturbance, such chaplain receiving nothing of the things which come to the said Chapel for his own use except on three solemn feasts yearly, at each a penny if more than a penny is received at that feast—namely at Christmas, Easter, and the feast of S^t James Apostle, but if not more than a penny is received he shall have nothing; and the Proctor of the mother Church shall receive all the residue of whatever comes to the Chapel, through the whole year. The chaplain ministering in the Chapel shall give sworn assurance before the Prior as to the indemnity of the mother Church. It ought also to be known before he is admitted about his ordination, conversation, and faithfulness, and if he is not fitting he should not be admitted. Also if the chaplain for the time being has been convicted by trustworthy men of having taken anything which belongs to the mother Church or done anything in fraud against that Church, it must be declared to the said knights or their heirs, and if he be removed they must appoint another fit person within fifteen days or the services at the Chapel must cease until such a person is found and presented or the same chaplain remains, security being given that thereafter he will not commit offence. The said knights also grant that the Prior and Convent shall receive the tithes of turves (fo. 198^b) from all their men, they themselves and their heirs being free of tithes of turf from their demesne turbary, until their co-provincials pay them. Whenever the said knights or their heirs knowingly transgress against the aforesaid, to the prejudice of the said Church or the Prior and Convent, and shall have been convicted thereof by trustworthy men, all or some one of them shall give two marks of silver as penalty, one to the nuns of Mark¹ and the other to the nuns of Ellerton, and shall nevertheless make satisfaction both for principal and for damages and expenses, without difficulty. That either party may not at any time infringe this agreement, they have subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Dean and Sub-dean of York or either of them, to compel observance by ecclesiastical censure, renouncing appeal and Royal prohibition. The Prior and Convent will pay the same penalty of two marks to the said nuns if they do anything in fraud of the said chantry against the said knights or their heirs, and have been convicted by trustworthy men. The seals of the Dean and Sub-dean and of the parties are hereto appended. Done in the year 1240, on Friday before Martinmas day, there being present Adam then chaplain of Couton, Master Richard de Beruill, Roger de Aske then clerk, Richard Phiton, Peter de Swaldal, and others.

RELLEASE and Quitclaim by John Phitun son of Dom. Edmund Phitun of Great Couton, to Gerard, Prior of Brid[lington] and the Convent, of all ferts, customs, possessions, lands, and tenements, of his fee in Great Couton, which they hold from him, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, quit of all fines of Wapentake, wardships, reliefs, suits of Court, and all secular services and demands whatsoever in any way belonging to him, whether of his gifts or his ancestors' or of others holding of his fee within the said vill or without. Scalleby.¹

GRANT by E. Fitz-John to the Canons, in alms, of the Church of Scalleby, with all belonging to it, as well in Chapels as in possessions and customs, with the assent of Turstin, Archbishop of York, who likewise in confirmation of the said donation caused the Canons to be seised thereof.

CONFIRMATION by King S[tephen] to the Canons, of the Church of Scalleby, with the Chapels and lands and all other things belonging to it; wherefore he commands that they may hold it well and peaceably, freely and quietly, as Eustace Fitz-John gave it to them. Test., Hugh de Say and Roger de Vescy, at Notingham.

DEED by Roger son of Edmund de Brinistoun, reciting that at Easter in the year 1231 he demised at ferm to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] a bovate of land with the toft and croft and appurt. in Scalleby, which lies between the two bovates which were William's, the chaplain, and the bovate which Ralph de Bolebech sometime held, and the toft which lies on the south side of that toft which Gilbert son of Godfrey sometime held, until they should have received ten full crops, as the chirograph made between the parties witnesses; he at Whitsuntide in the next year, namely 1232, gave the said bovate, with the toft and croft and appurt., to the Prior and Convent in free and perpetual alms, rendering thence twelve pence yearly,² as the charter which he gave them witnesses. And because he had not that part of the chirograph made between them at the time, sealed with the seal of the Prior and Convent, which had remained with him and which he ought to have returned to them, lest anyone by that chirograph, if in course of time it should be found, should make any claim on the property, he has renounced it, with all its contents, for ever. Testimonium. Test., William, steward (senescallo) of Witeby, Ralph son of Ralph de Hollebech, Adam Haldayn, Robert de Redenesse, H. de Flixton, Robert de Morpath, Adam Buscel, Robert de Clocton, clerk, William de Hat'berg.

GRANT and Quitclaim by Reyner de Scalleby and Milisand his wife, to the Prior and Convent, of a toft in the vill of Scalleby, that namely which was William de Maram's, father of Milisand, lying between the toft of Alexander son of Amfr' and that toft which William Braidharing sometime held, for the money which the Prior and Convent have given them in their great need. To hold from the King, as freely and by the same service as William ad Maram and Milisand his daughter held, namely for fourpence yearly for all services and secular demands, at ferm of the King. (Fo. 200^b.) Warranty. Test., Richard de Curcū then bailiff and Constable of Scardeburg, Adam son of Haldayn, Henry de Flixton, T. de Lincoln, Geoffrey the clerk of Clocton, William son of Ēva, Robert de Morpathe, John de Thorneton, Adam Buscel, Alan Egeram.

A¹ MEMORANDUM of arrangement between R., Prior, and the Convent of Brid[lington] and William the chaplain of Scalleby. The Prior and Convent have granted to William by deed, in alms, the third part of the Church obventions in the parish of Scalleby, except the tithes of their demesne and except the tithes and obventions of the parishioners of the vill of Clocton from whom William is to receive nothing for corpse presents or oblations, except the mass penny, and except the third part of the offering on the day of S^t Laurence. He (William) is to have all the collection (manualem elemosinam), and he will bear all Church burdens except the aid of the Archbishop, of which when it occurs he is only to pay a third. He will serve the Church in all things as is required from a priest, and similarly the Chapel of Briniston, and will receive the Prior with his company (cum suo Comitatu) in the Guest-house (in hospicio) once a year. These things have been granted to him as long as he shall live honestly and bear himself faithfully towards the Prior and Convent. Test., Master Robert de Bridl[ington], Richard and William, chaplains, Ernald de Marton, Ernald de Bucton.

A^N Arrangement between the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] of the one part and the proctor of the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux, to whom the Church of Scardeburg is appropriated, of the other, before the Official of the Archdeacon of the East Riding, respecting the claim (petitionem) of certain tithes of sheep (bidentibus) of certain parishioners of Scardeburg, which feed in the parish of Scalleby part of the year; it is thus arranged between brother Dominic, proctor for the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux, and Henry the clerk, proctor for the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], that the expenses of this suit shall be altogether remitted, and that the said brother Dominic shall restore to the Prior and Convent of Bridlington half of the tithes of the sheep (ex bidentibus) of John Lindeberg of Scardeburg, Thomas son of Matilda and William his brother of Wallesgraue, which moiety has been retained by him (Dominic) and brother Robert, his co-proctor, from Easter, 1281, to the date of these presents. If sheep or any other animals of whatever parishioners of Scardeburg shall feed in the parish of Scalleby for half the year and shall lie elsewhere (alibi iacuerint), henceforth the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], in right of their Church of Scalleby, shall receive half the tithes of such sheep or animals, and if for less time, tithes for that proportion, upon the oath of those having animals there and paying the tithes. The seals of the parties are affixed, together with the seal of the Deanery (decanatus) (fo. 201) of Dikering. At Scardeburg, the day of the Apostles Simon and Jude, 1281.

AN Agreement made on Tuesday before the behéading of S^t John Baptist, 1225, between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] and the Prior and Brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem in England, namely that the Prior of the Hospital and his successors shall hold all lands cultivated at that day enclosed with wall, fosse, or fence (haya) within their bounds of Staynton without claim of the Prior and Convent, but shall not henceforth cultivate or enclose any land without the assent of the Prior and Convent; and if any animals of the said Prior shall go across the fosse of the cultivated land of the Prior and Brethren of Stainton they shall be reasonably taken and reasonably released. The animals of the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] by the number contained in their charters, with those of the Prior and Brethren of Staynton within their bounds,¹ as well in Dernecliue as elsewhere beyond their fencing, saving to them the free common of their animals belonging to the Church and Chapels of Scalleby, and hereafter they shall fence nothing in, in their pasture, without the assent of the Prior and Convent. It shall be permitted to the Prior and Convent in each third year to remove their vaccary to a suitable place if they wish, and to make an enclosure (clausuram) beside it for enclosing their animals, so that the vaccary and enclosure may contain only an acre of land. The Prior and Convent shall have timber and thatch of fern and other necessaries for the vaccary, and fuel (focalium) in their wood. Both parties have promised to observe this agreement faithfully, and have sworn by their trusty men Richard Arundel and Robert de Redenesse, and if either party departs from the arrangement it shall pay as penalty ten marks to the Church of S^t Peter, and shall nevertheless fully account for damages.

JUDGMENT by Priors C. of S^t Mary and V. of S^t Andrew, and Master G., Penitentiary of York, Commissioners appointed by the Pope, Honorius III, on 3rd Nones March, in his 4th year, to settle a dispute between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] and the Brethren of the Hospital of Stainton and certain other men of the Diocese of York. (Fo. 201^b.) The Commissioners order that the Prior and Convent shall peaceably possess and hold their vaccary of Haibrunne, as they were accustomed and ought, and shall receive all tithes and other things belonging to them by reason of the Church of Scalleby from the servants of the Brethren; saving the privileges granted by the Apostolic See. Seals of the Commissioners and the parties.

CONFIRMATION by U., earl of York,² to the Canons, of pasture in Haiburnia as well and freely as they had it in the time of Walter de Gaunt. Test., Hubert son of Simon, Ralph the butler (pincerna), Roger de Aula, Matthew the clerk, R. King (rege).

IN the year 1262, at the feast of S^t Luke, the Prior and Brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem in England granted to the Prior and Canons of Brid[lington], that they might have and hold for ever, their vaccary with the close, which (quam) they previously had in the moor of Stainton beside (iuxta) Haibur', with an addition of a plot of ground on the east side of the ancient fence (haye) of the said close, extending in length by a certain stream (siketum) towards the east as far as the great gill (giletum) called Staindikgrip, and in width from the said small stream towards the south as far as Haiburnebec; so that they may enclose such addition with the ancient close in any way they like; and may have sufficient fuel (focalium) from the wood of Stainton by the view of the master of Stainton or his forester, for burning in the said vaccary, so that it be not maliciously denied them, and thatch of fern and other things growing, for the vaccary, and stone for the walls of the close and vaccary. And they may have all their animals pasturing with those of the Prior and Brethren within the bounds of Stainton, in Derneclieue and elsewhere outside the enclosures, as they had before. The Prior and Canons have granted to the Prior and Brethren a carucate of land to essart in the said moor, around the old Herdewik, which was formerly the Prior and Convent's, according to the estimation of the country of the acres belonging to a carucate, which they may plough and enclose as they like, but shall henceforth make no other enclosure without the assent of the Prior and Canons, whose animals, if they shall go across the closes of the Prior and Brethren, shall be reasonably taken and, any damage being made good, reasonably restored. Henceforward the Prior and Canons may not remove the vaccary outside the said close, within the bounds of Stainton. Moreover they have granted that all the servants of the Prior and Brethren of Stainton be free from all ecclesiastical tithes and demands belonging to the Church of Scalleby, except their parishioners who were born and may be born in the parish of (fo. 202) Scalleby, and all other men who have their own and fixed domicile or cultivated land in the said parish, so that they who shall have rented any cultivated land within the bounds of the parish of Scalleby for the term of life or of ten years and upwards shall pay all tithes belonging to the Church of Scalleby; those who have rented any cultivated land for a less term shall give tithes of sheaves and animals if they have any in pasture and shall be quit of other tithes. Mutual seals to the different parts of this deed, in witness. Test., Brother William Erleya, brother J. de Merlawe, brother Gilbert Picot, brother Philip de Collam, brother Richard Marshall, brother Richard de Manneby, brethren of the said Hospital, Ralph de Ebor., J. de Ketelby, Peter de Clairol, W. de Lanthorp, and H. de Beu', Canons of Brid[lington].

I N the year 1231, the day of St Swithin, before Robert de Lisington, and Master Robert de Sergeslawe, Justices itinerant,¹ then at Witeby, this Agreement was made between Roger then Abbot of Witeby and Thomas, Prior of Brid[lington], by licence. The Prior quitclaimed all common of pasture which he claimed against the Abbot in Hakenesse, Silfhou, Southfeld, as belonging to his free tenement of Scalleby, Briniston, Clocton; and the Abbot granted to the Prior and his successors common of pasture from the Prior's vaccary in Haiburne as far as Kesebec and Hellewath for fifty cows with their young of three years, so that they may feed in the said pasture without custody to those bounds and no further; and the keeper may not follow to take care of them, but he may enter the pasture to bring them out, and if they are feeding with a keeper the Abbot may impound them. Reserving to the said Abbot the lands broken up, the closes and meadows made before the date of this agreement, and likewise 500 acres within the said bounds which he may enclose and cultivate to his profit, but so that the said cows have free ingress and egress to and from the pasture. The Prior may also have twenty unbroken mares with their young of three years to pasture within and beyond the said bounds. This common of pasture the Abbot has granted to the Prior and his successors for ever, rendering yearly to the Abbot and his successors a pound of wax and a pound of free incense (liberi incensi) at Witteby on the day of S^t Hilda in autumn, for all service. The Abbot is to have full liberty to essart, break up, and enclose in all the pasture from the said bounds of Kesebec and Hellewath to Mirkesk and Lithebec, notwithstanding the common which the Abbot has granted for the said mares. All disputes between them respecting the said pasture are thus settled and all damages released. Mutual seals.

On Christmas-day and at Easter and the feast of S^t Laurence, the men of Briniston shall attend the mother Church of Scalleby to hear divine service, but on each day of Easter morning mass shall be celebrated in the chapel of Briniston where the young and the infirm shall attend to hear mass and receive the sacrament. [That which]¹ the said parishioners were accustomed to pay to the said mother Church, they shall pay in full for ever. That the vicar and his successors may be able better and more decently (honestius) to maintain the said chantry, the men of Briniston have granted to them twenty-three shillings and four pence yearly to be paid to them for ever at the four terms, namely within the octaves of Christmas and Easter and St John Baptist five shillings and ten pence [each],² and if such payment is not made the vicars and their chaplains shall cease service until they have been satisfied. The men of Briniston shall maintain the fabric of the said Chapel at their own expense, and shall find for the chaplains ministering there a chalice, ornaments, and all things necessary for celebrating. The parties have taken oath to observe this arrangement faithfully, and have subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Archdeacon of the Estriding for the time being, renouncing legal remedy, so that he may compel them by ecclesiastical censure to observance of this arrangement, if they should venture to go against it in any way. Also the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] have promised the men of Briniston that they will assist them to obtain the chantry from the vicar or his successors if in this matter they should wish to oppose them in any way. In witness, the seals of the parties and, at their request, of the Prior and Convent have been affixed hereto.

AN Agreement made on St Swithin's day, 1244, between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] of the one part and the men of Briniston of the other, namely that for the sake of peace the Prior and Convent will find, so long as Henry, vicar of Scalleby, shall hold the vicariate, a chaplain who shall personally reside at the Chapel of Briniston, and shall serve the Chapel and the said men in divine offices, to wit, mass and the divine office of the feast on feast days, and on other days at the desire of the Prior and Convent to celebrate mass for the faithful, unless the same vicar can be induced or compelled by law by the Prior and Convent (fo. 204^b) and the said men, to discharge the duty as his predecessors (antecessores) were accustomed. The said men are bound to give the Prior and Convent thirty shillings sterling yearly towards the support of the said Chaplain, and the men are to bear all burdens of the said Chapel, and to provide all things needful for celebrating, chalice, vestments, ornaments of the altar, wax, and all things except bread (hostiis) and wine, for which, at their own charges, they shall send to Bridelington. Moreover, the men will find a fitting house in the same vill for the chaplain; also that on three days in the year, namely at Christmas, Easter, and St Laurence's day, they will visit the mother Church at Scalleby, there to hear divine service, and receive the sacrament. This agreement is made saving the indemnity and right of the mother Church in all things, and saving the right of either party, namely whatsoever right the Prior and Convent may have against the aforesaid vicar or future vicars, and similarly to the said men against the vicars. If the successor of the said H., who shall be vicar for the time being, shall refuse to undertake the burden of the chantry, the Prior and Convent shall do their best to induce him to undertake it, and if they do not succeed and the chantry is unused (cessante cantaria) the payment of thirty shillings shall also cease. In witness, at the request of the parties, Master S. de Ecclefeud, official of the lord [Archbishop] of York, has caused his seal to be affixed hereto, together with their seals.

manner,—the said monks (full restitution having been made to them, in recognition of their right, of the said tithes which the Canons had caused to be carried away from the said meadow) granted and demised to the Canons, as fermors, the tithes of hay in the said meadow, for sixteen pence to be paid to them yearly by the Canons in Whitweek at Twinlinge, so long as the monks shall cultivate the land to which the said meadow belongs at their own charges, and if such rent be not duly paid the monks shall take the tithes of hay in the said meadow without hindrance by the Canons. If the monks shall demise the land to monks of the Cistercian Order, the right of each party shall be preserved (salvum), but they may come to a mutual arrangement if they see fit; but if any other than of that Order hold the land from the monks at ferm, they shall pay the full tithes of hay to the Canons, and the Canons in the meantime shall pay no part of the sixteen pence to the monks. That this arrangement may remain firm and stable the parties have subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Abbot of Meaux and the Prior of Kirkham, to compel observance. The seals of the Commissioners and of the parties are appended.

Attingwik.¹

AGREEMENT, made before the Priors of Malton, Kirkham, and Marton, appointed by the Pope to settle a dispute between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] of the one part, and R. Testard, Vicar of Attingwik, of the other, respecting the tithes of hay of the parish of Attingwik; the parties appearing before the said Commissioners (the Prior and Convent by brother Warin, their Proctor and brother canon, and the said R. personally) on Saturday after the feast of S^t Laurence, 1228, at Malton, in the Chapel of S^t Michael, it was thus arranged by mutual consent,—the said R. Testard to receive tithes of hay in those lands from which before that day he had received tithes of sheaves, and he quitclaimed to the Prior and Convent for ever all other tithes of hay within the bounds of the parish of Attingwik; and he swore to observe this faithfully, under penalty of a hundred shillings to the Prior and Convent as often as he should transgress. Seals of the Commissioners and Vicar.

QUITCLAIM by Robert Testard, Vicar of Attingwik, to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], of all right in the tithes of hay from all their lands within the bounds of the parish of the Church of Attingwik, retaining to himself the tithes of hay in that parish from lands from which he receives [tithes of] sheaves. Sigillum. He has sworn on the Gospels to observe all the things aforesaid, under penalty of a hundred shillings as often as he transgresses,—such penalty being paid, this deed nevertheless to remain in force. Done in the Chapter of Bridel[ington], 30 July, 1228, before Gregory de Brid[lington], Benedict de Flainburg, and Simon de Attingwik, chaplains, Master Alan de Cestria, Robert the porter (portar'), Richard de Irton, H. of the spinney (de spineto), H. the cook (coco), W. the chamberlain (camerar'), and others called to witness.

AGREEMENT in settlement of a dispute between G., Prior, and the Convent of Bridel[ington] of the one part, and the Abbot and Convent of Meaux (Melsa) of the other, respecting certain tithes of hay at Erghum in Holderness, in the parish of Attingwik, which the said Canons were demanding from the monks by reason of the parish Church of Attingwik; the Abbot and Convent agree to pay the Prior and Convent yearly for ever sixteen pence on the day of S^t Andrew Apostle at Attingwik, for the tithe of hay of eleven bovates of land which on the day of these presents they had in the vill of Erghum, and if they should hereafter acquire other lands or meadows in the said parish they shall pay to the said mother Church of Attingwik (fo. 236) tithes thereon, as parishioners of that Church. Mutual seals in witness. At Brid[lington], the eve of All Saints, 1277.

Skirlington.

CONFIRMATION by Emeline, formerly wife of Gilbert de Skirlington, to the Canons, of that carucate of land in Skirlington, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, which Simon her father gave them. She has also quitclaimed the yearly rent of five shillings which they were accustomed to pay her and her ancestors for that land. Warranty, and acquittance from secular services, etc. She and Ralph her son and her have sworn to faithfully observe this. Test., Richard and Osbert, chaplains, Stephen and Richard, deacons, Master Gilbert de Brid[lington], William de Skures, William de Lekburne, Luke Siluer, Thomas de Buthum, Ralph de Flaynburg, Hugh de Speton and Alan his brother.

A SIMILAR confirmation of the same land and quitclaim of five shillings rent, to the Canons, by Ralph son of Gilbert de Skirlington and of Emeline. The same witnesses.²

(Fo. 237)

QUITCLAIM by Gilbert de Skirlington and Emma his wife and their heirs, to William de Thorp and his heirs, in the Court of the Abbot of York and Wapentake of Holdernesse, of that half carucate of land in Torp which belonged to his (William's) ancestors, which Gilbert and his wife claimed against him, and they will warrant this land to William and his heirs against all men. In exchange, William de Thorpe and his heirs have given Gilbert and Emma and their heirs, in the Court of the Abbot of York, two bovates in Skirlington, namely the two most northerly of that half carucate which he (William) holds from Isaac the clerk, in Skirlington, and he and his heirs will warrant them to Gilbert and Emma and their heirs; and they are to pay William and his heirs two shillings and sixpence yearly.

At Brid[lington], the morrow of Epiphany, 1251.

GRANT by Walter de Sywardeby, son of Robert Fleming, and Leticia his wife, to the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of a bovate of land in the territory of Skirlington, with half of a toft in the same vill, and all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill; namely one of the two bovates which Gilbert de Skirlington gave (fo. 238) to Norman de Besingby with Alice his daughter in marriage, and which lies beside the land of the said Canons towards the sea on one side of the vill, lies between the land of Rose de Oustwik and the land of the Canons of Newburgh.¹ To hold to them or their assigns for ever, freely from all services, etc., with the said toft (sic) (which entire toft belongs to those two bovates of land which the said G. gave to Norman with Alice his daughter, and which lies between the toft of the Canons of Newburgh and the toft of Ralph de Skirlington), saving the service to the said Ralph de Skirlington, namely fifteen pence yearly, and doing foreign service to this said Ralph as belongs to a bovate of land where forty-eight carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. Testimonium. Witnesses as in the last charter but one.²

CONFIRMATION by Cecilia and Leticia, daughters of Norman de Skirlington, to the Canons, of two bovates of land in the territory of Skirlington, with a toft in the same vill, with all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill; those two bovates which Norman de Besingby, the grantors' father, received in marriage with Alice, their mother, and which lie, etc. (description as in the last deed but two as far as "the land of the Canons of Newburgh"). To have and to hold to them and their assigns freely, etc. from all services, etc., with the said toft, which toft belongs to the said two bovates and lies between the toft of the Canons of Newburgh and the toft of Ralph de Skirlington; saving the service to the said Ralph de Skirlington, namely two shillings and six pence yearly, and doing foreign service to the said Ralph or the lord of the fee, as belongs to two bovates of land where forty-eight carucates make a knight's fee. Warranty. They (Cecilia and Leticia) have sworn never to raise any question against the Canons whereby the peaceable holding of the property may be impaired, and they have subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Dean and Chapter of York, under penalty of five marks, that the Dean and Chapter may have full power of punishing them if they should in any way transgress this gift. Testimonium. Test., Ernald de Bucton, William his son, Luke Siluer, Robert de Redenesse, Richard de Irton, Baldric the clerk, J. de Rudstain the clerk, Thomas the merchant (mercator) of Brid[lington].

CONFIRMATION by Ralph de Skirlington son of Gilbert de Skirlington (fo. 238^b) to the Canons, of the two bovates of land in the territory of Skirlingt[on] which are of his fee, and which Leticia and Cecilia, daughters of Norman and Alice de Skirlington, gave. To have and to hold to the Canons or their assigns for ever, with a toft in the same vill, and all the other appurt., within and without the vill, freely, etc. from all exactions and demands by him or his heirs, rendering to them yearly two shillings and six pence, and doing to him or to the lord of the fee foreign service (as in the previous deed). Warranty against other services. Testimonium. Test., Ernald de Bucton, W. his son, Robert de Vlram, Stephen de Besingby, Luke Siluer, Richard de Irton, Baldric the clerk, J. de Rudstain, clerk, Thomas the merchant (mercator) of Bridlington.

ANOTHER confirmation (dated 13th Cal. March, 1228) by Ralph de Skirlington son of Gilbert de Skirlington to the Prior and Convent or their assigns, of two bovates of land in the territory of Skirlington, and a toft which lies beside (iuxta) the haugh (haugam) of Skirlington,—those two bovates namely with toft which Gilbert his father sometime gave to Norman de Besingby with Alice his daughter, with all the appurt.; namely those [bovates] which lie beside the land of the said Canons towards the sea on one side of the vill, and on the other side lie beside (iuxta) the land of Rose de Oustwik and the land of the Canons of Newburgh. To have and to hold to [them]¹ or their assigns for ever, free, etc. from all secular service and demand, both from him and from others, so that he and his heirs will warrant the property against the Earl of Albemarle and all others, as well from foreign [service] as from scutage and all other things which may fall, and if the Prior and Convent or their assigns, by law process or otherwise, should lose the property or any part thereof, he and his heirs will forthwith make them an exchange from their best land in Skirlington to the value, with any damages incurred. Testimonium. Test., Gregory the chaplain, Walter de Marton, Luke Siluer, Gilbert his son, R. de Redenese, J. de Rudstayn, clerk, Alan de Rudstayn, William de Besingby.

GRANT by Simon de Skirlingt[on] to William de Otringham, of two bovates of land in Skirlington, (fo. 239) to him and his heirs from the grantor and his heirs, freely, etc.; to be held by the same service by which the grantor holds his land from the Earl, and similarly he, Simon, and Eremburc his wife have granted to the said W. and his heirs two bovates of land in Rimeswell, freely, etc., by the same service by which they hold them from the Earl. Test., Robert de Vlram, Gilbert de Cauz, Adam de Castell, Walter le Burgeumv', Bartholomew de Oustwik, Odo de Museton, Richard Marescot, Peter the clerk.

GRANT by William de Otringham to Bartholomew son of Matthew de Oustwik, of two bovates of land in Skirlington, for his homage and service; to him and his heirs from the grantor and his heirs, to be held as freely, etc., as the grantor holds them from Simon de Skirlington, and by the same service, doing thence only foreign service. Test., Warin de Campania, Ralph de Otringham, Simon son of William, Peter Blund, W. son of Simon, Richard Marescot, Nicholas Little (paruo), William le Burgeumv', Peter the clerk, Robert Great (magno), Herbert son of Auger de Nehus, John de Oketon, John de Lascels.

GRANT by Agnes and Rose, daughters of Matthew de Oustewik, with the assent of Matthew their brother, of Oustwik, to Stephen their nephew (nepoti), son of Benedict de Oustwik, for the money which he has given them, of two bovates of land in the territory of Skirlington, with the toft which Richard Dean (decanus) held, and all the other appurt., within the vill and without; those two bovates namely which William de Otringham gave to Bartholomew their brother for his homage and service. To have and to hold to the grantee, his heirs and assigns, for ever, from John de Lascels and his heirs, freely, etc., doing only foreign service to the said J. de Lascels

QUITCLAIM by Matthew de Oustwik to Stephen his nephew (nepoti), of all right and claim in the two bovates of land in Skirlington, with the appurt., which Agnes and Rose his (Matthew's) sisters conveyed to Stephen. Witnesses as in the preceding deed.

GRANT by Stephen son of Benedict de Oustwik to Ralph de Skirlington, of two bovates of land in the territory of Skirlington; those which he (Stephen) bought from Rose, his aunt,¹ with the toft which she sometime held in the same vill. To hold and to have to the grantee and his heirs from the grantor and his heirs, free from all secular service and demand; doing foreign service as belongs to two bovates of land where forty-eight carucates (fo. 239^b) make a knight's fee. Warranty. Test., Adam de Thorn, Saer de Sutton, Geoffrey de Friboys, J. de Risum, Alan de Danetorp, Hugh de Arcy, Michael his brother, Matthew de Oustwik, Robert the butler (pincerna), and others.

GRANT by Ralph de Skirlington to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of ten bovates of land in Skirlington, with his capital messuage, garden, and great close, and all other appurt., etc., within and without the vill; namely those ten bovates whereof he held eight bovates in demesne, and two bovates which Stephen Calf sometime held. And moreover two tofts in the same vill, of which Stephen Stork held one and Martin Belle the other. He has likewise confirmed to the Canons fourteen bovates of land with the appurt. in the same vill, namely eight bovates which they have by the grant of Emeline de Skirlington, and two bovates with a toft which they have by the gift of Lecia and Cecilia, daughters of Norman de Besingby, and two bovates with half a toft, and with a croft, which they have by the conveyance (collacione) of the Prior and Convent of Newburgh (Nouo Burgo), and two bovates with a toft which were sometime Robert Clerk's (clerici). To have and to hold freely, etc. from all secular service, etc. Warranty of all the bovates, and acquittance from secular service, etc. Testimonium. Test., Walter de Grendal, Robert de Vlram, Stephen de Besyngby, Peter de Speton, Luke Siluer, Robert de Redenesse, Robert de Bouingt[on], and others.

GRANT by Ralph de Skirlington to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of two bovates of land in the field of Skirlingt[on], with the toft which lies next (propinquius) to the toft of the Canons towards the south beside the road; those two bovates namely which Michael Darcy sometime held from the grantor, for which he (the grantor) gave him in exchange those two bovates which Stephen Calf sometime held and gave to the same Canons, and which lie next (propinquius) towards the north on either side of the vill to the carucate of land which Herbert de Skirlington

ANOTHER similar grant to the Canons, of the same property, by William de Oyry and Helewise his wife. Same witnesses as in the last deed but one.

CONFIRMATION by Ralph de Skirlington to the Canons, of the preceding grant by William and Helewise, with warranty. Sigillum. The same witnesses, with the exception of W. Constable.

FINE at Nottingham, the Morrow of Trinity, (fo. 242) 16 Hen. III, between Thomas, Prior of Bridel[ington], quer., and William de Oyry and Helewise his wife, imp., respecting two bovates of land with the appurt. in Skirlington, whence a plea of warrant was summoned between them in the same Court, namely that William and Helewise recognised all the said land with the appurt. to be the right of the Prior and his Church, as that which he has by the gift of William and Helewise; to have and to hold to the Prior and his successors and Church from them and the heirs of Helewise, in pure and perpetual alms, free from secular service, etc., for ever, and William and Helewise and the heirs of Helewise will warrant for ever. And the Prior received them and the said heirs into all the benefits of the said Church henceforward.

QUITCLAIM by Agnes de Wathsand, in her widowhood, to the Canons, of all right and claim in two carucates of land with the appurt. in Skirlington, respecting which she sued the Prior of Brid[lington] in the Wapentake of Holderness by writ of right of the King. Lest she should at any time be able to contravene this quitclaim, by reason of the right which sometime she had in the said land, she has affixed her seal to this deed, with the seal of Ralph her son. Test., Walter de Grendal', Ingelram de Bouington, Arnald de Bucton, R. de Vlram, J. de Sywardeby, Stephen son of Benedict, William Cnuttel, and others.

QUITCLAIM by Ralph son of Agnes de Wathsand to the Canons, of all right and claim in two carucates of land with the appurt. in Skirlington, respecting which his mother Agnes, whose heir he is, sued the Prior in the County Court (Comitatu) of York by the King's writ of right. ³ There are some slight differences, due to careless copying. The eighth, ninth, and eleventh names are entered in this deed respectively as T. son of Grosse, H. de Spet[on], W. de Forent'.

FINE¹ at Nottingham, the Morrow of Trinity, 16 Hen. III, (fo. 243) between T., Prior of Brid[lington], quer., and Ralph de Skirlington, imp., respecting ten bovates of land with the appurt. in Skirlingt[on], whence a plea of warrant of charter was summoned between them in the same Court; Ralph recognised all the said land with the appurt. to be the right of the Prior and his Church of Brid[lington], as that which the Prior has by the gift of the same Ralph, to have and to hold to the Prior and his successors and Church from Ralph and his heirs for ever, in pure and perpetual alms, free from secular service, etc., and Ralph and his heirs will warrant; and moreover they will warrant to the Prior, his successors and Church, fourteen bovates of land with the appurt. in the same vill, as pure and perpetual alms, namely eight bovates which the Prior and his Church have by the grant of Emeline de Skirlington, mother of the same Ralph, whose heir he is, and two bovates, with a toft, which they have by the gift of Lecia and Cecilia, daughters of Norman de Besingby, and two bovates, with the moiety of a toft, and one croft,² which they have by the gift of the Prior and Convent of Newburgh, and two bovates with a toft which were sometime Robert the clerk's. And the Prior received Ralph and his heirs into all the benefits of the Church of Brid[lington] henceforth.

(Column 2 commences with the following memorandum, in a different hand: "Memorandum that the bailiff of the Liberty of Holderness receives each year from the manor of Skirlington two shillings for Castelward, two shillings for Fines of Wapentake, and two shillings for Sherefgyld. Likewise the house of S^t Leonard's in York has yearly from the same manor two shillings, and the Convent of Bridlington has yearly towards the expenses of the Convent eighteen pence.")

CONFIRMATION³ by Martin de Burtona and Maisant his wife to Roger the clerk and his heirs or assigns, of a certain land in Beverley in the street of the fullers (fullonum), lying between the land of Ivo son of Henry and their (the grantors') lane (viculum), and having in width in front beside (iuxta) the road, thirty-five feet, and in length a hundred and thirty-eight feet, and in width towards the east fifty feet; which land the said Ivo bought from the grantors and gave to the said Roger for his service. With free entry and exit through the grantors' lane, from the street of the fullers to the said land. To hold to him and his heirs or assigns from the grantors and their heirs, in fee and inheritance, freely, etc., rendering to them yearly two shillings for all service, etc. Warranty. Test., John Crassus, Richard son of Henry, John son of Syward, Walter his brother, Robert de Dreuton, William son of Ivo, John son of John Crassus, Nicholas de Lutton, Turstin Little (paruo), John Feryinge, Robert de Richeant, William the dyer (tincore), Durand the baker (pistore), Turstin son of Adam, Geoffrey de Luci, Gregory Furnes, Jordan the clerk, and many others.

GRANT by E. de Munbeg[on] to the Canons of the Church of St Mary of Brid[lington], of the Church of Beforde, with the chapel and all things belonging to it, in perpetual alms, for the souls of his ancestors and the redemption of his sins, and for the health of his soul and the souls of all his ancestors (parentum) and friends. Test., Robert the chaplain, who was present at this donation and gave his assent, Master Gervase, William the chaplain of Beford, Alan the chaplain of Dutinton, Stephen de Erghum, William son of Tuold.

1157-

ALAN DE ROWELL, to all, etc. Know that I have granted and given and by testimony of the present charter confirmed to the Church of St Mary of Brid[lington] and the Church of St Mary of Torenton, and the Canons there serving God, in free and perpetual alms, six marks of silver to be paid yearly by the parson of the Church of Beford, half at the feast of St Andrew and half at the Nativity of St John Baptist. I have also granted that I and my heirs will present no clerk to the parsonage of the said Church until he has sworn to pay the said six marks to the afore-said Churches faithfully and fully. Moreover neither I nor any of my heirs will give the aforementioned Church of Bifordia to any Religious house except to the said Churches of Bridel[ington] and of Torent[on]. Witnesses, Master Robert, dean of Rowell, William White (Albo), Elias the priest (presbitero), Malger the deacon, Johel the deacon, Gregory the clerk, Henry de Besingby, W. Fillol, Serlo Talun, Simon de Gousl', W. de Clocton, Luke Siluer.

AGREEMENT between T. the Abbot and the Chapter of St Mary of Torent[on] on one side and the Canons of Brid[lington] on the other, respecting the Church of Beford, (fo. 244^b) which each claimed by the gift of Ewald de Munbeg', whereby between two Churches previously very friendly there had been for some years ill-will; to avoid litigation each is to enjoy a moiety of the proceeds (fructus). No witnesses.

AGREEMENT made before Alexander, Abbot of Meaux (Melsa), Robert, Prior of Watton, and Master Miles, Canon of Beverley, Commissioners appointed by Pope Innocent to adjudge in a cause between the Prior and Canons of Brid[lington], the Templars, and Master William Testard, Archdeacon of Nottingham, respecting the Church of Beford. The said Archdeacon, by authority of the Pope and the Commissioners, shall pay to the same Canons and the Templars two marks yearly in the name of pension from the Church, and they will raise no question respecting the Church during his life, but will warrant him in possession. The Commissioners confirm this arrangement. Seals of the Commissioners and the parties. Test., Master Hameric, Philip, R. de Beverley (Beu'l), Roger, Canon² of Beverley, Hugh Penna, Master Peter de Lekinfeld, Master Albin, Hugh son of the Earl.

CONFIRMATION by Walter, Archbishop of York, to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], of the yearly pension of one mark payable to them by the rector of the Church of Beford. At Cawod, 10th Cal. March, in the 39th year of his Pontificate.¹

FINE at Westminster, the Morrow of the Apostles Philip and James, 1 Joh., between Elias, Prior of Brid[lington], pet., and the Brethren of the Temple, ten., respecting the advowson of the Church of Beford; whence there was a plea between them in the same Court, namely that one moiety of the advowson of the said Church remains to the said Prior and his successors, and the other moiety remains to the said Brethren of the Temple.

(Fo. 245)

AGREEMENT between Brother Aimer[icus] and the Brethren of the Temple in England of the one part, who held the advowson of the Church of Beford when controversy was raised against them by the Canons of Brid[lington], respecting the same advowson, as in the chirograph made in the said² Court is contained, to wit, that a moiety of the said Church shall remain with the said Master and Brethren of the Temple and the other moiety with the said Canons, as in the Final Concord made in the King's Court between them is contained; and so the Templars and the Canons divide between them the two marks of silver which they receive from William, Archdeacon of Nottingham, in the name of pension, from the said Church, and whatever profit either side may on any occasion obtain, is to be divided between the Templars and the Canons. Mutual seals. Test., Dom. Richard, Abbot of Waltham, Master Walter de Beford, Master Nicholas the leech (medico), Master Robert de Bridel[ington], Master Nicholas de Weston, Hervey Lidell, William de Lekeburn, Peter de Speton, Simon de Boby, clerk, Simon de Strod', clerk, William the clerk.

CONFIRMATION by J. Abbot of Thorent[on] and the Convent, of the arrangement between Elias, Prior, and the Canons of Brid[lington] and the Brethren of the Temple, respecting the Church of Beford, which they will never question. Sigillum.

FINE at Westminster, in three weeks from Michaelmas, 33 Hen. III, between brother T., Prior of Brid[lington], quer., and brother T. de Claypol, his Canon, in his place to gain or lose, and brother Robert de Stainford, Master of the Temple in England, deforc., respecting the advowson of the Church of Beford, with the appurt., whence there was a plea between them in the same Court, namely that the Prior granted for himself, his successors and Church, that the said Master and his successors and Brethren, after the death of William de Caluerle, who was admitted to the said Church upon the presentation of the Prior and instituted therein, shall present their clerk to the said Church, without hindrance by the Prior and his successors, and after the death of the clerk so presented the Prior and his successors shall present their clerk without hindrance by the Master and his successors ; saving to the Prior and his successors and the Master and his successors the ancient pensions due from the said Church yearly. And so the parties shall present to the said Church alternately.

AGREEMENT made before Walter, Archbishop of York ; reciting that whereas the right and patronage of a moiety of the Church of Beford belongs to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] and of the other moiety to the Master and Brethren of the Temple, the same parties, when there was a vacancy, and when he (the Archbishop) (fo. 245^b) could not permit a partition (seccionem), confused their right by presenting different clerks ; lest this should occur again, it is amicably agreed between them before the Archbishop that when it happens that the said Church is vacant, they shall present to the whole Church alternately ; saving to the Prior and Convent and the Master and Brethren the pensions due from the said Church. And it is agreed that the Prior and Convent present to the whole Church this time, and they have presented William de Caluerlay, their clerk. The 9th Cal. June, 1249. The seals of the parties and of the Archbishop are affixed to this chirograph in witness.¹

CONFIRMATION of the preceding grant, by Peter son of Walter Picot. The same witnesses, with the exception of the eighth, tenth, and eleventh.

CONFIRMATION by John de Lascels to the Canons, of the grant of a bovate of land in the territory of Otringham by Walter son of Picot, with all the appurt., as his (Walter's) charter witnesses; saving foreign service to John and his heirs, as in the last charter but one. Test., Walter the chaplain, T. de marisco, Stephen son of Walo, Peter his brother, Alan son of Stephen son of Walo, William Martel, Jocelin de Suthferiby, R. the clerk of Humbelton, Richard de Verneyl, Walter the clerk of Hundmanby, and others.

CHARTER by John de Lascels to the Canons, recording the exchange of that bovate of land in Otringham which Peter son of Hermer held, and which lies next (propinquior) to the land of the said Canons to the south, for that bovate which Walter son of Picot sold to them. He,

John, will warrant to them the said exchange of the bovate of Peter so long as they can warrant to him (John) the bovate of Walter. If it should happen that neither he, John, nor the Canons can warrant the exchange, John will enter into a recognizance with regard to his bovate, and the Canons will enter into a recognizance with regard to their bovate. Test., Walter the chaplain, T. de marisco, Stephen son of Walo, Peter son of Walo, Alan son of Stephen son of Walo, William Martel, Jocelin de Sutheriby, Roger the clerk of Humbelton, Richard de Vernoyl, Walter the clerk of Hundmanby.

GRANT by Richard the clerk son of Walo de Otringh[am], (fo. 249) with the concession of Stephen his brother, to the Church of S^t Mary of Brid[lington] and the Canons, and the Church of S^t Wilfrid of Otringham, in free and perpetual alms, of one of his four bovates of land in Otringham, the one to the south, together with half an acre of land to make a toft in the moor beside (iuxta) the croft of Peter the elder (senioris), and all other appurt. within and without the vill. But the Canons shall do foreign service for the land, as much as belongs to one bovate of that fee. This donation he has made when the Canons received him to be made a Canon. Test., Robert the Chaplain and William the deacon of Otringham, Martin Martel, Stephen and Manser and Peter, the grantor's brothers, T. de marisco and Richard his son, Walter son of Pig[ot] and Stephen his brother, Peter son of Walter son of Pycot, Alan son of Stephen son of Walo, Ralph son of Roger and T. his son, Ingelram de Otringham, W. son of Saxo, Peter son of Peter.

CONFIRMATION by Alan son of Stephen son of Walo to the Canons of Brid[lington], of the grant made by Richard the clerk, his uncle (patruus), when he gave himself to be a Canon at Brid[lington], of a bovate of land in Otringham; namely half an acre of land in the moor to make a toft, from the eastern side of the toft of Peter the younger (junioris), and two selions upon Slettinghes which extend from Becdik to the bound of Winested on the south side of the culture of Hugh de Verli, and two selions which extend from Becbrig to Wik, and one selion which extends from the end of the croft which was Alan's towards Gunneremerskdik, and one selion which extends from the house which was Manasses', son of Thor, as far as Loggate, and two selions which extend from Humbercote as far as Mersk Neuland dik towards the west, and one colline (unum colling')¹ on the west side of Scarbodcroft, and two selions in Mersk croft which extend from the croft which was Peter the younger's (junioris) as far as Houedland, and two selions which extend from Swarthoued mar to the bound of Caingham upon (super) Blac mold, and two selions upon (super) Sandhil which extend from Houedland as far as Creston, and one selion upon Linhil which extends from the house which was William's, son of Margaret, as far as the market way (viam mercati), and upon the same Linhil one butt (unum but) which extends from the road to Blacmoldsik, with the meadow to that bovate appertaining on each side of the vill, and with all other appurt. within and without the vill, free and quit from all secular service, etc.; doing foreign service to the present confirmor and his heirs as belongs to one bovate of taining to them, in the fields of Otringham, in exchange for a selion and two butts in the same fields; namely those four selions which lie between the land of Arnald son of Thomas and the land of Robert son of Peter, and extend from the capital messuage of the said Prior and Convent as far as the headland (usque ad forevam) of the said Arnald, for the selion and two butts, which selion lies between the land of the Abbot of Thorneton and the land (fo. 255^b) of W. son of Agnes, and extends from the close of the said Richard Spiking as far as Blakmoldesik, and one butt lies between the land of Thomas de pratis and the land of Odelina the widow, and the other butt lies between the land of Alan Dyne and the land of Stephen Godwyne. To have and to hold freely, etc. from all secular services, etc., for ever. Richard and his heirs will warrant, and acquit from services, and the Prior and Convent will warrant as long as their donors warrant to them. Alternate seals of the parties to the two parts of this chirograph. Test., Arnald son of Thomas, W. de pratis, Vl briht son of Odelina, William son of Agnes, William Francisco.

CHIROGRAPH witnessing that whereas Master Richard de Otringham enfeoffed the Abbot and Convent of Meaux (Melsa) of all his lands and tenements in Otringham within the bounds of the parish of the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington], the Prior and Convent, considering and understanding that by such feoffment much damage to their Church of Otringham might arise by reason of the Apostolic privileges for exemption from tithes to the Abbot and Convent, had raised certain claims and questions against the said Abbot and Convent and Master Richard, which have been settled by a friendly agreement in this manner: the Abbot and Convent, by the appointment and ordinance of Master Richard as to his interest in a certain chantry which they are bound to sustain for the said tenements, have granted to the Prior and Convent and their successors the full tithes of all manner of sheaves and hay, from the said lands, to their mother Church of Otringham, and in place of the small tithes of wool, lambs, and forage (nutrimentis) of animals, or others whatsoever, they will give to the Prior and Convent (so long as the Church of Otringham remains appropriated to them) yearly seventy shillings sterling; but all the tenants they may have in future in the vill of Otringham shall pay the tithes, great and small, to the Church. Thereupon the Prior and Convent are to claim no other tithes from the aforesaid tenements, with their appurt., nor from the dower of the Lady Beatrice¹ when it shall have reverted. They have also granted (fo. 256) to the Abbot and Convent that they will not hinder the said Chantry in any way, and the Abbot and Convent undertake not to administer in the Chantry except with the license of the Prior and Convent, and not to receive and retain any oblations due to the Church, but will render and deliver such to the Prior and Convent or their Proctor, under oath of the person in charge there (custos). If they should receive any such oblations, or if the rent of seventy shillings should be in arrear, the Prior and Convent may distrain on fourteen bovates of land in the upper field, which the Abbot and Convent have of the gift of the said Master Richard and of the fee of the King, and on all the goods found there. If in course of time the Abbot and Convent should demise at fee farm to a secular all the lands which they have in the parish of the gift of Master Richard or a part of them, the rent of seventy shillings RECORD of a suit before Robert Belknap and his fellows, Justices, at Westminster, Hilary Term, 50 Edw. III.

Ebor. The Abbot of Meaux (Melsa) was summoned to answer to the Prior of Bridlyngton of a plea that he render to him £8 15s. od., the arrears of a yearly rent of seventy shillings owing, etc. The Prior, by William Haldan, his attorney, recites the foregoing composition respecting tithes in Otringham,² and produces the deed, and complains that notwithstanding the said deed the Abbot has not for 2½ years, though repeatedly applied to, paid the rent. The Abbot, by Thomas de Wilton, his attorney, says that after the former deed a subsequent deed was made by which the present Prior and Convent, after reciting the provisions of the previous one, granted for themselves and their successors that while the Abbot and Convent hold the lands and tenements in question conveyed to them by Master Richard within the parish of Otringham, in demesne, they shall pay the said rent yearly, but if they should demise the whole for term of life or of years, then for so long as the tenements are in the hands of such tenants the Abbot and Convent shall be quit of payment of the said rent, and the tenants shall pay full tithes to the Prior and Convent, due to their Church of Otringham, and if the Abbot and Convent shall, in good faith, alienate the premises or part of them, they shall similarly be exempt from payment of the rent proportionately; and this new deed (dated 30 Dec., 1375) was produced in Court. And the Abbot says that, saving to him and his successors all the advantage of the said deed and all and singular the conditions contained therein, he does not deny liability to pay the said rent. It is therefore adjudged that the Prior recover against the Abbot the said rent and the arrears, amounting to £12 5s. od., and the damages, which are taxed by the Justices at twenty shillings. And the Abbot in mercy.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by William son of Robert de Gousle, that he holds from his lords the Canons of Bridelington a bovate of land in Barwe, with all the appurt., within and without the vill; that bovate namely which Haco "largus" sometime held from the Canons; to be held from them in fee and inheritance, for forty pence, to be paid them yearly. William and his heirs will do all foreign service as belongs to the said bovate, and will acquit it of all customs and demands. If by force or law (vi uel ratione) he should lose the bovate, the Canons shall not give him or his heirs an exchange. Test., Ralph brother of the said William, Hog de Hedon, Ernald de Marton, William de Lekeburn, Luke Siluer, R. de Waltham.

FINE at Linc[oln], the morrow of the Purification B.M., 10 Edw. I, (fo. 266) between G., Prior of Brid[lington], quer., by brother Peter de Langetoft, his Canon, in his place to gain or lose, and Walter son of John de Gousle, deforc., respecting five marks which were in arrear to him of the yearly rent of forty pence which he owes him; whence a plea was between them in the same Court, namely that Walter recognised the said rent to be the right of the Prior and his Church of S.M. of Brid[lington], to be received yearly for ever at Barwe on Humber by the hands of Walter and his heirs, from one bovate of land with the appurt., which Walter held from the Prior in the said vill of Barwe on the day when this concord was made. And if Walter or his heirs should fail to pay the said pence at any term, it shall be lawful for the Prior and his successors to distrain on all chattels found on the said land, for full payment. For this recognition, etc., the Prior remitted and quitclaimed to Walter and his heirs all arrears and damages which he alleged he had by the detention of the rent, up to the day when this concord was made.

ARRANGEMENT between the monks of Bardenay and the Canons of Bridel[ington], respecting the tithes of the lordship (dominii) of Burton and Bamburg, made in the presence of Dom. H., Bishop of Linc[oln], at Linc[oln], in the greater Church of the B.M., in the year 1194, namely that the Canons have granted to the monks of Barden[ay] the tithes of sheaves from their demesne at Burton and from other demesnes, if they have acquired any, in the parish of Hundemanby, retaining there to their own use all other tithes of their demesne, and the monks have quit-claimed to the Canons whatever right they claimed in the tithes from the demesne of Walter de Gaunt at Edenham, and the Canons have granted to the monks for ever all tithes of sheaves of all the ancient demesne at Baumburg, and all tithes of fodder of animals of the chief lord at Baumburg, retaining to themselves all other tithes of all the parish. Mutual seals.

SETTLEMENT before Master W., Archdeacon of the East Riding, G., Precentor of York, M., Canon of York, under authority of letters of Pope Gregory IX, in the Cathedral at York, 6th Ides October, 1228, of a dispute between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] of the one part and the Abbot and Convent of Bard[ney] of the other, respecting the tithes of hay and flax at Bamburg from the ancient demesne of the same vill. The Canons granted to the monks half of the tithes of flax from the said ancient demesne, whether sown on arable land or meadow, so that the Canons receive the other half [of the tithe] of flax from the said demesne, and all the tithe of flax from the remaining part (fo. 269) of the whole parish, and all tithes of hay of the demesne and the whole parish. The monks shall henceforward receive nothing else from the said demesne or parish beyond the tithes of sheaves and fodder of animals, as is contained in another instrument made between them, and except the half of the said flax, as aforesaid. The parties have renounced all causes and controversies raised as well respecting the said tithes of Bamburg as respecting the thraves of St John of Beverley at Hundmanby and in the parish thereof. Moreover they have subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Archdeacon of the East Riding for the time being, privilege of law, exception, and appeal being renounced, both as to the said thraves and all other the aforesaid matters faithfully to be observed, the Archdeacon being empowered, if either party contravene this agreement, to compel observance by ecclesiastical severity, if necessary. The seals of the Commissioners and parties, in witness.

CERTIFICATE by Robert de Hard', Vice-archdeacon of Linc[oln], to the effect that when he was acting for the Archdeacon in the Church of Linc[oln], he found the Canons of Bridl[ington] in possession of the Church of Bamburgh in its entirety, but on account of an interpellation which had raised a question against them respecting certain portions of the said Church, he did not permit them to possess it altogether undisturbed until in the Church of Linc[oln], on a day appointed, they showed him sufficient and canonical proof, namely, the Holy Gospels being brought forward, and many priests and other sufficient persons swearing that the said Canons from the time when they acquired this Church had possessed it in its entirety, receiving thence all proceeds and obventions without abatement, placing chaplains there and removing them at their judgment; he, therefore, having full proof, has recognised their right to peaceable possession, saving always the dignity of the Church of Lincoln. Test., Ralph, Abbot of Bardeneya, Hugh, Abbot of Reuesby, Ralph, Abbot of Tupeholm, Lambert, Prior of Kime, Master Alexander the priest and Master Alexander Malebisse and Roger son of William, Canons of the Church of Lincoln, Roger, Canon of Kyme, William the Chaplain of Burrathe, Robert the Chaplain of Martun, Hugh the dean of Stratton, Ivo and William the chaplains of Bamburg, Thorald the clerk of Edlington, Hugh the clerk of Scamelesby, Baldwin the chaplain of S^t Peter's, Ralph the chaplain of Hosbernby.

Stretton.¹

QUITCLAIM by Hugh Brito, k^t (miles), to the Prior and Canons, of five acres of land, with the appurt., in the territory of Stretton, part of that land respecting which there was a case between them and him before Walter, then Archdeacon of the East Riding, Geoffrey, then Precentor of York, and Master Maurice, Canon of York, adjudicators delegated by the Pope; namely 2½ acres and half a perch on the east side of the vill of Stretton which lie in the place called Langeland, and on the west side of the same vill two acres and 1½ perches, of which half an acre and half a perch lie between the land of Walter le Franceys and the land of Robert Werbold, and four selions of seven perches lie between his (Hugh's) land and the land of Gocelin son of Warin. To have and to hold in free, pure, and perpetual alms, quit of all secular service, etc. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Dom. Richard, parson of Hatton, dean, Dom. R., chaplain of Edlington, H., chaplain of Bamburg, H., deacon of the same, Roger de Stretton, R. the smith (fabro) of the same, R. de Sotteby, H. de Edenham.

TO all to whom the present writing shall come, the Archdeacon of the East Riding (Estrid'), the Precentor of York, and Master Maurice, Canon of York (appointed by the Pope), greeting. The controversy between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] and H. Brito, k^t (militem), concerning the Chantry of the Chapel of Stretton and certain land in that vill belonging to the Church of Bamburg, was thus settled before us; namely that the said knight gave to God and the mother Church of Bamburg, in pure and perpetual alms, two acres and a half of land on either side of the vill of Stretton from the land claimed from the Prior and Convent, under this condition, that the said knight and his heirs shall have a priest (sacerdotem) ministering in the said Chapel whenever they will, at their own charges, who shall take oath to observe faith and reverence to the mother Church, so that the oblations and obventions and legacies, and all other things by common law belonging to the said Church it shall receive without diminution ; but so that the said priest shall admit the parishioners of the mother Church to divine offices in the said Chapel on Sundays and feast days, excepting that the said knight and his family shall attend at the mother Church on the four principal feasts, namely Christmas day, the Purification, Easter, and the feast of S^t Swithin, each year. Each priest, who is to administer in the said Chapel, shall first be presented to the Prior and Convent, who shall admit him upon the presentation of the said knight or his heirs, unless there be any canonical objection. If it happen that such priest commit any offence against the mother Church, and be convicted before the Prior or his proctor (the knight or his heirs being present if they choose), the Prior may, if satisfaction be not given, remove such priest and another fit one shall be substituted. (Fo. 270^b.) That this arrangement may be observed, the parties have subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Archdeacon of the East Riding and the Precentor of York for the time being, renouncing privilege of law and appeal, who may compel observance if necessary. The seals of the adjudicators and the parties appended hereto, the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin, 1228, at York.

Hemingby.¹

GRANT at ferm by G., Prior, and the Convent of Bulington, to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], of the mill of Hemingby, with all the appurt., which is situate beside the bridge of Hemingby. A SIMILAR quitclaim of the same property, by Joan, formerly wife of Robert de Pyncebek, in her widowhood, to the Prior and Convent, with the same restricted warranty and witnesses.

FINE at Linc[ohn] in fifteen days from Easter, 10 Edw. I, between Geoffrey, Prior of Brid[lington], quer., by brother Peter de Langetoft, his canon, in his place to gain or lose, and John de Reppes, Joan who was wife of Robert de Pincebek, John son of Constance, and Matilda who was wife of Roger de Fleteburg, deforc., respecting one messuage and forty acres of land, (fo. 273^b) with the appurt., in Holbech in Hoyland, whence a plea of agreement was summoned between them in the same Court, namely that the deforcians recognised the property, with the appurt., to be the right of the Prior and his Church of Brid[lington], and remitted and quitclaimed from themselves and their heirs, to the Prior and his successors and Church for ever. And for this recognition, etc., the Prior gave them a sparrow-hawk of a year.

DEMISE² at ferm by the Prior and Convent of Bridlington to Walter de Stikney and Matilda his wife, of all that their messuage, with the appurt., in the vill of Boston (Sancti Botulphi), as it lies between the messuages of the Prioress of Staynfeld and of the Abbot of Witeby on the south side, by the length of thirty-seven royal ells, and the messuage of Walter de Stikney on the north side, by the length of twenty-four royal ells, and abuts towards the east upon the bank (ripam) called Barredyke, and towards the west upon the messuages of the said Walter and of Christiana, who was the wife of Robert de Hole; and the said messuage of the Prior contains in width forty-four feet, by the royal ell (per ulnam regiam). To hold and to have the said messuage to Walter and Matilda from the Prior and Convent and their successors from Monday after the feast of S^t Martin in winter, 1343, for the term of thirty years then next following, rendering yearly to the grantors at the feast of S^t Botulph four shillings of silver. The grantees undertake at their own cost to repair in all things necessary all the buildings (domos) constructed in the said messuage, namely one hall (aulam) and two chambers (cameras), with two upper rooms (*solar*⁷) annexed to the said hall, one kitchen (coquina) and one stable, before Michaelmas next, under penalty, in default, of the grantors' re-entering. The grantees also undertake during the said term of thirty years to repair and maintain all the buildings and walls, and at the end of the term to restore them so repaired and maintained. And they further agree that whenever the Prior, his successors, or canons, or anyone on their behalf, come to Boston on the business of the House, they may stay at the buildings constructed in the said messuage, with their servants and horses. Warranty to the grantees during the said term. Seals of the parties to the alternate parts of this indenture. At Bridlyngton, Monday after the feast of S^t Martin, in the year abovenamed.

(Fo. 274)

INDENTURE made at Bridlyngton, 1 July, 1374, between the Prior and Convent of the one part and Robert Raton alias Gylote of Bostane of the other, witnessing that the Prior and Convent have granted and demised at ferm to Robert all that their messuage, with the appurt., in the vill of Boston (S^t Botulph's), which Walter Stikenay previously held from them. To hold and to have to Robert and his heirs from the date of these presents for the term of eighty years next following; rendering yearly to the grantors and their successors eight shillings sterling at the feast of S^t Botulph, Abbot. Covenant by Robert to maintain and repair all buildings (domos) and walls in the said messuage during the term, and at the end thereof to restore them so maintained. Power of re-entry in case of failure to pay rent. Alternate seals to the parts of this indenture. At Bridlyngton, the year and day abovesaid.

JUDGMENT by the Abbot of S^t Mary's, the Subdean, and the Treasurer of York, appointed by the Pope Gregory³ (by letters dated at Anagn[i], 4th Ides October, in the 6th year) to settle a dispute between the Prior and Convent of Bridl[ington], and the Prior of Spalding and others of York and Lincoln dioceses, respecting certain tithes and other matters. The Commissioners, at the instance of the Prior of Bridlington, caused the Prior of Mendham to be summoned to judgment respecting all the tithes which he and his monks were accustomed to receive from the third part of the demesne of Roger de Huntingfeld and his ancestors, in the vill of Suthorp, in sheaves, hay, and small tithes, it appeared to them (the Commissioners) chiefly by the admission of the defendants that the said tithes belonged to the Prior and Convent of Bridlington in right of their Church of Edenham, within whose limits the said demesne is situated, and they adjudged accordingly, the defendants assenting, it being provided that all costs, grievances, and damages, if any, brought before the Commissioners by either side should be mutually remitted. For the observance of all these things, the parties subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Commissioners and their successors, renouncing recourse of law, cavilling and exception; so that they (the Commissioners) or (fo. 276^b) their successors may be able to compel observance by ecclesiastical censure. DEED by brother T., Prior of Bridel[ington], and the Convent. Whereas Robert de Wilheby remitted and quitclaimed to us the service of that land which Benedict de Breyncurt sometime held in Witham, namely twenty-two shillings yearly, except six shillings and eight pence to be paid to him and his heirs yearly, we, for the special service (gratia) which the said Benedict did us respecting a certain (fo. 280) part of that land, have granted to Ralph de Breyncurt, brother of the same Benedict, who was sometime liable for (tenebatur) the said twenty-two shillings, that he, Ralph, and his heirs shall pay to us of the said twenty-two shillings only six shillings and eight pence yearly, retaining for themselves the remaining 15s. 4d. as far as we are concerned. The said Ralph, for himself and his heirs, has firmly undertaken to pay us the said six shillings and eight pence yearly for ever. Alternate seals of the Convent and Ralph in witness.

ASIMILAR remission by brother John, Prior of Bridel[ington], and the Convent, to the same Ralph, of the said part of the yearly rent. The wording is the same as in the last charter, except that the terms for payment of the 6s. 8d. by Ralph are Christmas and Easter, instead of S^t Peter ad vincula.

GRANT by Baldwin de Brenecurt, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of 19½ acres of arable land in the territory of Kareby, with all the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, namely in that field which is called Neuhaghe, and all his wood with the soil towards the south of Witham which is called Marithic, and contains twenty-eight acres, and 4½ acres of arable land, with the appurt., which abut upon the said wood towards the north. All the aforesaid, with the appurt., etc., within and without the vill, he has granted to the Canons, to have and to hold freely, etc., for ever. Warranty, and acquittance from all secular services, suit of Court, etc. Should the chief lords or others make any distraint in the land or wood, or other annoyance whereby the Canons incur loss or damage, the grantor and his heirs will satisfy them thereof without delay. (Fo. 285)

FINE at Linc[oln], Friday before the feast of S^t Barnabas Apostle, 1 Rich. (I), before the Justices of the King, the Abbot of Burg, H. Archdeacon of York, Ralph son of Stephen, G. son of Peter, Michael Belet, Richard de Pecco, John Kenteys, clerk of the Chancery, and other faithful of the King then present, between the Canons of Brid[lington] and Philip¹ son of Robert de Tatesal, respecting a certain grange and a toft in Witham which (qui) lies (iacet) between the toft of the said Canons and the toft of Robert son of Osbert; whence there was a plea between them in the King's Court, namely that Philip quitclaimed the said toft to the Canons in free and quit alms for ever; and for this quitclaim the Canons gave him three marks of silver.

IN the year 1234, on Sunday before the Purification B.M., it was proved by trustworthy men, sworn in the presence of the Dean of Belteslawe, then vicar of Witham, and the proctor of the Prior of Bridel[ington], that the third part of the tithes coming from the underwritten lands, situated within the bounds of the Church and parish of Witham, respecting which there was a dispute between the said [Prior]² and Vicar, belongs to the same vicar, namely from two acres at the moor, from one acre which is called Heuedlondes, from a rood and a half at Haskewelhil, from half an acre called Garebrod, from six selions containing half an acre upon Thurwardecliue, from 2½ acres upon Fullewellestede, from one rood abutting on Stocheng, from one acre beside the bridge of Lund, which abuts upon Fulwelleste and upon Stocheng, from three roods upon Tokeberg, from an acre which abuts upon Tokebergstan, from half an acre on the east side of Knapewell, also half an acre at Knapewelle which abuts upon Maindinwellsik, from half an acre which abuts upon Milnehil, from $1\frac{1}{2}$ [roods]¹ which abut upon the road of Lund and on the land of Torald, from one rood at the cross situated beside (iuxta) the garden of Robert Torpel, from half an acre at Milnehil, from one acre at Coldersthorkes, lying in two places, from a rood and a half at Coldestorthes, from one acre lying at the gates of the south mills (ad portas Suthmilnes), from one acre at Houthweit, from one rood which abuts upon Dudemanholm, from one rood which abuts upon the culture of Malger de Manthorp beside (iuxta) Dudemanhol[m], from $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres which lie beside the windmill of Wiham, from one acre which abuts upon the meadow called Littelkent, from one acre at Winyheg, from one acre called Baldewin-acre, from three roods beside Dalacre, from a rood and a half at the cross of Wluina, from an acre and a half in Thuitsunehah' in two places, from one rood at the moor, which abuts on the land of Henry Peuerel at Sinquerwelleng, from one acre at Toftes of the gift of Ralph de Brencurt, from one acre at Goshol[m] of the gift of John de Witham, from two acres at Sneith of the gift of Hugh de Toft, from one acre called Starheng of the gift of Alice Gunter, from one rood of the gift of Robert Pepperpok on Mare, from one rood of the gift of Geoffrey² de Burthorp at Houthweit, from one rood at the bridge of Lund of the gift of David de Witham, from three roods in Hellewricwra, from half an acre below Hellewithueit, from one acre beside (iuxta) the land of Doby de Witham.

Also from five acres in Littelhawe. Be it known also that from the following lands, namely from half an acre below Holm, from $1\frac{1}{2}$ roods upon Thurwardeclif, from $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres called Bremiwong, from an acre called Brockesakir, from $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres called (fo. 285^b) Riskiwong, from an acre and a half called Redewong and abutting upon the land of Gregory de Lund, from an acre and a half and a rood in Smalecroft in two places, from an acre and a half at Toftker, from sixteen acres in Heikilweng, and moreover from three cultures anciently given, namely Dicghawong, Scorteswong, and Hunthawhilwong,³ they say that no vicar received anything therefrom, and therefore they remain quit to the Prior and Convent.

IN the year 1235, when between Thomas the chaplain, vicar of Witham, of the one part, and the Prior and Canons of Brid[lington] of the other, there was a dispute respecting the third part of the tithe which the said vicar was demanding from certain lands situated within the bound of the parish of Witham which the Prior and Canons were cultivating with their own ploughs, of which tithes the vicar alleged that his predecessors (antecessor') were in possession; careful inquisition having been made, by consent of the parties, by trustworthy sworn men, as well respecting the said lands as of the alleged possession, as it manifestly appeared by their depositions that the predecessors of the said vicar had been in continuous possession of the third part of the tithe coming from the underwritten lands, the Prior and Convent granted to the said vicar, for his life, the tithes receivable from the lands contained in the following places: (the long enumeration in the preceding deed is then repeated, commencing "from two acres at the moor" as far as "five acres in Littelhawe"). (Fo. 286.) And whereas from the depositions of the said sworn men, it more fully appeared that the said vicar or his predecessors never were in possession of the third part of the tithes coming from the lands underwritten, the vicar remitted and quitclaimed the same tithes to the Prior and Convent, as much as appertains to him, namely, from half an acre below Holm, etc. (as in the previous deed, as far as "Hunthawhilwong"—here called Huntewhilheng). Mutual seals in witness.

(There are repeated differences between the two deeds in the spelling of names, usually slight; the more important, together with two or three variations in wording, are given in the note below.¹ This document carries us to the middle of column 1, fo. 286^a.)

AGREEMENT between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], rectors of the Church of Witham, and Dom. Alan, their vicar of that place, of the one part, and the Abbot and Convent of Croyland, lords of Burthorp, of the other part, respecting the small tithes of the said manor, namely that the Abbot and Convent and their successors shall pay yearly at Michaelmas to the said rectors and their vicars for all small tithes whatsoever from the said manor half a mark sterling at Burthorp, as long as the vicar's successors shall hold this deed ratified and in no wise gainsay it in future; saving always to the said rectors and their vicars all tithes of hay and sheaves and all tithes, obventions, and oblations of all the tenants of the Abbot and Convent in the same vill of Burthorp for ever. Alternate seals of all the parties to this chirograph in witness. Given in the respective Chapters, the eve of S^t Laurence, martyr, 1282.

CONFIRMATION² by William de Bayocis, k^t, to the Canons, of eight selions of arable land in the field of Careby, lying together in a certain place called Le Star. To hold and to have freely, etc. from all secular service, in pure, quit, and perpetual alms for ever. LET¹ it appear to all by these presents that we, Thomas, by divine permission Bishop of Lincoln, having examined our Register of Ordinations of Vicars in the time of our predecessor, Hugh the second, of pious memory, sometime Bishop of Lincoln, find the following to be contained in it among other matters: The Vicariate in the Church of Witham, which belongs to the Prior and Convent of Bridelyngton, consists of all oblations through the year, except purifications,² marriages, annuals, trentals, of which the Vicar shall only have the third part; also in the third part of all tithes, large and small, belonging to the Church of Wytham, with all waxscot (ciragio), except the tithes of four cultures, namely Dychauwang, Stozitwang, Hunt, Hauhill, on either side of the road from Lund to Edenham, and except tithes of all lands of the demesne lands of the Canons of Bridelyngton which they have in the parish of Wytham, from which the Vicar of Wytham shall receive nothing. The Vicar shall have a sufficient house (mansum competentem) built, and a toft adjoining thereto, and common of pasture of the vill of Wytham, and shall bear all burdens episcopal and archidiaconal, and shall cause the Chapel of Lund to be ministered in on Sundays through the year. And the whole Church is worth twenty-four marks and the Vicariate eight marks. In witness of which finding (compercionis) our seal is appended to these presents. At Neuwerk, 6th of the Ides of October, 1344, and the third [year] of our Consecration (cons').

Edenham.³

(The column commences with the following note: "Donum ecclesie de Edenham cum capellis et possessionibus suis et pertinenciis suis inseritur in carta Walteri de Gaunt fundatoris.")

GRANT by Gilbert de Gaunt to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of pasture for four hundred sheep in the vill of Edenham, and eighteen oxen, ten cows, and a bull, as well in the place called Scorte as in other pastures belonging to the said vill, as freely and quietly as his own cattle (aueria) were accustomed to go there. He has also granted them pasture for forty pigs in the same vill, with leave to go in his wood as his own pigs do for their time, without pannage. He has likewise granted them a Court for their men, with power to hold them (eos) without exaction of tallages, aids, and all other burdens (grauaminum) by him or his⁴ as freely and quietly as other Religious have their men. Warranty. In confirmation, he has delivered to the Canons this writing, strengthened by the affixing of his seal. Test., Dom. Baldwin, abbot of Brunn⁷, Dom.

² Burton says all oblations except fish, sponsals, etc., having evidently misread the word "purificationibus" as "piscationibus," which, indeed, it rather resembles in the MS. (Mon. Ebor., 246).

³ The original writing recommences.

⁴ "Heredibus" probably omitted.

(Fo. 287^b)

GRANT and assurance by Gilbert de Gaunt to the Prior and Canons that the pasture in Edenham called Skort, in which they were accustomed to have a certain number of animals, which pasture he, Gilbert, caused to be ploughed and sown once (semel), shall never henceforth be ploughed nor sown without their consent; and he desires that they shall have their animals feeding in the said pasture as they were accustomed to have without hindrance by him or his, notwithstanding that for one term, namely in the year 1245, he caused it to be ploughed and sown and the crop to be carried away, by special leave of the said Prior and Canons. And because the Prior and Canons in that year lost the profit of that pasture, from the time when it was ploughed to the time when the crop was carried away, he has granted in recompense that they may have their beasts, to an equal value with his, feeding for the same time in his demesne pastures without hindrance. That these things may be observed by him and his heirs and assigns he has affixed his seal to this deed, which shall remain with the Prior and Convent.

AGREEMENT between the Canons of Brid[lington] and Adam de Amundeuill; the Canons granted to him a mass in his Chapel of Stotelthorp (sic) three days weekly, namely on Sunday and the fourth and sixth days, unless the priest (sacerdos) of Edenham on any of those days shall be prevented by reasonable necessity. But on Christmas day, and the Purification of S.M. and Easter and Whitsuntide and the feasts of the Churches of Edenham, the men of Stotelthorp shall repair to the mother Church. Adam has given to the Church of St Michael of Edenham, in free and perpetual alms, quit of service, a toft in Stotelthorp and twenty-seven acres of arable land, with all the appurt.

GRANT by Robert de Amundeuill to the Canons, in pure and perpetual alms, of those seven acres of arable land in the field of Stotelthorp which Eda the widow held, with the meadow appertaining to those lands; namely an acre in the place called Stainland between the lands of Hugh the reeve (prepositi) and the lands of Adam the cook (coci), and another acre in Brunland, and an acre in Vlstwait, and an acre in the west part of Swinetweit, and three perches (perticatas) in Hallecroft, and a perch and a half in Litelweit, and half an acre on the south side of Erchwell, and a perch on the east side of the quarry of Brunna, and a perch on the north side of the monks' wood called Erleshage, and a perch in Linosthorhdale, and half a perch below Wernelhil on the south side.¹ These seven acres, with the meadow and free entry and exit and all easements, the Canons shall have free from all customs, exactions, and secular service. ARRANGEMENT made, before R., Prior of Lenton, W. Archdeacon of Nottingham, and T. dean of Newerk,¹ appointed by Pope Gregory [IX] by letters dated at Rieti, 8th Ides of² in the 5th year, to adjudge on a complaint by the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] that the Abbot and Convent of Vaudey and certain others wronged them respecting tithes of lands, etc. After long litigation, the following arrangement is made, after inquisition by reliable men, lay brothers and secular, respecting certain lands of the monks of Vaudey acquired after the Council³ in the parish of the Church of Edenham, such lands having been faithfully measured; the said monks, for the tithes of the same lands, assigned other titheable land (terram decimalem) to the said Canons in two places, namely in Foxebergwe and Wigotroche, namely in Foxebergh at Fraunkeleyn Roche the tithes of eleven acres and one perch; also in Foxeb¹gh the tithes of two acres and a perch and a half of the land of Hugh the reeve (prepositi); and upon Wigoteroche the tithes of seventeen acres and half a perch, namely the tithes of all the land which they have upon Wigoteroche open to the north of the same culture as far as the south part beside (iuxta) Kirkegate, and also as (fo. 31r^b) that culture extends towards the east as far as Swinethweitheng as more evidently appears by the bounds placed there; so that of the above-named lands the said monks shall pay full tithes of sheaves to the Church of Edenham for ever for the tithes of the lands of the said monks acquired after the Council, which (quas) the said Canons have remitted to the said monks for ever, which lands are contained in the following places, namely in Tyftes five butts and two selions which abut upon Brakethwerthcroft, and one headland of Turkil, and four selions in Brakendal, and three selions beside the bound (diuisam) of Creton, and one selion in Tiiftes, and two selions at Hildertrebusk, and two selions at Folefeldesdale, and three selions at Folefeld, and two selions at Limpittes, and six selions under Herleshag, and one perch at Esttheweith, and four acres at Swinethweithheng, and two selions at Limpitwang, and there a headland, and half an acre at Simtheswang, and an acre and a half at the bound of Brun. From all other lands acquired after the Council by the said monks in the said parish, or hereafter to be acquired, they shall pay tithes of sheaves to the said Church for ever, unless by consent of the parties it shall in course of time be otherwise ordained. There being excepted all their newly-tilled lands (noualibus) now cultivated or to be cultivated. Moreover, from the following lands acquired before the Council, namely from nine acres and a rood upon Botewelhil, and from nine selions contained in the arrangement for exchange previously made between them, according to the tenor thereof, the monks shall pay tithes of sheaves to the said Church. Respecting the land of David the priest (sacerdotis) acquired before the Council, namely seventeen acres and three perches, the tithes from which the Canons claimed in their statement (edicione), the monks are to be free from payment of tithes for ever. Be it known likewise that if the above-named lands upon Foxebergh and Wigoteroche assigned as titheable to the Canons remain uncultivated by the monks, they (the monks) shall forthwith assign to the Canons other lands, in one or two convenient places in the same parish, by estimate, from which tithes of sheaves may be received. That this composition may remain firm the parties have mutually bound themselves under penalty of a hundred shillings to be paid by the side not observing it to the other side, and for greater security they have affixed their seals to this deed, with the seals of the Commissioners. Done in the Church of Estbrigford, 1232, on Friday after the Purification B.V.

² The month omitted.

EXCHANGE made in the year 1017¹ between the monks of Vaudey and the Canons of Brid[lington]. The said monks have exchanged these lands with the said Canons, in the territory of Edenham,—one acre of land at Scortunge, between the land of John the shepherd (bercar') and the land of William Bidil; on the south side of Stowgate two selions beside (iuxta) the land of Richard the carpenter and two selions between the land of Lithol the reeve (prepositi) and the land of Agnes Chamberlain (camerarii), abutting upon Stowgate; one selion between the land of William del Hallegarth and the land of Reginald the Canons' man; one selion between the land of Alan the cook (coci) and the land of Hugh Crassus; one selion in Lithacra between the land of Simon the smith (fabri) and the land of Hugh Brit; one selion at Heg (fo. 312) on the north side of the land of Robert de Edenham. JUDGMENT of the Abbot of S^t Mary's, the Subdean and the Treasurer, York, Commissioners appointed by Pope Gregory [IX] (by letters dated at Anagni, 4th Ides October, in the 6th year) to decide upon a complaint by the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] against the Prior and Convent of Spalding and certain others of the dioceses of Linc[oln] and York, respecting certain tithes and possessions. R. de Bodham, clerk, at the instance of the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], was summoned before the Commissioners upon the accusation of the said Prior and Convent respecting the third part of the small tithes and tithes of sheaves from the demesne of R. de Huntingfeld, k^t, in the territory of Suthorp, which (quam) the same R. de Bodeham was accustomed to receive, and, it appearing to the Commissioners, chiefly from the admissions of the said Ralph de Bodeham, that the said tithes belonged by common law to the said Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], by reason of their Church of Edenham, within the bounds (limites) of which the said demesne is situated, they adjudged accordingly, with the assent of Ralph,—this being added that all costs, wrongs, and injuries, if any, by either party brought before the Commissioners or Judges, respecting the said tithes, be altogether remitted, to which the parties agreed, subjecting themselves to the jurisdiction of the Commissioners and their successors to compel observance of the above by ecclesiastical censure, renouncing all recourse at law, etc. Seals of the Commissioners in witness.

TO all faithful of Christ, etc., the Precentor, Subdean, and Master of the Schools of Linc[oln], greeting. Whereas there was a dispute brought before us (by Apostolic authority) between the Prior and Convent (fo. 313) of Brid[lington] and the Abbot and Convent of Westm[inster] respecting certain tithes of sheaves which the said Abbot and Convent received from the demesne of Suspir' de Bayoc' at Eylesthorp, which tithes are within the bounds of the parish of Edenham, and which the Prior and Convent claimed to belong to the said Church; it was finally agreed as follows—that, all expenses of the suit being remitted on either side, the Abbot and Convent remitted to the Prior and Convent the said tithes at perpetual ferm, reserving nothing in them or in other tithes from the said demesne, for six shillings of lawful sterling, to be paid yearly to the Almoner of Westminster (Westmonast') within three weeks of Michaelmas at Westminster, under penalty of double payment unless the messenger of the Prior and Convent should meet with such hindrance on the journey (in itinere) that he cannot conveniently observe the said term, in which case the penalty is not to be enforced, but the ferm is to be paid to the Almoner as quickly as possible. On payment, the Almoner is to give the bearer of the money letters of acquittance each year. The Abbot and Convent will warrant the tithes to the Prior and Convent. For faithful observance of these things the parties have subjected themselves to the jurisdiction of the Precentor and Subdean of Linc[oln], and that the arrangement may steadfastly be continued, the Commissioners' seals and the seals of the parties are hereto affixed. At Linc[oln], the morrow of the Octave of Trinity, 1238.

AGREEMENT in settlement of a dispute which had often arisen between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], Rectors of the Church of Edenham, and the Rectors of the Church of Irnham, respecting certain tithes of sheaves and hay from a part of the territory of Boleby ; four mediators of the parish of Irnham, old (senioribus) and measurers of the land, being elected on the part of Master Robert Lutrel, Rector of the church of Irnham, and four others of the parish of Edenham by Peter de Langetoft, brother and canon of Brid[lington], and Alan, dean of Belteslaw, proctors of brother G., Prior of Brid[lington] and the Convent, Sir (domino) Jocus de Brunn', k^t, also attending at the request of both parties, when the following friendly arrangement was come to : certain (fo. 313^b) bounds (finibus) were placed and set up by the parties and the aforesaid men, dividing the spheres for tithes (loca decimarum) of the Churches of Irnham and Edenham, the Rector of the Church of Irnham and his successors to retain and possess all tithes on the north side of the said bounds towards the field of Boleby, and the Rectors of the Church of Edenham similarly to retain and possess all tithes within the said limits towards the parish of Edenham, for ever ; neither side to go beyond the said bounds in receiving tithes, except that the Rectors of the Church of Irnham shall altogether receive and possess all the tithe of meadow and hay from Suthmadine as far as the meadow of Mayhe de Tasburhe, and not beyond, because that Church always possessed that tithe. And lest the tithe-bounds as aforesaid should be forgotten, their positions are contained in this schedule,—the first is placed and set up on the south side of Sneyth, and extends as far as the western head of a selion of John de Langeton upon Dedfurlong where the second bound is placed, the third is placed at the western head of the land of Dom. Ralph de Senlowe which Thomas Colyn held, the fourth is placed at the eastern head of Stodfeld on the north side of the land of John de Huntingfeld, and extends by a certain bound (diuisam) to Prestwellefurlong, and there is placed the fifth [bound], the sixth and seventh at the south head of Vueryunnam of Boleby, the eighth and ninth on the north side of Prestsik, the tenth at the western head of Le Neheryunam beside (iuxta) the land of Geoffrey Lechour, and extends by a certain bound (diuisam) to the eastern head of the same land, where is placed the eleventh on the west side of Madine, the twelfth on the east side of Madine, and on the west side of the culture of Richard de Cotes at the northern head, the thirteenth at the southern head of the land of Hugh Bell, the fourteenth at the southern head of Cotemanheuedes, the fifteenth and sixteenth are placed beside (iuxta) the headland (foreram) of William Benet on the north side of the same, the seventeenth at the western head of the culture of Richard de Cotes at Heykedale, the eighteenth is placed on the south side of the land of the same culture, and extends by a certain bound (diuisam) as far as the western head of Le Buskimor, and there begins the nineteenth and extends by that bound as far as Dolywed, where all the said bounds end. In order that this agreement may remain firm for ever, the said Prior and Convent and Master Robert Lutrel will obtain as quickly as possible the confirmation of the Bishop [and] Chapter of Linc[oln]. Seals of the parties to the alternate parts of this chirograph in witness. At Brid[lington], 3rd of the Ides of November, 1282.

L ICENCE by Hugh, Prior, and the Convent of Brid[lington], to Ernis de Neuill, to have a chapel in his Court (curte) at Grimesthorp, but so that the chaplain shall administer there only to Ernis, his family, and guests, and all oblations shall go to the grantors. If the chaplain of any great guest (magni hospitii) shall celebrate there he shall have a penny (nummum) of the oblation. If any religious man staying there shall desire to celebrate, he may do so, saving always the right of the mother (fo. 314) Church. The tithes of any newly-tilled lands (novalium) which Ernis has made or may make in the parish are to be paid to the church of Edenham, whose rights Ernis is in no way to diminish by reason of the chapel, and chaplains serving there are to take oath to observe this agreement, before commencing their ministry. Ernis is to obtain the licence of the Bishop of Linc[oln] for celebrating there, and provide a chaplain and all things necessary, and he and his family and his guests (if any) are to attend the Church of Edenham at five feasts yearly, namely, Christmas day, the Purification, Easter, Whitsuntide, and Michaelmas. Test., Richard, chaplain of Attingwyke, Walter the clerk of Ernis, Philip Escrop, Malger de Ricton, Herbert Moraund, William de Gousle, Simon de Hundemanby, Luke Siluer, Robert de Swaldal', G. ARRANGEMENT made in 1224 before the Abbot of Bardenay, and the Precentor and Chancellor of Linc[oln], Commissioners appointed by Pope Honorius [III] (by letters dated from the Lateran, 2nd Ides April, in the 7th year) to adjudicate on a complaint by Robert de Amundeuill, k^t, that the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], who are bound to celebrate thrice weekly in the Chapel of his manor of Scotelthorp, refuse at their arbitrary pleasure to do so, though they receive the issues (proventus) of the Chapel specially assigned for this. It was thus arranged before the Commissioners,—the Prior and Convent granted to Robert that mass only, and no further service, be celebrated in the Chapel of S^t Nicholas of Scotelthorp by a chaplain of Edenham daily except on Sunday. If such chaplain be prevented from celebrating, by prohibition of the Bishop or Archdeacon, or illness, or any other cause not malicious or intentional, the lord of Scotelthorp for the time being and his men (fo. 314^b) of the vill shall patiently and without claim bear it, and in such case the Canons shall make provision for the chantry as soon as possible, without guile. Moreover, at Christmas, the Purification, Easter, Whitsuntide, the feast of All Saints, and other feasts of the Church of Edenham, and on all Sundays, the men of Scotelthorp shall repair to the mother Church of Edenham to satisfy it for offerings and all things belonging to it, so that by reason of the Chantry in the said Chapel the Church of Edenham shall sustain no injury or loss, but shall receive fully from the parishioners whatever of right it ought. The Chaplain celebrating shall furnish bread and wine for the sacrament of the mass, but the said R[obert] and his successors or the men of Scotelthorp shall provide all other things necessary for the said Chapel and the office granted there. Moreover, the said R[obert] and the men of Scotelthorp have granted to the said Canons, in pure and perpetual alms, thirteen acres of land in the parish of Edenham, in addition to the lands which long ago (pridem) were granted to the Canons by their ancestors. In testimony, the seals of the Commissioners and of the parties are affixed to this deed. It is to be remembered likewise that either party subjected itself to the jurisdiction of the Commissioners and their successors to compel observance of this agreement, all appeal being waived.

TO all, etc., Roger de Huntingfeld, greeting. The Lord Prior and the Convent of Brid[lington] at my request have granted me a Chantry in my Chapel of Suthorp, by my own chaplain, for five weeks in the year 1225, from the day of S^t Edmund to the following Christmas. And I have sworn for myself and my heirs that I will never, by reason of this permission, raise any question against the Prior and Convent respecting the said Chantry, unless of their goodwill it shall be granted to me. If it shall happen that I or my wife be staying there at Christmas, we are to have the Chantry until Twelfth Day, saving always the security of the mother Church of Edenham. Testimonium. JUDGMENT of R. Abbot of Seleby and H. Treasurer of York, Commissioners appointed (together with the Abbot of Rievaulx) by Pope Innocent [III] (by letters dated at the Lateran, 2nd Nones June, in the 4th year), to decide a dispute between the Prior and Canons of Bridel[ington] and R. de Huntingfeld, respecting the Chantry of the Chapel of Suthorp. (Fo. 315.) The Commissioners prohibit henceforth celebration in the said Chapel unless with the consent of the Prior and Convent, and award them damages against the said R. to the extent of ten marks of silver. Seals of the Commissioners.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT² by John de Neuil, lord of Grimsthorp, a parishioner of the Church of Edenham (which the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] possess), that he and his heirs are bound to pay to them the true and just tithes of the millere of his windmill situate within the bounds of the parish of Edenham. He also grants to them free entry and exit for collecting and carrying their tithes arising from a certain place called Northstoking, without hindrance, in future. He also, of his own accord, undertakes to pay and deliver to the said Religious the true and just tithes arising from his woods within the parish of Edenham, and that he will not henceforward demand from their proctor or servants at Edenham money for the use of the collectors (collectorum) of his corn or hay. He and his will henceforth devoutly [attend?]³ at the parish Church of Edenham, according to the form of an ancient agreement between the said Religious and his ancestors. Testimonium. T. ABBOT OF MEAUX (Melsa), and the Priors B. of Newburgh (Nouoburgo) and D. of Kirkam, to all, etc. Know that the dispute between the Prior and Canons of Bridel[ington] and William de Muskam respecting the Church of Elkesdon, the decision on which was referred to us by the Pope Clement, is amicably settled thus,—that William shall hold the said Church so long as he remains in secular habit (quam diu in habitu seculari vixerit), paying yearly to the Prior (fo. 316^b) and Canons of Brid[lington] three marks of silver in the name of the Church, and he shall bear all episcopal burdens. If the Church shall be rededicated, the Prior and Canons shall give William three marks, and shall have half of the oblation on the occasion of the rededication of the same. If William should suffer any annoyance by reason of any grant of the Church which the Prior and Convent may have made to any other, the said Prior and Convent shall defend the suit for William, and shall keep him indemnified, and William shall assist them to the utmost of his power in the defence. Lest this arrangement before us made should come into renewed contention, we have strengthened it by this writing.

R EPORT to the Bishop of Coventry (Coventr') by T., Abbot of Meaux (Melsa) and the Priors of Kirkam and Newburgh (Novo Burgo), that the cause between the Prior and Canons of Bridelington and W. de Muscham respecting the Church of Elkesdon, has been terminated, they, the Commissioners, adjudging it to the said Canons, with this condition, that William de Muscham, who has been instituted in the said Church, shall hold it for life, paying to the Canons a pension from the Church. They notify to the Bishop what they have done by Apostolic authority, lest it should be hindered by him; for it has become known that he, on a reference to him by William, has inhibited the latter from paying any penison to the Canons without his assent.

T O all, etc., W. de Muscham, Archdeacon of Derby, greeting. Know that, on the presentation of Elias, Prior of Brid[lington], with the humble assent of the Convent thereof, I have obtained and held from them the Church of Elkesdon, saving a pension of three marks due to them yearly. And in witness I have sealed these present letters with my seal. Farewell in the Lord.

Scardeburg.¹

AGREEMENT made on the feast of Saints James and Christopher 1298, between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], in the Diocese of York, of the one part, and the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux, in the Diocese of Chalons, of the other part. Whereas there was a dispute between the said parties respecting the advowson of the Church of S^t Mary of Scardeburg,—at length, on the mediation of brother James de Port (portu), Cistercian monk, keeper (custode) of the said Church, and other good men, the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] [quitclaimed ?]² all right and claim which they or their predecessors ever had or now have or may or ought to have in the Church of the blessed Mary of Scardeburg, or in whatsoever Chapels within the Castle, parish, and bounds of the Liberty of Scardeburg, present and future, by reason of the advowson, possession, or by any other cause, together with past receipts by the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux ; so that neither the said Prior and Convent of Bridlington nor their successors may claim any right in the said Church and Chapels in future, nor take any proceedings against the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux respecting the said Church and Chapels, nor past receipts therefrom, nor the presentation of the vicar of the Church, nor sue out any writ which might injure the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux, nor will assist with any costs, help, or counsel whereby the Abbot and Convent may be impeded in the quiet possession of the Church and Chapels ; saving to the said Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] and their successors their Church of Scalleby and Chapels of Clocton and Briniston, with all tithes and issues thereto belonging, and to other Chapels in the parish of Scalleby if they should desire to build any in future ; to which Church of Scalleby and Chapels of Clocton and Briniston and others in the parish of Scalleby to be erected hereafter the Church of S^t Mary of Scardeburg does not belong, nor the Chapels which are in the Castle of Scardeburg, nor other Chapels within the bounds (limites) (fo. 320) of the Liberty and Parish of Scard[eburg], in which Church and Chapels and the advowsons thereof the Prior and Convent have remitted and quitclaimed to the said Abbot and Convent of Citeaux any right they ever had or ought to have for ever, with all receipts thence, past and future, and all suits which they or their predecessors ever had against the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux from whatever cause. If the said Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] or their successors or anyone for them or in their name, shall be convicted of infringing the above agreement, they bind themselves and their successors and House in a thousand marks sterling to be paid to the then Pope, payment, if necessary, to be enforced by ecclesiastical censure, this agreement nevertheless to continue in full force. The Pope receives yearly an obole of gold from the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux, to protect and defend to their use and the use of the Cistercian General Chapter, the said Church of Scard[eburg] with the said Chapels, against all men, as in his (the Pope's) confirmation is more fully contained. To faithful observance of all these things the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] oblige themselves and their successors, and their goods, movable and immovable, within and without their House of Brid[lington] present and future, renouncing all exceptions, defences, allegations, and all privilege, royal prohibition, statute, and all remedy at law, which might prejudice the Abbot and Convent of Citeaux, or benefit the said Prior and Convent in this matter. In witness, the Prior and Convent have affixed their seal to the part of this chirograph remaining with the Abbot and Convent, on the day and year above written, and to the other part, remaining with the Prior and Convent, the Abbot of Citeaux, for himself and his Convent, affixed his common seal on the day of the Exaltation of Holy Cross, at Citeaux, in the same year.

CONFIRMATION by Robert, Bishop of Linc[oln], of the alms which Walter de Gaunt granted to the Church of S^t Mary of Brid[lington], namely, the Church of Edenham and the Church of Witham, with its Chapels, and half the Church of Suthferiby, with the lands and tithes and all tenures and things belonging to the same Churches¹ as Walter's charter, which has been exhibited to the Bishop, witnesses.

(Fo. 320^b)

CONFIRMATION by Hugh, Bishop of Linc[oln], to the Brethren in the Church situated in Bridelingt[on], under the institution of the blessed Augustine, of the Churches of Edenham and Witham, with their Chapels, and half the Church of Suthferiby, which they have in his diocese (in parochia nostra) by the gift of Walter de Gaunt, to be possessed by the same Brethren in peace, freely and quietly, for ever. Test., Robert de Hardrea, Archdeacon of Huntingd[on], Master Laurence, Archdeacon of Bedeford, Master Stephen de Swafeld, Archdeacon of Bakingham, Master William the Chancellor, Hugh de Hoby.

CONFIRMATION by R. Bishop of Linc[oln] to Bernard, Prior, and the Canons of Bridel[ington], of the Church of Bamburg, with all its appurt., as Gilbert de Gaunt gave it to them, as his charter witnesses.

CONFIRMATION by Henry, Archbishop of York, (addressed to R. the Dean and the Chapter of S^t Peter's, York), to the Canons Regular of S^t Mary of Brid[lington] of the Church of Kerandebey,² saving the right of the Church of York and episcopal customs, in perpetual alms, with all the appurt. and Chapels. Test., Sauar', Abbot of York, Ailred, Abbot of Rievaulx (Rieuall'), Robert the Archdeacon, Cuthbert, Prior of Giseburn, G. Prior of Kirkam, Richard, Abbot of Whiteby, Ralph, Canon of Beuerl[ey].

CERTIFICATE by Thurstin, Archbishop of York, that he has dedicated the Church of Galmeton, which had been a Chapel formerly, with the churchyard, Adelard de Willardeby and Theobald of the same vill, priest, granting; so that the same Church in Galmeton be under the Church of S^t Peter of Willardeby hereafter, and the priest of Willardeby constitute the priest who may be placed in Galmeton. To this Church Riculf gave two bovates of land, quit of all exaction and service, except the common geld (communem geld') of the king: he also gave a house and all his tithe, and Richard son of Reginald gave a bovate similarly free, and all the men of the same vill gave all their tithe (decimam suam), and the Archbishop has by the present [deed] confirmed, at the request of Riculf, and with the assent of Adelard and of Theobald the priest.

² Sic, but the heading of the deed is "confirmacio ecclesie de Kernetby" (i.e. Carnaby).

T. BY the grace of God, Archbishop of York, to all the parishioners of S^t Peter's, York, greeting. I grant to the Canons of S^t Mary of Brid[lington] the gift which Ebrard son of Peter made to them, of the Church of Attingwik.

(Fo. 32r)

GRANT by T., Archbishop of York, to God and the Church of S^t Mary of Brid[lington] and the brethren there, with the consent of W. the knight (militis), of the Church of Otringham, with all its proceeds (fructibus) and appurt, for their support, for ever. Test., Hugh the Dean, Adelold the Prior, William the Treasurer, H. the Precentor. He has likewise granted (concessimus) to the same brethren, with the consent of Everard son of Peter, the Church of Attingwik, saving nevertheless a certain portion in it to the use of the Chaplain ministering there.

CONFIRMATION by T., Archbishop of York, to the Brethren in the Church situated at Brid[lington] under the institution of the blessed Augustine, of all Churches and ecclesiastical possessions, with their Chapels, which they have in his diocese (parochia) by the gift of princes and concession of Popes, by the same right and tenor by which all their matters are secured and confirmed by the privilege of Apostolic authority. These are the Churches which he secures to them,—that one, the mother of the others, which is in Brid[lington]; that one of Filey (Fiuelaiio) by the gift of Walter de Gaunt; that one of Flamburg by the gift of William son of Nigel; that one of Scalleby, with its Chapels, by the gift of Eustace Fitz John; that one of Bouinton by the gift of Geoffrey Despenser (dispensatoris); that one of Willardeby and the other of Galmeton of the gift of Adelard; that one of Couton of the gift of Eustace; that one of Swaldal' of the gift of Walter de Gaunt; that one of Sprotleya of the gift of Ralph de Gousle; that one of Attingwyk of the gift of Ebrard de Rossa; the Chapel of Speton, the Chapel of Bucton, the Chapel of Gre. Jale, half of the Chapel of Alburnia.

CONFIRMATION by S., the Dean, and the Chapter of S^t Peter's, York, of the grants of Churches made to the House of S^t Mary of Brid[lington] by Turstin and Henry of happy memory, formerly Archbishops of York; saving the right and the liberties of the Church of York and the Archbishops. Test., Hamo the Treasurer, Adam, Archdeacon of York, William, Archdeacon of Notting[ham], R., Archdeacon of Clueland, Master Gregory, William de Stighendeby, John Romanus, Master Erard, W. de Caua, Canon of York.

QUITCLAIM by Serlo son of Serlo, Canon of York, of the claim he had against the Church of St Mary of Brid[lington] in tithes, oblations, and other issues of his Prebend of Grendale belonging to the parish; he placed his claim free and quit for ever in the hand of William, Dean of York, and afterwards he himself (Serlo) with his own hand, by the hand of the Dean, surrendered (reddidi) the same claim to the Church (fo. 321^b) of St Mary of Brid[lington], free and quit, in the hand of Bernard, Prior of the same Church, William, Elect of York, and the Archdeacon of that province agreeing, and the Chapter of York; retaining that right of the Archdeaconry which all Canons of York are accustomed to have in their prebends. Test., Walleve, Prior of Kirkham (Chirchamse), Ralph, Archdeacon of Durham, Robert, Prior of the Church of St Mary, York, Turstin, Provost (preposito), and Ralph, Canon of York, Oliver, monk of Bardeney.

W. DEAN OF YORK, and the Chapter of St. Peter's, to all, etc. Know that Serlo our Canon has demised, free and quit, the claim which he had in the tithes and in all things which belong to the parish in the land of his Prebend in Grendale to the mother Church of Brid[lington] for ever; we, attesting and confirming this, with the assent of W. Elect of York and the Archdeacon of that Province, remit that claim as far as belongs to the Chapter; that right of the Archdeaconry which all Canons of St Peter's have in their Prebends being reserved to that Canon, as the chirograph between him and the Church of Bridelington, sealed with our seal, witnesses. That peace may be wholly preserved between our Church and that of Bridel[on] we have ordained this to be observed for ever.

CONFIRMATION by William, Archbishop of York, of the arrangement between Bernard, Prior of Brid[lington], and the Convent, and Serlo the Canon, in his presence, respecting the Chapel of Grendal and the tithes belonging thereto from the land of St Peter.

REMISSION by Thomas the second, Archbishop of York, to the Church of the Blessed Mary of Brid[lington] of the annual payments of six pence for consecrated oil (ad crisma) and two shillings for synodals (ad sinod'), which like other parish Churches it was accustomed to render to the Archbishop. This is with the counsel and consent of the Chapter of St Peter's, for the love and honour of the holy of holies, Our Lady, and the brethren who serve God in her Church.

CONFIRMATION of the above quitclaim and remission, by the Chapter of St. Peter's, York.

T. ARCHBISHOP OF YORK, to all his successors in the Church of York. By the attestation of this present charter, we grant and confirm the quittance which the second,¹ our venerable predecessor (antecessor), granted to the Church of St Mary of Brid[lington] and the brethren there, namely, that it be quit and free from all episcopal custom. (Fo. 322.) We also grant to the uses of the said brethren, the Church of Basingby.

with the consent of our [Chapter ?]¹ of York, which is situated in the parish of the aforesaid Church, and we have dedicated it. Test. Hugh the Dean, Adelold the Prior, William the Treasurer, in whose Archdeaconry that Church is, Hugh the Precentor, and all the Chapter.

CONFIRMATION by the Chapter of S^t Peter's, York, of the liberty and quittance which the venerable Archbishop Thomas the younger granted to the Church of S^t Mary of Bridelington. This also his successor Thurstin granted and confirmed by his letters, and gave the Church of Basingby, which he dedicated to the said Church with the same liberty, namely, free and quit of synodals and visitation fees (circadis) and all pecuniary custom.

ORDINATION by brother G., Prior of Bridelingt[on], and the Convent, with the assent of Master Thomas Passelewe, Archdeacon of Richmond, of a perpetual vicarage in their Church of Grenton, in Swaldale, in this form,—that the vicars at all times to be instituted to the said Church by the Prior and Convent for the time being shall receive the following portions, namely, of sheaves² from Thorpwath as far as Arkelgarth, also the tithe of sheaves from Scotland, reserving to the present grantors all other tithes of sheaves from the parish. Moreover, the vicars shall receive all altarage of the Church, with all the tithe of hay of the whole parish within Bernolfsbec and Hauerdalbek, except the tithe of hay belonging to the grantors³ manor of Grenton and to their vicarages in the valley of Swaldal', and except all tithes, great or small, belonging to the same manor, and except the tithes of wool and lambs of the said parish, whether they may be received in wool, lambs, money, or otherwise, and except the tithes of foals and calves of the parish, whether receivable in foals, calves, money, or otherwise; which tithes of wool, lambs, foals, and calves shall be wholly reserved to the use of the grantors for ever. And excepting half of all mortuaries as well of principal mortuaries as of the portions of mortuaries which after the principal mortuary are due to the said Church from the goods of deceased persons, according to the custom of the country. Likewise they have assigned to the vicars a toft in the vill of Grenton and two acres of arable land in the field of the same vill, which toft and land Walter de Withay sometime held, saving to them specially their severalties, so that the vicars shall always be excluded from such severalties, and shall not be able to claim common therein. The vicars shall continuously remain (residebunt) in the said Church of Grenton, and shall honestly serve in it in proper person, and shall bear all ordinary burdens of the said Church, providing all things necessary for celebrating divine offices. (Fo. 322^b.) Moreover, if the chancel of the Church is in danger of becoming, or has become, ruinous, the vicar shall cause it to be repaired at his own charges. And if it shall happen hereafter that any tithes beyond the above may be obtained in right of the Church, two parts are to belong to the grantors, and one part to the vicar. And if it shall sometimes happen that a dispute (q'onem) be raised about these things, the grantors will provide two thirds of the expenses and the vicar a third. In witness the seal of their Chapter is appended to one part of this chirograph, and to the other part the said¹ Simon de Swaldal¹, chaplain, the first vicar of their presentation, has affixed his seal. At Brid[lington], 7th February, 1272.

AGREEMENT made before the venerable man, Master G. de S^t Medard, Archdeacon of Richemund, in settlement of a dispute which had arisen between the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] and Master Adam, their vicar of Grenton, respecting certain portions of the tithes and offerings which Simon, predecessor of the same vicar, held from them at ferm whilst he lived, as the said Religious by deed made between them showed, and which Adam unduly demands in the name of his vicariate. Henceforth Adam and his successors shall be content with the third part of the oblations, offerings, tithes of sheaves, hay, wool, lambs, calves, foals, kids, goods of deceased persons and all other things coming to the said Church, with a toft and two acres of land with the appurt. which Walter Wythay sometime held. Adam and his successors to have no right or common in the pastures or severalties of the said Religious, to whom are also reserved all tithes of hay, sheaves, and fruits, with the issues and produce of all their animals, and all other things arising in their manors, vaccaries, sheepfolds, and other places in the said parish, of payment of which tithes they shall be free for ever, together with the tithes of sheaves and hay of Grenton and Rithe, which are reserved to them for ever. Adam and his successors in the Church shall, as becomes them, honestly serve it, and shall bear all ordinary burdens due and accustomed, finding all things necessary for celebration, and for extraordinary matters they shall answer for the third part. They shall also keep the chancel in repair at their own cost. If it shall happen in future that a question be raised about past tithes unlawfully detained, the Canons and the vicars shall bear the expenses proportionately, and if recovered the Canons shall have two thirds and the vicar one third. (Fo. 323.) Alternate seals in witness. At Brid[lington], Thursday after the Assumption B.V.M., 1278.

ORDINATION by brother G., Prior of Bridelington and the Convent, with the consent of Master Thomas Passelewe, then Archdeacon of Richemund, of a perpetual vicarage in their Church of Great Couton, in this form,—that the vicars at all times to be instituted to the said Church on the presentation of the Prior and Convent, shall have all the altarage of the Church, with the tithe of hay of the whole parish except the tithe of hay of the grantors' manor in the said vill, and except all manner of tithes, great and small, belonging to the said manor, wholly reserved to the grantors' uses for ever. Also they (the Prior and Convent, the grantors) have assigned to the vicar for the time being two marks of silver yearly to be received from their chamber (camera), namely, a mark at Whitsuntide and a mark at Martinmas. Moreover, they have assigned to the said vicarage two tofts and an acre of land in the said vill and its territory, whereof Robert the painter (pictor) held one toft and the acre, and Simon the mower (falculator) the other toft. The vicars shall continuously remain (residebunt) in the Church, and honestly serve it in proper person, and shall bear all ordinary burdens of the Church with all things necessary for celebrating divine service. Seals of the Chapter of Bridlington and of Adam, the chaplain, the first vicar presented by them, to the alternate parts of this chirograph. At Brid[lington], the 7th Ides February, 1272.

CONFIRMATION by Henry de Newerk, Archdeacon of Richemond, to the Prior and Convent, of the Churches of the Blessed Mary of Couton and the Blessed Andrew of Grenton in Swald[ale], of his Archdeaconry, with all the appurt., to be held to their own uses for ever. (Fo. 323^b.) Saving in those Churches sufficient vicars, his archidiaconal jurisdiction, and the authority of the Church of York. Sigillum. At Vlskelf, 14th Cal. July, 1283.

ON Tuesday after the feast of S^t Matthias, 1238, the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], by brother J., a Canon, their proctor, appeared before Master Robert de Cadenye, official, and Master Simon Constable, vicegerents of the lord [Bishop] of Linc[oln], and exhibited a Privilege of Pope Clement III and Celestine his successor, containing these words: "We decree that in those Churches in which after you obtained them up to the present you have appointed neither parsons nor vicars, when they are specially assigned for your garments and victuals, it is permitted to you to minister in them by your chaplains and clerks, and we inhibit anyone, by apostolic authority, from compelling you henceforward to institute parsons or vicars in those Churches." And when the said Proctor had proved by witnesses beyond doubt that long before the judgment of the said privilege and continuously after, the Prior and Convent were in peaceable possession of the Churches of Edenham and Bamburg, ministering in them by their chaplains, whom they removed at pleasure, presenting no vicar to the Bishop of Linc[oln] or the Archdeacon, and that the Chamberlain of Brid[lington] for the time being, from the proceeds of the said Churches assigned for this, had regularly provided and provides vestments for the Canons, it was finally pronounced by the said vicegerents that they enjoy the same possession as hitherto.

CERTIFICATE by Robert de Hard', Vicearchdeacon of Linc[oln], to the effect that when he was acting for the Archdeacon in the Church of Linc[oln] he found the Canons of Brid[lington] in possession of the Church of Bamburg in its full integrity, but because some question had been raised respecting certain portions of the said Church, he required them to prove their right; on the day appointed, the holy gospels being brought forward, many priests and other sufficient persons took oath that the said Canons from the time when they obtained the Church had possessed it wholly (cum omni integritate), receiving therefrom all proceeds and obventions, without diminution, installing there and removing Chaplains at their pleasure. He (Robert) therefore, recognising their right on full proof, adjudged them to go in peace with peaceable possession, saving the dignity of the Church of Linc[oln]. Test., Ralph, Abbot of Tupeholm, Lambert, Prior of Kime, Master Alexander the priest (sacerdote), and Master Alexander Melebisse and Roger son of William, Canons of the Church of Linc[oln], Roger, Canon of Kime, William the chaplain of Burrache, Robert the chaplain of Marum, Hugh the dean of St'tton, Ivo and William, chaplains of Bamburg, Thorald the clerk of Edelington, Hugh the clerk of Scamelesby, Baldwin the chaplain of St Peter's, Ralph the chaplain of Hosberneby.¹

Prohibition against any brother after profession retiring from the cloister without licence from the Prior or Congregation. On the death of the present Prior (te nunc Priore obeunte) or any successor, no one to be appointed except by the common consent of the brethren or the counsel of the wiser of them according to the fear of God and the rule of the blessed Augustine. Prohibition against disturbance, etc., of the Church or its possessions, with penalty for disobeying this, and blessing to all who protect it.

² This document commences, "Eugenius episcopus, etc.," and omits the name of the priory.

³ Several of these churches are not referred to elsewhere as having belonged to the priory.

CELESTINUS III.

PROTECTION by Pope Celestine III¹ and confirmation of possessions, viz., the Churches of Flaynburg, Fiuelay, Scalleby, Willardby, Galmeton, Couton, Swaldal', Bouington, Kernetby, Attingwik, Sprotlay, Otringham, Gousle in Lindesey, half the Church of Suthferiby, the Churches of Eston, Bamburg, Edenham, Witham, Wichford, and Elkesdon, with their appurt. When there shall be a general interdict, it is permitted to them (the Canons) to celebrate divine offices in a low voice (suppressa voce), doors being closed, persons excommunicate and interdicted being excluded, bells not being rung. Prohibition against anyone committing violence or rapine within the enclosure (clausuram) of their places or granges, or robbing, firing, seizing or killing men; if anyone transgresses this, let him be excommunicate. (Fo. 325.) Privilege for a Prior duly elected, if the Archbishop of York (or if that see is vacant, the Chapter of York) should refuse to admit him or defer confirmation, to exercise the office, pending the judgment of the Pope. Prohibition, on the death of any incumbent appointed to one of their Churches, against the Archbishop or his officials taking the keys from the Canons or extorting temporal goods. Prohibition against the Archbishop, the Archdeacon, or their officials, pronouncing sentence of excommunication against the Prior or Canons or their clerks, or of interdict against their Churches, Chapels, or parishioners, without lawful order; if anyone shall do so the decree is not to hold good (non tenere). Prohibition against granting Churches or ecclesiastical benefices to unfit persons on unfavourable terms at the desire of great men. Prohibition against Archbishops and other ecclesiastics demanding levies (tallias) or undue exactions from their chaplains and clerks. In the case of vacancies in their Churches, they may institute two or more of their Canons, one of whom shall be presented to the Diocesan Bishop, to whom he may answer as to spirituals and to the Canons as to temporalities, and as to the rules of their Order. Power to grant custody of Churches to laymen. Grants of property of the Church to be revoked. Clerks of the brethren who have departed from the fealty due to the Prior and Chapter, or have borne themselves faithlessly or dishonestly, are without appeal to be removed from their Churches by the Diocesan upon application, and free faculty of replacing them by others more faithful is given to the Canons. No tithes to be required from them from lands newly tilled (noualium), demesnes cultivated by the Canons or at their charges, or of the fodder of their animals, or fruits of orchards and gardens. No tithes to be exacted from fishermen, their parishioners; the Bishop or Archdeacon to exercise canonical justice against any offending against this, when required. Moreover, it is decreed that in Churches² in which from the time the Canons obtained them up to the present they have appointed neither parsons nor vicars, when (fo. 325^b) such Churches were specially assigned for their clothing or victuals, it shall be lawful for them to minister by their chaplains or clerks, and no one may compel them to institute parsons or vicars in such Churches. Prohibition against any Archbishop, Bishop, Archdeacon, or any of their officials or any person compelling them to give or do anything against the tenor of Apostolic privileges to them, by any severity (discrictione); and it is permitted to them to receive to the monastic life (ad conversionem) any clerks or laymen retiring from the world (fugientes a seculo) and to retain them. No one may demand from them anything for consecrated oil, for ordination of clerks or admittance of a Prior, or other ecclesiastical sacraments. Burial at that place (sepulturam ipsius loci) to be free. No person, ecclesiastic or lay, may institute any monastery of monks, canons, nuns, or chapels, altars, or churchyards within the bounds of their parishes without their consent and the Bishop's, saving Papal privilege. Regulation as to elections of new Priors as in the Protection by Pope Eugenius page 435 ante, with similar general prohibition against disturbance, penalty for disobeying this, and blessing to those preserving the rights of the Church. Given at the Lateran by the hand of Moses (Moysi), subdeacon of the Holy Roman Church, Canon of the Lateran, 15th Cal. March, the twelfth Indiction, in the year of the Incarnation of the Lord, 1194, and the third of the Pontificate of the lord Celestine III.

CELESTINUS PAPA III.²

TO his venerable brethren the Archbishops and Bishops and his beloved sons the Archdeacons and Deans throughout England. Commendation of Hugh, Prior of the Church of St Mary of Bridel[ington] and the Canons and brethren there, and their successors, whom the Roman Church has taken under the protection of St Peter, to their affection (caritati), desiring them to minister to their (the Canons') necessities as much as possible, and to promote their welfare, and to defend them from the insolence of wicked men.

CELESTINE the bishop, etc.³ Excommunication to be pronounced against anyone laying hands violently upon the Canons or brethren; ecclesiastical censure against those disturbing them in their property or rights. The Bishop must admit to benefices on their presentation, and protect the presentees when admitted. No one may convert Churches or other benefices of the Canons to his own use, or take them away, but all are to be preserved to the use of those for whose provision and support they were granted.

² This item is inserted (mostly in the margin at the bottom of the page) in a different handwriting.

³ This item, which is in the original writing, commences as above, without heading, and the name of the prior is not mentioned. It may, perhaps, have been a part of the preceding document.

INNOCENCIUS III.

INDULT to the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] (fo. 326^b) to lay under excommunication all those who shall secretly take away or violently seize their goods or possessions. Inhibition to Archbishops, Bishops, Archdeacons, or their officials from imposing new and undue exactions or levies on them, and from suspending their chaplains or clerks or placing their Churches under interdict unless the case has first been examined in lawful order. If this has been done, let it be held invalid.

INNOCENCIUS III.

TO his venerable brethren the Archbishops and Bishops, and his beloved sons the Archdeacons, Deans, and Officials, of York, in whose parishes the Canons of Brid[lington] possess Churches; the Prior and Canons have complained that lately the Archdeacon of Richemund, in making a visitation of his Archdeaconry, came to a Church of theirs with ninety-seven horses, twenty-one dogs, and three hawks (auibus venatoriis), consuming in a short space (hora breui) as much as would have sufficed for the whole household (toti familie) for a long time; the Pope strictly commands them that in making visitations nothing more is to be exacted than the statutes of the Lateran Council permit; if anyone has pronounced sentence against clerks or Churches on account of this, we decree it to be of no effect.

ALEXANDER III.

ALEXANDER the bishop, etc.¹ Exhortation that the brethren show filial obedience, reverence, and honour to the Prior and his successors in all things. Regulations for restraining unnecessary appeals; if any brother in the Chapter of the Church of Brid[lington] suddenly and indiscreetly brings the Prior or any of his successors into appeal, it is invalid unless sanctioned by the greater and wiser (sanior) part of the Congregation; if they give assent to the appeal, then let the matter be frequently discussed (ventiletur), so that if possible what has arisen among the brethren may be settled by them; if this fails, let two or three of the Order, from neighbouring houses, men of approved religion and serviceable discretion, (fo. 327) by the assent of either side be brought together that by their mediation the dispute may be arranged; if this fails, appeal may be made to the Bishop, and finally, if necessary, to the Apostolic See. The Prior and his successors to have power to appoint any officials or ministers in the Church or any of the houses and manors thereto belonging, and to remove those appointed if found negligent or criminal, and to dispose matters and possessions, movable or immovable, fittingly, and to collect rents according to the custom of the Church, by honest and fit persons.²

¹ The item commences as above. It is presumably addressed to the Prior, but he is not mentioned.

² Immediately beneath is written, in a different hand, "Anno Dñi M^o c^o LXXVII."

ALEXANDER III.

ALEXANDER the bishop, etc., to the Prior and Convent, etc. (sic). Although by the privileges of the Apostolic See, you are exempt from the payment of tithes "et nutrimentis,"¹ nevertheless, certain rectors and vicars of Churches placing a false interpretation on your privileges demand from you tithes of wool, milk, and lambs, of your animals, because you hire pastures for them in their parishes; inhibition against such demands.

INNOCENCIUS III.

INNOCENT, etc., to his beloved sons the Prior and Convent of the monastery of Brid[lington]. Whereas it has been laid before us on your part that Robert firstly and afterwards St Hugh, bishops of Lincoln of good memory, respecting the Churches of Edenham and Witham, and afterwards their successor R., bishop of Lincoln of good memory, respecting the Church of Baemburg, by assent of the patrons assigned to your uses, gave confirmation, as in their letters more fully appears, and afterwards these things were confirmed by Clement and Celestine, Roman Pontiffs, our predecessors of happy memory, and that you have possessed those Churches peaceably and quietly for above eighty years; we now confirm to you those Churches with the Chapels and all the appurt., which according to the common estimation of the country have a yearly value scarcely exceeding sixty marks, after deducting the vicar's portion.

INNOCENCIUS III.

INNOCENT, etc. Whatsoever possessions and goods the same Church² at present justly and canonically possesses, or in (fo. 327^b) future by the gifts of popes, princes, the faithful, or in other just methods may be able to acquire, shall remain firm and unshaken to you and your successors, which we have caused to be here expressed, namely, the place in which the said Church is situated, with all its appurt., the Churches of Otringham, of Attingwik, of Kernetby, of Besingby, of Flaynburgh, of Fiuelay, of Willardeby, of Scalleby, of Couton, of Grentona, and of Bouington, with the tithes and all the appurt., and the Churches of Edenham, of Witham, of Baemburg, with the Chapels appendant, the tithes and the other appurt., a moiety of the Church of Suthferiby, the granges with their appurtenances, etc.³ The holy oil, consecration of altars or churches (basilicarum), ordinations of clerks who are to be promoted to orders, you shall receive from the diocesan bishop, if he is Catholic and in the favour and communion of the Roman See, and is willing to grant these things to you without irregularity. Moreover, we give you the faculty of redeeming tithes and possessions belonging to your Churches which are detained by laymen and lawfully delivering them from their hands; and we confirm all liberties and immunities by our predecessors, Roman Pontiffs, granted to you, and likewise the liberties and exemptions from secular exactions granted to you by kings and princes and other faithful. We have decreed therefore, etc.¹

INNOCENCIUS III.

INDULT to the Prior and Convent, etc.,² that they are not to be compelled to receive anyone as a Canon or brother, or to provision by gifts or ecclesiastical benefits, by letters of the Apostolic See or its legates, without a mandate of the same See making special and express mention of their Church and this indult.

CLEMENS III.

CLEMENT the Bishop to the Prior and Convent, etc.³ Desiring to provide for your safety and that of your monastery, we prohibit you from binding yourselves or your monastery for any outside person, without special mandate of the Apostolic See, making full and express mention of these presents.

NICHOLAUS III.

NICHOLAS the Bishop, etc.⁴ There has been shown to us your petition setting forth that lately there was matter for dispute between you on the one part and Master Robert de Scardeburg, Rector of the Church of Foston, on the other, respecting certain tithes and other things, which was settled by a friendly arrangement by the mediation of good men, with the consent of our venerable brother the Archbishop and the Chapter of York, which you have sought to be strengthened by Apostolic confirmation. We, assenting to your prayer, confirm that arrangement, as it is made rightly and without deceit, and accepted by either party, and hitherto peacefully observed.

CONFIRMATION⁷ by Robert son of Hernis to the Church of S.M. of Brid[lington] and the Canons, in free and perpetual alms, of the Church of Gousla, with all its appurt., for the redemption of the soul of his father who had given it to the same Church, and for the health of his own soul, and his mother's, and the souls of all his relations and friends. Test., Robert the priest (presbitero) of Sprotley, Walcanim the priest, Baldric the priest, Ernald the priest,⁸ Adam the deacon, Master Alexander, Milo the knight (Equite), William de Wodeforde, W. GRANT and Confirmation¹ by Walter de Ver son of Adam de Gousle to the Canons, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, of the Church of All Saints of Gousle, with all things thereto belonging, as freely and wholly as any knight (miles) may grant a Church to Religious men, retaining nothing except the benefits (suffragia) of their prayers. Wherefore he wills that the Canons may convert the proceeds and obventions of the said Church to their own use, to sustain the hospitality of Brid[lington]. He has promised and taken his corporal oath that he will never raise a suit against them concerning the Church, nor will he or his heirs use against them any instrument making mention of it. Test., Dom. Jordan, Abbot of Thorneton, Master Gerard de Hoyland, W. de Hoton, Alan Wambays, William his brother, Nigel the clerk, Robert de Wathsand, Luke Siluer, Gilbert of the refectory (de refectorio), Henry de Giseburg.

CONFIRMATION by Robert, Bishop of Linc[oln], on the petition of G. Prior of Bridel[ington], of the Church of All Saints of Gousla, which the Canons obtained in perpetual alms by the gift of Robert son of Ernis and his predecessors, as the charter of Robert witnesses; saving in all things the dignity of the Church of Lincoll', and saving the right of Nicholas de Treil' so long as he shall live in secular habit. Of this confirmation are witnesses, Baldr', Archdeacon of Leicester (Legrc'), Mark, Alexander the clerk, Laurence.

LETTER from Pope Clement, reciting that R. the Knight (miles) son of Ernis had conveyed to them² the Church of All Saints of Gousla with the appurt., for the redemption of the soul of his father, who had given it to their Church, and had sealed the grant with his seal, and the Diocesan Bishop had confirmed, nevertheless, after the death of the said knight, Adam, his son had raised a dispute with them concerning the Church, bringing forward certain letters which he alleged that his father had obtained from G. formerly their Prior in support of his malicious petition, which the Diocesan pronounced without value and void; the Pope now confirms the Church to them.

(Vo. 329^b)

INDULT by Pope Clement to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington] to retain the offerings and proceeds (fructus) of the Churches of Gousel' and Otringham for the uses of hospitality (propter hospitalitatis usus), saving the right and the obedience due to the Diocesan in spirituals and his ministers; there being assigned to the Chaplains serving in the Churches such a portion of the proceeds as will suitably maintain them.

SIMILAR indult by Pope Celestine as to the Churches of Gousla and Scalleby.

TO all sons, etc., Peter, Archdeacon of Lincoln, greeting. We have diligently inspected the muniments and authentic charters of the Prior and Canons of Bridelint[on] which they have, respecting the Church of All Saints of Gousla, to wit, the charter of Robert son of Ernis, true patron of the said Church, and of Walter de Ver, and the confirmations of the Roman Pontiffs, the lords Clement and Celestine, and moreover the confirmation of Robert, formerly bishop of Linc[oln] of good memory, and we can in no wise doubt their right. Wherefore by the authority and dignity which we hold, the see being vacant, we institute them to the said Church, saving, nevertheless, the liberties and customs of the Church of Linc[oln]. Sigillum. Test., Elias, Prior of Bridel[ington], John, Henry, and Reyner, Canons of the same, Master Robert de Harems, Master Gilbert Siluer, William de Lekeburn, Ernald de Marton, Luke Siluer, Geoffrey Marshall.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by Master Robert de Hardra that he has received from Hugh the Prior and the Convent of the Church of St Mary of Bridel[ington] (fo. 330) their Church of Gousla, to be held from them as long as he shall live in secular habit; rendering to them yearly ten marks. If from any reason he is unable to pay the said rent, he will retire from the Church, and freely return it to them. He has sworn in their Chapter to faithfully observe these things, and to satisfy all synodals (episcopalia) for the said Church. Test., Master William Testard, Master Richard de Hardra, Master William de Ywarebi, Ernald, Elias, Geoffrey, chaplains of Brid[lington], John and William, deacons of Bridelington, Malger the clerk and Robert his son, Ralph the clerk of Bucton, Walter Fleming (Flandrensi), Peter Maloisel, William Remensi, Roger de Askeby, Elias the man in charge of the pack horses (sumetario).

CONFIRMATION by H. Bishop of Linc[oln] to the Prior and Canons, at their instance and the instance of Master R. de Hardra, Archdeacon of Huntingdon, of the Church of Gousl', with all its proceeds (fructibus) and appurt., which the said Canons reasonably obtained by the gift of Robert son of Ernis, the true patron thereof, and the confirmation of R., formerly Bishop of Lin[coln] of good memory: So that after the death of R. de Hardra, fermor of the said Church, it shall be lawful for them perpetually to possess the proceeds (fructus) of the said Church to their own uses; saving nevertheless a portion of the proceeds (proventibus) of the said Church to the value of six marks yearly to him who ministers therein; saving also the dignity of the Church of Lincoln. Sigillum. Test., Robert de Hardria, Archdeacon of Huntingdon (Hunted'), and Master Laurence, Archdeacon of Bedeford, Richard de Hardre, Hugh de Bony, William and Elias, Canons of Bridel[ington].

AGREEMENT made the 7th Ides July, 1219, between the Prior and Canons of Bridel[ington] of the one part, and Laurence the clerk of Wilton of the other, in settlement of a dispute between them respecting the Churches of Gousla and Feriby; namely, that the said Laurence, saving all the right which the Canons have or ought to have in the said Churches, has undertaken to give them thirteen marks of silver yearly, and moreover he has given up (dimisit) to them the pasture in Gousle for three hundred sheep which he held from them, and for greater security has delivered to them their charter for the same pasture which he had. Mutual seals in confirmation. Test., Dom. Laurence de Giseburg, Dom. Simon, master of Wicha, Master Robert de Brillinton, William, Robert, Gregory, chaplains, Simon the clerk of Brillinton, Peter de Rise, Stephen Calf, Andrew Marshall.

L ETTERS of Pope Boniface [VIII] to the Prior and Convent. (Fo. 330^b.) Your petition lately shown to us contained that our predecessor, Clement III of happy memory, conveyed to you to your own uses the parish Church of Gousel in Lindesya, Lincoln diocese, in which you and no other are known to possess the right of patronage, and afterwards our predecessor, Celestinus III of pious memory, confirmed this concession, with the consent of Hugh and Robert, bishops, of good memory, and of the Chapter of Lincoln at various times, and for many years you held the Church according to the form of this grant; but afterwards a certain Prior of the said Monastery led by carnal affection fraudulently induced you to present a certain clerk, his relative, to the said Church, whom, at the instance of the said Prior, the then Bishop of Lincoln instituted to the rectoriate, and so you, the Prior and Convent, on the compulsion of the Diocesan present secular clerks to the Church, to this time. But since by the frequent concourse of poor and of guests you are obliged to support great expenses, and are heavily burdened with debt (alieno ere), and the rents and profits of the monastery through the evil of the time are largely reduced, lest you should be obliged to desist from such works of piety, we, of our special grace inclining to your supplications, grant the said Church of Gousel, with all its rights and appurt., to you and your successors and to your said monastery, to be applied to your proper uses; so that on the retirement or death of the present rector, or the Church being vacant from any cause, you may enter upon and hold it, without seeking the consent of the Diocesan or any other, and cause it to be served by hired chaplains and secular clerks. At the Lateran, 6th Cal. November, the 7th year of the Pontificate.

BONIFACIUS VIII.

L ETTERS of Pope Boniface addressed to the Priors of Durham and Tynemuthe and the Precentor of the Church of Durham, (fo. 331) reciting the statements in the preceding document respecting the Church of Goxhill and his appropriation of the Church to the Prior and Convent, and directing the said two Priors and Precentor, or two or one of them, to put the Prior and Convent in peaceable possession of the Church, with its rights and appurt., when a vacancy occurs. (Fo. 331^b.) Place and date as in the previous document.

C ONFIRMATION of the appropriation of the same Church to the Prior and Convent by Pope Benedict [XI]. At the Lateran, 13th Calends March, the first year of the Pontificate.

L ETTERS Patent by King Edward [I] granting licence to the Prior and Convent (for a fine made with him)¹ to appropriate the Church of Gousle in the diocese of Lincoln, of their patronage. At Carlisle, the 16th June, in the 35th year.

¹ The fine was £100.

JOHN,¹ Bishop of Linc[oln], to the Prior and Convent of Brid[lington], Patrons of the Parish Church of Gousl' of our diocese. We have inspected the letters of Pope Benedict XI to you relating to the appropriation (fo. 332) of the said Church, of the following tenor. (The letters recited in full—the last document but one ante.) The Bishop confirms the said letters as much as belongs to him, granting to the Prior and Convent that they may retain the said Church, with all its rights, profits, and appurt., without disturbance by him or his successors; excepting a perpetual vicarage which with their consent he has appointed in the said Church as follows: the Vicar for the time being to have all their house (mansum vestrum) in the vill of Gousle, which is commonly called “the house of the Prior of Bridel[ington]”; what is necessary and wanting in buildings to be erected at their (the Convent's) expense this time; if it shall happen that the house is taken from the vicar, he shall have the third part of the demesne manor of the Church (terciam partem manerii dominici ecclesie) in the north part of the manor aforesaid, to build a house there at the Convent's charges the first time (prima vice) as above expressed; the vicar to have half a bovate of the demesne land belonging to the Church, with all its appurt., and all offerings, small tithes, proceeds (proventus), and other obventions belonging to the Church, except the tithes of wool and lambs in the parish of Gousle, which, together with all remaining demesne land and all the tithes of sheaves and hay, and the rents and temporal services of the same Church, the Prior and Convent are to receive and retain; and they are to pay the vicar in addition ten marks yearly, by equal portions at Martinmas and Whitsuntide, the first payment at Martinmas, 1309. (Fo. 332^b.) The vicars are to bear all ordinary burdens of the Church, except construction and repair of the chancel, and the Archdeacons' procuration, which burdens the Prior and Convent will admit (agnoscetis), and excepting the procurations which shall happen to be due by the dedication or reconciliation of the Church or Churchyard; of which procurations, when they happen, and papal impositions, offerings, and contributions made by the clergy (a clero), extraordinary and superimposed, let the vicars pay for the share of the vicarage, which (quam) the Bishop taxes at £12 sterling. Saving to the Prior and Convent, as in the case of their other Churches of the diocese, their reasonable privileges. In witness of which things the Bishop's seal is appended. At Netelham, 6th Ides February, 1308.

CONFIRMATION by Henry the subdean and the Chapter of Linc[oln] (the Dean being out of the kingdom), of the grant to the Prior and Convent by Pope Benedict XI of the appropriation of the Church of Gousle, confirmed by John, Bishop of Linc[oln], as far as in them lies, at the request of the said Prior and Convent; saving in all things the rights and liberties of the Church of Linc[oln]. Their seal in witness. Given in their Chapter, the 6th Ides February, 1308.

A DOCUMENT by John, Bishop of Lincoln, headed (in black ink) “Ordinacio vicarie de Gouxill,” repeating the arrangements respecting the vicariate of Goxhill as set forth in the last document but one; the place and date are the same as in that document.

This ordinance is not addressed to the Prior and Convent, but is the public declaration, commencing "Nouerint uniuersi." It ends with a reservation to the Bishop and his successors to expound and determine anything that may be found obscure in the settlement. It extends nearly to the end of the first column of fo. 333.

RATIFICATION of the above Ordinance, by the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington]. They empower the Bishop, if they should fail to pay punctually the ten marks yearly, to sequestrate their proceeds (fructus) at Gousle, and to levy the said money from the goods so sequestrated, and to inflict ecclesiastical censure upon them, without right of appeal. Given in the Chapter at Bridel[ington], the Ides of February, 1308.

THE Prior and Convent present Dom. William de Kelu[m], priest (who has been nominated by the Bishop), to the Bishop for institution to the vicariate of Gousle. Same place and date as the preceding item.

LICENCE, in the usual form, by King Edward (II), (fo. 333^b) to the Prior and Convent to grant to John, Bishop of Lincoln, the advowson of a moiety of the Church of Suthferiby; to hold to him and his successors for ever. At Langeleye, 21 January, in the second year.

GRANT by Ger[ard], Prior, and the Convent to John, Bishop of Linc[oln], and his successors, of the advowson or right of patronage of a moiety of the Church of Southferiby, in the County of Linc[oln]; to hold to the Bishop and his successors, Bishops of Linc[oln], in free, pure, and perpetual alms. Warranty. Testimonium. Test., Ralph, Chancellor, Robert, Treasurer, Henry, Sub-dean of the Church of Linc[oln], Sirs (dominis) Philip de Kyme, Edmund de Eyncurt, Robert de Wylugby, Ralph Paynel, and Thomas de Burnham, k^{ts}, and very many others.

GRANT by Ger[ard], Prior, and the Convent, to J., Bishop of Linc[oln], and his successors, Bishops of Linc[oln], in recompense of the rights which he and his predecessors had in the Church of Gousle, now appropriated to them (the grantors), of the right of nominating a parson to the vicariate of the said Church whenever vacant, and the Prior and Convent bind themselves and their successors to present the person so nominated, within fifteen days after nomination, to the vicariate; (fo. 334) if they object to do so, the Bishop and his successors shall have the right of filling the vacancy that time. Should a vacancy in the living occur when, through the death of the Bishop or otherwise, the See likewise is vacant, the Chapter of Linc[oln] shall nominate a parson. Testimonium. Witnesses as in the preceding document.

IN the year of the Incarnation, according to the computation of the Church of England, 1308, the seventh Indiction, the 10th day of March, about the first hour of the day, personally appeared brother Henry de Melkanthorp, co-canon and Proctor of the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington], to whom the Church of Gousle is appropriated, in the Parish Church of Viseby, diocese of Lync[oln], before Master Walter de Wermington, Canon of Linc[oln] and domestic clerk of John, Bishop of Linc[oln], Commissary of the same Bishop, respecting the Comperta of his visitation touching the appropriation of Churches of his diocese to certain religious houses, there being also present Masters Thomas de Luda, Chancellor, Roger de Gadington, notary, and other clerks of the Bishop, the said Prior and Convent having been cited to show their rights and privileges as to the appropriation of the said Church of Gousle, and receipt of the proceeds thereof. The said Proctor thereupon exhibited Papal letters and those of two Bishops of Lync[oln], and of the Chapter of Lync[oln], as also other instruments public and private, by which it appeared that the Prior and Convent had sufficient title to the appropriation, which documents being examined and carefully compared with copies delivered, and fully discussed, the Proctor of the Prior and Convent asked that they should be pronounced sufficient. The Commissary thereupon appointed to him the following day at the Priory of Elesham (fo. 334^b) to receive the decision, when the documents produced were declared sufficient and the matter settled.

Certificate by Robert, clerk of Roger de Eston (Rob's Rogeri de Eston c'icus), notary public, to the above effect, he having been present.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT by John son of William son of Thomas de Gousle, that he is bound to provide a lighted lamp (lampadem ardentem) for the soul of Dom. Alan de Grenton, formerly rector of the Church of Gousle, in the Chancel of that Church where his (Alan's) body is buried, for ever, whilst mass is celebrated at the high altar, for a certain sum of money which Alan's executors have paid him in hand. To this obligation he binds himself and his heirs, and all his goods and land and meadow and tenement which he holds from the fee of the said Church, with power to the Rectors to distrain thereon to provide the lamp if he or his heirs should fail to do so. Testimonium. At Gousle, Sunday before the Nativity B.V., 1300.

INDENTURE witnessing that Ger[ard], Prior of Bridel[ington], with his Convent, impropiators of the Church of Gousle in the diocese of Lync[oln], for himself and the said Convent and Church, has assigned to Dom. Walter de Kelum, vicar thereof, so long as he shall be vicar there, and will do the same to future vicars, one toft in the vill of Gousle, which is commonly called the house (mansus) of the Prior of Bridel[ington], and twelve acres of land in the field and territory of the said vill from the demesne land belonging to the said Church, in the place of the house of the said vicar and of a half bovate of land in the said vill and territory which J., Bishop of Lync[oln], ordained to the vicars of the said Church; to wit, those twelve acres which lie in the following selions, namely, in the west field beside (iuxta) the cross, one selion abutting upon Le Crossegate, containing in length sixty perches (peric'), and in width a perch and a half; likewise (fo. 335) two selions there abutting on the land of Dom. Simon de Gousl[e], containing in length twenty perches and in width five perches; also a selion abutting upon Scobrigmar, eighty-three perches long, and a perch and a half wide; also at Pesedale a selion abutting upon the bounds of Barowe, sixty perches long and 2½ wide; also a selion there abutting upon Pesedalemar, 47 perches long and 3 wide; and upon Haland a selion abutting upon the headland (foreram) of the Abbot of Thorneton, 55 perches long, $2\frac{1}{4}$ wide ; below Haland a selion abutting upon the bound (diuisam) of Thorneton, 50 perches long and $1\frac{3}{4}$ wide ; at Reward a selion abutting upon Halandgate, 70 perches long, $1\frac{1}{2}$ wide ; a selion abutting upon La More, 20 perches long and 2 wide. In the east field, a selion abutting upon Le Soutergarth, 46 perches long, $1\frac{1}{4}$ wide ; at Gildegarth two selions, containing in length 46 perches, in width $4\frac{1}{4}$; at Kokermat, two selions abutting upon Hertesgate, containing in length 48 perches, and in width 3 perches ; also one selion there abutting upon the headland of Basilia Dau, 40 perches long and $1\frac{1}{2}$ wide ; at Le Gayres two selions, containing in length 20 perches, and in width 4 perches ; at Mikeldayle one selion abutting upon the land of Simon Spink, 40 perches long and two wide ; also two selions there abutting upon Le Wathegate, containing in length 40 perches, and in width $3\frac{3}{4}$ ^{ths} perches¹ ; a selion abutting upon Le Prestmar, 37 perches long, $1\frac{1}{2}$ wide ; a selion abutting upon Trolleheuedland, 48 perches long, $1\frac{7}{8}$ perches wide² ; and a selion there abutting upon the said headland, 29 perches long, $1\frac{1}{2}$ wide. Which selions containing twelve acres and $14\frac{3}{4}$ perches, the said Prior has granted to the said Walter so long as he shall be vicar in the said Church, with all appurt. and easements to the said toft and to a half bovate of land in the same vill and territory belonging, except the meadow appertaining to the said half bovate, which he specially reserves to himself and his Convent and their successors, for which meadow the vicar for the time being shall have an allowance of half a mark in the ten marks receivable yearly from the Prior and Convent by ordinance of the Bishop. To have and to hold to the vicar and his successors freely, etc., without hindrance or obstacle by the Prior and Convent. And the said Dom. Walter acknowledges himself content with the arrangement. Seals of the parties to the alternate parts of this chirograph. At Gousle, 8th Cal. May, 1309.

WILLIAM,³ by divine permission Archbishop of York, etc. Some time ago, on a visitation of our diocese, we understood (cepimus) that the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] possess and hold the parish Churches of Bridelington, Flaynburg, Kernetby, Otringham, Fiueleye, Attingwyk, Bouington, Galmeton, Willardeby, and Scalleby, with their Chapels, nor in the Churches of Bridel[ington], Otringham, Flaynburgh, and Fiuele are perpetual vicarages ordained or vicars instituted ; that the same Religious receive from the Church of Beford a yearly pension of one mark, and certain tithes within the limits of the parish Church of Hundmanby. We therefore summoned them before us to show their right, if any, concerning the premises. Their witnesses having been sworn and examined, and certain letters as well Apostolic as of our predecessors and of the Chapter of York having been exhibited or produced, with many other authentic and public instruments : we having carefully examined or caused to be examined such exhibits, and having heard and understood the merits of the business, pronounce and declare the said Churches with the Chapels and all the appurt., and also the said yearly pension and tithes to have been canonically granted and assigned to the said Religious and their Monastery, and that they hold them justly, and may serve the said Churches of Bridel[ington], Flaynburgh, Fieueleye, Otringham by priests stipendiary, without other taxation or ordinance of vicarage, and that they ought not to be proceeded against respecting the premises in future. At Cawod, 30th May, 1310, the fifth of the Pontificate.

CERTIFICATE by the underwritten notary public of the diocese of York, that in the year of Incarnation, 1310, the eighth Indiction, the 30th day of May, the venerable father William, Archbishop of York, in the Ambulatory before the door (ostio) of the Chapel within his manor at Cawod, in the presence of the said notary and the other witnesses below named, in the matter of the Prior and Convent of Bridel[ington] appearing by their proctor and brother, canon Henry de Melkynthorp, pronounced by John de Sutton, his clerk, as follows (fo. 336^b) (here the preceding document is recited at length). There being present the discreet men, Master Richard de Cestre, professor of Canon Law, William de Beuerl[ey], Canon of the Church of Houeden, Nicholas de Calueton, Rector of the Church of Northcolingham, Amand de Ruda, Rector of the Church of Berniston, and John de Schirburne, notary public, and many others.

Certificate by Henry [son of] William¹ de Erdeslawe, clerk, notary public, that he was present at the promulgation of the above sentence, and by command of the Archbishop and request of the said Henry de Melkynthorp wrote it down and brought it into public form, affixing his seal in witness.

FINE at Westminster in the octaves of Hilary, 3 Edw. II, between Ger[ard], Prior of Bridel[ington], quer., by Alan de Killum, in his place to gain or lose, and Henry Belle of Westaskam and Agnes his wife, def., respecting a messuage, two bovates [of land], and thirty-one shillings rent, with the appurt., in Westaskam, whence a plea of agreement was between them in the same (fo. 343^b) Court, namely, that Henry and Agnes recognised the said tenements with the appurt. to be the right of the Prior and his Church, as those which the Prior has by the grant of Henry and Agnes; to have and to hold to the Prior and his successors and Church for ever. And for this recognition, etc., the Prior has given Henry and Agnes twenty marks of silver. And this concord was made by order (preceptum) of the King.

LICENCE² by Henry de Percy, Earl of Northumberland (Northumbr'), to the Prior and Convent, to acquire the reversion of eight tofts and four bovates of land in Alburn from John Laurence of Bukton, chaplain, John de Gysburne, chaplain, Thomas de Hedon, and Simon Swanne of Bridlingt[on], held from the Earl and his heirs by knight service; which lands and tenements the lady Eufemia de Heselarton holds for life, the reversion belonging to the said John, John, Thomas, and Simon, by the grant of Dom. Simon de Heselarton by Fine levied in the King's Court. To have and to hold the said lands and tenements, with the appurt., when they fall, to the Prior and Convent and their successors, from the Earl and his heirs, in free, pure, and perpetual alms, reserving to himself and his heirs the homages of the Prior and his successors, for all secular service. Testimonium. Given at Kyme, the 17th September, . . . Richard II.³

sustenance as Gilbert Torel 'somppter,'¹ now deceased, had there by desire of the late King E., father of the present King, or to show cause to the contrary, (fo. 344) in contempt of the King and his orders to a thousand pounds, and to the heavy damage of Robert.

The Prior, by brother Geoffrey de Bolton, his attorney, comes and defends, and says that he holds his Priory of the foundation of a certain Walter de Gaunt, quit of all service, except Danegeld (danagildo), and proffers a charter of the said Walter which testifies this, and he also proffers confirmatory charters by Gilbert de Gaunt son of Walter, and Gilbert de Gaunt son and heir of Dom. Gilbert de Gaunt; and he says that the present King confirmed the said Gilbert's (son of Gilbert) quitclaim and remission to the Prior and Canons, of all fermes, customs, suits, and services which they were accustomed or ought to do, and proffers the King's letters accordingly.

And Adam de Fincham, who follows for the King, says that because the aforesaid Gilbert Torel was admitted to the said house to be maintained for life, which the Prior does not deny, and the Prior (fo. 344^b) did not appear to the King's writ, he seeks judgment for the King. The Prior responds, as before, that he holds his Priory of the foundation of Walter de Gaunt and not of the King's foundation, and that the King ratified and confirmed the remission and quitclaim of Gilbert son of Gilbert de Gaunt, as aforesaid, and although the said Gilbert [Torel] was admitted to support by request (per uiam rogaminis), he asks judgment whether by an admission of this sort his Church ought to be burdened.

And Adam de Fincham, questioned whether he desires to advance anything further for the King, says that at present he knows not anything to say beyond what he has already said. Therefore the Prior for the present (ad presens) without day, saving always the right of the King, etc.²

EDWARD,³ by the grace of God King of England, etc., to the Prior and Convent of Bridl[ington]. Wishing to provide proper support to our wellbeloved William Harowe, for his good service to us, we sent him to you requesting you to take him into your house, to receive for life similar support to that which, at the request of our father the late King E., William de Whetelay, deceased, had, and to make him your letters patent thereof, which you have not done, as the said William has given us to understand; we command you to provide him with such support, etc. (as above recited), and to show cause to us why you did not obey our mandate. At Beverley, 1st January, in the 6th year.

This is followed by, apparently, a copy of the letter sent by the Canons in reply. They refer to the case of 'Robert Norays,' respecting whom a similar request for support was made by the King's father, in which matter they were brought before the Justices at London, and they set forth that the King then, upon the arguments and evidences produced, consented to cease from such onerous requests. They therefore implore the King to do the same. Written at B., 20 January, in the year of the Lord, etc., thirty-two (sic), and of his reign the sixth.
